Good Citizenship

The last week at the Central has been devoted to poster making, which according to our teacher, must advertise the United States. The pupils have responded enthusiastically and posters have been turned in which do our United States credit which goes to prove that Central is made up of good citizens.

The Glee club boys will go on a picnic as a reward for the good representation of Central school at various entertainments, etc. Miss Keefe, the instructor, will chaperon. The place and date of the picnic have not yet been announced but it is expected sometime this week if the weather permits.

In reading we have had the words apocalyptical which means, "anything viewed as a revelation." We feel this term applies to Harold's purchase of a new cap.

The Essay Contest

The papers selected for competition in the W. C. T. U. Essay contest were Peggy Shaw's and Olive Carlson's. The subjects of the papers were, "Abstainance from tobacco as a help to fitness for school athletics," and, "How total abstainance increases the margin of safety from accidents." Both papers show much merit and we hope each or at least one will be among the lucky winners.

Abstainance From Tobacco as a Help to Fitness for School Athletics.

When a young man or a young boy first uses tobacco extensively it generally causes "dizziness, trembling of limbs, faintness, or sickness in the stomach and very often causes cold sweats." As time goes on and the person is subject to "weak spells," breathing becomes irregular and your eyesight is dimmed." If a boy of sixteen begins first by smoking a cigarette every day he will soon want more and more until he smokes between ten and twelve in an evening and thinks nothing of it. This same boy, when he is a few years older, you will notice; first, that he is very nervous; second, when he is very warm you will see that he begins to tremble and shake as though he were freezing; third, he has lost all color from his cheeks; fourth, you will notice that his mind wanders from one thing to another. These are only the outward signs by which you can tell when a young man or boy begins to smoke or use tobacco in any way continually.

Tobacco is not nearly so liable to harm the system as alcohol, still the system rebels as the above statement has proven.

The older men, to the public ar to their closest friends, will not admit that tobacco is harmful. But you will notice they are in favor of all measures by which tobacco will not be sold to young boys. Why? Because they know that tobacco has harmed them in some way.

In order to prove that the best authorities of the United States are against tobacco, all you will have to do is to look back to find a record of the United States naval academy giving orders for students to refrain from the use of tabacco. That also goes to prove that tobacco is not good for any athlete or any young man.

It has also been proven by many doctors of good authority [illegible] tobacco is not good for any [illegible]ing boy and therefore boys on teams are forbidden to use tobacco. There are several reasons why boys who go in for athletics are forbidden to use tobacco for the following reasons:

It stunts growth of boys. Often causes palpitation of the heart. Causes paralysis and dyspepsia. Causes 95 per cent of the nervousness. Often results in cancer. Weakens will power. Causes heart trouble. Causes many unnecessary deaths. Clogs the lungs and often leads to tuberculosis.

Therefore my advice to all young men and boys is to leave tobacco alone. Do not begin to use tobacco as it is one of Nature's bitterest enemies. If you do not begin using tobacco you will never miss it. Touch not, taste not, handle not," is a wise rule to follow, not only for the sake of containing one's self control but as a safe guard for health.

PEGGY SHAW.

The effects of alcoholic liquor are numerous.

One of the results is the danger from all accidents. The drinker not only endangers his own life but also the lives of his comrades, children, and fellow workers. The drinker often endangers the lives of his mates because of a door or gate left open, a tool dropped, a ladder left unsecure often causes accidents, as the illustration shows. A drinking train operator or started his machinery too soon. As a result two men were killed and three injured. Perhaps the drinker thought it was right for him to drink but he caused sorrow and trouble to five families. A drunken man seldom comes home but what he abuses his family in some manner. He may even kill some member of his family without realizing what he has done at the time, and when he is in his normal mind and when he realizes what he has done he injures himself when he reads, "Who Killed Joe's Baby?"

Nobody will employ men who drink alcoholic liquor. An engineer or any other employee of the railroads will be discharged if he is found under the influence of liquor. A nation needs the most capable, clear headed, clear minded and steady handed men to manage its battle ships and these are not found among habitual or occasional drinkers of alcohol.

The insurance rate is higher for the alcohol user than for the abstainer because he is more liable to be injured if he is drunk, and if he is just near a piece of machinery he may injure his leg, hand, body, etc. because he cannot control himself properly. He also contracts diseases easier because his heart is weakened by the alcohol. Army hospitals have proven that the wounds heal more slowly also. In sunstroke attacks eighty per cent of the cases and ninety per cent of the deaths are drinkers of alcohol.

Some people use alcohol as a stimulant and give it to people who are very cold, but alcohol will paralyze the nerves. Alcohol increases the danger of death from cold and therefore it is never used by faithful and competent Arctic or Antarctic explorers.

Drinking also effects the eyesight and good shooting demands good eyesight. Many men try to hunt when they are under the influence of liquor and therefore if they see anything they get so excited they can't control themselves and they shoot no matter what it is. Aviators must be normal and not under the influence of liquor because if they are, the aviator's life and the lives of the people in the cities over which he travels is endangered.

At the present time there are more than ten million automobiles in the United States. Liquor traffic may have been possible in the days of the mule teamster but it is not possible in the days of the auto. Thousands of people are killed and injured by automobiles whose drivers are under the influence of liquor in the United States and there are just as many and even more in other countries.

Figures compiled by a workers' benefit society show that the confirmed or habitual drinkers had three and one half times as many accidents per thousand as the workers in general, that is, if the proportion of accidents among all employed were represented by one hundred and the proportion among the confirmed drinkers employed was three hundred and fifty.

Therefore, it is the wisest plan for all to obey the laws because if the law doesn't punish them, though it almost always does, they will be punished by accidents, poor health, and unhappiness in every way.

Good Citizenship

The last week at the Central has been devoted to poster making, which according to our teacher, must advertise the United States. The pupils have responded enthusiastically and posters have been turned in which do our United States credit which goes to prove that Central is made up of good citizens.

Real Dope

The Glee club boys will go on a picnic as a reward for the good representation of Central school at various entertainments, etc. Miss Keefe, the instructor, will chaperon. The place and date of the picnic have not yet been announced but it is expected sometime this week if the weather permits.

In reading we have had the words apocalyptical which means, "anything viewed as a revelntion." We feel this term applies to Harold's purchase of a new cap.

The Essay Contest

The papers selected for competition in the W. C. T. U. Essay contest were Peggy Shaw's and Olive Carlson's. The subjects of the papers were, "Abstainance from tobacco as a help to fitness for school athletics," and, "How total abstainance increases the margin of safety from accidents." Both papers show much merit and we hope each or at least one will be among the lucky winners.

Abstainance From Tobacco as a Help to Fitness for School Athletics.

When a young man or a young boy first uses tobacco extensively it generally causes "dizziness, trembling of limbs, faintness, or sickness in the stomach and very often causes cold sweats." As time goes on and the person is subject to "weak spells," breathing becomes irregular and your eyesight is dimmed." If a boy of sixteen begins first by smoking a cigarette every day he will soon want more and more until he smokes between ten and twelve in an evening and thinks nothing of it. This same boy, when he is a few years older, you will notice; first, that he is very nervous; second. when he is very warm you will see that he begins to tremble and shake as though he were freezing; third, he has lost all color from his cheeks; fourth, you will notice that his mind wanders from one thing to another. These are only the outward signs by which you can tell when a young man or boy begins to smoke or use tobacco in any way continually.

Tobacco is not nearly so liable to harm the system as alcohol, still the system rebels as the above statement has proven.

The older men, to the public or to their closest friends, will not admit that tobacco is harmful. But you will notice they are in favor of all measures by which tobacco will not be sold to young boys. Why? Because they know that tobacco has harmed them in some way.

In order to prove that the best authorities of the United States are against tobacco, all you will have to do is to look back to find a record of the United States naval academy giving orders for students to refrain from the use of tobacco. That also goes to prove that tobacco is not good for any athlete or any young man.

It has also been proven by many doctors of good authority [illegible] tobacco is not good for any [illegible] boy and therefore boys on teams are forbidden to use tobacco. There are several reasons why boys who go in for athletics are forbidden to use tobacco for the following reasons:

It stunts growth of boys. Often causes palpitation of the heart. Causes paralysis and dyspepsia. Causes 95 per cent of the nervousness. Often results in cancer. Weakens will power. Causes heart trouble. Causes many unnecessary deaths. Clogs the lungs and often leads to tuberculosis.

Therefore my advice to all young men and boys is to leave tobacco alone. Do not begin to use tobacco as it is one of Nature's bitterest enemies. If you do not begin using tobacco you will never miss it. Touch not, taste not, handle not," is a wise rule to follow, not only for the sake of containing one's self control but as a safe guard for health.

PEGGY SHAW.

The effects of alcoholic liquor are numerous.

One of the results is the danger from all accidents. The drinker not only endangers his own life but also the lives of his comrades, children, and fellow workers. The drinker often endangers the lives of his mates because of a door or gate left open, a tool dropped, a ladder left unsecure often causes accidents, as the illustration shows. A drinking train operator started his machinery too soon. As a result two men were killed and three injured. Perhaps the drinker thought it was right for him to drink but he caused sorrow and trouble to five families. A drunken man seldom comes home but what he abuses his family in some manner. He may even kill some member of his family without realizing what he has done at the time, and when he is in his normal mind and when he realizes what he has done he injures himself when he reads, "Who Killed Joe's Baby?"

Nobody will employ men who drink alcoholic liquor. An engineer or any other employee of the railroads will be discharged if he is found under the influence of liquor. A nation needs the most capable, clear headed, clear minded and steady handed men to manage its battle ships and these are not found among habitual or occasional drinkers of alcohol.

The insurance rate is higher for the alcohol user than for the nbstainer because he is more liable to be injured if he is drunk, and if he is just near a piece of machinery he may injure his leg, hand, body, etc. because he cannot control himself properly. He also contracts diseases easier because his heart is weakened by the alcohol. Army hospitals have proven that the wounds heal more slowly also. In sunstroke attacks eighty per cent of the cases and ninety per cent of the deaths are drinkers of alcohol.

Some people use alcohol as a stimulant and give it to people who are very cold, but alcohol will paralyze the nerves. Alcohol increases the danger of death from cold and therefore it is never used by faithful and competent Arctic or Antarctic explorers.

Drinking also effects the eyesight and good shooting demands good eyesight. Many men try to hunt when they are under the influence of liquor and therefore if they see anything they get so excited they can't control themselves and they shoot no matter what it is. Aviators must be normal and not under the influence of liquor because if they are, the aviator's life and the lives of the people in the cities over which he travels is endangered.

At the present time there are more than ten million automobiles in the United States. Liquor traffic may have been possible in the days of the mule teamster but it is not possible in the days of the auto. Thousands of people are killed and injured by automobiles whose drivers are under the influence of liquor in the United States and there are just as maiy and even more in other countries.

Figures compiled by a workers' benefit society show that the confirmed or habitual drinkers had three and one half times as many accidents per thousand as the workers in general, that is, if the proportion of accidents among all employed were represented by one hundred and the proportion among the confirmed drinkers employed was three hundred and fifty.

Therefore, it is the wisest plan for all to obey the laws because if the law doesn't punish them, though it almost always does, they will be punished by accidents, poor health, and unhappiness in every way.

This country will never become prosperous through legislation. When it becomes prosperous it will be through perspiration.

Automobile speeders promise to be more active than ever this spring. Thank God all is not lost. The undertaking business will be better than ever.

There are farmers in eastern Pennington county who have as many as six ditch assessments against their land. That is what we regard as placing the last straw upon the camel's back.

In every period of our history the world has been full of quitters. The men who are brave as lions when everything goes along smoothly, but the minute rough seas appear they shake and shiver like a nigger with the ague. They come and go like insects and no one regrets their passing. Thank God for the strong men, the bopeful optimists who make life worth liviog.

A FRIENDLY RECEPTION.

A Missouri man who came to Thief River Falls within the past two weeks for the purpose of setting on a Pennington county farm must feel by this time that he has struck a great country in which to live and raise a family. The first twenty men he came in contact with told him to go back to Missouri before it was too late. They told his not to unload his car—to wire his family to remain in Missouri. This man came here with a good farming outfit and ample funds with which to carry on his farming operations. And he came here with unbounded enthusiasm for the future.

Now he has lost heart. He is undecided as to the future. He reasons that the country is probably as bad as the natives have pictured it, or it is peopled with knockers who will depress him to the point of desperation. He may remain here, and if he does we will say he is a brave man.

That such a situation should exist right here in Pennington county passes all understanding. What can people be thinking about to pass out such a greeting to the stranger within our gates? We have a wonderful and bountiful country—a country which has given many a man prosperity in return for his efforts. A beautiful country to look upon, blessed as few communities are blessed by nature. And yet we are cursed —cursed and hampered to beat the devil hy a bunch of ignorant knockers.

A knocker may be engaged in farming. He may be a business man, or a professional man, or a laborer. No matter what he is, he certainly is working against his own interests. He is ripping the shingles from his own roof so far as his own business is concerned. Morever, he is a damned nuisance who can only render one good service to the community. That is to get out of the country and stay out.

MINNESOTA

By HOWARD EVERETT

God made Minnesota the Garden of Eden of America and placed it in the wonderland of the North. He gave it fertile soil that man might subsist with ease; then blessed it with ten thousand lakes and surroundtd these with trees. He called it the home of the laughing waters and proclaimed the Mississippi the father of its sparkling streams.

He sweetened its balmy air with the music of song birds and honey bees, and pronounced it the playground eternal of peace and prosperity.

He gave it the beauties of wildwood and graced it with the innocence of wild life. He taught the sunshine to romp with shadow through its forests and the fragrance of its flowers and fields of clover to mingle with the perfume of its pines.

He filled its lakes with fish, its forests with game, its plains with fowel, and unto these He gave the romance of the Red man.

He made it to grow fruits, vegetables, corn and fields of waving grain. Over it He placed a carpet of luxuriant grasses and underneath He planted a store of untold mineral wealth.

He took the scenic beauties of a Switzerland and a Colorado and combined them with the fertile soil of an Iowa and the fascinating climate of a California. To these He added all things else which contribute to the health, happiness and comfort of life, and when He had finished, He called it "Minnesota."

DR. MARDEN'S DEATH

There is a remarkable story connected with the close of Dr. Marden's life. He was a tall, strong featured, white haired old man, and his time had come. In his last 15 minutes on earth, his wife, the doctors and the nurses were gathered about his bed. He was smiling and talking in a strong voice:

"I hear music. I see a beautiful city of harmony, peace, and love. It is all in white. I am walking into it as surely as I ever walked into any place in my life. It is real, all come true."

His voice sank to a whisper, he said goodby—and was gone.

Did ever man have a more successful ending of a useful and happy life? —A. J. Russell in Minneapolis Journal.

SERMON TO BOOTLEGGERS

In passing sentence upon a number of bootleggers last Saturday, Judge 'ant of the federal court, delivered the following true sermon:

"Some people would say you are in the business of killing people, and you might say that yourself. Most people are sound asleep on this question and I would advise you all to be careful in case they get thoroughly awakened. You might stir up a whirlwind aroused by the enormity of the evil. You can't beat the United States government; it's too much of a job."

PREACHER WAS EVASIVE

The congregation of a little Northern Minnesota church gave $50 to the minister who had been initiated into the glories of parenthood. Just before the services began, one deacon whispered to another, "I'll bet he thanks God for the money before he does for the baby."

The Minister arose to pray.

"Our Father," he said, "we thank Thee for this timely succor which Thou hast sent us."

TRAVELED ROADS GROWING WORSE

Trunk Highways Suffer as Traffic Runs Up; Reinforcement Planned.

Because the gravel is grinding away under heavier traffic faster than it is being replaced with new, many sections of the Minnesota trunk highway system nre not in as good condition as two years ago, division engineers agreed at a recent monthly meeting at the St. Paul offices of the state highway department.

Trunk route patrolmen will be urged to haul more gravel this season toward restoring the graveled sections, even at tha expense of other work. This remedy for the threatening condition was decided the only alternative although the engineers said that continued extravagance in the use of the gravel on the heavier traveled roads will result in a gravel famine in the state before many years.

Evidence that there is too little rather than too much road dragging dnring dry weather, was submitted when several public criticisms to the contrary were taken up. The engineers without exception were of the opinion that dragging is essential in dry weather to prevent the heavier traveled routes from becoming choppy or like washboards. This was backed up by a questionary circulated among the patrolmen who by a vote of more than 40 to 1 agreed that there was no unnecessary dragging, although they admitted they would prefer to haul gravel or do almost any other kind of work hecause it is easier botb on them and their teams.

If you can't boost, for the love of Mike don't knock.

This country will never become prosperous through legislation. When it becomes prosperous it will be thruugh perspiration.

Automobile speeders promise to be more active than ever this spring. Thank God all is not lost. The undertaking business will be better than ever.

There are farmers in eastern Pennington county who have as many as six ditch assessments against their land. That is what we regard as placing the last straw upon the camel's back.

In every period of our history the world has been full of quitters. The men who are brave as lions when everything goes along smoothly, but the minute rough seas appear they shake and shiver like a nigger with the ague. They come and go like insects and no one regrets their passing. Thank God for the strong men, the hopeful optimists who make life worth living.

A FRIENDLY RECEPTION.

A Missouri man who came to Thief River Falls within the past two weeks for the purpose of setting on a Pennington county farm must feel by this time that he has struck a great country in which to live and raise a family. The first twenty men he came in contact with told him to go back to Missouri before it was too late. They told his not to unload his car—to wire his family to remain in Missouri. This man came here with a good farming outfit and ample funds with which to carry on his farming operations. And he came here with unbounded enthusiasm for the future.

Now he has lost heart. He is undecided as to the future. He reasons that the country is probably as bad as the natives have pictured it, or it is peopled with knockers who will depress him to the point of desperation. He may remain here, and if he does we will say he is a brave man.

That such a situation should exist right here in Pennington county passes all understanding. What can people be thinking about to pass out such a greeting to the stranger within our gates? We have a wonderful and bountiful country—a country which has given many a man prosperity in return for his efforts. A beautiful country to look upon, blessed as few communities are blessed by nature. And yet we are cursed—cursed and hampered to beat the devil by a bunch of ignorant knockers.

A knocker may be engaged in farming. He may be a business man, or a professional man, or a laborer. No matter what he is, he certainly is working against his own interests. He is ripping the shingles from his own roof so far as his own business is concerned. Morever, he is a damned nuisance who can only render one good service to the community. That is to get out of the country and stay out.

MINNESOTA

By HOWARD EVERETT

God made Minnesota the Garden of Eden of America and placed it in the wonderland of the North. He gave it fertile soil that man might subsist with ease; then blessed it with ten thousand lakes and surroundtd these with trees. He called it the home of the laughing waters and proclaimed the Mississippi the father of its sparkling streams.

He sweetened its balmy air with the music of song birds and honey bees, and pronounced it the playground eternal of peace and prosperity.

He gave it the beauties of wildwood and graced it with the innocence of wild life. He taught the sunshine to romp with shadow through its forests and the fragrance of its flowers and fields of clover to mingle with the perfume of its pines.

He filled its lakes with fish, its forests with game, its plains with fowel, and unto these He gave the romance of the Red man.

He made it to grow fruits, vegetables, corn and fields of waving grain. Over it He placed a carpet of luxuriant grasses and underneath He planted a store of untold mineral wealth.

He took the scenic beauties of a Switzerland and a Colorado and combined them with the fertile soil of an Iowa and the fascinating climate of a California. To these He added all things else which contribute to the health, happiness and comfort of life, and when He had finished, He called it "Minnesota."

DR. MARDEN'S DEATH

There is a remarkable story connected with the close of Dr. Marden's life. He was a tall, strong featured, white haired old man, and his time had come. In his last 15 minutes on earth, his wife, the doctors and the nurses were gathered about his bed. He was smiling and talking in a strong voice:

"I hear music. I see a beautiful city of harmony, peace, and love. It is all in white. I am walking into it as surely as I ever walked into any place in my life. It is real, all come true."

His voice sank to a whisper, he said goodby—and was gone.

Did ever man have a more successful ending of a useful and happy life?
—A. J. Russell in Minneapolis Journal.

SERMON TO BOOTLEGGERS

In passing sentence upon a number of bootleggers last Saturday, Judge 'ant of the federal court, delivered the following true sermon:

"Some people would say you are in the business of killing people, and you might say that yourself. Most people are sound asleep on this question and I would advise you all to be careful in case they get thoroughly awakened. You might stir up a whirlwind aroused by the enormity of the evil. You can't beat the United States government; it's too much of a job."

PREACHER WAS EVASIVE

The congregation of a little Northern Minnesota church gave $50 to the minister who had been initiated into the glories of parenthood. Just before the services began, one deacon whispered to another, "I'll bet he thanks God for the money before he does for the baby."

The Minister arose to pray.

"Our Father," he said, "we thank Thee for this timely succor which Thou hast sent us."

The deacons don't know who won.

A co-operative creamery is the finest asset any community can have. Thief River Falls has one of the very best in the state and it behooves every citizen of town and country to boost it to the limit.

TRAVELED ROADS GROWING WORSE

Because the gravel is grinding away under heavier traffic faster than it is being replaced with new, many sections of the Minnesota trunk highway system are not in as good condition as two years ago, division engineers agreed at a recent monthly meeting at the St. Paul offices of the state highway department.

Trunk route patrolmen will be urged to haul more gravel this season toward restoring the graveled sections, even at the expense of other work. This remedy for the threatening condition was decided the only alternative although the engineers said that continued extravagance in the use of the gravel on the heavier traveled roads will result in a gravel famine in the state before many years.

Evidence that there is too little rather than too much road dragging during dry weather, was submitted when several public criticisms to the contrary were taken up. The engineers without exception were of the opinion that dragging is essential in dry weather to prevent the heavier traveled routes from becoming choppy or like washboards. This was backed up by a questionary circulated among the patrolmen who by a vote of more than 40 to 1 agreed that there was no unnecessary dragging, although they admitted they would prefer to haul gravel or do almost any other kind of work because it is easier both on them and their teams.

We take this means of thanking kind friends and neighbors for their assistance and sympathy during the bereavement occasioned by the death of our son, Earnest. Especially do we feel grateful for the beautiful floral offerings of his little schoolmates.—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Johnson.

ROSEWOOD

The moving pictures and slide illustrated lecture on dairying given at the Rosewood hall last Tuesday evening by Max Morgan, a representative of the Fairmont Creamery company of Fargo-Moorhead, was very interesting and educational and drew a large audience. The lecturing part was almost omitted owing to trouble with the moving picture machine, but all the films were run through and generally described throughout the course. A comical film was also included and furnished much merriment, besides several hundred feet of interior film of the various branches of the Fairmont creamery and the way milk products are handled and turned into finished products by that concern. This was a very interesting study, and showed in detail the various large machines, churns, packers, coolers, testers, graders, etc. At the close a few dozen slides of the best breeds of dairy cows were shown together with their records and environments and methods of feeding. Also were shown the proper housing of dairy stock and better methods for increasing milk production and the improvement of the herd. The Fairmont Creamery company is maintaining a station at Rosewood in charge of D. N. Peterson.

License Is Proposed for Minnesota Auto Drivers

Passage of a state law requiring licensing of all automobile drivers was urged last week by Judge Levi M. Hall of the Minneapolis traffic court at the driving school being conducted at Dunwoody Institute by the Civic and Commerce association.

Such a law is in effect in many other states, Judge Hall declared, and it is his belief that if all drivers are examined before being given a license many accidents will be avoided.

At the same class meeting, Lieut. George Carman of the traffic department urged the women present to drive their husbands to work and then take their machines home in the morning, calling for their menfolk again at night. This method would alleviate the crowded parking places in the loop district considerably Lieutenant Carman said.

GLENN HUNTER SCORES BIG HIT

Glenn Hunter, the famous young stage star, made his debut as a star in Paramount pictures under the most favorable auspices in "West of the Water Tower," which will be at the Princess Wednesday and Thursday.

The story of "West of the Water Tower" was written by Homer Croy. The novel appeared early this year and scored a literary sensation. It is a story which deals with small town folk in a masterly manner. Mr. Hunter, as Guy Plummer, son of a rigidly orthodox minister portrayed by Ernest Torrence, meets and loves Bee Chew, played by May McAvoy, daughter of a wealthy atheist, the latter role being in the capable hands of George Fawcett. The young couple are secretly wedded and this incident provokes a near tragedy which has its influence on many lives. But happiness comes at last after a series of breath-taking sequences, all of which will thrill even the most blase picture fan.

The picture is one that will live long in the memory of all who see it. Zasu Pitts featured as the other girl in the story, is admirable as are also all in the cast. Paramount is to be feliciated upon the beauty and charm of this delightful photoplay.

In English country districts people cross their fingers to avert evil. When doing so they are making the sign of the cross, used for nearly two thousand years to ward off evil spirits. The same idea is behind touching wood after making a boast.

Experiment Station Plans Cattle Feeding Course

Cattle Feeders' Day will be held at the Northwest Experiment Station on Friday afternoon, May 16. At that time the results of the winter's feeding experiment will be discussed. This is the second winter's experimental work to determine the value of sweet clover hay in comparison with other hays when used in a wintering ration for feeder cattle.

The experiment started November 1 with a very uniform group of grade Shorthorn and Hereford yearling steers. The experiment has consisted of 28 steers divided into 4 lots of 7 steers each. The plan of feeding that has been followed is as follows:

Lot 4.—Wild hay; oat straw.

In the experiment interesting results have been secured. Complete figures for each lot will be ready on Feeders' Day, May 16. Prof. W. H. Peters, chief of the Division of Animal Husbandry, University Farm, St. Paul, will be present. Other livestock men will be on hand to give timely addresses on livestock production. The program will begin at 1:30 Friday, May 16. Plan to be there.

Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church. Rev. J. B. Smith of the Methodist church had accepted the invitation to preach the sermon, but is in poor health and upon the advice of his physician deemed it best to reverse his decision and give some other clergyman the honor of performing the function. The choice of Rev. Kreidt, who is an able and eloquent speaker, will meet with general approval.

FLOYD B. OLSON DELIVERS TALK

Candidate for Governor Addresses Small Gathering at Court House.

Due to a small amount of advance advertising and to the further fact that the meeting was called in the forenoon, only a few voters gathered at the court rooms Monday forenoon to hear the talk delivered by Floyd B. Olson of Minneapolis, county attorney of Hennepin county and candidate for gubernatorial nomination on the Farmer-Labor ticket. Mr. Olson is making a whirlwind campaign through this section of the state and is delivering three and four talks each day. Sunday afternoon he spoke at a large picnic gathering near Newfolden and from here went to Red Lake Falls, where a meeting was arranged for the afternoon.

Mr. Olson made a very pleasing impression upon his hearers in his talk here. He is a young man who has advanced rapidly and has earned an enviable reputation as state's attorney in his home city of Minneapolis. As a speaker Mr. Olson has few equals, and he made a deep impression upon his audience here Monday. He confined himself entirely to state and national issues, refraining altogether from saying anything in criticism of his six opponents for the nomination. Mr. Olson has the endorsement of the committee in charge of C. A. Lindberg's campaign since the latter was forced to withdraw from the race due to his critical illness.

NORTH ROUTE FOR THE J-H

At a session of Jefferson Highway officials this afternoon at the Evelyn hotel, the north route was selected. Thus the Jefferson will go north from this city to Holt, through Newfolden and Karlstad. This action meets with general approval here and it is needless to say the north towns are happy over the result. The road selected will have to be kept in good repair in accordance with the action of the officials today.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

In spite of the extremely unfavorable weather conditions prevalent during the first part of the week, considerable headway has been made with the clean-up movement scheduled to begin Monday. The committee under the leadership of Chairman Geo. M. Wilson has spread the gospel of a cleaner city to every resident, and in each block the work of supervising the undertaking has been placed in charge of a man and a boy. By the end of this week a decided change is expected in the appearance of many places which now are decidedly unkempt. Every resident is urged to do his part in making Thief River Falls a City Beautiful. It can be done.

MANY GUERNSEY CATTLE PLACED ON SALE SOON

June 12 Named as Date for Annual Event of Red River Guernsey Men.

More Than 100 Purebred and High Grade Animals to Be Offered.

The first annual consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders association will be held at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, June 12, beginning at 11 o'clock. Advertising matter is being prepared and it is expected that a large number of prospective buyers will be on hand when the sale opens.

More than one hundred head of Guernseys will be offered for sale to the highest bidder on this occasion. Included in the number are 10 purebred bnlls, 10 purebred cows and heifers, together with about 80 high grade cows and heifers. These are pledged to absolute sale to the highest responsible bidder.

The animals have been selected from the herds of member breeders by a committee of Guernsey breeders. The cattle will be from federal accredited herds or tested just before the sale. Most of the cows selected will be fresh just prior to or shortly after the sale. A choice lot of bred and open heifers are included in the consignment, while some heifer calves suitable for dairy calf club work also are listed.

Paul Engelstad, Stewart McLeod and H. C. Woolson, prominent Pennington county Guernsey breeders, constitute the committee in charge of arrangements for the sale, while W. J. LaBree and W. B. Bosworth have been engaged as auctioneers.

Ernest Johnson Hurt.

Tuesday evening Ernest Johnson, son of M. M. Johnson, was badly injured when a rung of a ladder up which he was climbing at the roundhouse, broke, precipitating Ernest 20 feet to the ground. Rendered unconscious by the fall, it was at first feared that he had been severely hurt and he was at once rushed to the Swedenburg hospital and an examination given. However, no hroken bones were discovered and he is getting along first rate.

AAMODT STARTS GARAGE VENTURE

Secures Lease on Evenson Building and Is Now All Ready for Business.

E. E. Aamodt this week announced that he had secured a lease on the C. M. Evenson building first door west of the auditorium, and that he expects to conduct the place as a garage. The structnre was built for this purpose several years ago and was in operation until a year ago, when the business was discontinued by W. C. Nichols & Son, who some time previously had purchased it from C. M. Evenson & Sons. It is one of the largest and best equipped garage buildings in this section of the state.

Mr. Aamodt is no stranger to the people of this city, having condncted the repair department of the Peoples Auto company for a year np to last fall, since which time he has been dealing exclnsively in used cars. This branch of the business will be continued on a larger scale now that he has secured adequate quarters. A general repair business and storage service will be maintained, as well as a first class automobile painting department. Mr. Aamodt may also decide to accept the agency for a line of new automobiles in the near fnture, but has not yet definitely decided what makes he will handle.

183 SEEK JOBS IN FILINGS FOR DIVERSE BERTHS

With 183 filings for state, legislative, judicial and congressional offices recorded in the office of Mike Holm, secretary of state, the time limit for filing of candidates in the primary election next June expired last Wednesday at 5 p. m.

The filing recorded is said to be the largest in the history of the state, especially in view of the fact that no state senatorial filings were received this year, the incumbents of that house having been elected for a four-year term two years ago.

Of the total number of filings, 16 were for governor, eight for lieutenant governor, six for secretary of state, seven for attorney general, 15 for the supreme court, including chief justice and associate justice; 14 for railroad and warehouse commission, 59 for the various congressional districts, and a total of 44 for the state legislature and district judges. There were also in addition seven filings for the United States senate, three on the Republican ticket, three on the Farmer Labor, and one on the Democratic ticket.

In the total number filed for nomination for governor there were six Republicans, eight Farmer-Laborites and two Democrnts. For lieutenant governor there were three Republicans, four Farmer-Laborites and one Democrat; secretary of state, four Farmer-Laborites, one Republican and one Democrat; treasurer, five Farmer-Laborites, one Republican, one Democrat; attorney general, five Farmer-Laborites, one Republican, one Democrat; supreme court, eight for chief justice, seven for associate justice; railroad and warehouse commission, nine Farmer-Laborites, four Republicans, one Democrat. The congressional field with 59 entries filed in the state office for all districts were divided: 30 Farmer-Laborites, 22 Republicans and seven Democrats.

By virtue of no opposition filed, Mike Holm, secretary of state; Henry Rines, state treasurer, and Clifford L. Hilton, nttorney general, are nominated, as others in several congressional districts on other tickets and in several of the Democratic filings.

GOOD HOLSTEINS AT PUBLIC SALE

McFarland's Fine Herd to Be Placed on Auction Block June 5.

Desiring to devote all of his time hereafter to his other business interests, M. T. McFarland has decided to close out his entire herd of Holstein cattle at public auction. The sale will take place at the Pennington county fair grounds on Thursday, June 5, commencing at 10 o'clock sharp, with W. J. LaBree as auctioneer and Joe Berg of Warren on pedigrees.

Thirty-five head of Holsteins will be included in the sale, consisting of some of Minnesota's finest dairy cattle. There are A. R. O. cows, show ring winners and calf club winners. In all 18 cows, 12 heifers and five bulls will be offered. All of these are sons or daughters or bred to Lilac Hedge Zubrod Segis, a high record grandson of King Segis Pontiac Count, the world's greatest dairy sire.

The dispersal of the McFarland herd will provide an excellent opportunity for dairymen in this section of the state to add choice animals totheir herds, and indications are that the sale will be largely attended. There are no better dairy cattle in the country than those to be sold on June 5, and The Tribune's only hope is that the great majority of them will remain in Pennington county as the property of local dairymen.

Horse Climbs Car.

Saturday, Ole T. Ose, who was driving a car into town, and one of the Jerde boys, who was driving home with horse and buggy, met on the bridge. The horse began to shy slightly and tbe boy pulled on the reins to quiet him. One of the lines proving too weak to stand the strain, parted and the one line pulled the horse towards the car with the result that the animal climbed on the car, smashing the wind shield and cutting himself up considerably. Mr. Ose received a few cuts from the flying glass, but aside from this no further injnries were reported.

LEGION MEN TO ADD MANY NEW NAMES TO ROLL

Eklund Post Lays Plans to Comb Every Corner of County in Drive.

Legionaires Also Get Behind Move to Provide Decorations for City.

Over 60 flags have been sold to the different mercantile establishments of the city following action taken on the subject at the last meeting of the Elmer J. Eklund post Thnrsday evening, when the plan was endorsed and Carl Hovie and Victor Polman appointed to assist the company's representative. These flags are 4x6 feet and come with a flagstaff 12 feet long. A hole will be bored close to the edge of the sidewalk so that the flags may easily be put up on holidays and on special occasions. These flags will give the city a gala air that is hard to attain when any celebration is to be staged and will prove much cheaper to the merchant as no other decorations will be needed. The idea has been tried out with great success in cities near by, notably Park Rapids and Bemidji, where the plan met with hearty approval on the part of nll business men. The idea originated at Shenandoah, Iowa, and wherever introduced has met with success.

Sixty members of the post were present at the Thursday "chow" and meeting and the membership drive was launched with five new members signed up that evening. Two teams were formed consisting of the entire post, one headed by Dr. L. R. Twete and A. W. Crown and the other by Henry Eide and Dr. C. M. Haug. The district around Goodridge has been assigned to Dr. Twete while the district centering St. Hilaire is to be covered by Dr. Haug. The plan to be carried out is to hold meetings in these two towns between now and Thursday, May 22, signing up new members and telling the aims and pnrposes of the Legion. The losing teaui will pnt on a big feed for the winners at the meeting May 22.

Dr. C. A. Gunnerson, commander of Warren post, was present and gave a talk on the Legion activities in that city, touching on the boy scout movement, planting trees, leading in the observance of patriotic celebrations and special occasions and also the naturalization programs. Anton Yngve, commander of the ninth district, gave a very interesting talk on the boosting of membership. The Decoration Day program was also taken np and was placed in the hands of two committees, one on grnves, composed of Oscar Paulson, Dave Robinson, one member of the post from Goodridge and one from St. Hilaire. The program committee will be made up of G. Howard Smith, Dr. A. W. Swedenburg and L. A. Hermanson.

The house committee also reported on rules and regulations adopted for the using of the Legion rooms. It has been decided that anyone wishing to use the club rooms should see D. W. Robinson, chairman of this committee.

SOO MEN SPEAK AT CLUB LUNCH

Livestock Purchasing Agent and Land Commissioner Here Thursday.

An exceptionally interesting meeting of the Thief River Falls Commercial cluh is assured for tomorrow (Thnrsday). In addition to many important local matters to be considered, a particularly good speaking program has been arranged. H. S. Funston, land commissioner of the Soo, and R. L. Aney, livestock purchasing agent for the same road, bave consented to deliver addresses on the situation in this section of the country with regard to the effort now being made to secure an increase in diversification among farmers.

These men are particularly fitted to discuss this subject owing to the positions they hold. President Jaffray of the Soo is at the head of the recently organized agricultural credit corporation, and the speakers are kept in close touch with both the progress of the affairs of the corporation and with conditions in the territories traversed by the Soo railroad.

A large attendance is urged for the meeting tomorrow. It will be one of more than usual importance.

Files for Legislature.

R. O. Gordon of Garnes township last week filed as a candidate for representative in the legislature from the 65th district. Mr. Gordon, it is understood, has been given the endorsement of the Farmer-Labor party of the district.

THEODORE CHRISTIANSON

Theodore Christianson, of Dawson, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was born on a farm in Lac qui Parle county, on September 12, 1883. He has lived in his native county ever since, except dnring the years he attended the University of Minnesota, where he graduated in 1906 from the academic department and in 1909 from the law department. He has represented his county in the legislature since 1915, and has been chairman of the House appropriations committee since 1917.

As a member of the legislature, he has actively supported a progressive farmers progrnm. He was one of the joint authors of the co-operative marketing movement in Minnesota. He introduced the Minnesota Rural Credits constitution amendment, the adoption of which was followed by a sharp drop in interest rates on farm mortgages.

He drafted and introduced the bill giving women presidential suffrage and introduced the resolution ratifying the federal woman suffrage amendment, in the House.

He drafted the Minnesota soldier bonus law, which has been used as a model by other states where bonus legislation has been enacted.

He is best known on account of his eight-year fight against appropriation increases, and for his stand against increased taxation. He is running on a platform which includes specific proposals to check the increase of public expenditures, state and local.

W. J. BROWN TO RETURN JUNE 1

Will Sever Connections With Wheat Growers to Resume Practice of Law.

Wm. J. Brown, who left Thief River Falls about a year ago to assume the presidency of the American Wheat Growers Associated, will return to this city about June 1st to resume the practice of law.

Mr. Brown had expected to return here about May 1st, but unavoidable delays in concluding the year's business will now compel him to remain at his post until June 1st. Under no circumstances will he be a candidate to succeed himself and his connection with the Wheat Growers will terminate as soon as his successor has been elected and qualifies for office.

In a letter to the editor of The Tribune, Mr. Brown says: "I have not lost faith in the possibility of the cooperative movement so far as the same concerns the wheat growers, but I feel that I cannot afford to devote any further time thereto to the detriment of my business at home."

It is not unlikely that an early effort will be made to organize into a compact selling organizataion the spring wheat states of the northwest to take the place of the American Wheat Growers, experience of the past year having demonstrataed the incompatability of the sonthern, western and spring wheat states. Out of the reorganization may grow a selling agency composed of the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota. This plan may come up for discussion at the forthcoming annual meeting of the wheat growers.

Sugar Beet Crop in Fine Shape, With Practically All of Seed Now Planted

Over four hundred acres of suger beets in this locality have already been planted, contrary to the opinion of those who believe the season unusually backward. The remainder will be in the ground within a few days, according to a statement made yesterday by County Agent J. J. McCann.

The recent wet weather bas been just the thing for the beet seed, says Mr. McCann, and when the sun and warm weather get in their work it will be only a few days until the plants will appear above ground. Although the acreage in this section is greatly reduced this year, it is stated that the tonnage per acre will be greater due to the favorable spring and to the experience gained by local growers during the past two or three seasons.

POWER MATTERS GET ATTENTION BUT NO ACTION

Three Separate Solutions of Problem Now Before the Board of Aldermen.

The city council last night again postponed definite action with reference to the purchase of an engine. However, W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls made a proposition to the city council, offering to sell the dam and shore rights they control, together with the land on which is located the flour mill and elevator, for the sum of $40,000 and the unpaid taxes for 1923.

The council now has three definite propositions to consider:

First, the purchase of an additional engine at the electric light plant at a cost of approximately $50,000.

Second, the purchase of the dam at a cost of $40,000.

Third, the building of a transmission line and securing high power service from the outside at a cost of approximately $35,000.

The present lease on the dam expires a year from next September and there is a prevalent opinion that the city's interests will be served best by purchasing it at this time and making such repairs as are necessary to give sufficient power in connection with the present engines, and later improve the dam to its full capacity.

The whole matter was laid over until the next regular meeting of the council on May 27 unless a decision to again discuss the matter previously is reached by the aldermen, in which case all interested parties will be notified to be present. Mr. Schreiter stated that he will hold the offer open until May 27 but that he has another offer for the property. The general opinion is that the Northern States Power company is after the dam as they are spending a large sum in the development of the power site at Red Lake Falls, and intend to improve the one at St. Hilaire also.

Last Saturday it was discovered that the rock snstaining wall on the east side of the power house at the dam had been undermined to some extent and a large hole had resulted from this cause. A crew was put to work repairing the wall Sunday morning and by night the wall was practically back in place, although quite a crack had developed in the walls of the building.

CLUB WOMEN OF DISTRICT MEET

Moorhead Convention Is Attended by Thirtv Members of Local Club.

Abont thirty members of the Thief River Falls Woman's club attended the Ninth District meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Woman's clubs, held May 6 and 7 at Moorhead. From every standpoint it was the most successful district convention ever held by that body, and the delegates are loud in their praise of the hospitality shown the visitors by the people of Moorhead.

The two days were replete with good things on a well arranged program, and the visitors all returned to their homes feeling that the convention had been worth while in every respect.

The local Woman's club chorus, composed of Mesdames N. K. Harris, W. W. Prichard, Jr., O. F. Mellby, W. R. French, G. W. Booren, C. A. Nason, J. N. Nesse, L. C. Pope; Lucille Johnson, Frank Christenson and Miss Thora Hanson, under the leadership of Mrs. G. Halvorson, took part in the choral singing contest and although the ladies performed very creditably, they were unable to win a prize. Another feature on the program was the reading by Gretel Lowe Arnold of this city of "War Brides" which created a deep impression.

Next year's convention of the district federation will be held at Perham. At the election of officers, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich of this city was within a few votes of being chosen president. Mrs. Davis of Warren was elected to head the organization for the coming year.

Assessor Making Rounds.

N. J. Anderson, assessor in the city of Thief River Falls, has during the past week been busy making the rounds among property owners, taking inventory in an effort to determine the amount of taxes to be paid by said owners next year. The job is a big one and it will take Mr. Anderson some time to complete it.

Children in Armor Seen for First Time in Pola Negri Film Here Sunday

The first armor made for children in America is worn by Dawn O'Day and a company of youthful knights mounted upon Shetland ponies in a scene of Pola Negri's new star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," a Herbert Brenon production for Paramount, which comes to the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday.

From visored helmet to steel-spurred boot, the young warriors are exact duplicates of the knights, who once indulged in the dangerous sport of tournament. Carrying shields slung by a halter, the riders manage their horses with the left hand and couch long lances with the right.

Riding gallantly to the charge across the lawns, Dawn O'Day leads the steel-clad warriors before a throne raised for Wallace Beery and Kathryn Williams, who play the roles of Philip IV. and Gueen Isabelle of Spain. Antonio Moreno is featured opposite Miss Negri in "The Spanish Dancer." Others among the particularly strong supporting cast are Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew.

Last Sunday was "Mother's Day," and many beautiful tributes to the mothers of the country were uttered in the pulpits of the land. All of which is greatly appreciated by the mothers. But after all is said and done, the man who brings the greatest comfort to mother is the postman in his daily rounds. A little letter from the absent son and daughter once a week, or once a month, or even once in six months, is worth all the public demonstrations in the world. If your tribute to mother last Sunday consisted of listening to the words of the minister, you have missed doing your duty by many miles. Sit down now and write her a long and interesting letter. It is the least you can do in return for all she did for you.

According to charges made in the newspapers of Polk county the county commissioners of that county have thrown away considerable sums of tax payers' money by letting printing contracts to the highest bidders instead of to the lowest. This has been done, it seems, to assist a radical newspaper in Crookston which has been unable to exist without such support. It is regrettable that men who are so strong for the "peepul" should be so careless with other people's money.

As the matter now stands the next governor of Minnesota is sure to be a newspaper man. O. P. B. Jacobson and Theodore Christianson, one of whom is likely to be the Republican nominee, are newspaper men, and Victor Lawson, favorite among Farmer-Labor voters is also a publisher, so it seems as if the newspaper men have the inside track for the biggest job in the state.

Someone has discovered that the average age of present day criminals is nineteen years. That places the blame for the crime wave squarely upon the home, and indicates that what is needed above all else to correct a growing evil is a revival of the old fashioned wood shed conferences between father and sons.

A wag of local renown told The Tribune the other day that he had a real scheme for making money. He wants to buy a lot of the candidates for state office for what they are really worth and sell them for what they think they are worth.

It seems that much of the face painting of the girls these days is carried out along agricultural ideas, to make them look as much like a barn or a hen house as possible. A deep red center and white trimmings with a green background.

Thief River Falls people are pleased over the election of E. F. Flynn, assistant to the president of the Great Northern, as governor of the Rotary Clubs of the northwest. It was an honor worthily bestowed.

Once upon a time a man was elected governor of Minnesota upon a platform of consolidated schools. That goes to show how easy it is sometimes to feel the voters.

Remember that familiar old song, "Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now, Etc." It would not be such a bad song now if "Daughter" were substituted for "Father."

Speaking of election bets, we will bet all our spare change at big odds that the next congressman from the ninth district comes from Clay county.

Two-Teacher Department; Teacher Training Branch

Definite arrangements have been made at the Lincoln high school for a two teacher department in normal training. So far thirty candidates have registered for enrollment in the department.

Another Sulky Ford.

While cranking a Ford car Monday, Ernest K. Rude received a severe cut between the first and second fingers which required two stitches to close. However, the wound is now healing nicely.

POULTRY CO-OP. TO STAGE DRIVE

Business Men to Help Secure Members in Big Campaign on Tuesday.

Next Tuesday, May 20, has been set by the business men of Thief River Falls as the date for putting across the drive for members of the recently organized co-operative poultry marketing association. A meeting of those who wish to help will be held at the Commerical club rooms Monday evening, at which time final plans will be made and instructions given those who take part in the drive.

In order to get the new association to operating without delay it is necessary to get in some fast work in the matter of signing up members. This is the purpose of the drive as planned, the county being divided into sections and teams assigned to each in order to make the job thorough and to get it done without delay. No argument is necessary in securing members as most producers are willing to sign the agreements once the proposition is explained to them.

Business men of St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Mavie and Hazel also will take part in the drive, according to present plans, but all details of the drive are left to be worked out at the meeting next Monday evening.

Olaf Neset is president of the association and he is rapidly getting the entire district organized for the signing of memberships. Reports from most quarters indicate that no trouble will be experienced in securing the required number of signers. Attend the meeting Monday evening and do your bit to help put Pennington county across with a bang.

Meet to Complete Plans for Education Convention

Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the high school of the executive committee of the Northwest Minnesota Educational association to outline the program for the teachers' convention to be held here in October. Both the questions of enrollment and programs to be pursued were taken up at this meeting. The members of this committee are: Supt. O. L. Troxel of Fosston, president; Miss Clara Gullingsrud of Gully, vice-president; Morris Bye, secretary and treasurer. The appointed members of the board are C. H. Orrison of McIntosh, County Supt. Nels Engen of Warren, and Supt. L. T. Simley.

Senior Day.

Monday was Senior day at the Lincoln high school and the graduating class made the most of the opportunity offered with novel decoration ideas indulged in and misleading costumes worn in good effect. At the program which began at nine, the class and prophesy were read and the faculty presented with gifts supposed to aid them in future years of teaching. A parade was one of the features of the morning and the afternoon was spent in picnicing at Aubol's grove south of the city.

Uses Smoke Screen.

In an argument with a man for whom he had done some work one day last week, a well known local teamster who does odd jobs around town, used the smoke screen to advertise. After completing his first section of the argument he lit his pipe and proceeded to smoke with such vigor that he became entirely lost to the view of his opponent, who thereupon cut short his answer and walked away. Former soldiers who witnessed the incident claim the smoke screen was perfect and in every respect equal to those used in the world war with such telling effect.

Oversboe Is Traveler.

Monday a man's number 9 overshoe was sent on its way to Winnipeg where it will be put on a west coast train and begin the last part of a 15,000 mile journey back to Denver, Colorado, office of the American Express company from which place it was started a short time ago just "to see how it would travel." The galosh came to this city from Duluth and was covered with tags and stamps. Last summer a man's straw hat came to this city and was sent on its way by the local office of the Express company. This hat had started from Chicago and before its arrival here had visited at every foreign office of the company, traveling through China, India, Turkey, Greece, France and England besides many other countries and was so covered with tags and stamps as to be almost unrecognizable.

One address will be given to the Kiwanis club at noon, while the evening address will be given to the public at the Crookston auditorium. Mr. Gould will discuss the proposed national game and fish preservation law now pending in congress and a delegation of local sportsmen may journey to Crookston to meet the commissioner in order to discuss with him plans for putting on a campaign in the state in behalf of the suggested measure. In case the pending bill becomes a law it is possible that a plan may be considered for the purchase of Thief Lake, formerly famous the country over as a game preserve.

The Tribune job department is now busy on the June 1 issue of the Thief River Falls telephone directory for the Northwestern Bell Telephone company. The new book will in all respects be similar to the one issued in December except that it will contain a slightly larger number of names. Mrs. Nelson Improving.

Mrs. H. E. Nelson, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, has during the past few days showed marked improvement and it is expected she will make a satisfactory recovery unless something unforseen happens. Mrs. Nelson's illness has been the cause of much concern and her present turn for the better is a great relief for her family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fuller, accompanied by Miss Leona Bourque, left Friday evening for Calgary, Alta., Canada, and expect to remain there during the summer months. The move is made in the hope that the change of climate will prove beneficial to Mr. Fuller's health, which has been very poor for some time.

Better Fed Cows At Low Cost

Actual experiments of successful dairymen have shown that cows which have all the alfalfa they can eat do not need expensive prepared feeds to maintain a high milk production.

That's why the First and Peoples State Bank urges farmers near Thief River Falls to sow an acre of alfalfa for every cow on their farm. It will mean better-fed, higher-producing cows without high feed costs.

Armor Plate Your Motor

There is a particular grade of Pyramid Oil specially made for every standard lubricating system used in Automobiles, Tractors, Trucks or Engines. Each is scientifically compounded to reduce friction in the bearings and working parts of all motors and engines.

When lubricated with the right grade of Pyramid Oil your power loss from "drag" is eliminated and you get continuous power without excessive wear on working parts. Pyramid Oil keeps saw toothed surfaces of moving steel machinery apart by providing a film of protection, a veritable Armor-Plate, which insures protection from loss of power by its action as a compression seal. Pyramid Oil protects you from undue expense by being economical. It protects you by being a pure oil—full bodied, absolutely heat-resistant, and free from sediment.

EASTERN MEN TO LOOK OVER WEST

Great Northern President to Escort Newspaper Men Over Territory.

With the idea of correcting some false impressions that have been given the East concerning the agricultural, industrial and economic conditions of the Northwest, President Ralph Budd of the Great Northern railway has arranged to conduct a party of about twenty representative eastern newspaper men on a nine day trip from Chicago to Seattle. They will obtain first hand information from the civic bodies and other sources of official information over the entire system of the Hill railway.

The party will leave Chicago June 1 aboard the first of the newly built all-steel de luxe Oriental Limited trains that will be put into service between Chicago and the Pacific Northwest on that date. Representatives of the civic organizations of Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington and Oregon will be expected to meet the newspaper men in the cities through which the new transcontinental train passes on its journey to the coast.

In view of the fact that erroneous reports recently have been circulated as to Northwestern conditions, President Budd says he is eager the viewpoint of the Northwestern states may be communicated personally to the newspaper representatives and that consequently he hopes arrangements will be made in the cities enroute from Chicago to Seattle to have prominent citizens meet the party.

Last Play Day of Season in Rural Schools May 29

District 178 made an effort to hold a play day program May 8, Thursday, but because of the rains no athletic events were indulged in. The children and adults were led in community singing after a picnic dinner and Rev. Chas. Gerlinger delivered an address which was received very well. Districts 178 and 54 were represented but 166 failed to show up, doubtless because of the bad weather.

Friday, May 9, the play day was held in district 165 with districts 26 and 165 present and district 4 absent. Most of the activities scheduled were undertaken and the day was much enjoyed by all. The next play day will take place in district 94, seven miles west of St. Hilaire, May 29. This will conclude the program for this school year.

Applications Continue to Come for Livestock Loans

Applications for loans for the purchase of livestock, as provided by the recently organized agricultural credit corporation, have now been made to the number of 35 to the Pennington county committee, headed by County Agent J. J. McCann. Mr. McCam states that a total of $35,000 is available for Pennington county and that judging from the size of the loans already applied for, about 50 farmers can be cared for at this time. The money is to be used for the purchase of additional livestock and the terms are very reasonable. Indications are that all negotiations will be complete and the money in the hands of farmers about July 1.

Many Meetings Conducted Throughout Section Help Co-op. Poultry Movement

County Agent J. J. McCann and Olaf Neset, president of the recently launched Thief River Valley Poultry Marketing association, are this week conducting a series of meetings in this section of the state in order to explain to farmers and others the merits of the proposed plan of marketing poultry products. They are accompanied by J. E. Gillispie of Stillwater, who speaks on co-operative marketing in addition to explaining machinery and other products of the Stillwater prison.

A rousing meeting was held at Hazel Saturday evening, at which quite a number of farmers signed marketing contracts. Monday evening a meeting was scheduled for Grygla, but owing to the bad condition of the roads it was impossible for the speakers to reach that village. Last night a meeting was conducted at Mavie, tonight Rosewood is the place chosen, while Silverton and Goodridge will be visited Friday and Saturday evenings respectively. These meetings are part of the campaign to secure the signing of 1.000 marketing agreements in order that the new association may begin functioning without delay. Workers all over the district are busy securing signatures and report success in almost every instance.

Gas Tank Belongs Under Seat Asserts Henry Ford

"The gasoline tank in Ford cars belongs under the seat," said Henry Ford in a recent interview while on a tour of inspection of his properties. "It is the logical location and will not be changed."

Ford owners who hoped to get away from the annoyance of lifting the seat cushion when getting gas, may be disappointed. But Mr. Ford's attitude seems logical when one considers that putting the tank at the rear would add $25.00 or more to the cost of the car, as it would necessitate use of a vacuum tank, extra fittings, extra brackets, etc.

And such expense is no longer justified now that the under-the-seat tank can be made just as handy as a rear tank. Gas can be taken without lifting the cushions. The driver sits at the wheel during the operation just as is done on all big cars. And a visible gauge is always before the driver to guard him from running out of gas.

And all this is made possible in 10 minutes. A new combined filler and gas gauge is clamped into the regular opening, replacing the ordinary screw cap. The cost is but a fraction of the cost of a rear tank.

The device is called the Kirstin Fil-O-Meter and Tallack Froisness has been appointed to handle them locally.

Examination.

Again the tests have shown their grisly fates in the Central rooms. This time the terror of tests have increased tenfold. Civics test was taken last week on the half year's work. The others, history, arithmetic and English will be given on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. It is hoped that each pupil will come through with a respectable mark. Slackers during the year will doubtless be "out of luck" as crammed information is not as good as carefully studied facts.

Class Play.

Friday afternoon all religious instruction was postponed, due to the advent of the class play, "Mary's Millions." Over one half of the school attended this annual exhibition of art. Needless to say, it was enjoyed very much by all.

The Dead Paper.

The Junior High School Chronicle will live but two more weeks. However, our commencement paper will occupy a whole sheet in The Tribune and we are putting forth all our energies (I mean all the energies left from the tests) to make it a real remembrance of Central days to those who graduate.

ATTENTION!
Cast Your Vote Now.

Would you like to see a framed picture of the staff hung in the assembly room of the Central? If so, please cast your vote at once before Friday. Give them to either Harriet Mattison or Harold Will of SA. in a sealed envelope with no name attached before May 16. Announcements of the returns will be made next week in the Chronicle.

In the Future—

We shall see:

George Highdahlen as the champion tango dancer of the world.

Lucy Nason as "My Shiek's" permanent queen.

The Seniors at Central School.

At 10:30 Monday morning the pupils of Central were startled from their tests by hearing a great hubbub and confusion outside their doors.

With a mysterious smile (it wasn't so very mysterious though, 'cause the news of this had spread rapidly from pupil to pupil) the teachers commanded them to lay down their pens and other writing material.

"How dare anyone disturb us while we write our tests?" each pupil thought, but this thought was immediately dispelled as the door burst open and a stream of foreigners burst into the hall. It was the annual Senior day and these proud people really did "throw off their dignity." They marched from room to room playing all sorts of instruments and making queer noises.

Many of the he-men made the most charming ladies while shy little girls became bold, had men and smoked "cigarets." Altogether, they were very amusing and our one regret was that they went by so fast we could not see each person as long as we might have wished.

ST. HILAIRE

Funeral Services.

The funeral services for the late Guy Anbol of Crookston, Minn., were conducted from the Norwegian Lutheran church at St. Hilaire, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. C. M. Grimsrud officiated at the services. Music was furnished by a special choir of the Lutheran church and two very appropriate selections rendered, "Face to Face," and "Abide With Me."

Services were conducted in the Scandinavian language and a short sermon also delivered in English, at which time Rev. Grimsrud dwelt on the suffering and prolonged illness of the deceased and his courage, patience and forbearance through it all.

Beautiful floral offerings were in evidence, completely covering the casket and making a bank of flowers around the altar.

The deceased is mourned by two brothers, C. O. Aubol of Big Lake, Minn. and Ed. Anbol, of St. Hilaire, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Thompson of Volders, Wis. and Mrs. G. A. Bydal of Minneapolis. The three latter were present for the funeral.

Out of town guests were Judge and Mrs. Grindeland and Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson of Warren.

Interment was made at the Riverside cemetery and the following men acted as pall bearers: J. S. Roy, H. A. Jackson, J. A. Hanson, O. Gunstad, K. O. Gigstad and H. F. Hanson.

Luther League Program.

The Luther League of the Norwegian Lutheran church gave a program in the church Sunday evening. The program was in the nature of a Mother's Day program and was well rendered. A very good sized crowd was in attendance.

High School Play.

The high school play entitled "Little Miss Jack," that was given by the senior class of the local high school here last Thursday and Friday evening, was greatly enjoyed by all who saw it. This play was especially well adapted to high school players, as it was clean and wholesome from start to finish and was neither lacking in humor or pathos. The characters were all well chosen and played their respective parts with unusual ability for amateurs. The caste of characters was as follows:

Mrs. Trevirs	Edna Anderson
Jackie	Esther Grandbois
Dr. Carlyle	Paul Erickson
Aunt Kate	Bertha Biski
Nena Carlyle	Hazel Dann
Paul Sadbon	Fred Biski
Mr. Rider	Norman Olson

Dorcas and Aid.

MUCH BUSINESS BEFORE COUNCIL

Tuesday Night's Session Is Marked by Many Things Requiring Attention.

The session of the city council last night was not as lengthy as some, yet considerable business of routine nature was disposed of including granting of several applications for various kinds of licenses, examination of monthly reports, reports of committees, etc.

The American Legion asked for cooperation on the part of the city in the matter of decorating the graves of deceased soldiers, the county having offered to bear part of the expense. The aldermen graciously agreed to do their share.

The Ham Realty company offered to sell the city the 25 foot lot immediately south of the auditorium at a consideration of $600 and the offer was filed temporarily.

A plumber's license was granted to Ed. Lee and the bond therefor was duly accepted. A refreshment license was granted to the Peoples Co-operative store, whils three milk licenses were granted to Kopp & Son, Olaf Thompson and A. A. Myrom, having been duly approved by the dairy inspector. A permit to repair the building now occupied by Chas. Alexander was granted at an estimate cost of $300.

Two bids were received and opened for installation of plumbing at the new poor farm, one from Ed. Lee for $292 and the other from the Union Plumbing & Heating company for $287. The lower bid was accepted and it is intended to have the place ready for occupancy in a few days. No action was taken toward securing a matron. It is the intention of the council when the building is occupied to visit all families now being supported by the city and advise them they can enter the poor farm as dependents of the city or take the alternative of being cut off from further support of the city.

The ordinance revising light and power rates was given its third and final reading while the ordinance regulating the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor failed to get its second reading as has happened twice before. A resolution was passed vacating the east end of Second street while the auditorium was designated as the official polling place for all four wards for this year. The customary list of bills for the past two weeks was read and ordered paid. The report of the dairy inspector showed one cow ordered killed on account of having T. B. while all dealers showed milk testing well above the requirements.

All Angeles of Appeal in Film "Three Wise Fools"

A photoplay that has angles of appeal for every picture-goer is King Vidor's first Goldwyn production. "Three Wise Fools," adapted by the director from Austin Strong's successful stage play produced by John Golden and Winchell Smith. It will be the attraction at the Princess theatre for Friday and Saturday. The picture is a blending of charming comedy, romance, reality and spectacle. It retains in full the quaint comedy of the play, but developes and strengthens the dramatic story and depicts in detail some episodes that were but hinted at, or which took place off the stage, in the original.

The story concerns three crusty old bachelors, to whom is confided, on the deathbed of the woman they had all vainly loved in their youth, the care of her daughter.

Wangestein & Son Move to New Home on LaBree

A. A. Wangenstein & Son, jewelers, last week moved from their former location on Third street to the building formerly occupied by Chris Halvorsen on LaBree avenue, and are now nicely settled in the new location. Mr. Halvorsen has decided to withdraw from the field in Thief River Falls and will leave about the first of the month for Minneapolis where he will again establish himself in the jewelry business.

Sons of Norway Lodge to Observe National Holiday of Norway Friday Night

While no general celebration of May 17, Norway's Fourth of July will take place in Thief River Falls this year, the event will not be allowed to pass by unnoticed. The Sons of Norway lodge assisted by the Daughters of Norway, is arranging a party to be given in the lodge rooms on Friday evening, May 17, when an appropriate program will be rendered in honor of Norway's independence.

Several selections will be rendered by the Brage chorus, with a number of solos and other selections to fill in. John Bratrud will deliver tha address of the evening and it is probable that others may be called upon for short speeches in the course of the evening. The program, which will be rendered in both the Norwegian and English languages, will be followed by refreshments and dancing. Admission is limited to members of the lodge and friends invited by them.

BIG MEETING OF MASONS IN MAY

Grand Commandery Knight Templar Conclave Gathers in Minneapolis.

One of the big events of the year in the Masonic fraternity will take place in Minneapolis May 21 and 22, when the 59th annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Minnesota will be held.

A joint committee of the three Minneapolis Commanderies, Zion, Darius and Mounted, is making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the visiting Knights and their ladies. It is the intention to emphasize the social side of the Grand Commandery conclave and to provide special entertainment for the wives and families of the members.

The Grand Commandery headquarters will be at the West Hotel and the headquarters for the Ladies and Knights will be at the Masonic Temple. The Grand Commandery will be open at 10 a. m. May 21 in the Asylum of Zion Commandery. The exemplification of the opening ceremonies will be performed by Duluth Commaodery No. 18. The important features of the first morning session will be the address by the Grand Commander and the election of the Grand Commander for the ensuing year.

At one o'clock the Order of the Temple will be exemplified by the officers of the Grand Commandery under the direction of the Board of Instructors. At 3 o'clock thera will be exhibition drills by the drill corps of the various Commanderies on the parade grounds. From 5:30 to 6:30 dinner will be served for all Knights Tamplar in uniform. A parade will take place in the evening at 7:30.

At 10 o'clock in the morning of the 21st automobiles will be provided to take the visiting ladies on a sightseeing tour around the twin cities, visiting all the points of interest, particularly the Shrine hospital for crippled children, the new Ford plant and the Minnesota Masonic Home. Lunch will be served at the Masonic Home and the return trip will be arranged to arrive at the parade grounds in time for the exhibition drills. Reserved seats in the grand stand will be provided for all the visiting ladies. The ladies will also be provided with reserved seats from which to view the parade in the evening. The day will end with a grand ball in the Armory at 9 p.m., preceded by an exhibition drill by Mankato Commandery drill corps.

May 22, the second day of the Conclave, will be devoted entirely to the business of the Grand Commandery.

FOOTBALL BOYS IN GREAT FORM

Indications Point to Strong Team for Lincoln High Next Season.

Saturday afternoon a number of spectators witnessed tha first set-to of spring football this season at the fair grounds whan two squads of high school boys gava an exhibition of the kind of football that may be expected from them this coming fall.

The game was snappy and full of good plays up to the very last minute and was considered by those who witnessed it as one of the best scrimmage games on record. The boys out for practice this spring were divided into two teams headed by Clifford Bjorkman and Michael Parenteau. The Bjorkman squad scored tha first touchdown in a series of line smashes and end runs with Penney carrying the ball, ending the half with a score of 6-0 in favor of the Bjorkman-Pennay-Zeh combination. However, in the third quarter the leading team's defence weakened somewhat and "Mike" Parentean, also by line smashes and end runs, carried the ball to a touchdown, making a kick for goal with the final result in score of 7-6. Following is the line-up for the afternoon:

Roy Langevin, left guard; Lee Melgaard, right guard; Arnold Kolden, right tackle; Charles Froseth, left tackle; Gordon Ihle, right guard; Robert Halvorson, left guard; Tien Gullingsrud, center; Clifford Bjorkman, quarter back; Lloyd Bennes (captain), fullback; Richard Zeh, helf back; and Arthur Penney, halfback. On the other team the line-up was: Sylvester Wingler, left end; Howard Davidson, right end; Arne Berg, right tackle; Lawrence Mulry (captain), left tackle; Roland Kinghorn and Lee Anderson, guards; Charles Booren, guard; Michael Parenteau, quarterback; Kenneth Streeter, left half; Walter Larson, right half; and Maurice Holzknecht, full back.

Captains Mulry and Bennes performed well in backing up the line. Bjorkman is a quarterback who will fit in well next year as his work is clever. In the line, Ihle, Berg and Mulry performed in their usual good style while Zeh's clever foot work on end runs was responsible for a number of gains which the Bennes team made. Judging from the game Saturday the Lincoln will have one of the strongest teams of the season next autumn. For the benefit of the public who are interested in athletics the boys will put on another game Saturday, May 17, beginning at four in ths afternoon. This will be the last chance to see the high school boys perform until the opening of the fall season. There will be no admittance charge and everyone is invited to attend.

SENIOR COMEDY MAKES BIG HIT

"Mary's Millions" Pleases Large Audiences at Two Performances.

With a play that took the children by storm in the afternoon and pleased the adults to a marked degree Friday evening, the Seniors once more cama across in great style with the vehicle, "Mary's Millions." The play was very well presented, the costumes lovely and the various character parts taken very well by the students from the "Abija Boggs" of Orrin Storholm who proved one of the high lights of the play, to the members of the choir, whose outlandish costumes and equally queer voices made the comedy scene of the second act.

The hero, Jack Henderson, was played very well by Math Barzen Jr., while Margaret Melgaard was delightful as the sweet Mary Mannars. John Sether did very well in the part of the hero'a friend, "Jimmy Barnes," who finally wandered back to his first love, "Betty Barlowe." Hylda Peterson, who played this part possessed a fire and snap that mada her a delight to tha audience.

Liv Vistaunet, with her languorous swaying through the various acts, made an ideal vamp companion for the villian as played by Melvin Engelstad. The parts of Mary's uncle and aunt, "Ezra" and "Jane Stoneham," were convincingly taken by Lawrence Bjorkman and Hazel Krause while Harriet Morgan and Elsla Blair in the parts of "Eudora Smith" and "Mrs. Amanda Mudgs" put the finishing touches to the fine cast.

The play was ably directed by Lawrence T. Mickelson of the Lincoln faculty. The evening was made doubly delightful by the music rendered between acts by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson. The students showed tha results of tha fine training she has given them during the year in many selections played with spirit and showing up well in the more intricate passages in unison and velocity.

"Olle i Skratthult" Back to City for Performance on Friday Night, May 23

"Olle" is coming back, much to the delight of theatre goers in Thief River Falls who have come to look upon the appearance here of the famous Swedish comedian as a real treat. This time Olle and his company will appear at the Sons of Norway hall on Friday evening, May 23, and it is said his company is better this year than ever before.

Due to the fact that the graduation exercises of the public schools take place in the auditorium on the evening in question, it was impossible for the Skratthult company to secure this building for its performance. A perusal of tha advertisement in another column of The Tribune today will disclose in more detail Olle's program as rendered on his present tour.

Seeding is progressing rather slowly on account of the unsettled weather conditions.

Red Lake and other counties to the south, experienced a rather unusual snow fall of several inches last week that Pennington county just about escaped entirely.

Mr. Dahle was born in Sasterdal, Norway, and immigrated to this country about 4 years ago and landed at McIntosh where he resided for about seven years on a farm. He was also back to Norway and spent a year and upon his arrival the second time he moved into the unorganized township or rather known as the half town, which later became the township of Garnes, and lived there for about twelve years before coming here. He homesteaded here in the fall of 1904 and removed here with his family in the summer of 1905 where he has since resided up to the time of his death, Mr. Dahle was a man of about 64 years of age. He leaves to mourn his loss, one daughter, Mrs. Edwin Syverson of Highlanding, his wife passing away two years ago, Mrs. Ben Kviste, also of Highlanding and Mrs. G. Danielson of Star, and having ether relatives residing there also.

Funeral services were held on May 8 in the Oak Park church where his last remains were laid at rest. Rev. S. Leirfallsur officiated and Bj. Bjornaran of Hickory also took part and touched upon life's problems effecting the fellowship and brotherhood of mankind.

At the Farmer-Labor conference held at Plummer last Sunday in regard to selecting a candidate for representative for the 65th district, we understand that Sam Lovaas who was given the endorsement some time ago has since decided not to make the race. R. O. Gordon of Garnes township was chosen in place and has since filed for the position and will no doubt in the near future make that fact known as a campaigner throughout the district.

We have had the pleasure to know Mr. Gordon since he became a resident of Garnes and we believe that he is a man that will try and do right by all concerned.

Mr. Gordon is a farmer, honest and upright in his ways, a progressive minded man, and knows the situation within his district and in the country in general as to the agricultural problem and other matters concerning the welfara of the people as a whole. We believe that if Mr. Gordon gets the position that he seeks through this endorsement, that he will do his utmost to help bring about an adjustment that will restore to the people their rights in matters concerning the commonwealth of the state as a whole.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM BEING DECIDED UPON

American Legion Boys Take Lead in Preparing For Day's Observance.

Program in Full to Be Published in Next Issue of The Tribune.

Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion is rapidly going forward with preparations for the proper observance of Memorial Day in Thief River Falls this year, and a committee is now busily at work deciding upon a detailed program to be carried out that day. Memorial Day falls on May 30, which is Friday of next week.

Two committees were chosen at a recent meeting of the post to take charge of Memorial Day observance. One committee, with Dr. A. W. Swedenburg as chairman, G. Howard Smith and L. A. Hermanson, is arranging the program, while another committee composed of Oscar C. Paulson, Dave Robinson and Miles Jackson, with the former as chairman, will have charge of decorating the graves of former soldiers in Thief River Falls and at other villages in the county.

It is expected the program will take much the same form as in previous years, with a meeting at the auditorium, a parade and exercises at the various cemeteries. A detailed program is expected to be available for publication in next week's issue of The Tribune.

"SYTTENDE MAI" IS CELEBRATED

Sons and Daughters of Norway Fittingly Observe Norwegian Holiday.

"Syttende Mai" was very fittingly celebrated in this city last Friday evening, May 16, by the Sons and Daughters of Norway and their friends who gathered at the Sons of Norway hall early in the evening to observe the holiday commemorating Norway's freedom.

The evening's program was begun properly with an address of welcome by Bernhard Knudsen, president of the lodge, after which the Brage male chorus sang a rousing "Ja Vi Elsker." Mayor J. S. Arneson made a few appropriate remarks concerning the event to be celebrated, he being followed by the Brage chorus with "Skona Mai." This popular organization also sang "Moronna Kvadet" and "Konge Kvadet" at the conclusion of the leading talk of the evening given by John Bratrud and following the closing remarks of Bernhard Knudsen. "America" was sung as the closing number.

Following the program dancing and card playing formed the amusements until a late hour. A delicious luncheon was served at midnight by the ladies. It was one of the most enjoyable parties of the season and an unusually large crowd was present.

CREAMERY LISTS GREAT INCREASE

April Business 70 Per Cent More Than Same Month One Year Ago.

Secretary T. H. Bjerke this week issued a report of the business done at the local creamery during the month of April. The report is a very satisfactory one in that it shows an increase of 70 per cent over the same period a year ago, the total pounds of butterfat purchased during the month being 16,045.77. For this a price ranging between 37 and 40 cents was paid.

Following is a list of customers of the creamery who received checks in excess of $100 for the month.

Carrier's Widow Receives Letter of Sympathy From High Department Official

The widow of Earl F. DeVeling, for many years rural letter carrier out of Thief River Falls and who died a short time ago, the other day received the following letter from H. H. Billany, fourth assistant postmaster general:

"The splendid record of your late husband, Earl F. DeVeling, has just been brought to my personal attention. Since the date of his appointment as regular rural carrier, December 1, 1913, Mr. DeVeling rendered service in such a manner as to win the esteem and regard of both his patrons and his fellow workers. His record is one worthy of special commendation.

"Knowing that a man was so faithful in the performance of his daily duty must have been an equally devoted husband, I beg to extend to you my heartfelt sympathy in your sorrow."

NEW CREAMERY IS POSSIBILITY

Question to Be Threshed Out at Meeting Called For Saturday, May 31.

As will be seen by a notice appearing elsewhere in this issue, Secretary T. H. Bjerke of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association has called a meeting of the stockholders of that organization, to be held at Tourist park on Saturday, May 31, at 11 a. m. In case the weather is unfavorable for an outdoor meeting, the city auditorium will be used.

The meeting is called for the purpose of considering several matters of interest to the stockholders, but the principal question to be considered is that of the erection of a new creamery building during the present season. The question of putting up a new new home for the association has been under consideration for some time but owing to conditions generally it has heretofore been deemed best to postpone construction work. There is an urgent demand for a new building, however, and many of the stockholders feel that no further delay is advisable.

All stockholders and friends of the creamery are urged to attend the meeting May 31. Putting up a new building is a big proposition and every person interested should be present when the question is threshed out.

THREE JUVENILE STARS IN FILM

Wesley Barry, Spec O'Donnell and Baby Bruce Guerin Here This Week.

The Princess theatre announces a special feature and treat for its patrons for Friday and Saturday. The three "greatest" boys gracing the screen have all chipped in and want you to see them act in their newest comedy-drama, "The Country Kid." They are none other than Wesley Barry, the lad of freckled fama, "Spec" O'Donnall, who in an actual count, runs him a close second, and last but not least, the youngest member, "Baby" Bruce Guerin, who hasn't grown a single freckle as yet, in his four years on earth.

Supporting them in the cast are: Kate Toncray, Helen Jerome Eddy, George Nichols, Edward Burns, and George C. Pearce. The story was written directly for the screen by Julien Josephson, who wrote so many of Wesley Barry's previous successes, and is directed by William Beandine, who knows how to bring out the best in the boys.

It is a simple, homely story, one of life on a farm with its hardships and struggle with the soil. Three boys, left alone in the world with a small and impoverished farm between them and absolute destitution.

In "The Country Kid" Wesley Barry is no longer a wild urchin, but a lad saving two younger brothers from an orphanage.

Hikers Go Through.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Barbee of New York City reported at the local police court Tuesday, May 20, at 6:30 p.m. on their way from the former city to Seattle, Washington. They immediately left town, going north, expecting to reach the Canadian boundry at Emerson. From there they will take a westerly route to the coast arriving at Vancouver and will then proceed south again to their destination. It took the adventurous couple 2 months and 17 days to reach this city from New York and to date they had trudged 1900 miles.

Attends Convention.

H. A. Brumund, manager of the Thief River Theatre company, returned the latter part of the week from the Twin cities, where he had spent several days in attendance at the convention of the Minnesota Motion Picture Theatres association.

POULTRY DRIVE BRINGS RESULTS

Newly Organized Marketing Association Signing Up Many Members.

The work of securing members for the recently organized Thief River Valley Poultry Marekting association is progressing at a very satisfactory rate, with a large number of new members being added in all parts of the district. To judge from the progress already made, there is not the slighest doubt in the minds of the organizers but what the necessary 1,000 members will be secured within a short time.

Several meetings were conducted in surrounding villages last week by President Olaf Neset of the association and County Agent J. J. McCann. At every meeting a large quota of members joined the association, and at Rosewood it is reported that every man present at the meeting who has poultry products for sale signed a marketing agreement.

A drive for members was conducted in Pennington county yesterday with excellent results. A membership of more than 400 is now enrolled in the immediate vicinity of Thief River Falls, which is considered a very good showing indeed.

This organization, under the leadership of Dr. P. L. Man Accused of Setting Prairie Fire Found Not Guilty at Trial Tuesday

On the complaint of John Bugge, Joseph Joringdahl was haled before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant Tuesday afternoon on the charge of setting fire to the prairie in Numedal township Sunday, May 11. The fire running before a wind which changed suddenly from southeast to northwest, burned nearly 100 tons of hay, part of it baled, which belonged to two brothers, John and Peter Bugge. A number of witnesses appeared for both sides but since the evidence as presented by John Bugge was all circumstancial in nature and since the defendant, Mr. Joringdahl, proved to the satisfaction of the court that he had been out hunting wolves that day with his hired man, he was cleared of the charge.

VICTOR LAWSON SPEAKS MAY 26

Candidate For Governor Is Billed to Appear Here Monday Afternoon.

According to advertising matter which reached The Tribune office this week, Victor Lawson of Willmar, one of the candidates for the Farmer-Labor gubernatorial nomination, will come to Thief River Falls on Monday, May 26, at one o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of delivering a campaign speech. It is understood the meeting will be held in the court rooms at the court house, but this has not positively been announced.

Mr. Lawson has been publisher of the Willmar Tribune for many years and is regarded as one of the big men of that section of the state. He is making a strong campaign for the office he seeks, and many members of the Farmer-Labor party in Thief River Falls and the surrounding country are supporting him.

The date of the primary election—June 16—is drawing near and all who are interested in the campaign should make it a point to turn out next Monday afternoon to the Lawson meeting. The voter who hears and sees all of the candidates is in better position to use good judgment when it comes to voting than the one who stays away from political meetings.

Mr. Lawson speaks at Bagley and Red Lake Falls on May 24, at Rosean Monday evening, at Hallock and Werren May 27, and at Crookston and Ada on May 28.

Gus Crown on Monday received a letter from "Bill" DeParcq, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. DeParcq, formerly proprietors of the Brumund hotel but who moved to the twin cities two weeks ago, in which he expresses the hope that he will soon be able to walk with the aid of crutches. The young man, whose spinal column was fractured in an automobile accident a year ago, has since been paralyzed from the waist down and in a very helpless condition. Excerpts from his letter follow:

"Everything is O. K. with me. Dr. Geist is having some braces made for my knees. Then I will have to get around on crutches for quite a while. The rest is a slow process of rejuvenation. We will be in Minneapolis until my braces are finished and then for for the lakes. I stayed in the hospital only four days and now we are at the Camfield hotel. See you next fall."

It is expected that this work will be completed in time for the results to be announced at tomorrow's meeting of the Commercial club.

The following committees have been chosen from the different wards, each committee being required to judge a ward other than the one from which it hails: Second ward—Mrs. P. W. Mabey, Mrs. F. L. More than 50 members were present and at the close of the program and music 13 new members were signed up. Several service men from Grygla were among those joining. There were formerly posts in both these centers, but so many buddies moved away that the posts disbanded, the members joining the one in this city.

Forty new members have been signed up with the two teams under the leadership of Dr. L. R. Twete and Henry Eide respectively so close that it is hard to say which will be the hosts at the feed set for Thursday evening at 7 o'cloc.

JACKIE COOGAN IN GREAT PLAY

Jackie Coogan as a little Belgian boy with baggy trousers, funny little cap, great, clumsy, clattering wooden shoes and patched jacket with large buttons of assorted shapes and sizes—Jackie Coogan as little Nello, the immortal hero of Ouida's story, comes to the Princess Sunday and Monday.

Never has Jackie appeared more effectively, and it is safe to say that in "A Boy of Flanders," he touches tragic heights never before revealed in any Jackie Coogan picture, while the comedy touches and humor of which his art is capable, are abundantly provided throughout the entire story.

A Hard Working Bank

This is a hard working bank—it has to be, for we have some very strong ideas on many ways in which a bank can "go to work" for its customers and we put them into practice.

If you have a financial problem to solve, a knotty business problem to untangle or if we can serve you along any constructive line—come in. We have helped others and probably we can help you.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE S. M. DISHER YARD

We spent four months interviewing painters and paint users and analyzing what twenty-one different paints were made of. We believe that if you did this before you bought paint you would do just what we did—buy St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paints.

As you know every paint maker must put on the can what is used in the paint and we found Cheap paints, but found they contained Silicates, Barium, Calcium, Silica, Etc. (These you know are really only sand, ground stone, plaster of paris, etc.) and if you will take the trouble to look you will find them right on the cans of many paints.

We also found high priced nationally advertised paints and found some of them contained these same things—They cost little or nothing compared with White Lead and Zinc, and only make weight.

We had to decide between cheap paints, nationally advertised paints or pure paints at a reasonable price but not spending a cent for national advertising.

We decided on the PURE PAINTS NOT NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AND SELLING FOR A REASONABLE PRICE. We have put in a complete line of St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paint.

It is only a few steps further to go down to our Lumber Yard (The Yard by the Great Northern Depot) and I feel sure you will be well paid for taking these steps. Come down and see what I have to offer you in either Paints, Lumber, Coal or Builders' Hardware. I will enjoy showing you. Yours very truly,

CO-OP. DOUBLES POTATO PRICES

Representative Twin City Business Men Give Exchange Approval.

The Maine Potato Growers' Exchange has had the effect of nearly doubling the price received by producers in 1923 over 1922, despite a heavier crop, according to a report made on the co-operative in Aroostook county by special representatives.

The report was the result of the desire on the part of business interests in St. Paul and Minneapolis for first hand, unbiased information as to what the Exchange had been able to accomplish in its first year.

M. C. Cutting, associate editor of The Farmer and G. R. Martin, executive vice president of the Great Northern railroad, were sent to Maine to make independent studies of the situation. Each compiled a separate report and each substantiated statements made by friends of co-operative marketing that the Maine Exchange was a distinct success and disproved statements of enemies of the movement that it was all but a failure.

The report will have the effect of placing strong financial interests behind the movement in this state.

The executive board, elected at the incorporation meeting on April 26, soon is expected to announce the operating personnel of the organization and complete arrangements for selling connections.

Up to the present no definite step has been taken, as the board feels that nothing will be gained by making haste in the matter of employing executive heads for various departments. One of the most important steps the board will take is to select a manager for the finance department. It has under consideration several men of unquestioned ability, from which selection is to be made within a few days.

Committed to Fergus Falls.

Albert Johnson, a young man residing in the vicinity of St. Hilaire, was last week examined before Judge of Probate Lars Backe as to his sanity, with the result that he was committed to the detention ward of the Fergus Falls hospital. The young man is not seriously affected and it is hoped that a period of treatment in the hospital will bring him back to health.

Power Company Plans Work.

The Red River Power company will employ some 75 workmen this summer and fall at Red Lake Falls in the construction of a new power house and dam improvement project on the Red Lake river about one mile northeast of that city. The dam is to be raised two and one-half feet and the bulk heads have already been built. Living quarters, complete with steel-decked cots, electric lights and electric refrigerators, are in the process of erection to be used in efficiently caring for the employes.

Chippewa Home.

Word has been received from the Indian Relief committee that a home for aged Indians will be fitted up on the shores of Leech Lake. This home will be for Indians who are too old to further provide for themselves. They will be allowed to come and go as they please. If they wish to leave in the summer time and live in the woods, that will be permitted.

Among Our Exchanges

Asks Fair Play For Today.

The trunk highway law provides that the bonds are to be taken care of by the auto license money. It's just a question of whether we will continue the good roads program, or let it drag for a few years. Future generations are going to use the good roads, probably more than we will, so let a part of the money they will pay for auto licenses be used for the liquidation of the bonds. Let's be reasonable, for once.—Mankato News.

Deal Rough With Wild Drivers.

The auto season is fast approaching. With it will come the eternal menace of the drunken driver on a night trip. The gink who fills up on moonshine and attempts to pilot a $75 Ford at the rate of forty-five per, should be locked up at the beginning of the season and not let out until Christmas. Authorities all over the state are preparing to deal rough with this class of sport, and they should.—Carlton Vidette.

Erskine Man Files.

Erskine has a resident in the gubernatorial race in Thos. Vollum, well-known progressive and a member of the state committee of the Non-partisan League. Mr. Vollum's chances of nomination were given added boost the past two weeks with the withdrawal of Chas. Lindberg from the race.

Warren Road Graded.

The road four and a half miles immediately east of Warren on Trunk Highway No. 33 will be graded and graveled by the highway department this year, making the road from Thief River Falls to that city a complete stretch of the sort of road that can be traveled over under almost any condition of weather with pleasure.

Much "Moon" Found.

The farm of James Winters, eight miles northeast of Hallock was found to be the source of much moonshine liquor when raided by the Kittson county sheriff and three revenue officers. Sixty gallons of "moon" were found in half gallon sealers and five gallon jugs. A completely set up copper still was also discovered by the searchers. Mr. Winters was arrested but later released on bail.

Pay Only for What You Use.

Hard surfaced roads and the beneficiaries thereof foot the bills. That is the one and only solution of the highway problem.—Fairmont Sentinel.

Put on Your New Plates.

Auto tax dodgers are now liable to a fine of $100 or a ninety day jail sentence. Using the highways without any license to do so is a misdemeanor as inexcusable as theft, so get a move on if you don't want to suffer the penalty.—Frazee Press.

Road Signs Crop Slumping.

Fifteen of the largest concerns in the United States have agreed to discard bill board advartising. If the American people will just remember to refuse to patronize bill board advertisers it will be no time until the great American nuisance which disfigures our highways will disappear. —Milaca Times.

In Humane Work.

As an appropriate way to celebrate Mother's Day, the White Swan patrol of girl scouts brought to the aged people at the poor farm a number of little luxuries that they much appreciated. The girls have been doing something good in kindly little ways on every holiday this spring in such a way that they are becoming well known to everyone and are very much thought of in the community.

Bring the Family to See the Telephone Girls at Work

There are few more interesting sights than "behind the scenes" in a telephone central office.

You will marvel at the genius of the men who have developed and perfected modern telephony. The means by which voices of subscribers, possibly miles away in all directions, can reach other subscribers unerringly through the maze of copper wire, is truly wonderful.

You will be fascinated by the intricate mechanism of the switchboard and by the swift-moving fingers of the operators.

Mother and the children will be just as much interested in the wonderful mechanism at the telephone central office as you. Why not bring them and make us a visit?

If You Should Break Your Arm

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse there is a "power within" the body that mends the broken bone.

If you lacerate the flesh, there is a "power within" that heals the wound.

What is true of a broken bone or of a flesh wound, is also true of burns, scalds and bruises.

Chiropractic teaches that this "power within" is the only power on earth that heals, cures or mends, and that what that power cannot or will not heal, cure or mend, is beyond the power of anything on earth.

Chiropractic teaches that the power within moves the body, regulates the heat of the body, converts common food into living flesh and blood, develops the body from a single cell to an adult organism and reproduces the species.

It teaches that this power performs these physical functions by means of impulses sent over the nerves, and that when a nerve is impaired the impulses are interfered with and the result is called dis-ease.

This is what the Chiropractor does.

HIGHWAYS ARE EXCEPTION

With a cry for lower taxes sweeping the country, we are apt to lose sight of the main aim of all effort to that end, which is to reduce the drain on the taxpayer's pocketbook. The test of any tax decrease is the extent to which it will lessen the net expenditures of the people. The tendency to ignore this patent fact is exemplified by the man who opposes needed highway betterments. He may not realize it, but he is advocating "bunghole waste for spigot saving."

The thinking man who uses the highways best knows this truth. He knows there is a direct relation between road costs and vehicle running costs. It is closest in Minnesota because the motor vehicle tax here is the only direct tax for trunk highway purposes. The average car owner in Minnesota pays the cost of the trunk route on which he drives most just as surely as he bears the expense of running his machine. And while the expense of running a car may be even less than 7 cents a mile on a good road and upwards of 10 cents a mile on a poor road, the road cost per vehicle in Minnesota varies from about 1-5th cent on ordinary dirt roads to 4-5ths cents on pavement, all costs and charges included. So the extra 3-5ths cents a mile of needed road outlay will mean 3 more cents a mile saving in car running expense.

The Minnesota highway department, showing the courage of honest conviction, has announced its purpose to renew to the next legislature the decommendation for two $10,000,000 annual issues of state trunk highway bonds, as provided in Good Roads Amendment No. 1. The proposal, it is becoming more generally appreciated, is to loan the use of state credit to the 450,000 motor vehicle owners of Minnesota for the establishment of a revolving fund with which to build needed highway improvements. These bonds will draw interest, of course, but if cash were available the interest charge on the investment would be increased. This is due to the fact that the state pays a lower interest rate on the funds it borrows than it receives on those it loans. The proposed bonds will spread the cost of permanent betterments over part of the time they will serve, with greater fairness to every taxpayer.

Highway figures are big but often sound bigger than they are. For example: $20,000,000 looms bigger in our minds than 7,000 miles of trunk routes. We do not grasp the magnitude of the trunk highway system; do not realize that 200 miles of travel every day for a month would not cover it all. Nor do we keep in mind that the trunk routes are used by ten times as many vehicles and worn by ten times as hard usage as was the case ten years ago. Rather, we are unreasonably inclined to expect the same old outlay care for the highways for a greatly enlarged family of users. Certainly, increases in highway funds have fallen far behind the increase in highway usage.

Take a glance at the official progress sheet on permanent road building. It shows 5,194 miles of concrete pavement built in the United States last year. Figured at $30,000 a mile average, the investment totalled $155,820,000.

Minnesota built 42 miles at an approximate outlay of $1,260,000, and now has 458 miles all told, representing $13,750,000 invested.

California, firston the list, has nearly $100,000,000 of concrete pavement, Illinois put more than $30,000,000 and Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New York and North Carolina more than $10,000,000 each into concrete paving last year.

Possibly these facts will renew some of the old-time good roads enthusiasm in Minnesota—arouse us from our lethargy and stimulate our mental processes. Our model highway plan opens the way to keep pace with other progressive states. We cannot afford to allow ourselves to be blinded to the benefits it offers by the cry for lower taxes, a consideration wholly separate from good roads under the Minnesota program.

ST. HILAIRE

Fire Destroys Home.

The farm home on the Geo. Breitsprecher farm two miles east of St. Hilaire was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. Friends and neighbors rushed to the aid of the Breitsprecher family, who were doing all in their power to subdue the flames, but owing to a very strong wind the fire made rapid progress and the entire house was burned to the ground in a very short while. The family was unable to save any clothing or bedding on the second floor but a good share of the furniture down stairs was carried out by the neighbors. The origin of the fire is uncertain but the general impression seems to be that there was a defect in the chimney through a small attic and the fire got a good start there before it was discovered.

This little club was organized by Mrs. R. E. A great deal of time has been spent at these meetings studying music, composers and their lives and great benefit has been derived therefrom. Owing to Mrs. Stephenson's departure for Wisconsin last fall, the little club found itself without an advisor or instructor and Miss Anne Braun was prevailed upon to take charge of the club and has helped the young people considerably during the past year. It is expected the Coterie will become active again at the next school term in the fall.

ROSEWOOD

Poultry Meeting.

The poultry meeting held here last Wednesday evening by County Agent J. J. McCann, was very interesting but owing to deficient advertising there was only a small audience in attendance. Accompanying the poultrymen were J. Gillespie, a traveling representative of the machinery and twine department of the Minnesota state prison at Stillwater, who occupied the floor for about an hour in a very impressive talk on prison conditions and the manufacture and distribution of prison machinery. Hereto the prison machine department has been confined to three machines, mowers, rakes and binders, but following a legislature ruling at the last session, three additional machines, side-delivery rakes, cultivators and corn binders are prospects of the near future. Of course suitable patents must first be secured and taken under advisements, which may take some time but the present plan was to have the new rakes on the market by this summer. The other machines are to follow as they can be realized. Mr. Gillespie paid special stress on the present prices of prison products and competitive lines, and also the fact that all prison machines and twin were identical and in some cases superior in quality to competitive machines, and that owing to the efficient system of the prevailing correction institution in this state, this was made possible, and also it constitutes the best regulated prison system now known to exist, and is being copied in scores of cases. Following Mr. Gillespie's address, a short talk was given by Olaf Neset, president of the Pennington County Poultry association, who fully described the plans of the new poultry and egg marketing association of Thief River Falls, which plans to buy co-operatively eggs and poultry to ship in carload lots from that place, and thus secure a cash market for eggs as well as fowls. About 800 members had signed up this contract, agreeing to sell all their produce to this association for a period of three years, the majority of poultry men in a large number of adjoining villages, which will have their individual stations, and a truck from the central point bringing in eggs twice every week, and receiving payment on a similar basis as from the present operating co-operative creamery association, which seems to be operating to general satisfaction. About 30 signatures were secured at the meeting and J. E. Thompson who is community representative until a governing board is elected will attempt to secure any additional members. Plans to commence taking eggs by July 1 is under way and also to be able to take care of this fall's marketable fowls. Much interest was shown by those present, and it is to be hoped that this will fill a long felt need of this particular farmers' problem.

Fuller Invites Boys and Girls to Look Over Pigs Allotted to Club Members

C. H. Fuller of Mavie, the well known breeder of Poland China hogs who is conducting a pig club in Pennington county again this season, invites every boy and girl in the county to come to the Fisher livery barn and take a look at the fine Poland Chinas going out to club members. He urges the young folks to come whether they wish to join the club or not. A special cash prize of $50 will be given for the best pig in the club on October 10.

Shooting Insulators From Telegraph Poles Tabooed

Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo, remarked the other day that quite a number of insulators are being shot from telegraph poles in this section of the state. Mr. Barnard wishes to warn those who are responsible for this practice to quit it before they get into serious trouble. It is not only malicious destruction of property and punishable as such, but it is mighty expensive for the railroad company and seriously interfares with telegraph service. Those who wish to try their marksmanship should hunt up some other object upon which to try their skill.

Rev. J. B. Smith Retires.

Because of failing health, and under the urgent advice of his physician, Rev. J. B. Smith, who has long and faithfully occupied the pulpit at the local Methodist church, will retire from the ministry. His farewell sermon will be given Sunday, May 25. Rev. Smith does not contemplate moving from this city, however, which fact his congregation and many outside friends will be glad to hear. Until the beginning of the next church year, which begins October 1, the pulpit will be filled by visiting ministers. At that time it is expected a new minister will be appointed to take charge in this city.

Errors Corrected.

In reporting the automobile accident which occurred last week on the bridge near this city, The Tribune erroneously stated one of the Jerde boys was driving the horse and buggy which figured in the collision. Alvin Bjerge was the name which should have been used. The Tribune also made a mistake in stating that the Fuller family had gone to Canada. Only Mr. Fuller and his sister-in-law, Miss Leona Bourque, have yet gone. Mrs. Fuller, accompanied by her three daughters and son, Herman, will leave after the close of school here and the school for the blind at Faribault. The family expects to spend the summer at Shaunavon, Sask., in the hope that the change will prove beneficial to Mr. Fuller's health.

Emil Zeh Suffers Stroke.

Tuesday morning Emil Zeh suffered a paralytic stroke to his left side and is now recuperating in the Physicians hospital. The evening before he had been working hard in the garden and upon coming into the house seemed to suddenly suffer a severe chill. However, he thought nothing of the matter until the next morning, when upon attempting to get up, he was unable to control the left side of his body. He was at once removed to the hospital where he is resting easily, and it is hoped by his many friends that complete recovery will come soon.

Rev. T. E. Sweger Leaves.

Rev. T. E. Sweger will leave this city June 1 for Billings, Mont., where he will take part in the district meeting the Rocky Mountain section, leaving there for Stanwood. Wash., where he will attend the Pacific coast district meeting June 18. This will constitute the beginning of his acceptance of the post of district field superintendent of charities, mission funds, and education with the Lutheran church. For the present he will make his home in this city but plans for future residence are uncertain. Until definitely settled they will continue to make their home at the present residence on Horace avenue.

Last Session at Lincoln.

Thursday noon the last tests of the school year will have been finished and on the following day, at 3:00 p. m., the last assembly will be called at the high school.

At this time the honorary awards will be made; the letters which the athletes have won during the year will be given, as also will the medals to the debators and declaimers. At this time the W. C. T. U. essay contest award will be made. This contest was held during this spring with a choice of two subjects, "How Increasing Use of Machinery Makes Total Abstinence Necessary," and "Smoking and High School Scholarship." The ladies of the W. C. T. U. furnished an abundance of subject matter from which to gather material, and, although the Freshmen and English 2B section of Sophomores were the only ones who wrote for the prize, this data was much sought after by all students in search of material for sociology and English classes. The prizes to be awarded as a result of this contest are a first of $5.00 and a second of $2.00 with a first and second prize of $2.00 and $1.00 for the Freshmen who took part.

Poppy Sale May 28.

Next Tuesday, May 28, will be poppy day in this city with 1,500 poppies on sale by the Woman's Auxiliary here. Mrs. C. M. Haug is in charge of the sale and it is expected that the flowers will go like hot cakes as the cause is very deserving.

The funds which the posts and units pay for these poppies go to disabled veterans who make them, and the money collected from the public is devoted to welfare work among disabled veterans and their families.

Many of the former soldiers who were wounded in the war are in need. says Miss Blanche Scallen, secretary of the Minnasota Legion Auxiliary. She points out that in many cases their claims from the government have not been adjusted satisfactorily and unless the public, through Legion and Auxiliary, take care of them, no one will do so. Any Legionaire or auxiliary member will be glad to explain the use to which the funds are put. Books are open to the public and the record of past years attests the sincerity of purpose which prompts the great work.

To Push Road Question.

At the Commercial club luncheon Thursady noon, the Red Lake road question will be brought up for discussion and it is desired that all who can, attend this meeting.

Brage Singers to Middle River Next Monday Night

The Brage chorus and soloists are scheduled to appear for a concert next Monday evening, May 26, at Middle River. The people of the Marshall county village are assured of a rare treat in the musical line and there is little doubt but what a capacity audience will be in attendance.

State Board Examination.

Supt. Ole R. Sande announces that state board examinations will be conducted in many of the rural schools of the county and in Thief River Falls at the court house on Friday, May 23. The Tribune expected to publish a detailed report of the various places at which examinations are to be conducted, but lack of space prevents.

W. B. Fuller Recovering.

In the letter received a few days ago by Mrs. W. B. Fuller, announcing the arrival of her husband at Shaunavon, Sask., Canada, it was stated that the change in climate was already showing beneficial results to a marked degree.

Saturday, May 31, Mrs. Fuller will leave for Faribault, where she will attend the graduating exercises at the school for the blind which her son, Hermon Bischoff, is attending. This will take place June 3. Returning to this city, Herman, the three daughters, Theresa, Harriet and Marjorianne and Mrs. Fuller will later depart for Saskatchewan where they will join Mr. Fuller.

Mrs. Storholm's Sister Dies.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Storholm returned this week from McIntosh where they had attended the funeral of Mrs. Storholm's sister, Mrs. Sarah Stardig, who died at Crookston following a long illness, death being caused by cancer. Mrs. Stardig leaves to mourn her death four children, her aged mother who resides at McIntosh, three sisters among whom is Mrs. Storholm, and three brothers. Mrs. Stardig had visited Thief River Falls on a number of occasions and was quite well known here.

John Kivel Returns.

John Kivel returned to this city last week from Columbia Falls, Mont., where he had spent several months visiting comrades of Civil war days at the state soldiers' home. Mr. Kivel's health, in spite of his advanced years continues good and he is enjoying life to the fullest extent. He reports crops looking fine all along the way and with a favorable season from now on there is little doubt but what a bountiful harvest will be gathered by the farmers this fall.

Bakens Return.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baken, who have spent the past year in San Francisco, California, arrived Sunday morning with their trusty Ford, having made the entire distance in their car. They are at present visiting at the home of Mrs. Baken's parents near St. Hilaire but expect to establish their home in Thief River Falls in the near future. Mr. Baken was not very seriously impressed with the West and does not hesitate in stating that Minnesota looks better to him now than it ever did before. Mrs. Hannah Baken, his mother, who has lived in California for a number of years, is planning on returning to Thief River Falls some time this summer.

Picnics.

The Sunday school teachers of the Trinity Lutheran church have given a picnic for their pupils the past week. Last Friday evening, Miss Millicent Sweger entertained her class at a supper at Lovers' Lane, Miss Myrtla Helgeland a picnic dinner last Sunday and Miss Mildred Fallness entertained her class last evening at a picnic supper.

RALPH SHELDON KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP SUNDAY

Former Cashier of First and Peoples Meets Instant Death Near St. Paul.

Broken Steering Knuckle Is Said to Be Cause of Accident Fatal to Three.

Residents of Thief River Falls were shocked Sunday to learn of the death of Ralph M. Sheldon, former cashier of the First and Peoples State bank, which occurred in an automobile accident Sunday morning on the Jefferson highway a short distance south of St. Paul. Two other men, John O. Berglin of Chester, Mont., and Herman Abrahams, Dakota county farmer, also lost their lives as a result of the accident.

The car, occupied by Sheldon and Berglin and driven by the former, rolled over a 10-foot embankment and caught fire, three miles west of South St. Paul. Sheldon died instantly while his companion died a short time later at Ancker hospital, St. Paul. Abrahams, a farmer who went to the scene of the accident, dropped dead from heart failure when he saw the wreck.

Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Berglin were returning from Owatonna, where they had gone on a business trip Saturday. They had reached a curve in the highway west of South St. Paul when the accident occurred. Mr. Berglin was able to tell, before he lost consciousness, that the steering knuckle of the car seemed to have broken and that Mr. Sheldon applied his brakes in an attempt to bring the car under control. It swerved to the edge of the pavement, he said, and

PLAN RED LAKE SUMMER RESORT

Improvement of Ideal Spot Assured by Action Taken at Club Meeting.

The question of establishing a summer resort at Red Lake, which has been under discussion in this city for some time, again came up for consideration at the meeting of the Commercial club last Thursday. As a result, a corporation has been formed to take over the ground in the narrows, comprising about 163 acres, under a lease from the government. The idea is to subdivide the tract into suitable lots and to lease these to people who may wish to erect cottages thereon. It is the most ideal location in the world for a summer resort and there is little doubt but what it can be developed rapidly once the start is made.

One of the principal drawbacks to the development of this project has been the lack of a suitable highway to the lake. At present the distance from this city to the lake via Thorhult is 72 miles, and much of the road is in poor condition. However, considerable work has already been done on a direct route to the narrows, and when this is completed the distance will be cut to 50 miles. A gravelled highway now extends to the last line of Pennington county, and nearly twenty miles have been constructed on the east end near the narrows. This leaves a distance of about sixteen miles to be improved, and a plan is now under way whereby it is thought this can be brought about this year or next at the latest. A delegation of highway officials, including Commissioner Charles M. Babcock and county commissioners from valley counties is expected to go over the route in the near future and some action looking to the improvement of the road will no doubt result.

The lease on the tract to be taken over is now held by Math Barzen, T. L. Melgaard, Daniel Shaw and John Bratrud, who secured it two years ago with the idea of preserving the place for a tourist playground until such time as a permanent organization could be formed to develop its possibilities.

W. B. Fuller Dies.

Word was received today by Dr. G. A. Penney of the death Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock of W. B. Fuller, who left a little over a week ago for Shonavon, Sask., Canada, seeking to recover his health. With him when he died were Mrs. Fuller and their three daughters and the nurse, Mr. Fuller's sister-in-law, Miss Leona Bourque. The funeral arrangements are not definitely known as yet. However, a military funeral will be accorded the deceased and services will be held here Saturday afternoon.

KROGSTAD HOME RAZED BY FIRE

Residence and Household Goods of Patrolman Completely Destroyed.

A fire which completely destroyed the residence and nearly all the household goods and personal belongings of Night Patrolman E. L. Krogstad last Friday morning caused a loss estimated in the neighborhood of $3,000. Insurance to the amount of $1,500 was carried on the house and its contents. The residence was located on the corner of Sixth street and State avenue and has been the home of the Krogstad family for a number of years.

The flames were first discovered by Mrs. Krogstad about 9:45. She heard a crackling sound while in the kitchen preparing lunch for Mr. Krogstad, who had risen earlier than usual to keep an appointment down town at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Krogstad started up the stairs to investigate and discovered the whole interior of the second story to be in flames. A defective chimney is believed to be responsible for the fire.

An alarm was immediately turned in but the strong northwest wind fanned the flames into such fury that nothing could be done to save the house, and only a few articles of furniture in the lower story were carried to the street. The wind carried burning fragments to a house nearly a block away and it was with difficulty that a second fire was averted.

Mr. and Mrs. Krogstad and children have taken up their residence at 806 Bridge street. They naturally are badly handicapped for the present because of the loss of their household goods and nearly every article of clothing they possessed.

NORWEGIANS TO HOLD LAG HERE FOR TWO DAYS

About Two Hundred Delegates Expected From All Parts of Northwest.

One of the most important events of the year will take place in Thief River Falls next week when the "Ringerikslaget," an organization of Norwegians hailing from that particular section of Norway, will hold its annual meeting here. This "lag" is one of the largest in the Northwest and it is expected that about two hundred visitors from Minnesota, North and South Dakota will be in attendance. The convention opens Wednesday, June 4, and continues until Thursday evening, the 5th.

Hans Heen of Adams, N. D., is president of the organization and great preparations have been made for the proper entertainment of the visitors when they gather in Thief River Falls. Local arrangements are in charge of a committee composed of Andrew Ness, chairman; Rasmus Oen, Chris Gulrud, Hans Peterson and Chris Granum. The business sessions will be held at the Sons of Norway hall, which will be headquarters of the meeting throughout the two days. Programs of speeches, music, etc., are being prepared and it goes without saying that everyone concerned will have the time of his life. A big feature of the "lag" is the banquet to be served at 6 o'clock in the evening of June 4 in the basement of Trinity Lutheran church.

Both evenings, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, a very interesting illustrated lecture about Norway, Sweden and Denmark will be given by Dr. Frederick Ring at the city auditorium. Rev. Ring spent three years in Europe and traveled through these countries studying the people and their costumes, and his lecture and illustrations are said to be something very fine.

MANY LISTEN TO VICTOR LAWSON

Candidate for Governor Is Greeted by Large Crowd Monday Evening.

Greeted by an audience of farmers and town people that filled the court room in the court house to the limit, Victor E. Lawson, candidate for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket, Monday afternoon delivered an interesting and clearcut address on the issues of the campaign.

Mr. Lawson, who has been publisher of the Willmar Tribune for the past 30 years and a leader in progressive politics during all of that time, touched briefly upon several subjects, declaring himself to be in favor of public ownership of railroads and the placing of water power into the hands of the people instead of allowing what he termed the "power trust" to wax fat at the expense of the public. Mr. Lawson also came out strongly for economy in public affairs, declaring that in this way only can tax reduction be brought about. He argued against the proposed twenty million dollar highway bond issue, giving as his opinion that "pay as you go" is the best policy for Minnesota to pursue in its highway program.

The speaker also touched briefly upon the situation in the seventh congressional district, landing very highly Rev. O. J. Kvale, the present congressman, and condemning in strong terms the political record of A. J. Volstead. Mr. Lawson also paid some fine compliments to Senator Magnus Johnson and ventured the prediction that his term of office as senator will equal that of Knute Nelson, his predecessor.

Taken from all angles, the talk delivered by Mr. Lawson here Monday was along the line of thought fathered by Senator LaFollette and other leading progressives in present day politics. He made many friends and no doubt his visit will result in a nice vote for him at the June 16 primary.

County Treasurer Busy.

John Gullingsrud, county treasurer, is kept busy this week taking care of a steady stream of people who are anxious to pay the first half of their annual real estate taxes before June 1 so as to avoid the penalty which then becomes effective. Mr. Gullingsrud says present indications are that tax receipts up to June 1 will exceed by considerable those of a year ago.

HOLSTEIN SALE HERE ON JUNE 5 IS GREAT EVENT

Keen Interest Presages Unusually Large Attendance at Sale Event.

Thirty-five Head Purebred and High Grade Holsteins Placed on Block.

Judging from the way things look at the present time, a record breaking crowd will be in attendance on Thursday, June 5, at the Pennington county fair grounds, Thief River Falls, when the M. T. McFarland herd of Holsteins will be placed on sale at public auction. Due to the fact that other business interests require all of his time, Mr. McFarland has decided to sell out his entire dairy herd, which is recognized as one of the very best in the Northwest. Thirty-five head of purebred and high grades constitute the offering. In the lot are five bulls, 18 cows and 12 heifers.

Many of the animals offered are A. R. O. cows, show ring winners and calf club winners. All are sons or daughters or bred to Lilac Hedge Zuhrod Segis, a high record grandson of King Segis Pontiac Count, the world's greatest dairy sire.

The sale is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock sharp, and lunch will be served on the grounds at noon by the ladies of St. Bernard's Guild so that it will be unnecessary for bidders to leave the grounds at the noon hour. All the animals to be offered at the sale will be on exhibition at the grounds for three or four days prior to the sale so that anyone who is interested may have an opportunity to make an inspection in advance of the sale.

W. J. LaBree will act as auctioneer, with Joe Berg of Warren on pedigrees. A comprehensive catalog has been issued, giving complete information concerning the animals to be offered, and a copy may be secured upon application to Mr. McFarland.

PEOPLES STORE TO HOLD PICNIC

Everybody Invited to Affair to Be Held at Squaw Point Sunday, June 8.

Those who like to go to picnics—and there are many of them in this part of the country—are reminded that the third annual picnic of the Peoples Co-operative company will be held this year on June 8, and the place chosen for the event is Squaw Point. This affair is arranged for the benefit of the general public and everyone is invited to attend. The only requirement is that each visitor bring his own lunch.

A splendid program is now in process of preparation and nothing will be left undone which might add to the pleasure or entertainment of the occasion. A speaker of statewide reputation will be secured as the leading number on the program but the committee is not yet prepared to announce who this will be.

The following committee is in charge of the picnic: O. F. Halldin, H. Halland, Sig. Anderson, A. Williamson, C. E. Hellquist and J. E. Nelson. These men promise that if the weather man is at all reasonable there will be a good time in store for everyone who visits Squaw Point on Sunday, June 8.

Andrew Ness Throws Hat in Ring as Candidate in Race for Commissioner

Andrew Ness last Saturday filed as candidate for county commissioner from the Second commissioner district, which comprises the city of Thief River Falls. Robt. McGinn, the present incumbent, also has filed for reelection, which insures a spirited contest. Mr. Ness may almost be considered a pioneer of this city, having resided here since 1899. He served for four years on the city council, losing out last fall by the narrow margin of three votes.

Noxious Weed Meeting to Be Held Here June 17th

A meeting of the town chairman of Pennington county is announced to take place at the court house in this city at 10 o'clock a.m., Tuesday, June 17. This meeting is in accordance with the law passed by the last legislature for the control of noxious weeds. The co-operation of all township chairmen is requested by Assistant Commissioner C. P. Bull, which will have a representative at the meeting.

Taxpayers Asked to Take Part in Discussion Next Thursday of Big Problem

Every taxpayer in the city, especially heavy ones, are invited to the public meeting to be held by the city council tomorrow, Thursday, night in the city building to listen to a talk on high wire service by H. H. Henley of the Minnesota Electric Distributing company of Minneapolis.

This company has made an offer to furnish outside power at a rate and under such conditions they believe should prove attractive to the city, but they find the people here do not understand what high line service really is; and that those who do know apparently have not grasped the full intent of the offers made.

Mr. Henly will explain in detail the proposition and will be glad to answer any questions relative thereto, in order to clear up any misunderstandings that might have arisen. It is not his purpose to try to keep the city from buying either the dam or another power unit, but rather to show how his company can be of assistance to the city if either step is taken, or if neither offer is accepted and the present equipment is continued. He will explain the proposed plan of exchanging current with the city, and making it possible for the residents of the city gradually to secure alternating current at little or no expense to themselves or to the city.

Strongest Film of Recent Years Billed at Princess Next Friday.

"'The Whipping Boss' is a motion picture dramatization of one of the most shameful chapters in American history," Russell G. Creviston, National Adjutant of The American Legion, declared recently when asked about the picture, starring Barbara Bedford and Lloyd Hughes, which is being exhibited throughout the United States under the auspices of The American Legion.

The picture, which has been breaking theatre attendance records wherever shown, will be exhibited at the Princess theatre next Friday, May 30, continuously from 1:00 p. m. until late that night, under the sponsorship of Elmer J. Eklund Post of the American Legion.

In discussing the picture, Mr. Creviston said, "The American Legion, always working only for the utmost good of America, has taken this incident as an object lesson. The picture is founded on the famous Tabert case, the case of a North Dakota youth who died from abuse in a southern prison camp.

"The Tabert case was undoubtedly only an aggravation of conditions. The case and conditions were first exposed by a Post of the American Legion and investigation which followed resulted in abolition of the convict system in the state where the tragedy occurred.

"In exhibiting the dramatized version of the Tabert case, the Legion hopes to assist still more in bringing public attention to a great evil which still exists in some states, to the discredit of all."

Special music by the Legion concert orchestra will be provided for the evening shows.

Several Contests Develop in Quest For County Jobs

Yesterday was the last day on which candidates for county office could file their names with the county auditor and get their names upon the ballots to be used in the primary election June 16. In the Second and Fourth commissioner districts as well as for the office of judge of probate contests have developed. With the exception of the Fourth commissioner district, however, only two have filed for each position, thus making it unnecessary to place their names upon the ballots in the primary.

Peter C. Wold of Highlanding, former county commissioner, this week filed as a candidate for judge of probate. Lars Backe, present incumbent, also filed for re-election. Adolf Eklund filed for another term as clerk of court and has no opposition. In the Second commissioner district R. McGinn, incumbent, is opposed by Andrew Ness, while in the Fourth three candidates are in the field, J. S. Roy, who has held office for several years, being opposed by Waldie Christensen and G. K. Haavi. One of the three will be eliminated at the primaries.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREETS SENIORS AT GRADUATION

J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks Delivers Masterful Address to Class.

The commencement exercises of the Thief River Falls high school were held at the city auditorium last Friday evening, and the graduates received their diplomas in the presence of a large audience of friends and relatives. A splendid program had been prepared for the occasion and it was carried out in a most pleasing manner. Superintendent I. T. Simley acted as chairman of the evening.

The following numbers constituted the program: Processional March from Tannhauser, high school orchestra; salutatory, Esther Lunsetter; two selections by girls' glee club; address by Hon. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks; Recessional, senior octette; valedictory, Margaret Melgaard; two selections by boys' glee club; presentation of class, Morris Bye, principal of high school; presentation of diplomas, E. O. Mogensen, president of school board; Alma Mater, class of 1924; singing of Star Spangled Banner by audience.

The address of Hon. O'Connor was a masterful effort and it made a deep impression both upon the audience and upon the graduating class. Mr. O'Connor took for his subject, "High Ideals." He said it was high ideals which lead teachers to be so loved by their pupils that the memory of their teachings lasts through life; it is the high ideals of mothers which leads their children to success in life. The speaker stated that it was the heroism of the girls and women in this northwestern territory which led them to so many sacrifices which were necessary to place this country in the high position which it now holds.

The valedictorian and salutatorian both gave splendid accounts of themselves and were heartily cheered by the audience. Miss Maude L. Johnson, director of music in the schools, deserves special credit for the complete success of the musical numbers rendered during the evening.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE S. M. DISHER YARD

We spent four months interviewing painters and paint users and analyzing what twenty-one different paints were made of. We believe that if you did this before you bought paint you would do just what we did—buy St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paints.

As you know every paint maker must put on the can what is used in the paint and we found Cheap paints, but found they contained Silicates, Barium, Calcium, Silica, Etc. (These you know are really only sand, ground stone, plaster of paris, etc.) and if you will take the trouble to look you will find them right on the cans of many paints.

We also found high priced nationally advertised paints and found some of them contained these same things—They cost little or nothing compared with White Lead and Zinc, and only make weight.

We had to decide between cheap paints, nationally advertised paints or pure paints at a reasonable price but not spending a cent for national advertising.

We decided on the PURE PAINTS NOT NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AND SELLING FOR A REASONABLE PRICE. We have put in a complete line of St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paint.

It is only a few steps further to go down to our Lumber Yard (The Yard by the Great Northern Depot) and I feel sure you will be well paid for taking these steps. Come down and see what I have to offer you in either Paints, Lumber, Coal or Builders' Hardware. I will enjoy showing you. Yours very truly,

S. M. Disher

Memorial Exercises.

Friday morning at ten o'clock the St. Hilaire Community club will observe Memorial Day by putting on a Memorial Day program at the school house. A committee has arranged for some very fine readings and songs and Rev. Kreidt of Thief River Falls will deliver an address. Rev. Grimsrud will conduct the meeting at the school building after which the citizens will march to the cemetery and the decoration of the soldiers' graves and the sounding of taps by a firing squad will be conducted by the members of the American Legion. This is the first meeting of this kind in St. Hilaire for several years and an extra effort is being made to make the observance of this day of interest to all so that there may be other programs of this nature in the future.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The Baccalaeurate address for the graduating class of the St. Hilaire high school was delivered in the high school auditorium Sunday evening at eight o'clock by Rev. C. M. Grimsrud. A very large crowd was in attendance. Several selections were sung by the congregation and special numbers rendered by the high school Glee club.

Commencement Exercises.

The Commencement exercises for the class of 1924 of the St. Hilaire high school will be held in the school house auditorium Thursday evening, May 29th at 8:00 o'clock. A very fine program will be rendered at that time. consisting of musical numbers, the valedictory address by Paul Erickson, the salutatory address by Molile Hallameck and the main feature of the evening will be the commencement address by Supt. I. T. Simley of Thief River Falls.

This is the largest class ever graduated from the local high school and consists of the following students: Edna Anderson, Bertha Biskey, Fred Biskey, Clifford Belden, Harvey M. Erickson, Frances Hovet, Amelia Hallemeck, Mollie Hallemeck, Arthur Johnson, Mabel Johnson, Knute Odegaard, Lester Olson and Norman Olson.

Pageant Monday.

"The Awakening of Spring," a very pretty pageant, was shown Monday evening in the school house auditorium. This pageant was to have been given last week in fairyland but owing to the cold, wet weather, was postponed until Monday of this week, at which time it was decided to stage the performance in the school building as the weather did not permit of an outside demonstration. This little pageant was put on by children from all the grades and was directed by the grade teachers, Miss Brown. Miss Dahl, Miss Hovet and Miss Jerpe. The various little drills, exercises. and dances were given by children dressed in very pretty costumes to represent trees, robins, woodland fairies, roses, daisies, butterflies and frogs. Miss Virginia Westphal took the leading role of Queen of the Springtime. Music was furnished by members of the high school Glee club. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the performance immensely.

Base Ball Game Sunday.

The members of the St. Hilaire baseball team journeyed to East Grand Forks Sunday where they crossed bats with the aggregation of that city. East Grand Forks is represented by a very strong team this year who appear to be in excellent trim. The local team with several of the usual players missing and in poor form, did not put up very strong opposition and were defeated in a one sided contest. The trip was made by auto and the players returned the same evening.

Vaudeville Performance Successful.

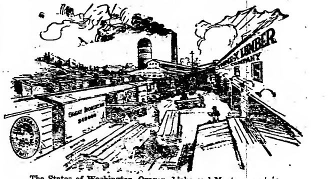
GREAT NORTHERN

AN OLD CITIZEN



The States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana contain more than eight hundred billion feet of standing timber. There were cut from this timber and shipped over the lines of the Great Northern in the year 1923, one billion three hundred million feet of lumber, and these shipments are increasing from year to year.

The Great Northern is one of your oldest citizens. The original ten miles between St. Paul and Minneapolis were built in 1862. This was the first railroad in Minnesota. It continued to grow and develop new territory as it proceeded until now it serves the Northwest with over eight thousand miles of road. It brings the whole Northwest as far as the Pacific Coast to world markets and world markets to the Northwest. It provides also luxurious, modern passenger train service by which all the world may travel to the Northwest and the Northwest may travel to all the world.

The Great Northern is a desirable, dependable, pay-as-you-go citizen.

It paid, in 1923, to the 35,645 men and women who were engaged in its service $56,270,922, in salaries and wages. It paid, in 1923, for materials and supplies $56,662,850, every dollar of which, so far as practicable, was expended in Great Northern territory to support local industry. Its taxes for the year 1923 were $9,113,226.

It paid, in 1923, to its 12,129 employees in Minnesota, for salaries and wages $18,864,138.

The value of its property in Minnesota, according to findings of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is $106,964,376. Its taxes in Minnesota for the year 1923 were $2,340,638.

The Great Northern knows that your interests are bound up with its own. For better or worse it is an inseparable part of your community.

Does not this great institution, a worthy citizen in every essential relation, merit your confidence and patronage because it is giving you efficient service and loyal co-operation?

MINNESOTA NAMES FOR $5,000,000 STEAMSHIPS

New York—An event in transatlantic shipping of current interest to the people of Minnesota is the recent maiden voyage of the largest transatlantic passenger liner to be built in a British shipyard this year, which hears the name of Minnetonka, for one of Minnesota's most beautiful lakes.

Last year the owners of this vessel, the Atlantic Transport Line of New York and London, brought out n similar ship, which was named Minnewaska. This name also, as most Americans know, is that of a lake in Minnesota. The ships cost more than $5,000,000 each.

The reasons prompting the steamship company to give its new vessels—which are of the luxury liner type—the names of lakes in an American state far from the sea, reveal the effect of sentiment in business. Before the world war the line built up a large following with ships distinguished by Indian names. It was found that such names appealed to Americans, who had no difficulty in remembering them.

The original ships having been lost by enemy action in the war, the company has decided to give their names to new vessels as they are built to replace them. All the names begin with the prefix "Minne" from the Dakota tongue, meaning water. Names reserved for future ships of the line are Minnehaha and Minneapolis, both having been borne by liners that were lost in the war.

Before naming its two new liners, which are large vessels, of 21,700 tons each, the Atlantic Transport Line made careful inquiry as to the meaning of the names, and the history of the lakes to which they pertained, in order to place the information before travelers of European countries who are unfamiliar with American Indian names.

It was found that Lake Minnewaska at one time bore an Indian name meaning Disb Lake, because of its being in a low basin. By act of legislature, in 1888, it was officially named Minnewaska. The Indian name of Lake Minnetonka was made its official name by Governor Ramsey in 1862.

The region abont both lakes was formerly inhabited by Sioux and Chippewa Indians, both of whom spoke the Dakota language.

Dr. Melvin R. Gilmore, of the Museum of the American Indian, New York, says, "Without doubt the names Minnewaska and Minnetonka are from the Dakota language. In both names the element "minne" is a variation of spelling of the Dakota word for water, which is mini. Mini-wa-ska-ya has the meaning "water which becomes white." The white man omits the suffix "ya."

"The meaning of the second aame, Minnetonka, is obvious, being clearly from mini, the Dakota word for water, and tanka, the Dakota word for large or great."

In Every Seed there is a something

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse that knows how to take from its environment the wherewith to build the body of the organism which it animates.

Ask Your Chiropractor for "The Last Word"

From the little seed you place in the ground this something seads roots into the earth, blades or branches into the air, and takes from the earth and the air that with which it builds. Within the egg this something is wooed to life by the warmth of the broody mother's breast.

Chiropractic teaches that this something knows the secret of converting food into flesh and blood, and carries on all the processes of life in the human body by means of impulses sent over the nerves. It teaches that when a nerve is impaired by a vertebra becoming misaligned these impulses do not flow over the nerves normally and the result is what we call dis-ease. To get the dis-eased member to function normally again it is necessary to adjust the vertebra that is pressing on the nerve and permit the normal flow of impulses over the nerve.

To adjust the vertebra to normal alignment is the work of a competent Chiropractor.

New Blue Chimney Burner
Faster-More Economical

The remarkable increase in cooking heat and the greater fuel economy of this new burner, are due to its new double-wall, double-draft construction.

The picture above shows how the EXTRA volume of air drawn in through the small holes around the chimney, is converted into an ADDED ring of intense cooking heat. This quicker cooking cuts down fuel consumption.

Here at last is an oil stove adequate for every cooking need. Quicker in heat, ample in capacity, better in equipment—yet it sells for a moderate price. Because of its low fuel consumption, it is the most inexpensive stove in the world to use.

More than a good cook stove—its beauty adds new attractiveness to the kitchen. Its efficiency sets a new standard for all the work of the household. And it has the new conveniences and equipment the modern woman demands for year-'round use.

At your dealers you will find styles and sizes ranging from $7.00 to $120.00, to suit every requirement—each one the utmost in cooking satisfaction at its price.

While it is a nice thing and a great compliment to the dairy cattle breeders of Pennington county to have a large number of outside buyers come from long distances to their consignment and other sales, it must be remembered that in a sense every animal which is sold to a distant breeder and shipped out of the neighborhood is a distinct loss to Pennington county. These animals can be of much more value if they are distributed among the farmers of our own county, either as a nucleus for new dairy herds or for the purpose of augmenting herds already established.

The Tribune earnestly hopes that a large number of Pennington county farmers will attend the McFarland Holstein sale here Thursday, June 5, and the consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey association, which takes place in this city on Thursday, June 12. Both sales offer exceptional opportunities for the purchase of high grade dairy animals at a figure which represents their true value, and buyers are taking no chances whatever.

Treat the outside buyers with all the courtesy due them, but for the sake of our own future prosperity, don't let them take too many of our dairy cattle home with them.

There are a number of boys in Thief River Falls who have fallen into the habit of destroying birds, nests and eggs, whenever they get the chance. One woman living on the East Side reported to The Tribune yesterday that ten dead robins and other birds had been found in her neighborhood during the past few days, all killed by boys with sling shots, bows and arrows and other weapons in common use among the lads. What prompts the boys to thus wantonly destroy the birds is hard to understand. A warning has been issued by the police department and all boys hereafter caught molesting their little feathered friends will be dealt with roughly. Parents are partly to blame for their boys doing these things. Give a boy a good talking to and make him understand that it is a serious matter for him to destroy birds' nests or molest the birds. If the parents will not take a hand in stopping the practice it will of course be necessary for the law to take a hand. When it comes to this stage it will be no joke for the lad who is caught.

When we get that highway through to Red Lake and a first class summer resort established out there, we will have no trouble in inducing tourists to visit this section of the state. And all this is no idle dream. The time is not far distant when Red Lake will be the mecca of people from all parts of the Northwest who seek an ideal place in which to spend their summer vacations. Thief River Falls is the gateway and all travel to the lake must go through this city. It is good business for every citizen of Thief River Falls to get behind the Red Lake project and boost it with all his might.

Warning!

Boys who are in the habit of shooting and killing birds within the city limits of Thief River Falls are hereby warned to stop it. Any boy caught doing this hereafter will be arrested without further warning.

By Order of Chief of Police.

Our Store Will Be Closed on Friday

Year after year, until time mellows with hoary age, Memorial Day ever will recall sweet-sad and tender-anguish memories and thoughts of yesteryears—of those dear and loved who fell on the field of strife; who perished that a Nation and a World might be preserved for posterity; that civilization might not be forgotten.

Ever mindful of those great sacrifices and that in our small way we may give what little homage to the heroic dead that is within our limited power, our store will remain closed all day Friday — Memorial Day — opening again for business on Saturday morning.

Memorial Day--Friday, May 30

Happy the nation which can hold its head high in spite of tears! America may grieve for those who have laid down their lives in her defense, but how proudly can she cherish their memory! . . . For surely it is no small thing to have borne sons whose devotion was unshaken in the face of death itself.

In keeping with the spirit of Memorial Day, this bank will transact no business on that day.

Do You Lubricate Your Motor--Or Just Oil It???

There is a vast difference between intelligent lubrication and just shooting an unknown oil into the bearings of your auto—to run around awhile and then quit, vanquished by friction, dust, dirt and other dangerous elements.

There is a PYRAMID LUBRICANT that FITS your machine—our expert will gladly tell you just what grade it is. It will pay to use it, because it means ABSOLUTE PROTECTION from —frictional troubles of all kinds.

—dirt, dust and other foreign matter.
—loss of power, by its action as a compression seal.
—undue expense, by its economy.
—damage and wear, by being a pure oil, full-bodied, heat-resistant and free from sediment.

Pyramid Lubricating Oil stays put. It adheres to the bearings and forms a veritable armor of protection, because it is compounded specifically for that purpose.

ENVOY SWARTZ'S VISIT AWAITED

Rousing Meetings Planned by Salvation Army During Her Stay in City.

Arrangements have been completed for the visit to Thief River Falls next June 3, 4, 5, and 6 of Envoy E. Pauline Swartz, world traveler, missionary and lecturer working in the interests of the Salvation Army.

She will speak at the Salvation Army hall, 317 Main avenue north the 4 nights at 7:30 p.m. She will also speak to the Commercial club at their Thursday meeting, June 5th.

Although Envoy Swartz has traveled around the world, extensively spreading the gospel of salvation her efforts have not cost the Army any money. She is officially a soldier at No. 1 Corps, Chicago, and has sufficient income in her own name to carry on her work.

During her travels she has been as for north as the Arctic Circle, as far south as Wellington, New Zealand and Valparaiso, South America, and has made a study of official conditions in a majority of the far Eastern countries. She is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke college, spent six years in evangelistic work in Japan, and served with the Salvation Army forces with the American troops in France.

A general invitation to the public to attend the meetings has been issued by Captain R. Youngberg, Salvation Army corps officer in Thief River Falls.

VIOLA DANA TO COME SATURDAY

It will be most welcome news to the film fans of this city to learn that Viola Dana in "The Social Code," her latest Metro feature, is coming to the Princess theatre next Saturday only. Wherever it has been shown to date, "The Social Code" has been hailed as Miss Dana's finest contribution to the screen and in it she forsakes light comedy to give a remarkably clever performance in a tensely dramatic offering.

The story of "The Social Code" concerns the exciting murder of a society clubman and the manner in which two innocent women are brought into the case because of the blackmailing methods of the dead man. It is an adaptation of Rita Welman's story, "To Whom It May Concern," one of the finest things this noted author has ever written, and it is safe to say that no more absorbing drama has been seen on any screen in many months.

Sumptuous settings, showing the homes and clubs of Long Island society folk, provide an elaborate background for the thrilling story, and it permits the star to wear numberless fashionable gowns that are sure to delight the feminine eye.

Obituary

Robert John Swedenburg.

Robert John, the four-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Swedenburg died at the Swedenburg hospital Monday, May 26, at four-thirty in the afternoon, of complications following a flu pneumonia attack. In his short life Robert had known much suffering, but had borne it with remarkable fortitude. His last illness seemed destined from the beginning to be fatal, but he put up a gallant fight for life and all that human skill could do, was done for him.

He was a child of unusual personality and character. His winning smile and happy disposition made everyone his friend. Besides the grief stricken parents, he leaves to mourn him a devoted sister and brother, Dorothy and Carl. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rock of Iowa City, Ia., were called early in his illness and have been in constant attendance at his bedside. A host of sympathizing friends mourn with the relatives.

Funeral services were held from the family rooms at the hospital by Rev. B. F. Weakland at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, May 28.

Peter Muldoon.

Peter Muldoon, for twelve years a resident of Agder township near this city, passed away at his home Friday, May 23, after a short illness. He was born in Clinton, Iowa, April 17, 1885, and lived in that section, marrying Miss Angeline Ray at Algone of that state, Nov. 18, 1890. Previous to moving to this place, Mr. and Mrs. Muldoon had been residents for a time at Herman, Minn. There are left to mourn his death, twelve children and one sister, Mrs. John Lallier of St. Benedict, Iowa. Two daughters and one son from a distance, Mrs. W. M. Hutton of Groton, S. D.; Mrs. Frank Mollner of Moorhead, and Joseph Muldoon of James, S. D., were present at the funeral services which took place Wednesday morning, May 28, at St. Bernard's Catholic church, with Rev. B. F. Weakland officiating.

Ralph Sheldon Killed in Auto Mishap Saturday

than toppled over the embankment, pinning them both under. A farmer boy saw the accident from a nearby pasture where he was herding cattle. He stated that the machine rolled down the embankment and immediately burst into flames. He ran to his home and called his father but they were unable to do anything on account of the fire. They called neighbors and firemen were summoned by telephone.

The rescuers succeeded in getting Mr. Berglin out, but Mr. Sheldon's body was not recovered until the flames had been extinguished. He had suffered fractures of the skull, both legs and arms.

Ralph M. Sheldon was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sheldon of Minneapolis. His father is prominent in banking circles and is president of the First and Peoples State bank of Thief River Falls. He also has been president of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association. Surviving Mr. Sheldon are his parents, his wife and two children, Thomas, six, and Hugh, three years old. He attended West high school and later Shattuck Military Academy, where he was graduated in 1914. He entered Princeton University in 1914 and left to return to Minnesota to enter the banking business at the end of his sophomore year. He became assistant cashier of the National Farmers bank at Owatonna and in 1919 became cashier of the First and Peoples State bank in this city. About a year ago he resigned his position here and moved to Minneapolis, where he entered business with his father as assistant cashier of Sheldon Brothers company.

The funeral is being held this afternoon, and as a tribute to its former official, the First and Peoples State bank at two o'clock suspended business for the remainder of the day.

Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception for Rev. T. E. Sweger and family was given in the basement of the Trinity Lutheran church Wednesday, May 21, with the congregation of the church fully represented.

After an address of welcome by John J. Weeks, chairman of the evening, in which he complimented Rev. Sweger, a solo was rendered by Mrs. O. F. Mellby. Talks on various stages of the church work in this city from the old days to the present time were given by J. J. Aga, board of deacons; Dr. O. F. Mellby, board of trustees; Lars Backe, board of trustees and Gynther Tessum, superintendent of the Sunday school. A selection which was very well received was then played by the Sunday school orchestra, after which the ladies responded with short talks on various subjects, Miss Emily Fossum, Mrs. Dahlen and Mrs. Bernhard Knutson bringing up different topics and complimenting Rev. Sweger his work in this city, as did Morris Bye, president of the Young Peoples society, who followed. An excellent address was also given by Rev. E. H. Kreidt, of St. John's Lutheran church, who spoke well of the work accomplished through his years of work in this city by Rev. Sweger.

After a vocal solo by Miss Dora Holmes, which was very well received, a well filled purse was presented to the guest of honor in behalf of the congregation by I. T. Simley. At the close of the program light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

My Opinion of Central.

What's the matter with Central?
She's all right!
Why is she all right?
Because: In competition she's the best
And always comes first when put to a test.
Surely that shows what ambition can do.

Her teachers are the best in the town,
Each and every one of them deserves a crown,
They have taught us spelling, arithmetic, English and history,
'Till where they store their knowledge is an absolute mystery.

The building is of wood and very old,
But it is always warm and never cold,
Therefore, our janitor is much to be treasured,
In fact, in dollar and cents, he can not be measured.

We pupils graduate the 23rd of May,
Leave Central doors forever on that sad and happy day,
But when time has erased you Central from view,
We hope each graduate will be a living monument to you.

By HARRIET FULLER.

Three Cheers for Daniel Shaw.

In appreciation of a large framed copy of the Declaration of Independence, bestowed upon Central school last week by Daniel Shaw, postmaster of Thief River Falls, we should like to express our gratitude personally but find we can only do it through the columns of The Tribune.

The Ravings of an Insane Mind.

Centralville was in a terrible state of excitement. People were running hither and thither. On the corner of Main street stood Farmer Benson thoughtfully chewing on a blade of grass. Suddenly from the north came a shout. "Hey folks, I just larnt sumpin!" 'Twas the village walking newspaper, Amanda Ihle.

"He's comin'! He's comin'! she shrilled.

"Who's comin'? came from each pair of lips.

"Donder Blitzen! Amanda, vot noos you got now?" huskily explained Big Artie, the village blacksmith, "Has mine leetle Gloria got hurt?"

"Now, Artie, Thass too minority, There's sompin' more scrumptious. There's [illegible]"

"Hey, lemme alone, lemme alone! I only took ten of 'em an' I'm so hungry you can hear my ribs clacking. Lemme have these twelve pies, Mister Dahlen, please!" cried Duka, the village vampire (she's vamped all the cats in sight).

"Blease nodding," cried angry Fritz. "You bring dem pies back here chust right away or day vill be von person right here vot vill take a sleep in der day time."

"Take your wormy, half-baked German pies," she screamed, throwing them in his pudgy face, "an' eat 'em while you got the chance."

"Voorm! Git oot!" came from the pie bestreaked baker.

Honk! Honk! sounded from up the road and presently I. Skinnem Will drove into sight, riding in his Rolla-Royce and puffing leisurely on a two-for-u-quarter cigar that he had purchased at Sponheim's Poultry and Department Emporium.

He stopped his limousine in front of the "Pay-when-you-enter hotel." and pompously walked in. Little Thora blond daughter of the hotel keeper, was incapable of hearing or seeing anyone but herself at that moment. Silence—during which I. S. Will stood nervously twirling his long, tapering finger, "I beg your pahdon, Madame, but could I-er engage a room?" At the sound of a strange masculine voice, Thora wheeled quickly beholding the debonair male, grinned most engagingly and answered, "Certainly sir, I'll give you a broom."

"A room—Mahdom—a room-a-er-not such a vulger object as a broom." faltered the shocked Mr. Will.

"Room? Oh, excuse me, yes, I'll give you a room. This way please."

The bored Mr. Will sauntered leisurely after the grinning young landlady. Suddenly his half drooping eyelids opened to their highest extent. Before him on the floor lay the pinnacle of his ambition, a large roll of greenbacks. The blonde Thora, in pulling forth her handkerchief had accidentally dropped her father's entire savings.

Quickly Skinnem stooped and snatched up the money. Looking hastily around him he steadily thrust the money into his pocket. Just then Thora turned around and gave Skinner another of her inimitable grins. He gave in return a sickly smile. Just then the bellhop, Johannas Barzen, rushed out into the hall and dropping a green St. Patrick's handkerchief, stooped down and shoved it into his pocket. Thora saw the movement but thought nothing of it at the time.

"Here you are, Sir! I hope you like it," said Thora as she ushered the supposed aristocrat into the room. "Good afternoon sir," and she moved briskly down the lobby. Suddenly she gave a shriek as her hand met the empty pocket instead of the large roll which had reposed there before. At her feet lay one forlorn bill. Then the thought flashed to her of the bellhop's quick movement at almost the identical place. ?! ?! ?! ?! Was it not here she pulled forth her handkerchief. ?????! Did not Johannas make his mysterious action here? Why———— the thought flashed vividly upon her amazed breanl—— It seemed impossible—but—yet—Oh! What should she believe?

She hurried down the stairs and, rushing to her father, Ezekial Myrom, explained the incident to him incoherently. "What child—you don't mean it!" cried Mama Fuller Myrom as she clung sobbing to Ezekial. "Oh Papa! It's too sad, and all our savings gone."

"The young scalawag, I'll teach him I will, and we treating him like our own son." Whereupon the enraged Mr. Myrom rushed forward into the street colliding with the beautiful and talented Colleen Mattison, the village belle.

"Why Ezekinl, I've never seen you so excited as this before except when you sold a dozen suckers all at once."

"Johannas Barzen has robbed me and right in my own darter's sight I'll see him in the hoosegow before the day is over." and with these words he rushed off to the statian.

The next day I. Skinnem Will descended from the stairs with an air of boredom. Seeing the sweet maid Thora by the desk he pompously strolled over to her and began a confidential chat. Thora was overjayed at the condescension of the handsome stranger and she responded enthusiastically. Several times she mentioned the name of Colleen Mattison.

Finally the conversation ended as a bellboy called lustily, "Telafone for Mr. Will."

"Sorry to leave you so soon," said I. Skinnum in an undertone. "May I see you this afternoon?"

"Oh yes, certainly—that is—perhaps-I-mean—oh of course." Stuttered the overjoyed Thora.

"All right then, I shall call at 2:30, eh?"

"Yes, that will be all right. Goodbye." (thia fondly).

Two o'clock found Thora sitting on needles and pins, her Sunday-go-to-meeting dress on, and her hair coiffed in the latest style (spit curls 'n all). She had even adopted that terrible compact known as rouge to hide the excited pallor of her cheeks.

Suddenly the door bell clamored noisily announcing to her of the coming of Mr. I. S. Will. However, when she reached the door, a great surge of disappointment overwhelmed her as she found her bosom friend Colleen.

"Oh, Colleen, you?" she explained, "Why, isn't it too bad I can't invite you in because we're painting upstairs and my mother dear has tha rheumatism so she can't walk and she's very ill-tempered today."

"Why hello, Coleen, do come in, I'm so glad you called, I have so much to tell you," came from Mama Fuller Myrom as she stepped briskly onto the porch. "Did you hear the terrible catastrophe that happened to Farmer Rustad? Why, he broke his leg yesterday when he fell from the Percival Swedenburg & Company's rig. His usually quiet dog rushed madly around in a panic of terror and his wife Agnes rushed out with a bottle of liniment and quickly applied it to his leg. The hired men carried him in the house and when Hilda Bjorkman saw him she gave a terrible shriek and collapsed,—and then—but who's that coming in the gate?"

Thora gasped and gave her mother a push through the door into the house. At this point Mr. Will came up and Thora, feeling it her duty, gave him an introduction (though unnecessarily short). Colleen started to chew her gum with great enthusiasm and Thora giggled up and down the scale in her joy.

And so the afternoon slipped away and at five o'clock Leslie Allan drove up in his speedster, the W. K., and with a parting "So glad to have met you, pleased to have met you, please come to my house on Karwand avenue next Friday to an informal party. Say yes, won't you?" She ran down the steps.

"Good-bye," came floating from the road as the speedster spinned away.

"Sorry to leave you so soon, muttered I. S. Will as he walked dazedly down the steps.

Thora turned, gave a low sob and fled up the stairs. There she sobbed out her infatuation for I. S. in the pillow. At last the storm abated and she stood up, gave her head a defiant shake and said, "I'll get him, I'll practice the wiles of the Parisian woman. And that Colleen, Oh, how I hate her for taking him away from me. But wait, I'll get him!" and she walked down the stairs resolutely, outside all calm, but a turnmoil raging within her heart.

On Friday afternoon Ethel Carlson's La Vogue shop on Keefe avenue took in $400. Thora had taken one half of her life's savings to purchase a complete "vampish outfit," new king Tuts, a long black velvet cape with silver lining and trimmed in white ermine, a pale gray party dress and a henna headwash from Madamoiselle Elaine's, the famous French hairdresser. The rest of the morning was spent in reading "How to hold a man" and trying on the outfit. Promptly at two thirty (she thought she would come a little late and act aristocratic) she strode down the sidewalk using a walking stick and a little pompom romping along ahead.

Colleen herself answered the doorbell but in her eyes was written boldly unrecognition and blank surprise.

Thora shrugged her shoulders Frenchily and pouting her lips said, "Weh, Cooween an't zu down to tiss youh fwhend it to Thowa?"

"Thora?" exclaimed Colleen, very unrestrainedly, "You, Thora?" Why—but come in—everything's ready, but what made you so late?"

Again a shrugg. "Oh nothin' much just a leetle mattaire." And she promenaded into the room. As she tripped gaily into the dining room all eyes turned on her. Peggy Valawalska surveyed her critically through her imported lorgnette. Ingvold Ericson was so intent upon the stranger that when the finger bowl was passed he absent-mindedly stuck his face into it and wiped it with the napkin.

Thora scanned the table and at last found I. Skinnem sitting next to a beautiful young girl (however, Thora would not admit it). This was Cloria Weeks, "ths mystery girl" who lived with her sister Lenore in an old-fashioned building far from the city (or rather town) limits.

"Oh, Thora dear, I want to introduce you to Count Hedalen, my consin from England."

"Chawmed, indeed!" drawled Count Hedalen, "Doutcha know?" Oh! Pahdon me," he exclaimed as he accidentally stepped on Thora's train "such a duced nuiaance, but won't you have this danca with ma?" And so Thora was carried off by thesa two ambitious people.

Meanwhile, I. Skinnem had risen from the table and strolled toward the conservatory. There he sat gazing at the moon, sitting behind a group of palm trees. Suddenly he was startled from his reverie by the sound of loud voices arguing.

"Just sign on the dotted line, Mr. Mattison," purred a suave voice.

"But I tell you I won't," angrily exclaimed the father of Colleen. I've willed all of my money to my daughter and I won't change the will. The will is for $100,000.00 and it is locked in my lawyer's desk."

They then departed but I. Skinnem had heard enough to realize what a "good catch" Coleen was.

Just then he heard "Good night, Good night, Beloved" being played and he concluded that the party was at an end. He then took himself away to where "the mystery girl," Gloria was thanking the hostesa.

"May I accompany you home?" he asked.

The mystery girl surveyed him from half-closed lashes and finally said but one ward, "Yes."

As he glanced over at Thora he found Count Hedalen begging her on bended knees to let him take her home. Just then Thora met the amused glance cast in her direction by I. Will and tossing her head defiantly she helped the Count to his feet and sead "Yeth, you may." At this the overjoyed count grabbed her and kissed her on both cheeks, thereby removing the rouge applied to her cheeks.

Silence prevailed during the midnight drive of Gloria and I. Skinnem until going over a large hump Gloira fell sideward into his arms. The surprised I. Skinnem tried to take advantage of this but the mystery girl flamed hotly and slapped him soundly in the face. Silence prevailed until the end of the drive. As she alighted at her house, Mr. Will, somewhat abashed, begged her pardon. This was granted in a somewhat stiff form whereupon I. S. jumped in his Rolls-Royce and sped into the night.

The third day after the party I. Skinnem called at Mattison's and asked to see Colleen. Upon her arrival he asked if she would go for a drive with him. She gladly acquiesced and kissing Mama Johnson Mattison good-bye she skipped down the sidewalk and plumped into the car.

At the end of a half an hour night began to fling her long weird shadows over the universe. At a point ten miles distant from the town where the woods were luxurious in growth and near the mystery girl's house, here I. S. Will slowed down the car and came to an abrupt halt beneath a spreading cherry tree in full bloom. Putting his arms around Colleen he began to practice the age old caveman method. Colleen, her long-time modesty suddenly stained, fought bravely. After scratching I. S. Will in the face Colleen opened the door and jumped out. I. S. gave a savage growl and throwing Coleen's hat on the ground he drove off.

Meanwhile, Leslie Allan had arrived at the Mattison household. Upon inquiry he found that Collesn had gone riding with I. Will. "With him?" he exclaimed, "why he's a criminal—which way did he go?"

"Down the Frissell avenue, Oh—oh my daughter. Save her—Mr. Allan—save her," cried excited Mama Johnson Mattison.

Just then Amanda Ihle hove around the corner on her bicycle. Seeing the excitement at the Mattison home she jumped off her vehicle and ran up. Seeing Allan jump in the car she gave a leap and landed beside him.

"Get out," he said, "this is a matter of importance."

"Oh—well—if you must have it—you must." Yesterday while I was at the train a young girl alighted. She was undoubtedly beautiful but it was hidden by the outrageous application of rouge and powder. Her hair was clipped very short and cheap earrings hung from her ears.

"Her clothers were of a cheap variety but she looked as though she was made for beautiful things—and all that, you know. As she scanned the platform a look of disappointment came into her eyes. Evidently the one intended to meet her had failed. I stepped up to her and told her that I would take her to where she wanted to go. She surveyed me intently and then she sead. "Very well." On the way home she told me her name was Valerie Hermanson. Then she looked me square in the eyes and said, "Do you know a person by the name of Frank Stillman, newly arrived in Centralville?"

"No," I said, "tha only new arrival in our town is I. S. Will, some kind of an aristocrat." At this she leaned forward eagerly.

"Tell me," she said excitedly, "how he looks."

"Well, he's middle-sized and has black hair. He has a small mustache and a little beard. His eyes are halfway between green and brown but to tell the truth, I don't like his looks."

"Oh!" she said unconsciously, "That's my Frank."

"Then—he—he's masquerading under a false name?" I asked.

This awoke her instantly and she said coldly. "Er-what do you mean?"

"Well-er-oh, I shouldn't have asked that, it's no business of mine. I beg your pardon," I stuttered, "I'm kinda jealous of him cause he is monkeying too much around our respectable girls."

At this a dark red surged over her face and she said, "He is, eh!" Well I can tell you a lot about him. He's a thief—an escaped convict, and we were put in prison at the same time. Heescaped but I had to serve my term. He doesn't like these girls, he's just after their money."

"A criminal," I gasped, "Oh-hhh!" and I concluded to tell the police. Just then we arrived at the hotel and I let my friend off.

"Don't tell anyone about this, will you?" she said with a crooked little smile, well—you know why—I love him."

I then started off but resolved to tell the police about this curious affair.

"Oh, how interesting," came from Amanda, but the rest of her sentence was given away to a gasp as she landed from a hump.

Just then Leslie glanced aside. What he saw made him leap to the ground. Amanda followed at top speed. "Colleen's hat," he cried. "The villain, he tried to get cute with her and she wouldn't stand for it. Come, I see her foot prints leading this way."

"Oh, I. S. Will has taken Colleen out in his car and here's where he dropped her off. I gotta find her before it gets dark."

"Dark!" Art exclaimed. "Vy, bonehead. look aloof, don't you see? It's even spriuklink and it vill pour in but soon. But I help you find her—I know how tiz."

And so the two started off on the hunt—Amanda following close behind them. Just then the heavens gave a sullen roar, followed by a dart of lightning and the rain poured in torrents. In five minutes they were thoroughly drenched to the skin. Suddenly by a vivid flash of lightning Leslie saw a handkerchief lying in the path. Picking it up he examined it and saw by tha next flash the initiala C. E. M. "Colleen's!" he cried. "We're on the right path, and they struggled on.

Meanwhile after the first burst of indignation had left her Colleen sprang to her feet and sallyed forth into the forest. She wandered aimlessly for about a half an hour, when the rain began to fall. Through the downpouring torrents she discerned a light shining in the distance. "Safety" sprang to her mind and she hurried on through the misty sheets of rain. Reaching the door she leaned heavily against it. It opened and she fell prone upon the floor.

"Lenore, come quick," shouted an excited feminine voice, "Colleen has been lost in the storm and she's just fainted."

"Oh, gee, I'm coming," came from up-stairs and a pair of hurrying feet came pattering down the floor. As she reached the door Colleen was sitting up, her body shivering pitifully and her eyes vacant.

"Lenore, take Colleen upstairs and put her to bed. I'll be up later with a hot blanket and a cup of coffee," commanded Gloria."

Lenore did as she was bidden and assisted the drooping figure of Colleen through the door.

While Gloria was in the midst of her preparations the door burst open and she, turning quickly, saw a malicious smile on the face of I. S. Will as he carefully locked the door. Then he advanced upon the shrinking girl, a large scar showing livid against the pallor of his cheeks. Gloria became angry as the two hands reached forth and she slapped the advancing figure square in the face. This time, however, I. S. did not feel the slap, and he seized her by the arms. Struggling fiercely she tried to call but he closed his hand against her mouth. Just then voices were heard from the outside and a loud knock followed. Gloria made a supreme effort, tore the hand from her mouth and shrieking "Help" with all her strength she fainted dead away.

A scuffle on the outside and one, two, three blows followed. I. S. Will thoroughly frightened dropped the limp figure and rushed up the stairs. The door burst open and Leslie, Art and Amanda burst open the door.

"What the—Amanda, take care of Gloria, I'm going!" and Leslie rushed up the stairs, followed by Art. In the room above I. S. Will was chuckling viciously as he held a gun over the shrinking forms of Colleen and Lenore.

"Sign it over," he growled. "I'll get something out of this deal anyway."

"You sneaking cur, you escaped convict, for once you are going to get what you deserve," shrieked Leslie as he sprang on the crouching figure.

Half turning, I. S. Will shot at the oncoming figure and would have struck home had not Colleen at that moment grabbed his hand and turned the shot skyward.

With a wild yell of mingled rage and disappointment the thwarted villain turned his revolver to his own breast and pulled the trigger. Before the amazed gaze of the two men lay tha dead figure of I. S. Will, the arch-criminal. suave, debonier and scheming, killed by his own hand.

Then Leslie clasped the shrieking figure of Colleen in his arms and led ure of Colleen in his arms and led her away from the scene. Art then rushed below and began to comfort Gloria in his broken language.

Back in Centralville: Valerie Hermanson, hearing of her husband's death, gave a low moan of anguish and staggering to the bridge, climbed the railing and threw herself in. Life to her was worth nothing without her partner in love and crime.

To Thora came a happy romance. After her sorrow had passed away, into her life came Rudolpho Lonson. A triple marriage, something never heard of before in Centralville, came out and three happy brides and grooms went on their way, to wit: Gloria and Art, Colleen and Leslie and Thora and Rudolpho.

So ends the story of the adventures of the arch-criminal, I. S. Will, and the happenings in Centralvilla.

Why I Like a Small Town.

The reason a small town appeals to me more than one of the modern metropoles, is because of the friendliness of the inhabitants. In a large city every one looks out for himself and seems to be interested only in himself. People may live in the same building for years and never speak to one another. In a small town of course, your neighbors may be altogether too friendly, yet when you are downhearted and blue there is nothing like having a friend to cheer you up. Most people have the idea that there is no chance in a small town. Nowadays there is more chance for a beginner in a small town than in a large one because every one seems to go to the cities which are filled with people unable to find work. Yet these same people always are talking about the chances in a city.

For my part I am a firm believer in the small town as the chief distributor of friendliness and loyalty to mankind.

Keeping in Good Health.

Health is one of the essentials of life,—in fact, the greatest essential as it is necessary in every occupation. The United States today is a rich, prosperous country. Why? Because it has healthy, ambitious citizens. Delinquents and dependent people never build up a progressive nation because the man who has to rely on others for his welfare cannot be expected to be a great help to his country.

From health comes ambition, efficiency and prosperity. People who have good characters and live clean lives are never forgotten. Roosevelt himself said, "What we have to expect from an American boy is that he shall be clean lived, neither a bully nor a prig, but just the right kind of a man."

In school they are teaching health habits. Health cards are being brought home to be marked and every small citizen is in some way or other learning the value of health.

There are preventions and cures for disease but the best way to keep away from them is to keep "fit," that is, always well and as far as possible, both physically and mentally, keep a smile on your face and be a loyal American citizen.

My Opinion of Central School.

All the pupils who attend Central school at present, I know surely honor it above all other schools. While we have attended Central we have found that it has splendid teachers employed and that we learn a great deal from them. We have also found out while in Central that we must work hard and if we wish to succeed we must get down and dig. Success is only gained by honest and faithful work.

From the very first day I entered Central I learned to admire the teachers and all the pupils. In some schools order is not kept up but in Central the pupils know that they must obey and do as they are told. Central has gained many honors since I entered last spring. We had several prizes won on the following topic: "The Winter shows as a factor in promoting diversified farming. Great honor was given to Lester Rolland, one of the eighth grade pupils, for winning third national prize on a highway essay. Last year Miss Batten's room won a picture, and this spring there was a campaign to see which school could have the most parents at tha parent-teachers meeting and of course Central won it.

We specially like our school because it seems like a place similar to home. We naturally have a special love for our own school. The pupils who are graduating are convinced that Central is a good school and that they have learned to appreciate that which educates. A sad feeling comes over me when I think that soon the time will come when we must bid farewell to Central and the pleasant teachers and pupils. We are all satisfied with every thing now and are sure everything is well.

Although Central is not an inviting place it gives first class teaching to all who will receive it. Therefore I consider Central as an ideal standard school to attend in order to get an intermediate education.

FARMER TELLS WHAT HE'D DO TO AID FARMER

Cut Government Costs — Help Restore European Market — Assist in Organizing Co-operative Associations — Protect Food Products Through Tariff, Says Ole Sageng.

OLE SAGENG
Republican Candidate for United States Senator.

Lindstrom, Minn.—A farmer's views of what should be done to help the farmer were heard here when Ole Sageng, republican candidate for the United States senate, delivered his keynote speech in this Chisago county village.

Mr. Sageng, who tills and pays taxes on a quarter section of Minnesota soil in Otter Tail county, and supports a family of eight, is naturally interested in farm problems.

The candidate explained the agricultural situation without wasting words when he said:

> "Present conditions in agriculture cannot continue indefinitely without the most disastrous results, not only to the farming industry but to the general business of the country."

He then suggested FOUR REMEDIES, as follows:

1. Cut governmental costs at once, making possible a substantial reduction in taxes.
2. Help immediately in the economic restoration of Europe to CREATE A MARKET FOR AMERICAN FOOD PRODUCTS. He declared it would take 25 years for the home market to take up the slack caused by the loss of European buying.
3. The federal government should stand ready to ASSIST IN FINANCING THE ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT OF CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING ASSOCIATIONS of nationwide character, since the benefits of such associations are shared by the public.
4. If congress should fail to enact the McNary-Haugen bill, strongly and specifically endorsed by the republican state convention in March, there should be speedy revision of such tariff schedules as are necessary to afford REAL PROTECTION TO THE FARMER AGAINST FOREIGN COMPETITION. This action is especially needed at once by the dairy industry.

Mr. Sageng, famed in the Minnesota senate for years as a dry leader and women suffrage advocate, declared flatly against any modification of the Volstead act. He endorsed the proposed St. Lawrence waterway, recommended better child labor laws, a uniform marriage and divorce law, and the world court.

The country will never have returner to normalcy until the wandering Italian again takes up his travels with his wrestling hear.

Service Must Go On!

Lightning strikes and several telephone lines are out.

Rain begins to fall and freeze on the wires, a heavy wind rises, and mile after mile of sleet-weighted telephone wires are torn down.

Or perhaps just a few drops of water leak through some tiny hole on a telephone cable and several wires are short circuited and made useless.

When disaster or damage is reported, our every resource is centered on the restoration of service at the earliest possible moment.

SPECIAL POLICE FOR CITY PARKS

Council Engages Man to Patrol Public Grounds During Summer Months.

The city council held the shortest meeting last night since the new aldermen took their places the first of the year, adjournment being taken at 9:30 p. m. Considerable routine business, however, was transacted.

Fire Chief Paul Midderigh appeared before the council with the customary request for $200 additional funds for the month of June to defray the cost of sending a delegation of the local fire department to Mankato to attend the state convention there June 10 and 11, at which time a bid will be placed before the delegates inviting them to this city in 1925. The sum asked for was duly granted.

Chas. Schwartz asked permission to move a building from State avenue to Knight avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets and the request was granted. Dr. J. T. Bowers sought permission to move the T. P. Hornseth residence located on First street west of the G. N. tracks to his property on LaBree avenue just north of Fifth street. Chairman Martin Evenson stated that for one he wished to make an objection thereto, stating that the property owners in that district should be given an opportunity to object if they desired. It was moved by Alderman Porter that the matter be laid over to a special meeting Thursday night this week but there was no second thereto. Alderman Fossum then moved to lay it over to the next regular meeting June 10 and this was seconded and duly carried.

The appointment by the Park board of Jos. Dostal as special policeman for the summer at a salary of $65 per month was confirmed by the council.

Supt. I. T. Simley of the public schools told the council of the naming of a committee a year ago by former mayor John Bratrud to care for the instruction of a boys' band, the committee having been composed of Mr. Simley, representing the schools, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, representing the commercial club; L. H. Hermanson, representing the American Legion; H. S. Snyder, representing the old band; and J. T. Carr, representing the boy scouts. Mr. Simley has devoted one or two nights a week for the past nine months to this purpose but the school board can secure the services of a teacher next year who at an additional salary of $25 per month can devote even more time to educating the boys and the council was asked to stand this much expense. The aldermen thought it a good thing and agreed thereto.

The offices of the city clerk will be open continuously from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., except on Saturdays, during June, July, August and September, when they will be closed at noon, the same as the banks and other public offices.

Gullingsrud Family Leaves.

E. O. Gullingsrud and family leave today for Bemidji, where they expect to make their home in the future. They are pioneers of this city, having made their home here since 1893. Besides operating a farm in the vicinity for a number of years they have conducted a hotel and also a feed store. The fact that two daughters, who are now teaching rural schools, desire to attend the teachers' college at Bemidji, prompted the family to establish its home in that city. Many old friends here regret their departure very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Julien Provencher and Dr. and Mrs. J. Biedermann expect to leave this city by motor next Saturday, May 31, on an extended motor trip to the western coast to be gone about two months. They will visit Mr. Provencher's sister, Mrs. O. Rushford at Wallace, Idaho and will also visit relatives in Tacoma. Mr. and Mrs. Provencher will be Dr. Biedermann's guests at the medical convention to be held at Vancouver, B. C., the week of June 27. The party will then proceed south to Salt Lake City and on the homeward stretch will visit Yellowstone and Glacier parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vigness and son Clifford, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Estland, motored to this city Monday. At a short stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Vigness, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vigness returned to their home in Shelly. Mr. and Mrs. Estland had spent a period of two weeks visiting at that place with friends and relatives before their return because of illness last Monday.

ELINOR GLYN'S BIGGEST STORY

Will Be Presented to Public Sunday and Monday at Princess Theatre.

Following is a brief synopsis of Elinor Glyn's story, "Six Days," which will be the attraction at the Princess theatre next Sunday and Monday:

They met on the deck of an ocean liner, Laline Kingston, a society beauty and Sir Charles Chetwyn, a wealthy Englishman. Laline's mother, a scheming matron who had just faced the financial ruin and death of her husband, has engineered the meeting between her daughter and Sir Charles.

Laline, having accepted his offer of matrimony, goes to Paris with her husband-to-be and there Sir Charles buys her a lavish trousseau and royal entertainment. At a brilliant opera Laline's eyes find themselves drawn to one Dion Leslie.

A passionate love affair developes between Laline and Dion, and the girl realizes that she must decide quickly. But fate gives the decision. Dion and Laline while visiting the battlefields of France are entombed by an explosion in a deserted dug-out. Faced with the certain prospect of death, they beg the old priest, who has been their guide, to marry them.

For six days they fight for life and the continuation of their love. The hard work of digging proves fatal to the old priest. The two lovers are separated by a second cave-in and soon Laline is rescued. Dion likewise manages to escape from the underground prison.

Laline's mother takes advantage of her daughter's weakened condition and forces her to consent to a marriage with Sir Charles. Laline believing Dion dead sees no other way out, and she becomes the wife of the wealthy Englishman.

Days pass before Dion's mind becomes clear again, but finally the memory of Laline returns and he hastens to claim her from Sir Charles. In each other's arms the two lovers bless the day on which they became Cupid's prisoners.

MEMBERS ADDED TO LEGION POST

Recent Drive Places Fifty-nine New Names on Elmer Eklund Rolls.

As a result of the highly successful membership drive completed last Thursday evening, Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion now has 161 active members enrolled under its banner. When notes were compared at the big meeting Thursday evening which ended the drive, it was found that the team headed by Dr. C. M. Haug and Harold Eide had secured 32 new members, while that headed by Dr. L. R. Twete and A. W. Crown reported 27, a total of 59 new members for the post. According to agreement it was up to the losing team to furnish the feed, which was done in grand style and without a murmur.

At the meeting which followed the 7 o'clock banquet, Anton Yngve, district commander, delivered a ringing talk which was roundly applauded. County Auditor T. P. Anderson, honorary member of the post, also favored the assembled service men with a short talk. Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, chaplain of the post, spoke briefly. He discussed the question of church attendance and it was voted by the Legion to attend the Presbyterian church in a body on Sunday, June 1.

The remainder of the evening was spent in enjoying a program of band music and solo numbers, and during the evening a parade headed by the band marched through the leading streets of the city. It was a big night for the Legion boys and the new members agreed that they joined a real live bunch.

Tourists to Return.

The Tribune is informed that Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dahle, Oscar Bjerke and Elling Larson, who left last fall for Long Beach, Cal., with the idea of making that section of the country their permanent home if they liked it, have decided to come back to Thief River Falls and are now on their way. They are traveling by automobile and are taking the route through Nevada and Utah. The grandeur of sunny California doesn't seem to appeal very strongly to folks after they once have become accustomed to living in the bracing climate of northern Minnesota.

City Looks Hundred Per Cent Better Since Folks Took a Hand in Clean-Up

As a result of the intensive clean-up campaign put over in Thief River Falls during the past two weeks, this city now presents a most inviting appearance. In fact, there are very few unsightly premises to be found anywhere. It was a good job well done and the success of the undertaking is entirely due to the painstaking work of the committee having the matter in charge.

On the inspection tour made last week the Fourth ward was given first prize for presenting the best appearance of any in the city. Second prize went to the First ward and third prize to the Third. First prizes were awarded to individual wards in the various wards as follows: Fourth, the block bounded by Bridge, St. Paul, Markley and Mussey streets. First, the block between Seventh and Eighth streets, Main and LaBree avenues. In the Third ward the prize went to the block bounded by Knight and Riverside avenue and Zeh street, while Seventh and Eighth streets, Knight and Duluth avenues surround the best block in the Second ward.

Clean-up week proved to be a decidedly worth-while project and The Tribune hopes to see it repeated each year in the future.

New Building Started.

Ground was broken this week for the new building which the Peterson-Biddick company will erect this summer near the Soo depot on Atlantic avenue. When completed the structure will add materially to the appearance of that section of the city and will provide the Peterson-Biddick people with ideal quarters in which to conduct their business.

NEW CREAMERY BUILDING SOON FOR THIS CITY

Stockholders Vote to Start Work; Contracts to Be Let on July 1st.

The Thief River Falls Co-Operative Creamery association will proceed at once to erect a fine new building in which to house its business. This decision was arrived at last Saturday when the proposition was brought up at a special meeting of the stockholders. Contracts for the erection of the structure are to be let on July 1 and it is planned to begin work immediately with the expectation of having the building completed some time in December.

The new building will be erected on the site now occupied by the secretary's office directly across the street from the present plant. It will be of brick construction throughout, two stories high and full basement, with outside dimensions of 72x72 feet. Plans have already been accepted and everything is ready to go ahead with the work as soon as the contract is let.

The first floor of the new building will contain the salesrooms, business offices, and the principal items of equipment used in the manufacture and handling of the creamery's products. Three churns and seven large vats of the latest and best type are to be installed on this floor. In the basement will be housed the boiler room, fuel storage room and the refrigerators. The second story will not be completely finished at this time, except the part of it to be used as a milk room. There is little doubt but what a cheese factory will be added to the creamery's business in the near future and the unfinished portion of the second story is reserved with the intention of locating the cheese factory there when it finally is launched.

Bonds to the amount of $25,000 will be issued by the association to finance the new building, the balance to be taken from a fund already set aside for that purpose. The question of erecting a new creamery has been under consideration for some time, it having become evident that larger quarters are urgently needed to take care of the constantly increasing business of the institution. The action of the stockholders in deciding upon a new creamery at this time comes after full consideration of every angle of the question and it goes without saying that this evidence of progress is very pleasing to every friend of the organization.

DECORATION DAY OBSERVED HERE

Large Number Attend Impressive Exercises at Auditorium Friday.

Memorial Day was generally observed in Thief River Falls last Friday. Practically all business activities were suspended for the day and citizens of town and country joined in paying tribute to the memory of the nation's soldier dead. Weather conditions were ideal.

An audience which taxed the capacity of the building gathered at the auditorium to take part in the exercises, which commenced at 10 o'clock and were presided over by Mayor J. S. Arneson. The program consisted of music by the Legion orchestra, two selections by the Brage chorus, and songs by the audience. The invocation and benediction were by Rev. Charles Gerlinger. The principal address of the day was delivered by H. O. Chommie, and he made a deep impression upon the audience with one of the best talks heard here in many years. Two veterans of the Civil war, John Kivel and S. J. Fuller, occupied seats of honor upon the stage.

After the close of the program at the auditorium a large parade was formed and proceeded to the cemetery, where the graves of soldiers were decorated with appropriate exercises.

ATTENTION FANS!

A meeting will be held at the Tribune office Thursday evening of all those who believe that Thief River Falls should have a baseball team this year. Be on hand promptly at 7:30 and do your bit toward getting the thing started. There is plenty of material available for the formation of a good team in Thief River Falls and such an organization should be in the field without further delay.

McFarland Holstein Sale Attracts Wide Attention in Valley Dairy Circles

"All set and ready to go" is the report sent out this afternoon by those in charge of the McFarland sale of Holstein cattle which is to take place at the fair grounds tomorrow. Mr. McFarland and his men have been busy as bees for several days making preparations for the event and the animals have been on the grounds since Monday for the inspection of prospective buyers. With favorable weather there is little doubt but what the attendance at tomorrow's sale will be large, as buyers from every section of the Valley and eastern North Dakota have signified their intention of being present.

GOOD SPEAKERS BILLED SUNDAY

W. W. Royster and Mrs. Stageberg to Deliver Addresses at Big Picnic.

Present indications are that the picnic at Squaw Point next Sunday under the auspices of the Peoples Co-operative Store company will prove to be one of the biggest affairs of its kind held here in many years. If the weather is at all favorable there is no question but what a record breaking crowd will be present to enjoy the outing and the fine program provided.

The chief speaker of the day will be W. W. Royster of Glenwood, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination on the Farmer-Labor ticket. Mr. Royster has a host of friends here who will want to hear him discuss the issues of the day. He is a speaker of exceptional ability and is considered a deep student of public affairs.

Another speaker of state wide prominence is Mrs. Susie W. Stageberg of Red Wing, Farmer-Labor candidate for secretary of state. Mrs. Stageberg comes here from Detroit, after attending the first annual convention of the Women's Nonpartisan clubs of the Ninth district held in that city on Saturday.

In addition to the leaders mentioned above a number of others are scheduled to deliver addresses. A fine program of sports and other amusements also is being arranged in order that all who attend the picnic may have no difficulty in finding suitable entertainment during the entire afternoon. A general invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Herman Bischoff Graduates From School For Blind at Faribault Tuesday, June 3

Herman Bischoff, talented blind boy, the son of Mrs. W. B. Fuller of this city, is a member of the class which graduated last evening from the state school for the blind at Faribault. Herman has made wonderful progress in all of his studies, but particularly excels in music.

At the exercises Tuesday evening Herman rendered the following numbers: Piano solo, Peer Gynt Suite, Grieg; tenor in vocal trio "Memory", Leslie; instrumental quartette, "Dance of the Happy Spirits," Gluck. He also took the part of "Sir Peter" in a scene from "School of Scandal." The young man is expected to arrive within a few days to spend the summer at his home here.

A large delegation from Elmer J. Eklund post is expected to visit Fertile during the convention, a caravan of automobiles being planned as the most pleasant means of making the journey.

WHEAT GROWERS CONVENE TODAY IN LARGE MEET

Annual Session of Wheat Marketing Association Attracts Many.

Election of Officers and Other Important Matters to Consider.

The annual meeting of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association is in session at the auditorium this afternoon, with delegates present from nearly every section of the state. A lunch was served at the commercial club rooms this noon for the visitors.

The Tribune goes to press too early to give a complete report of the meeting or the result of the election of officers, which is scheduled to take place late this afternoon. The early part of the afternoon was taken up in discussion of problems, reports and talks by officials and others connected with the association.

While the Minnesota wheat marketing association has been in existence only one year, its growth has been very rapid due to the untiring efforts of the organization forces under the supervision of Secretary W. H. Frederick. A membership of over seven thousand farmers has been secured, a larger number than that enrolled in any other state association in a similar length of time. Jorgen Eide, well known Pennington county farmer, has been president of the organization during the past year.

Dill of Pickle Here.

C. H. Dill of Pickle, California, called on the trade in this part of the state last week booking orders for the Del Monte line of food products. Del Monte Dill, as he is called, has been with the California Packing corporation for many years and is well and favorably known by the retail grocers of the Northwest.

BELASCO'S PLAY IN SCREEN FORM

"Tiger Rose" Slated to Appear at Princess Next Sunday and Monday.

An exceptional film event is offered local patrons of the silver screen in the announcement of the coming of "Tiger Rose" at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Patterned after the Belasco play that scored the most successful run of any play on Broadway, starring Lenore Ulric, the actress who created the title role on the stage, and who achieved such fame and popularity in her latest hit, "Kiki"; backed by David Belasco, whose endorsement it bears; produced by Warner Brothers, and directed by Sidney Franklin, the photoplay presents a combination hard to equal anywhere.

The acquisition of David Belasco, his play and all it stands for in the realm of drama, is a guarantee of high dramatic quality.

The story of "Tiger Rose," set in the far northwest, in the region where men and wild beasts rove at large, killing and being killed, impelled by instincts of hunger, love and fear, is one chock-full of the dramatic and soul-stirring. As a result, the picture is said to move and tingle with human interest.

Rose Boclon, nicknamed "Tiger Rose" for her untamed ways, is a regular wildcat, untutored and unrestrained. Leaving home after her father's death, she is saved from death on a raft and brought to the factor of a Hudson Bay post, who decides to adopt and bring her up as his own child. In the post she learns to participate in the loves and hates of the men she is thrown in contact with.

GUERNSEY SALE NEXT THURSDAY ATTRACTS MANY

One Hundred Animals Consigned For Absolute Sale to the High Bidder.

Preparations for the annual consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association, to be held at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Thursday, June 12, are progressing at a very satisfactory rate. A complete catalog of the animals offered is being issued and a thorough examination of the individuals has been completed during the week.

Interest in the sale is growing by leaps and bounds, and officials of the association have reason to believe that all attendance records will be broken at this year's sale. Inquiries have been coming in from all sections of the Northwest and it is known that buyers from many places in North Dakota, South Dakota and Southern Minnesota will be present. Last year's sale was attended by fully 500 buyers and speculators, a record which the committee in charge hopes to exceed this year by at least 50 per cent.

A total of 100 Guernseys, consisting of 10 purebred sires, 10 purebred cows and 80 high grade cows and heifers will positively be sold to the highest bidder without reserve here June 12. About half of the total number offered are consigned from Pennington county, the remainder being from Polk, Clearwater, Roseau and other counties in the valley. The fact that such a large percentage of Guernseys hail from Pennington indicates without question that this county is rapidly becoming the recognized home of this high class breed of cattle in the Red River Valley—in the entire state for that matter—a fact in which local breeders have reason to pride themselves.

The Goodridge community is rapidly coming to the front, now having more purebred Guernsey sires to its credit than any other similar community in the Red River Valley.

MIDDLE RIVER'S ESSAYIST WINS

Miss Lila Modin Awarded Third Prize in Contest Embracing Minnesota.

Miss Lila Modin, 16-year-old daughter of E. P. Modin of Middle River, this week received a letter from G. E. Ingersoll, civilian aide to the secretary of war for Minnesota, informing her that she had been awarded third prize for the state in the essay contest recently conducted by the Citizens' Military Training Camps association. Over 400 essays were submitted. Miss Modin, in addition to the honor achieved, won a prize of $25.

The essay was written on the subject, "Why a young man I know should attend a citizens' military training camp," and Miss Modin's composition follows:

"A clear eye, a strong body, and a keen mind, the optimism and cheerfulness which is the gift of the out doors,—these and more will attendance at a citizens military training camp bring you.

"'The color of life is red' and though we have passed a long way from the hero worship of strength for its own sake, there yet remains an inherent admiration for hardiness of body with its accompanying keenness of intellect. The citizens' military training camps are carrying out the principle that soundness of body and physical development go hand in hand with efficiency of mind and intellectual growth. Such training will fit you for wholesome and effective participation in life. It will teach respect for the laws and institutions of our country. The United States government offers a course carefully planned for your physical and mental development. Citizenship in its fullest sense is the ultimate goal.

"If you feel a desire to make the most of yourself by training for useful citizenship and social effectiveness, if you want to enjoy four weeks of wholesome out-door life in companionship with young men of your own type under the guidance of a government which has your interest at heart, a course in the citizens' military training camp is compelling in its appeal."

FULLER FUNERAL RITES SATURDAY

Military Burial Ceremony for War Veteran and Prominent Citizen.

Tuesday, May 28, at Shaunavon, Sask., Canada, where he had gone with the hope of restoring his shattered health, W. B. Fuller, for 32 years a well known and highly respected citizen of this city, died at 4:30 p. m. from acute indocarditis. He had left for Saskatchewan two weeks previous and at first high hopes were held out for his ultimate recovery as the change of climate seemed to benefit him. However, he suffered a relapse a few days before the end and Mrs. Fuller, accompanied by their three children, Theresa, Harriet and Marjorie Anne, left for Shunavon immediately and were present at the time of his death.

William Berri Fuller was born August 30, 1886, at Jeanville, Freeborn county, Minnesota, and lived at that place until 1892, when he moved to this city. After a term of teaching in the schools of this city he held a position in the J. and P. Meehan Lumber

FARM AID BILL KILLED BY 224 TO 154 BALLOT

McNary-Haugen Bill Fails When Put to Vote in Congress Yesterday.

Doubtful Whether Any Relief Legislation Will Pass This Session.

The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was defeated yesterday in the last minute and the efforts of its supporters to put through a less drastic measure also failed. The bill was rejected 224 to 154. Rejection of the proposal left members of the house and senate farm block in doubt whether any farm legislation can be passed if congress adjourns Saturday.

There was a sharp break in party lines in the voting, Democrats and Republicans from the Middle West and Northwest rallying to the bill's support while members from the eastern states, irrespective of party, and many southern Democrats opposed it.

Before a vote could be reached on the McNary-Haugen bill, supporters of the bill agreed to work for the adoption of a substitute. Their plan was support of a motion to recommit the bill for the purpose of restricting its scope. They tentatively decided to make the measure apply only to wheat, flour and swine, to make it operative for three instead of five years, to limit the capital of the corporation which would market the products abroad to $100,000,000 instead of $200,000,000 and to give the president discretionary power to put the proposal into effect.

Steps were taken immediately after defeat of the measure in the house for a conference in St. Paul next July to organize a farm relief election campaign with the idea of carrying the plight of the farmers directly to the country. People in this section of Minnesota were overwhelmingly in favor of the McNary-Haugen bill and much disappointment is felt here because of its failure to become a law.

Totes Jag, Faces Judge.

Theodore Jetland, picked up by the police Monday morning in an intoxicated condition, was brought before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant the same afternoon. He pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness placed against him and the judge gave him the alternative of a $10 fine or 30 days in the hoosegow. Being a little shy on change he went back to jail but it is said he won't be there long as some of his friends are prepared to pay his fine and secure his release.

Guild to Serve Lunch.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Bernard's church will serve lunch at the fair grounds tomorrow for the convenience of buyers attending the McFarland sale of Holsteins.

DAWSON EDITOR HERE TOMORROW

Theodore Christianson, Candidate for Governor, to Address Voters.

Theodore Christianson, editor of the Dawson Sentinel and for many years a member of the state legislature, now seeking the Republican nomination for governor, will pay Thief River Falls a visit tomorrow. An open air meeting will be held at 12:30 on the Farmers and Merchants State bank corner, at which Mr. Christianson is scheduled to speak. At 1 o'clock he will deliver a short talk before the Commercial club at the club rooms in the auditorium.

Mr. Christianson has been in public life for many years, and for several session of the legislature acted as chairman of the appropriations committee. He thoroughly understands the economic situation in Minnesota and is a strong advocate of tax reduction through a more conservative and businesslike administration of public affairs.

All voters who possibly can do so should make it a point to hear Mr. Christianson's talks here tomorrow. Every citizen owes it to himself to keep informed on candidates and issues so that he may vote intelligently at the primary election which falls on Monday, June 16.

Concordia Band Concert.

The Concordia Concert band of Moorhead is scheduled for a concert at the auditorium in Thief River Falls next Saturday evening, June 7, beginning at 8:15. This is one of the finest musical organizations in the Northwest and its appearance here should be greeted by a packed house.

A WISE MOVE

The decision of the stockholders of the Co-Operative Creamery to erect a new building for this flourishing institution looks like a move in the right direction. The growth of the creamery approaches the phenomenal. We believe there are few co-operative creameries in Minnesota which can show a like record, and prospects for the future are exceedingly bright. The business has outgrown the present building and there can be no question but what the action of the stockholders was warranted under all the circumstances.

The action of the farmers should inject red corpuscles into the blood of the blue and the downcast. It should serve as a stimulant to weak hearts. This community is dependant to such an extent on the growth and advancement of agriculture that any forward lookingstep should be hailed with delight and seized upon as a starting point for renewed life and action. The new creamery will bring new business to Thief River Falls. That is that. But the main thing to think about is the obvious fact that the future looks bright to the dairy farmers of the vicinity.

We suggest a necktie party for those two Chicago youths who murdered a school boy "just for fun." Using a heavy rope for a necktie the boys will jump from a wooden platform eight or ten feet high. It will be quite a strain on their necks when their feet fail to reach terra firma but with their great sense of humor the boys will enjoy seeing how long they can hold their breath.

THE BRAGE CHORUS.

From neighboring towns comes the word that the Brage Chorus, local musical organization par excellence, has been received with great favor upon its many recent appearances away from home. We who live here in Thief River Falls regard the chorus as a fixed institution which functions as a matter of course. It has functioned here for seventeen years, and little do the people who have enjoyed their music from time to time realize with what difficulties the organization has been carried forward to its present strength and status.

It has meant time and effort and patience and forbearance in great gobs on the part of the faithful who have persisted. We mention these things, not because we do not believe the chorus is not properly appreciated in Thief River Falls. On the contrary we know the chorus is held in great esteem. But we do make mention of these facts as a reminder to the public who owe it to Dr. Vistaunet and the members of the chorus to show appreciation which is rightfully due them.

The Brage Chorus is 100 per cent a Thief River Falls institution. It has placed us on the map musically in all directions. We are all proud of the chorus. And let us not forget to occasionally drop a word to that effect.

Congress failed to enact into law the McNary-Haugen bill which promised some relief for agriculture. As a relief to the whole country congress will adjourn Saturday.

Sanders-Robinson.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sanders was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Saturday evening, May 31, at eight o'clock, when their daughter, Sara Ann, was united in marriage to Myron O. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Robinson, residing near Goodridge. The house was prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink, green and white, carried out in carnations and streamers. The bride was attired in a gown of Spanish lace and crepe de chine and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Sanders, who wore a gown of light blue crepe de chine. The groom's brother, Francis I. Robinson, was best man and the wedding service was read by Rev. J. B. Smith. Following the ceremony, a three course dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the couple.

Before an improvised altar of ferns and pink and white streamers, in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends, Clara M. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, was married at her home, 520 Tindolph avenue south, Sunday, June 1, at one o'clock p. m., to Vernon M. Evenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Evenson. Miss Bessie van Vlissingen of Moorhead, as bridesmaid, wore a simply cut gown of changeable blue and pink taffeta and wore a corsage of Columbia roses and white sweet peas.

At the close of the simple services which were read by Rev. George Larson, the "Benediction," set to one of Sidney Lanier's poems was sung by Elra Porter, delightfully accompanied in this and in the songs preceding and in a program of songs following, by Miss Eileen Arneson.

A huge, tiered wedding cake centered the table at the dinner which followed and at which the color scheme of pink and white was further carried out.

The bride is very well known and much esteemed in this city having gone to the local schools and having been a reporter on The Tribune during the past year. We are Told that Disease is something from outside that somehow gets inside, and makes us sick.

The favorite delusion at present is that somewhere in the food we eat, the water we drink, or the air we breathe, there is a little micro-organism called a germ, that causes disease.

The truth is that we live in a sea of life; that every morsel of food, every drop of water and every breath of air is teeming with germs that yield their lives to yours. If germs caused disease the human race would long since have perished from the earth.

No satisfactory explanation of why different members of the same family or community suffer from different diseases has ever been vouchsafed by those who expound the environmental theory of disease.

Why does one person in a family suffer from headaches, another from a bronchial affection, a third from stomach trouble, a fourth from rheumatism, a fifth from sciatica, and a sixth from blindness?

Can you explain it from the standpoint of germs, food, air, water or any other part of the environment?

"Like canses produce like results," is an axiom of science. How, then, if disease is produced by the environment, can yon explain different diseases in the same environment?

Susceptibility?

NORWAY NOT IN BEST CONDITION

Traveler Says Country Suffers From General European Distress.

According to Ole Tronsdahl, who has just returned from a three years' stay in Rindalen, near Tronjem, Norway, conditions are such in "the old country" that everyone who can do so is emigrating. The city of Tronjem is practically under martial law because of lockouts put into effect there when an ironworkers' strike was declared a short time ago. This put a stop to what little work was going on and conditions are going from bad to worse with the laborer.

Germany, which has been the chief iron buyer, with no money to buy with, has not been importing that product to any extent and this has caused many mines to close. During the past two years the fishing has been very poor. This spring prospects in this line seemed brighter as far as catches were concerned, but the market is very poor, the chief consumer, Russia, having no money and doing what trading she does with grain.

The farmer is for the most part living off profits made during the World war. What grains and dairy products he can produce still bring a good price, but farms are so heavily taxed there is no profit to be made. As a result a very large percentage of the younger generation, instead of settling on the farmsteads, preparing to take over the land of their fathers, are immigrating to Canadian provinces and to the United States.

The more radical of political parties are gaining headway in the country also, the Communists now being rated as third in power with the Hoire and Bondelog leading slightly in first and second places.

Injured in Accident.

"Shorty" Douville was quite severely injured Saturday evening when a Ford car in which he and Carl Schultz were returning from Warren skidded in loose sand and overturned. Schultz escaped without injury but the flivver was bunged up somewhat. "Shorty" is able to hobble about with the aid of a cane and is thankful it was no worse.

company offices here until 1898, when he enlisted with the 13th Minnesota volunteers in Co. K., serving through the Spanish-American war. He was awarded two medals and an honest and faithful discharge from the army following provost guard duty in the Philipines from August 20, 1898, to March 8, 1899, and fighting in the battle of Manila August 13, 1898.

After his return from the war he entered business with the Hanson & Barzen Milling company, of which he was secretary at the time of his death. He was married October 10, 1906, to Mrs. Theresa Bischoff, by whom he is survived besides three daughters, Theresa, Harriet and Marjorie Anne and two stepsons, Herman and Bernard. He was a charter member of the city fire department, also being an honored member of the A. R. Patterson Post No. 7, of Minneapolis, Northern Pine lodge 234, A. F. and A. M., Elks and I. O. O. F. He was First Lieutenant of Co. L., Third regiment, Minnesota national guards during the World War.

Before the return to this city, Masonic rites were held in the Masonic temple at Shaunavon, the lodge also forming an escort for the body to the station Thursday morning. A company of 30 men, veterans of the world war, formed a military guard about the caisson upon the arrival of the body in this city Friday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller and her sister, Miss L. Bonrque. The guard formed an escort from the station to the home on Markley avenue where a watch was provided by the Masons, Elks and I. O. O. F. lodges until noon Saturday, when the body lay in state at the auditorium under military guard until three o'clock.

Deceased was buried with full military honors, prayers being read in the auditorium by Rev. Charles Gerlinger, chaplain of Elmer J. Eklund post and the military burial services being read by Rev. B. M. Weakland at the Bourqne family lot in the Catholic cemetery. The floral offerings were beautiful and profuse. The line of march was led by the firing squad followed in order by the caisson, pall bearers, members of Elmer J. Eklund post, veterans of the 18th Minnesota regiment, representatives of the home guard, family, Masons, Elks, I. O. O. F., firemen, and a host of friends who came to pay their last tribute. The Warren, Crookston and Red Lake Falls Legion posts were represented; Adj. Grout of Minneapolis representing the A. R. Patterson post. Joe Holmes, Hans Solberg of Mahnomen and W. H. Frederick, all members of the 13th Minnesota regiment, were honorary pall bearers. All business places in the city were closed for one hour during the funeral in tribute to the deceased.

DELEGATES FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING OF MINNESOTA WHEAT GROWERS

Directors Chosen and Other Business Transacted at Sessions Here Wednesday—Secretary Frederick Accorded Rising Vote of Thanks For Efforts in Behalf of Organization During Past Year.

The annual meeting of members of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association was held in this city last Wednesday, the meeting opening with a session at 11 o'clock in the forenoon and continuing until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The delegates met in the rooms of the association in the First National bank building but adjourned to the Commercial culb rooms where larger quarters were available. J. B. Conner of this city was chosen chairman of the meeting and W. H. Frederick, secretary of the association, was named secretary. After calling the meeting to order, a roll of the delegates present was called and the following responded: E. B. Skogen, Lancaster; A. L. Dolney, Roseau; S. D. Lincoln, Stephen; Gilbert Haavi, Thief River Falls; Ferment Derosier, Red Lake Falls; J. B. Couner, Thief River Falls; Wm. Higgins, East Grand Forks; Nels Mikkelson, Hawley; Oscar Lee, Hendrum; H. E. Gunderson, Flom; A. A. Bakken, Rothsay; Chas. Hosford, Nashua; B. Lein, Fergus Falls; R. H. Harris, Norcross; Victor Johnson, Tintah; Gustave Hundt, Tintah; Carl Platt, Hancock; Andrew Larson, Clinton; Chas. Bruer, Morris; Hans K. Sanbo, Watson; Arthur Nelson, St. Peter and Harry Tomte, Sacred Heart. Only two delegates, Wm. Ross of Crookston and Albert Kovar of Warren were absent.

The morning session was occupied in a discussion of the affairs of the association, and at 12 o'clock a recess was declared until 1:30. During this time a luncheon was served in the Commercial club rooms, after which a welcoming address was delivered by Mayor J. S. Arneson. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Commercial club, spoke in behalf of the club, welcoming the delegates to the city and praising the work so far accomplished by the association.

At the opening of the afternoon session, President Wm. J. Brown of the American Wheat Growers Associated delivered an address concerning the operations of the American, the cost of operation of the American or of the Northwest wheat growers and its constituent associations in the previous year, the volume of business and the finance of the American and its state members, and other matters of general interest to the association. A general discussion followed Mr. Brown's address.

At 4:30 the election of directors was taken up and the following were chosen: J. A. Sorum, Marshall; Jorgen Eide, Pennington; Dan Surprenant, Polk; W. B. Bosworth, Norman; H. Hasse, Wilkin; R. H. Harris, Grant; Chas. Bruer, Stevens, and Edward Hagen, Chippewa. Upon motion it was decided that the next annual meeting of the directors be held in the St. Paul Association building, St. Paul, at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, June 19. At this meeting officials of the association for the ensuing year will be chosen.

Upon motion by Director W. B. Bosworth a rising vote of thanks was tendered Secretary W. H. Frederick for his untiring devotion to the work of the association and the advancement of its interests during the past year. Mr. Bosworth explained to the delegates that Mr. Frederick had been untiring and enthusiastic in his efforts and that he was largely responsible for the splendid showing made by the association in the first year of its existence. Mr. Frederick responded briefly to the testimonial and pledged his future time to the interest and advancement of the movement.

The meeting adjourned at 6 o'clock, with a feeling of hope and enthusiasm very evident among the delegates. All realize that the successful organization and management of the association means hard work and lots of it, but none seemed to doubt that it can and will be done.

MEIGHAN COMES IN GREAT FILM

Booth Tarkington's done it—written an original story for the screen—and for Tom Meighan at that. It's "Pied Piper Malone," which will be at the Princess theatre Sunday and Monday, a comedy-drama with the star in the role of Jack Malone, third mate of the S. S. Langland, Captain Clarke in command. George Fawcett plays the Captain. Malone is a regular "Pied Piper" to all the kiddies in town. He is "Uncle Jack" to all. In this case there's not a girl in every port, only in Oldport, Jack's home town, and that's Patty Thomas, the mayor's daughter. Lois Wilson has this part. Charlie Crosby (Cyril Ring), second officer of the Langland, has always cleamed Patty as his girl. There is great rivalry between the two men.

Malone is unjustly accused of the responsibility for the loss of the Langland while under the influence of liquor when on duty. Only his parents, Patty, and the children believe in him. He beats up Charlie Crosby, when he finds him urging Captain Clarke to "have another" on him in Oldport's only blind tiger. He brings Clarke back into the good graces of the community, the latter in turn sets Jack aright with the townfolk. Malone gets another vessel for Clarke and sails himself as first officer. Patty is on the dock to see them off. She will be waiting—for Jack when they return.

BIG CONVENTION HERE NEXT JULY

Among conventions to be held in Thief River Falls this year is the summer gathering of the Minnesota Sanatorium association, which will be held July 17, according to announcement by Dr. O. F. Mellby, president of the Oakland Park Sanatorium commission, and Dr. B. E. Bernard, medical director and superintendent of the institution, who are in charge of preparations.

The Commercial club of Thief River Falls has voted to extend an invitation to the association to come here, the invitation being accepted immediately by the committee in charge, of which Dr. M. G. Milan, formerly head of the sanatorium here, is chairman. Members of the Commercial club will assist in making the necessary arrangements for the event.

The meeting will be attended by superintendents and medical directors of sanatoriums and their wives, throughout the state and also members of the various commissions in charge of these institutions. Approximately 50 persons including some nurses, are expected to attend.

Matters chiefly pertaining to tuberculosis and its treatment will be discussed, as will also problems of financing and supervision of the 13 state and county institutions in Minnesota. Each sanatorium is controlled by a commission of from 5 to 20 members. Oakland Park, maintained by four counties, is governed by a body of nine men.

Thief River Falls will entertain the tuberculosis specialists this year for the first time. Last summer the association met in Wadena. The winter meeting is usually held in the twin cities.

Weed Inspection Meeting Will Be Held on June 17 to Consider Eradication

The Tribune is in receipt of a communication from the state department of agriculture, in which it is announced that a weed inspection conference will be held at the court house in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, June 17. There is no set program. The subject will be weeds, their identity, losses from, control, etc., the Noxious Weed Act, its explanation, etc. All who are interested in the matter of weed control are invited to the meeting, which opens at 10 a.m.

The weed problem is one of much importance to all the people, and more especially to the farmers. Sam Hammerbeck will represent the state department of agriculture at the meeting. This is the fourth season of activity in weed control by the state and much progress is being made.

AVIATORS VISIT CITY.

Thief River Falls folks have been flying high this week. Two Crookston aviators, S. Bermood and V. Roberts, have been here since Sunday with their airplane taking up passengers at so much per, and quite a number of local people have availed themselves of the opportunity to get a new viewpoint of the world for a few minutes.

Tax Collections for May Reach $174,201.90, Final Day Bringing $91,915.04

May was an extremely busy month for County Treasurer John Gullingsrud, the records showing that during that period his department collected a total of $174,201.90, taxes and penalties, divided as follows: Current taxes, $145,490.77; penalties, $229.58; delinquent taxes, $23,502.17; private redemption, $2,613.33; state land interest, $1,299.37; mortgage registry tax, $68.30; teachers' insurance and retirement, $70.62; county revenue, $927.76. Of this amount $91,915.04 was collected on the last day of the month, and to say that the treasurer and his assistants were busy that day is putting it mildly.

SUNDAY PICNIC DRAWS CROWDS

Hundreds Attend Co-Operative Store Picnic at Squaw Point June 8.

Despite the fact that weather conditions Sunday were not the best for picnic purposes, a large crowd from city and country gathered at Squaw Point to take part in the annual outing sponsored by the Peoples Co-operative Store company. Most of the visitors brought lunches, while coffee was served by the committee in charge. Ice cream and other refreshments were sold at stands conducted on the grounds.

The speaking program started after lunch and a large audience of interested listeners was on hand to hear the speakers. Paul Harris acted as chairman and introduced the first speaker, F. A. Pike of St. Paul, candidate for chief justice of the supreme court on the Farmer-Labor ticket. Mr. Pike gave a short and interesting talk concerning the functioning of the supreme court in its attitude toward legislation and other matters affecting the people. Juls J. Anderson of Crookston, candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke next. Mr. Anderson gave a resume of his career in progressive politics basing his request for support upon the strength of his record. Thomas Vollom of Erskine, candidate for governor, followed Mr. Anderson, and devoted his allottment of time to a discussion of co-operative enterprises. He made a strong plea for economy in state affairs and pledged himself, in case he is nominated and elected, to use every effort in bringing down the cost of government.

Mrs. Susie Stageberg of Red Wing, candidate for secretary of state, next occupied the platform. Mrs. Stageberg is a fluent speaker and held the interest of her audience throughout her address. She lambasted unmercifully the parties now in power.

W. W. Royster of Glenwood, candidate for governor, delivered what was considered by many the best talk of the afternoon. Mr. Royster is a fine speaker, and uses logic in his arguments. He has a great many friends in Thief River Falls and no doubt made a large number of new votes upon his appearance here Sunday.

A. K. Lockrem next took the platform to say a few words in behalf of Victor Lawson of Willmar, but a light rain had begun to fall and most of the people scrambled for their automobiles or for cover and the speaking program came to an end sooner than intended.

CONCORDIA BAND DELIGHTS FOLKS

Renders Excellent Program at Concert Given Here Saturday Evening.

The concert given in this city Saturday evening by the Concordia College Concert band of Moorhead proved most enjoyable to the large audience which greeted the organization upon its appearance at the auditorium. A number of selections of classical, semi-classical and popular nature were played with good ensemble, much color and evident feeling for the musical text. Especially was this brought out in "Estellita," Valse Pathetique by Victor Herbert. "The Whistler and His Dog," by Arthur Pryor, not listed on the printed program, was rendered with such spirit that the players were obliged to repeat the number at the insistence of the audience.

H. W. Monson, director, deserves much credit for the high point of musical excellence which the band has reached. The musicians are all students at the college and none are classed as professionals. Rev. O. J. Lutness of the college gave a short talk which was very well received by the audience.

The Young People's society of Trinity Lutheran church sponsored the appearance of the band in this city and deserves much credit for the high class musical treat provided.

CLOSE RACE TO END MONDAY IN STATE PRIMARY

Greatest Free-For-All Primary in History of State Comes June 16.

Republican and Farmer-Labor Parties Both to Have Close Contests.

An unparalled list of candidates will confront the voters of Minnesota at the polls June 16 in the greatest free-for-all primary election in the history of the state.

While three parties are nominating state and congressional candidates, contests on state offices are confined to the republican and farmer-labor parties, as the democratic entries are unopposed.

Close races are anticipated in the two major parties, republican and farmer-labor, and the voters will make their selections from lists that include six candidates for United States senator and fourteen for governor.

The republicans have three senatorial candidates and six aspirants for the gubernatorial toga, while in five of the state's ten congressional districts there are contests for the republican nomination.

Senator Magnus Johnson, Minnesota's dirt farmer senator, is opposed for renomination on the farmer-labor ticket by two entries, and in the gubernatorial field on that ticket there are eight candidates.

For the republican senatorial nomination the candidates are Oscar Hallam of St. Paul, former associate justice of the state supreme court; Ole O. Sageng of Dalton, for years a member of the state legislature, and Thomas D. Schall of Minneapolis congressman from the Tenth district.

Gubernatorial candidates of that party are Franklin F. Ellsworth, Minneapolis; George E. Leach, mayor of Minneapolis; Curtis M. Johnson, Rush City; O. P. B. Jacobson, Fergus Falls; Theodore Christianson, Dawson, and Julius A. Schmahl, St. Paul.

Jacobson is a member of the railroad and warehouse commission, an elective office; Christianson has been chairman of the important house appropriations committee in the last few legislative sessions, and Schmahl was secretary of state for fifteen years up to 1920.

In the farmer-labor field, Senator Johnson is opposed by Michael Ferch of Minneapolis and Hjalmar Dantes of Orr, venturing for the first time into statewide politics.

The farmer-labor gubernatorial entries are: W. W. Royster, Glenwood; W. A. Schaper, Minneapolis; Tom Davis, Minneapolis; Victor E. Lawson, Willmar; Floyd B. Olson, Minneapolis; Dr. L. A. Fritsche, New Ulm, and Thomas Vollom, Erskine.

The unopposed democratic primary ticket includes J. J. Farrel of Carver for United States Senator, and Carlos Avery of Hutchinson, for years game and fish commissioner of the state, as gubernatorial candidates.

The primary will be watched with particular interest by political observers in this state because of the contests in the farmer-labor party. In previous campaigns, the knowledge that absolute unity might be necessary to capture state offices has kept the party in harmony as far as surface indications are concerned. Now, however, with two United States senators in Washington, there is a mad scramble for nominations, with its effect on the November election problematical.

Oen Mercantile Company Will Launch Novel Plan in Shoe Sale This Week

Something entirely new in the way of shoe sales is announced in the large advertisement of the Oen Mercantile company on another page of this week's Tribune. During the last three days of this week this store will take in old shoes in exchange for new ones and a straight allowance of $1.00 will be allowed on every pair taken in during the sale. There are no strings to this offer. Old shoes are worth a dollar no matter what condition they are in. Here appears a good chance for everyone to realize a little something out of the old "kicks" instead of throwing them on the scrap heap.

To Serve Dinner and Lunch.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Bernard's church will serve dinner and lunch at the fair grounds during the Guernsey sale on Thursday, June 12. A business meeting of Guild members will be held at the church, beginning at 8 o'clock on the same afternoon.

Mary Muldoon Hurt.

O. P. B. JACOBSON

Political wiseacres are figuring that a man who could secure 445,557 votes is a hard man to beat for any office. This astounding vote was given O. P. B. Jacobson for the Railroad and Warehouse Commission in 1920. If he gets a small chunk of this vote June 16, the smart ones say he will be the Republican nominee for governor.

DISTRICT COURT MEETS JUNE 24

Judge Grindeland to Preside at Regular Summer Session for Pennington.

The summer term of district court for Pennington county will convene at the court house in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, June 24, and the petit jury is ordered to report at one o'clock on that day. Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren will preside at the sessions.

As the time for filing new cases does not expire until June 17, it is impossible to estimate at this time the exact number of cases to come up for trial at the June term. Indications are, however, that the number will be considerably less than came up at the February term. Quite a number of continued cases also will appear on the calendar for trial at this time.

The petit jury was drawn last Saturday and is as follows:

MORE ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT

Only Way to Reduce Taxes, Says Theodore Christianson in Speech.

Theodore Christianson, editor of the Dawson Sentinel and Republican candidate for governor in the primaries next Monday, was the leading speaker at the meeting of the Commercial club last Thursday. He also spoke for a few minutes at a street meeting on the corner of Third and LaBree.

Mr. Christianson is one of the best speakers it has been the good fortune of club members to listen to for a long time, and he made a very favorable impression upon his audience. He chose for his subject "Taxation" and gave many interesting facts and figures concerning a subject which is uppermost in the mind of every citizen at the present time. The speaker argued against the modern tendency of each community trying to outdo the other in the matter of public improvements, such as schools, roads, etc., which serves to increase the bonded indebtedness of the people to a degree which cannot but prove a serious handicap to this and succeeding generations.

The speaker also asserted that a considerable reduction in state expenses can be brought about through a reorganization of state departments and the elimination of some of the numerous "inspectors" now traveling over the state, four or five of whom do no more work than what could easily be accomplished by one man.

Here is good news for the baseball fans of Thief River Falls and vicinity: This city is to have a team during the coming season, and it won't be a slouch either. Boosters got together this week and perfected a lineup of players that looks like a winning combination when it gets thoroughly organized. Below are given a few of the prospective players who will occupy positions on the 1924 team:

Howe, McGinn, LaBree, Anderson, Herron, Nelson, Lane, Paranteau, Berg, Peterson, Olson and a number of others who have shown in past years that they can be depended upon to give good accounts of themselves in a ball game. There is plenty of material in Thief River Falls which can be developed and which will come through in fine shape after a little practice.

Nothing elaborate or expensive is planned for this year and it is unlikely that a salaried man will be added to the team. Local business men and others will be asked to donate an amount sufficient to provide balls, bats and other paraphernalia for the team, and it is thought that other operating expenses can be cared for through gate receipts.

All of the surrounding towns in this section of the country have good teams in the field this year and there is no doubt but what a series of excellent contests can be arranged. Among these are Warren, Alvarado, Oslo, Argyle, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Grand Forks, East Grand Forks, Crookston and Hallock. Local fans are asked to get behind the Thief River Falls team and help put Thief River Falls on the baseball map.

GUERNSEY SALE HERE TOMORROW

As the time approaches for the big consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders association, to be held here tomorrow, interest in the event increases by leaps and bounds. One hundred head of pure-bred and grade Guernseys, consigned by breeders from all parts of the Red River valley but mostly from Pennington county, will be placed on sale at public auction, beginning at 11 o'clock. W. J. LaBree of this city and W. B. Bosworth of Ada have been secured to officiate as auctioneers.

The animals have been selected from the herds of 80 members breeders by a committee of Guernsey breeders. They are from federal accredited herds or tested just before the sale. Most of the cows selected will be fresh prior to or just after the sale. A choice of bred and open heifers are included in the consignment and some heifer calves suitable for calf club work are also listed.

A large crowd is expected to attend this sale as it has been extensively advertised, and the quality of the stock offered is such as to attract anyone who is in the market for first class dairy animals.

Dinner and lunch will be served on the ground by the Ladies' Guild of St. Bernard's church, and the members of the Thief River Falls Commercial club will attend the sale in a body tomorrow and enjoy lunch.

TOO MUCH PESSIMISM

At any time when farm conditions are not the most favorable, discouragement and pessimism are apt to grow unchecked and many radical statements are heard as to what is going to happen to the rural districts.

It should always be remembered that when conditions are bad in any respect, there is a strong tendency for people to concentrate their attention upon the features of the situation which are bad and to ignore the more favorable aspects. The crepe hangers look at the one man who has had hard luck while they ignore the conditions of a number of others who are getting along very well.

The continued high prices of things he must buy at a time when his own products remain relatively low in value, makes the situation of the farmer difficult. But that does not prove that progressive farmers are all going to leave the country. In any community, even in those which have had the greatest difficulties, will be found plenty of capable people who have full faith in the future of the country and who are going ahead on the principle that everything will turn out all right for the agricultural sections. There have been many periods in the past when farmers had to meet hard conditions. They have always weathered the storm and they will again.

JUSTICE WANTED

It is to be hoped that swift and certain justice will be meted out to the two youths whose confession to the murder of the boy, Franks, in Chicago has shocked the nation. The eyes of the public will not move from this revolting case until it is decided by a jury. If the millions of the parents of these young degenerates are to be the means of setting at liberty criminals of this type, then there is no depth of dishonor to which a great fortune may not be put.

Of course, the public will be doomed to read the usual nauseating accounts of how the insanity streak has been discovered in the family. There will appear glowing newspaper accounts with psychology, psychiatry complexes, reflexes, and other high sounding phraseology. There will be an endless number of legal motions and other attempts by their defenders which in so many cases of this kind serve to keep rich defendants from getting their just deserts.

The jury, of course, must pass on the merits of this case, but so far as the public is concerned, no matter whether the crime be pronounced that of cold-blooded murder or the act of abnormal monstrosities, the country will be best served by ridding itself once and for all time—not once and for a pardon—of such blots upon the human race.

The Polk County Leader at Crookston came out last week with a 28-page special edition in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the exploration of the Red River Valley. The paper is filled with excellent articles of news and historical value and business men of Crookston and vicinity are well represented in its advertising columns. It is a piece of work which reflects much credit upon Editor Juls J. Anderson and his staff.

The fellow who crabs about conditions and then fails to cast his vote on election day is a mighty poor stick. The Tribune is not telling anybody how to vote, but urges every one of its readers to cast a ballot next Monday. It is a duty which no good citizen should neglect.

O. P. B. Jacobson made the farmers of Minnesota a present of millions of dollars by his successful fight in Washington for a change in the grain grades. This is one reason why the voters want him to be governor.

Men are made of clay, but it helps a lot when the clay is mixed with a little grit and sand.

Next Saturday, June 14, is Flag Day. The Elks have arranged for the proper observance of the day, with exercises at 8:30 in the evening. Take an hour off and attend these exercises. It will do you good.

Some say O. P. B. Jacobson couldn't slash taxes if elected governor. Some said he couldn't win his fight for a return to the old grain grades—but he did. His friends think he will top the ballot June 16.

The man who complains most about the way politicians are running the country is the man who rarely votes at primary and general elections.

If you want to see the key to prosperity for this section of the state, come out to the Guernsey sale tomorrow and take a look at the offerings.

Another million dollar rain fall Sunady night. Now all that is needed to make everything lovely is a little warm weather and sunshine.

Congress has not done much so far to help the farmers, but it must be admitted that a fine lot of speeches have been made.

Next Tuesday the "I told you so" man will be on the job.

This is good corn weather.

AS OTHERS THINK

Facts About Dr. Fritsche.

Candidate for Governor Dr. L. A. Fritsche was born in 1862 in New Ulm, Minn.

Some of the founders of this famous city were the grandfather and father of Dr. Fritsche. During the Sioux Massacre the Fritsche family were among the sturdy defenders of that city. About a year ago Dr. Fritsche was a candidate for U. S. Senator against Magnus Johnson and in a brief and clean campaign almost secured the nomination. After his defeat by Magnus Johnson the doctor at once contributed most generously to Johnson's campaign fund, made public a statement urging all his friends to support his late opponent and took the stump for Johnson.

It was during the year 1917 that the Nonpartisan League, without any cause whatever, and under the color of 100 per cent patriotism, was persecuted and their meetings broken up. Dr. Fritsche, Mayor of New Ulm, presiding over a mass meeting held at that place to petition the president to use his efforts towards peace, was called on the carpet by the Minnesota Public Safety Commission (of evil odor) and for the crime of his now famous statement: "While I am mayor there will be free speech in New Ulm." Mr. Burnquist, then governor of Minnesota, removed him from office. What was the result of this raw deal? The citizens of New Ulm reelected the doctor for mayor, which office he held for five consecutive terms and in the election for senator Dr. Fritsche received 30,000 more votes then did the governor who had removed him from office.

For his manly stand for free speech the Non-partisan League elected Mr. Fritsche an honorary member.

Dr. Fritsche represents the highest type of American citizenship and if elected govsrnor, Minnesota will havs at its helm a man of intelligence, energy and fearless integrity.

Motor builders have been trying for many years to overcome this handicap in engineering but it has fallen to the good fortune of [illegible] to solve this problem.

BY ADDING 2 OUNCES OF BLITZEN FLUID TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS the motoring public can relieve itself of manifold unpleasant motor troubles and enjoy the extra power and quietness which a clean and well preserved motor is anxious to give you.

Safety at the Throttle.

In these days when the streets and highways are filled with high-powered motor vehicles and the newspapers daily carry lists of traffic casualties, much is heard of "death cars." When an intoxicated or reckless driver is at the wheel, it is no exaggeration to speak of "Death at the Throttle." The more alarming these thoughts are to the public the better. It is time the public were alarmed over conditions that caused more deaths last year than German bullets did to the American forces during the World war.—Preston Times.

"In Search of a Thrill" Proves Fascinating Film With Viola Dana in Lead

If you enjoy being thrilled to the very marrow of your bones, if you like entertainment of an exciting nature plentifully paprika-ed with comedy, make it a point to ntlend the Metro melodramatic comedy, "In Search of a Thrill," starring Viola Dana, which will be at the Princess Friday and Saturday.

Miss Dana is adorable, and judging from the enthusiasm of audiences at the premiere, "In Search of a Tbrill" is just about the most exhilarating thing she has ever done. The story, adapted to the screen by Basil Dickey from Kate Jordan's "The Spirit of the Road," that appeared in Ainslee's Magazine, is a cintinuous narrative of high-powered action that hits on six cylinders from the word "go." It progresses from one exciting episode to another, culminating in a thrilling fight scene in a Montmartre rendezvous of the Paris Apaches, superbly directed by Oscar Apfel, and through it all runs a fine vein of comedy, that Viola Dana does so abundantly well.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Girl Suffers Broken Leg; Grand Forks Man Injured in Road Crash

Driving past 530 feet of danger and detour signs J. E. Cassidy of Grand Forks, drove his coupe automobile Sunday night into an open culvert three miles east of Crookston on trunk highway No. 8 resulting in a broken leg by Miss Florence Duval, of Crookston, his companion, a fractured rib by Cassidy and demolishment of the automobile which was almost completely destroyed by fire which followed the crash. Both Miss Duval and Cassidy suffered a number of scratches and head bruises while the girl's leg was broken in two places. The two crash victims were rescued almost immediately by a car coming behind them and taken to St. Vincents hospital for treatment.

A short detour had been provided by the state highway workers around tbe open ditch over which a bridge was being constructed. How the car had run by all the markers was declared a mystery by B. W. Sewell, district highway maintenance superintendent, who made an examination of the scene of the wreck. The car, he said, had run past a red flag 530 feet nway from the culvert, n large "road closed, go slow" sign, 50 feet further on, a "bridge repair" sign 152 feet ahead, a detour sign and an arrow pointing to the detour. It then had crashed through a two-inch plank closing the road, plowed thru two piles of gravel, hnrled some iron reinforcements where the bridge was being erected and plunged down into the ditch.

Although the fire, which practically destroyed the car, was so hot it melted the glass in the car there was still gasoline in the tank at the rear of the machine which had not caught fire or exploded.

Colorado Firm Plans Building New Sugar Mill at Moorhead Soon.

Erection of a sugar plant in the Red River valley near Moorhead, Minn., calling for 12,500 acres to be put into sugar beet production will be completed in time for the 1925 crop unless a report upon rainfall now awaited is unsatisfactory. He was one nf some 50 in attendance at the annual convention of tbe United States Sugar Manufacturers association. Several Minneapolis bankers and business men have been interested in the project as a new wealth prodncer for the state.

The Holly Sugar company has 12 manufacturing plants in Colorado, California, Idaho and Wyoming. Mr. Carlton said he believed that the conditions in the valley are most favorable to sugar beet prodnction and that he anticipates the report upon rainfall will be satisfactory and that the Holly Sngar company will approve of tbe proposed new plant.

Delegates at the convention pointed out that the convention in Minnesota was a recognition of the growing importance of the state in the sugar beet indutary.

Ralph Hilson Honored.

Thief River Falls will be represented to an unusual degree at the spring sbnwing of student canvasses of the Chicago Institute. Ralph Hilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hilson, 524 Knight avenue north, has been signally honored in that a large number of black and white oils and some canvasses in color of his will be hung in the exhibition to be opened the latter part of the month. He was assured by his teachers that he would have been given a room but for the fact that he has been a student of the Institute for a year, having studied there intermittently except for the last six months. This hanging is not the usual student affair where everything painted by students during the year is placed, and it is considered n high honor to be represented by one or two canvasses, consequently Mr. Hilson is to be highly congratulated and commended for his work which has placed him at such a high level.

CHRISTIANSON AND HALLAM WIN IN MONDAY'S PRIMARY

As The Tribune goes to press it appears to be assured that Theodore Christiansou has been chosen as the Republican nominee for governor, with Tom Davis leading the field on the Farmer-Labor side. Judge Oscar Hallam of St. Paul is without doubt the Republican nominee for United States senator, while Magnus Johnsou, present senator, won the Farmer-Labor nomination by a ten to one vote over his two opponents. The present judges of the supreme court appear to lead in the early returns, and late returns seem to indicate that O. A. Naplin of this city will be one of the four contestants for the two associate justiceships next fall.

Pennington county cast a light vote Tuesday, the total vote cast for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket being 1,549, and on the Republican side 453 for the same office. There was no local contest except in the Fourth commissioner district, which no doubt accounts for the unusually light vote cast. In the Fourth district, Gilbert Haavi ran high for commissioner with 127 votes and will have as his opponent next fall J. S. Roy, present incumbent, who received 95 votes. Waldie Christenson, the third candidate, received only 59 votes and is therefore eliminated.

First returns in the state indicated a victory for Floyd B. Olson of Minneapolis for the Farmer-Labor gubernatorial nomination, but later returns from the country districts made it possible for Tom Davis to nose out with a few thousand to spare. Approximately 2,600 out of the 3,500 precincts in the state have reported. Senator Thos. Schall is close behind Hallam in the race for senator, with Ole Sageng third. One of the sur-

BARZENS REACH SILVER WEDDING

Friends Join in Surprising Mr. and Mrs. Math Barzen on Anniversary.

Nearly three hundred friends of Mr. and Mrs. Math Barzen carried out a carefully planned surprise party in their honor last Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. Barzen and his good wife. The gathering was formed at the auditorium and marched in a body to the Barzen home on Riverside avenue, taking the guests of honor completely by surprise. The visitors took complete possession of the premises, and a pleasant social time was enjoyed on the beautiful lawn. After lunch had been served, a number of short speeches were delivered, with Mayor J. S. Arneson acting as toastmaster for the occasion. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, F. F. Turner, Rev. B. F. Weakland, Daniel Shaw and Milton Forder were among the speakers, each congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Barzen upon having happily reached the 25th milestone in their wedded life. Several of the speakers who are pioneers in the city also referred with feeling to many incidents which have occurred during the 29 years Mr. Barzen and his wife have lived here. The public spirit shown and the material aid given to the city's advancement by Mr. and Mrs. Barzen during these years was attestel to by them.

Mr. Barzen, in responding, kindly thanked his friends for their expressions of friendship, and for their kindness in assisting himself and his wife in observing their silver wedding anniversary. He expressed his deep appreciation of the spirit among their friends which prompted them to be present on such an occasion. As a fitting conclusion, the honored couple at the silver wedding was presented with a gift of silver as a memento of the occasion.

Indian Skeleton Found in Squaw Point Excavation

Monday morning, while excavating at his home on east Eighth street this week, Alex Cloutier unearthed an adult Indian skeleton wrapped in birch bark. The find was taken in charge by the coroner and buried in Greenwood cemetery. This section near the Squaw Point bridge seems to hold any number of reminders of Indian life. It will be remembered that during the building of the present iron structure many ornaments and implements were unearthed besides a petrified foot with traces of moccasin seams apparent.

PRICE MEETING CALLED MONDAY

Pennington County Price Stabilization Association to Hold Session.

A meeting of the Pennington County Price Stabilization association has been called in Thief River Falls, to be held at the court house next Monday afternoon, June 23, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting is to form or lay plans for the future in the interest of prices on farm products. The late congress failed to enact laws to that end but the farmers who are interested do not propose to lay down. The question of price stabilization has become a national issue and the county organizations are planning to adopt systematic methods whereby their demands will be understood by those who seek office.

While a call has been sent to all township delegates who are members of this organization, the meeting is open to all who are interested and everyone who comes will be offered an opportunity to take part. This is not a political organization but it is organized for the general welfare of agriculture, and all should be interested in the issue. It is expected that the meeting next Monday will be largely attended.

NOXIOUS WEEDS GET ATTENTION

Conference Held at Court House Yesterday Quite Largely Attended.

Samuel Hammerbeck, special field agent with the state department of agriculture, met on Tuesday at the court house with township chairmen and mayors of villages of the county. The county commissioners were also present at the meeting. The commissioner of agriculture has in his charge the enforcement of the weed law, and town chairmen and mayors of villages are charged with local enforcement. The law specifies that weeds found upon any property must be destroyed by the owner and in case he fails to do so, the local inspector must destroy the weeds at owner's expense.

Weeds found upon all roads must also be destroyed, on trunk roads by the highway department, and on any other road by owner or occupant adjacent to such road, and on railroad property at the railway's expense. The weed law is statewide and it offers no

COURT TERM TO OPEN TUESDAY

Short Term Likely as Calendar of Cases Is Unusually Light.

The June term of district court for Pennington county will open in the court house in this city next Tuesday, with the petit jury ordered to report at 1 o'clock. Indications are that it will be an unusually short term, with a brief civil calendar and only a few criminal cases to be tried, which consist mainly of liquor law violations.

On the civil calendar are eight cases continued over from last term and thirteen new cases. Many of these are court cases and it is likely that a number of jury cases will be continued over to next term, so that the petit jury will in all probability finish up its work in a short time. Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren will preside.

PENNINGTON IS HOME OF GREAT PRODUCING COW

Conklin Cow Produces Total of 15,000 Pounds of Milk in Single Year.

Lady Bruce of Clovercrest, four-year-old Guernsey cow owned by F. B. Conklin, dairy farmer residing near Thief River Falls, last week finished a year's record in milk and butterfat production which comes near setting a world's mark among Guernseys. In the year during the test Lady Bruce of Clovercrest is credited with producing 777 pounds of butterfat and 15,000 pounds of milk. Lady Bruce is four years old and carried a calf during about ten months of the time she was on test. Last year the same cow made a record of 712 pounds of butterfat as a three-year-old. The world's record for four-year-olds carrying a calf through the entire year of test is 785 pounds of butterfat, which makes it very evident that the record recently finished by Lady Bruce entitles her to a position with the very best producers in her breed.

Another thing worthy of special note is the fact that she has been on test for two consecutive years. It is customary to give cows one year of rest between tests. while Lady Bruce was kept on test for two solid years without letup, and carried a calf while the test was in progress. The Conklin cow was given only three milkings a day and was subjected to farm conditions, while most high class cows on test are milked four times a day and are pampered and petted along in every way possible in order to secure the greatest possible production.

Mr. Conklin has other cows which are giving a good account of themselves. In his herd of 20 purebred Guernseys are Cif's Pearl, four years old, with a record of 630 pounds, and Cif, now on test, is expected to complete somewhere between 550 and 600 pounds. Mr. Conklin has a right to feel proud of his Guernseys, and Pennington county is fortunate that a dairyman and breeder of his ability is located within its borders.

Checking Up Delinquents.

H. J. Cater of St. Cloud, working under the auspices of the state highway department, arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of making a checkup of delinquents in the payment of motor vehicle taxes. Mr. Cater is checking every car in the city and surrounding country and any owner who attempts to operate a machine without payment of the proper license fee will find himself decidedly out of luck.

A Small Blaze.

The fire department was called out Monday forenoon to put out a blaze which consumed a shed in the rear of the Alexander soft drink parlor on LaBree avenue. The department kept the flames from spreading to other buildings in the vicinity and the damage is nominal.

Plough Sells Interest in Barber Shop; to Go West

Sam Plough, for some time associated with Gus Crown in conducting the O. K. barber shop on LaBree avenue, lats week sold his interest to Richard Joringdahl, an employee of the shop. Mr. and Mrs. Plough expect to leave in the course of two or three weeks on a trip to the west with the intention of establishing their home in Washington if they are able to find a location to their liking.

Kivel on Trip.

John Kivel, Civil war veteran and old resident of Thief River Falls, left last week for points in Wisconsin, where he expects to spend some time visiting relatives and friends. For a man of his age Mr. Kivel enjoys splendid health and gets around better than most men 25 years younger.

MAGNUS JOHNSON COMES TO SPEAK

Magnus Johnson, United States senator from Minnesota, is coming to this neighborhood soon to meet and greet some of his legion of friends and supporters. The senator is scheduled to speak at the annual picnic of the Federated Farmers' clubs of Marshall county, which will be held at Menzell's grove, three miles east of Argyle, on Wednesday, June 25, and will deliver the principal address of the day.

In adition to the speech of Senator Johnson, an excellent program has been prepared for the occasion. The joint choirs of Oslo and Alvarado will sing several numbers, and the Argyle band will furnish snappy music all afternoon. There will be a ball game in the afternoon and dancing in the evening, together with other sports and entertainment.

The annual picnic of the Marshall county farm clubs has of late years come to be looked upon as one of the principal events of the year in that section of the country and it is conservatively estimated that from ten to fifteen thousand people will be in attendance at the picnic next Wednesday. A general invitation is extended to everyone to come and enjoy the day. There will be room for all and entertainment galore.

ROUTINE TASKS FACE ALDERMEN

Many Minor Matters Disposed of at Council Meeting Tuesday Night.

With all members present the city council met last night to transact considerable routine business such as granting permits for dances, erection of garages and remodeling of houses, milk licenses, allowance of bills, receiving of monthly reports, discussion of minor committee activities, and laying over for another week of other matters.

Tuesday night a week ago had been set as the time for hearing objections to paving the alley between Second and Third streets and Main and Knight avenues, but without a quorum the matter was laid over until last night, at which time there were no objectors present as was the case a week ago, but the aldermen did not like to go ahead with this improvement, although property owners of 15 of the 24 lots affected by the paving were petitioners for it. The state law says that only six lots could petition for the paving and it would be legal for the city to go ahead with the work. The aldermen will give the matter final consideration next Tuesday.

No action was taken last night as to the purchase of an oil engine and the matter went over another week. Chas. Krause of the electric light plant stated to the council that he and the men at the plant had given one of the old engines a thorough overhauling and were now engaged in similar work on the second engine. When this work is completed the engines should be in good condition to go through the coming winter he stated. It seems quite probable that it may not be necessary to buy an engine as was previously deemed advisable.

The entire council, together with the mayor and city attorney, were named as delegates to the annual meeting of the League of Municipalities to be held at Detroit Thursday and Friday of this week, and undoubtedly most of them will attend, making the trip by auto.

Dance permits for the next three months at $8 per month for eight dances a month were granted to Phil J. Zeh, while milk licenses were granted to John Maline and John Hansou, duly approved by the dairy inspector. Building permits were granted to F. S. Patton for a garage at an estimated cost of $200; to Carl E. Johnson for a $100 garage; to M. V. Evenson for repair of a house for $600; and to Pennington county for remodeling the court house at a cost of about $3,500.

PYRAMID HOME OPEN SATURDAY

Fine New Oil Station Recently Completed to Be Formally Dedicated.

The fine new oil station recently completed by the Pyramid Oil company on the corner of Main avenue and First street will be given its formal dedication next Saturday, June 21, and the public is given a cordial invitation to inspect the establishment on that date. Open house will be kept from early morning until late at night and all visitors will be made welcome whether they come for the purpose of buying gasoline and oil or merely wish to give the building and surroundings the once over.

As an inducement for folks to visit the Pyramid station on Saturday, the management has decided to present a quart of Pyramid Pure Pennsylvania motor oil as a free memento to each person purchasing five gallons or more of gasoline that day. This is a decidedly practical gift and one which every motorist can use to good edvantage. The reason for giving away the motor oil is two-fold—to make it an object for the motorist to purchase his gasoline at the Pyramid station that day, and to acquaint him with the excellent qualities of Pure Pennsylvania motor oil.

Everything possible will be done to make the stay of visitors pleasant. Attendants will be on hand to show them around, there are waiting rooms and conveniences to make things pleasant for the public and every detail concerning the operation of the establishment will be explained to those caring to learn the details of the institution.

The Pyramid Oil company branch in Thief River Falls is owned by local people, a large number of whom are shareholders. It is one of the finest and most modern oil stations in this section of the state and its establishment here is a decided forward step in the progress of the community's business enterprises. Ben Erickson, for many years a well known resident of Thief River Falls, is manager of the company's branch in this city and the concern employs a squad of local men in its sales and distributing forces.

T. O. Ofsthun Here.

T. O. Ofsthun, secretary of the Minnesota Rural Credit Bureau, arrived Sunday from St. Paul and is spending the week here with Appraiser J. S. Arneson in making a canvass of the territory in Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties coming under the latter's jurisdiction. Mr. Ofsthun was here some weeks ago for this purpose but the roads were in such condition at that time as to make it impossible for him to travel in the country.

Will Visit West.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Joringdahl, accompanied by their three children, left this afternoon for Tacoma and other points in Washington and Oregon, where they expect to spend a month or six weeks visiting relatives and friends.

GUERNSEY SALE EXCELS ALL PREVIOUS ANNUAL EVENTS

Nearly One Hundred Purebred and High Grade Animals Disposed of at Consignment Sale Held Here Thursday — A Wonderful Showing of Dairy Cattle.

The largest and in every respect the most successful Guernsey sale yet held by the Red River Valley Breeders' association took place at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls last Thursday, when a total of 92 purebred and high grade Guernsey cattle were sold. In spite of threatening weather in the forenoon a large crowd of buyers assembled on the grounds at an early hour. The clouds finally disappeared, however, and the day turned out to be ideal—just right for an occasion of this kind. The sale started promptly at 11 o'clock and continued until six in the evening, with about one hour's intermission for lunch at noon.

While no fabulous prices were received for any of the animals placed on sale last Thursday, the average was good and the owners of the stock sold expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the results. Of the 16 head of purebreds sold, top price was paid for H. C. Woolson's cow, Geneva of Silverton, which brought an even $300. She was purchased by M. L. Lindfors of Fosston. The average price received for the purebreds, many of which were young animals, was $149.38. A large number of excellent grade animals also were placed on the block and nearly the entire offering brought good prices. The high mark of $165 was reached by a beautiful grade cow sold by M. L. Lindfors of Fosston and purchased by G. E. Short of Angus.

While a majority of the animals sold went to breeders in Pennington and adjacent counties in the Red River valley, quite a number were secured by buyers from North Dakota and distant sections of Minnesota. All buyers and visitors from distant points were very much impressed with the high quality Guernseys offered and many asserted that the animals here averaged up better than at any sale they had ever before attended. At the present rate of progress it will not take a great while until this section of Minnesota becomes the recognized home of quality Guernseys in

OKLEE DEFEATS LOCAL PLAYERS

Piles Up Score of 11 to 1 in Sunday Afternoon Baseball Game.

An aggregation of younger baseball players of this city composed a team which went to Oklee Sundsy afternoon to cross bats with the team representing that village. The locals went up against a hard proposition and came home with the short end of a 11 to 1 score.

With little or no practice so far this season and a large number of the best players not present to give their assistance, it became evident from the very beginning in the Sunday game that Thief River Falls had no show. The Oklee bunch, all of them seasoned players and sterngthened with the addition of Pitcher Melquist of McIntosh and Ed. Keifenheim of Red Lake Falls, outclassed the locals in every respect. The Thief River boys found it almost impossible to connect with Melquit's curves and nearly all the way through they struck out one after the other when they went up to bat. A lucky hit in the eighth inning and a fumble on the part of an Oklee player let in the only score secured during the game.

A return game with Oklee has been arranged in this city for July 6, and this will no doubt be an entirely different game. With their regular lineup and with a little more practice the locals should be able to give a good account of themselves against the sluggers from down the line.

The attendance at last Sunday's game was fairly good and the boys were well treated by the fans at the game and by the citizens of the village. Oklee has one of the best ball teams in this section and every resident of the village is a real fan.

New Golf Links to Open.

The new Indian golf links at Breezy Point Lodge will open on July 4 with a men's and women's three-day tournament, and it is expected that several golfers from Thief River Falls will be present. Lieutenant Governor Louis L. Collins will hit the first ball off the first tee. Breezy Point course is standard length and has grass greens. It is situated in the woods on the banks of Big Pelican lake, and is said to be one of the finest resort courses in the country.

PROGRESS IN MARKETING.

Tre following editorial was taken from this week's issue of The Farmer, of St. Paul:

The second meeting of the Board of Directors of the new Minnesota Potato Exchange was held in St. Paul last week. In a continuous session which covered four days and part of four nigbts, the Board considered ways and means of putting the new marketing organization into action. Realizing the magnitude of the job ahead of them, the Board lost no time in tackling the various angles of the problem of substituting a modern co-operative marketing system for the old speculative system. Considerable progress was made during the past week in perfecting the new organization, and the growers who signed the marketing contract may rest assured that this year's crop of potatoes will go to market under grower control.

The first step of progress by the Board last week was in signing a two-year contract for the distribution of the crop. This contract was made with the same national distributing agency that handled the Maine crop last year. Made up of a number of local co-operative marketing associations, federated into one large sales agency with offices in all the large markets of the country, this agency is in a position not only to offer unusually good marketing facilities, but also to finance marketing operations as well. The Minnesota Potato Exchange is the largest single member of this overhead co-operative association and will have due representation on its Board of Directors. Tbe contract is subject to cancellation at any time the service or prices received or other conditions are not satisfactory to growers.

In addition to making a favorable contract for the handling of Minnesota potatoes at market terminals, the Board took steps to open up a permanent office in St. Paul. Some selections were also made as to managers of the various departments of the new exchange. Fred P. Fellows, former vice-president of the Minnesota Bankers' association, was selected to head the Department of Finance and Accounting. Candidates were considered for the other executive positions and a decision will be reached at an early date.

In the very important matter of providing adequate warehouse facilities, a survey of existing warehouses is to be made immediately. Ralph Barker, who established the warehouse system for the Burley Tobacco Growers' association, was generous enough to come to Minnesota this week and will lend his advice in perfecting a similar system for the Minnesota Potato Exchange. The counsel of the authorities of the Maine Exchange is also available.

local option as to enforcement. Therefore it provides that if local officsrs are found negligent they will be guilty of a misdemeanor. Anyone should make it his duty to report such negligence to the department of agriculture.

The "sow thistle wave" which came in from Canada in 1900 has gained an alarming headway and unless drsstic steps are taken a great loss to the agriculture of the stste will ensue. Chairmen reported very good progress in destroying weeds in their townships. One chairman reported that his town had made a special levy in order that extraordinary weed destruction may be made. The connty is liable for the expense of local inspectors, according to an interpretation of the law made by Assistant Attorney General Pratt.

Mr. Hammerbeck expressed himeslf as exceedingly pleased with the strides made throngh the farm bureau and Commercial club, in co-operation with the farmers of the connty toward dairying and alfalfa, as these are the most dominant forces in the abatement and destruction of weeds. Mr. Hammerbeck stated that he will use Pennington county as a criterion in the good work, of minimizing the weed pest. He will go from here to Middle River.

Guernsey Sale Excels All Previous Annual Events

the entire country. This is an objective decidedly worth while and local breeders are entitled to a great deal of credit for the rapld forward strides made dnring the past few years.

Lunch was served at the grounds last Thursday by tha Ladies' Guild of St. Bernard's church during the afternoon and dinner was served at noon. After dinner and before the resumption of the sale following the noon recess, C. G. Selvig, superintendent of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, gave a short address. Mr. Selvig spoke on farm conditions and recent proposed legislation intended to benefit agriculture, particularly the McNary-Hangen bill. He recently returned from Washington, where he had spent several weeks in snpport of this measure. While Mr. Selvig etrongly favored the McNary bill, he stated in his speech here that he believed it was up to the farmers of the country, through organization and otherwise, to work out their own future prosperity but that emergency legislation was necessary at this time to help agriculture out of a situation brought abont throngh abnormal conditions.

Officers of the asaociation and members of the sales committee are to be congratulated upon the success of the sale. These men have worked hard and incessantly in preparation for the evant, and the results were in every respect everything that could be desired. The officers of tha association are Stuart McLeod of Goodridge, president; L. Jensen of Clearbrook, vice president; F. B. Conklin, Thief River Falle, treasurer, and Leonard Houske of Halstad, secretary. The sales committee is composed of the following: Stuart McLeod, Goodridge; Paul Engelstad, and H. C. Woolson, Thief River Falls.

Another thing worthy of notice with respect to the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association is the number of Pennington county members as compared with other counties in the district included in the organization. This county boasts 81 members, while its nearest competitor, Norman, has 18 and Polk 16. The east end of Pennington county, with Goodridge as its center, is credited with 12 members, which speaks exceedingly well for that section.

All of the cattle placed on sale Thursday were given the tuberculin test prior to the sale and not one reactor developed in the entire herd. The veterinarian who made the examination declared that the health of every animal is perfect in all respects. This record also speaks well for the thoronghnese and care used by the Guernsey breeders of the valley.

FIRE LOSSES IN COUNTY HIGHER

Fire loss in Pennington county for 1923 shows a slight increase over 1922 according to the report of Hon. B. L. Kingsley, state fire marshall.

The total loss for the year was $36,100 as against $21,000 for 1922.

While an increase in loss by fire is always to be deplored still Mr. Kingsley does not regard the showing as calling for undue criticism. Reports from this county as filed with the department show a most gratifying increase in the removal of fire hazards, together with the construction of better fire resisting buildings. This is due in a large part to the fire prevention campaign inaugurated by the department and to which local and county fire prevention officials, Mr. Kingsley says, have given every possible aid. Out of it all will come a much lower future fire loss.

Presents Pupils in Three Recitals.

Mrs. Thelma Erickson presented a large number of her many advanced pupils in three well played piano recitals at the high school, giving two last Thursday, one in the afternoon and the second in the evening. At the evening recital, Mrs. Helen Brink was a much appreciated soprano soloist, singing Logan's "Pale Moon," and O'Hara's "I Love a Little Cottage." The two recitalists of the evening, Mildred Engen and Elsie Vorseth did very well and were much liked by the audience. A two piano program was offered at the Monday evening recital with a surprise in the form of Gobla's "Marche Triomphe," played by Ariel Kinghorn and Mrs. Thelma Erickson following Grieg's "Anitra's Dance," played by Miss Kinghorn and Frances Wengeler. The Marche proved an immense hit and with Nevin's "Venetian Love Song," and "Goodnight," formed the evening's favorite trio. Elra Porter was soloist for the evening.

Helen Weeks and Roy O. Storvig Joined in Bonds of Matrimony Thursday

At 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding march, in the Trinity Lutheran church, which had been decorated and carpeted in white, with satin ribbon and smilax tying the pews of the center aisle, the bridal procession at the wedding of Miss Helen Grace Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks of this city, and Roy O. Storvig, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Storvig of Albert Lea, drew near the altar.

The group was led by little Doris Weeks, niece of the bride, as ring bearer, dressed in white and bearing in the heart of a white satin rose on a pillow of white satin bound in silver ribbon the two rings for the double ceremony service. The officiating pastor, E. R. Weeks and assistant, Milton G. Weeks, brothers of the bride, followed wearing white surplices. Misses Joyce Storvig and Marion Sponheim, flower girls, were dressed in white and carried little silver baskets of rose petals which they scattered. Roy Miller, Philip Larson, Harold Aga and Stanton Dahlen, the ushers, preceded the four bridesmaids who were gowned in apple green georgette crepe mode in bouffat style, wearing head bands of ple green georgette crepe made in bouffant style, wearing head bands of tulle. They were the Misses Mary Von Prichard, Dorothy Bottelson, Pearl Weeks and Clara Storvig. The maid of honor, Miss Josie Weeks, was lovely in a deep pink crepe chiffon frock made in bouffant style and trimmed with chenille and silver ribbon. She carried a colonial bouquet of Ophelia roses swirled in pink tulle.

The bride entered on her fother's arm and was gowned in a straight panel model of bride's satin combined with real rose point lace of silk joined with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her veil of tulle was borne by Ronald Sponheim as page and fell from a coronet of the rose point lace with a band of real orange blossoms across the forehead. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. Weeks wore the conventional suit of hlack.

The bride's mother was gowned in satin faced gray charmeuse silk with a hat of black lace. Mrs. A. O. Storvig, the groom's mother, wore a dark blue brocaded silk model with a hat to match. Neither of the two ladies were in the processional.

As the bride drew near, the groom, attended by Severt Knutson, his cousin, emerged from the vestry and met her a few steps in advance of the altar. Both gentlemen wore the conventional tuxedo. The sermonette and double ring ceremony were read by Rev. E. R. Weeks with Rev. Milton G. Weeks quoting the scriptures and giving the benediction. Preceding the ceremony and up to the reading of the scripture a wedding service was played on the pipe organ by Rev. Norald Naakestad of Norge, Virginia. At the close of the benediction Mendalssohn's Wedding March was rendered as the recessional.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home with the parents of the young couple assisting in the receiving line under an arch hung with bells and showers of lilies of the valley. A three course wedding dinner was served with the color scheme of pink, green and white, further carried out in the candles, flowers and nut cups. Professor I. T. Simley acted as toastmaster for the occasion. Following the dinner and deluged with confetti and rose petals by their multitude of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Storvig started off on their bridal tour which will take the form of a motor camping trip to the east, visiting in Buffalo and Ithaca, New York; Washington, D. C. and returning by the southern route to Ames, Iowa, where they will be at home after August 1st.

BUTTER CO-OP. GETS RESULTS

Beats New York Market in April, Better Record for May Seen.

The Minnesota Co-operative Creameries' association in April paid its member creameries a half cent more than the average price of the New York Extra market. This announcement was made this week, after accounts for the previous month had been closed.

Indications are that the May pool will return a full cent over the best price speculators are able to pay, due to the association's having started to fill the Navy contract awarded to Minnesota six weeks ago. The association's printing and packing room at the St. Paul headquarters is assisting in obtaining better prices, as the demand for butter in pound or smaller prints is increasing daily.

"We have been able to better the New York Extra market," says H. F. Meyer, in charge of the sales department, "because we have developed outlets outside of that city. At present, we are shipping 15 cars a week to Boston alone. Had our butter been dumped on the New York market, the price would have been even lower than it is at present. Thus, the association has served the entire dairy industry of the state; members as well as non-members."

The association will handle nearly 2,500,000 pounds of butter in May, so fast is its business increasing. In March it handled 1,808,000 pounds and in April 1,952,000. The business of the association is limited, Mr. Meyer says, only by the extent to which it is able to finance the shipments.

A Cleveland firm that has contracted for 4 cars a week is conducting an extensive advertising campaign under the slogan, "Minnesota's Gift to You," and says that the Minnesota association has made it possible for Cleveland consumers to obtain the best butter in the world.

AROUND ABOUT

Greet the Tourist.

Minnesota is fast becoming the mecca for summer vacationists from outside the state. Many figures and estimates have been given from time to time regarding the potential value of our summer tourist business and the most conservative statements run away up into the millions. Any business that runs into figures of this magnitude makes for rosy anticipations, but the one big job every Minnesotan has before him now is to keep this business sold. We should not lose an opportunity to greet the outsider in our home towns. Make it a business to go up and shake hands with him and find out what we can do for him to make his stay comfortable or to send him on his way feeling he is among friends. It is not only good business but it is good sense. Try it.—Sparks, M. S. A. A. Magazine.

A Motorist's Minute.

There's no question that time is a valuable commodity—but there are limits to its value. To note the way some persons drive their cars over city street intersections, where it is impossible to view approaching traffic, you would think their time was worth a million dollars a minute. Did you ever figure what a man actually saves in time by risking his life and those of others? A speed of thirty miles an hour covers a mile in two minutes. Twenty miles an hour takes three minutes for a mile. If you drive a mile at the rate of thirty miles an hour, you save sixty seconds over the man who follows you at twenty miles an hour. You have risked your life with those of others, and broken the law to save sixty seconds. What's the use?—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Look Better Without.

The highways throughout this country will be immeasurably improved by removal of unsightly billboards. Legislation has brought this about in Minnesota and some other states and in others the renewal is voluntarily made by advertisers who wisely prefer to gain publicity through proper channels.—Shakopee Tribune.

Three Warehouses Worth $75,000 Signed; and 24 Others Promised.

The first meeting of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange at Crookston Monday, resulted in the acquiring of eight warehouses valued at $75,000 and the promise that 24 more warehouses would be signed up on the contract immediately, as soon as the representatives met their local boards and stockholders and decided on the method of turning their houses over.

Inspired by the addresses of President Frank Kiene of Kennedy, representing the exchange and Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses for the Burley Tobacco Growers association of Lexington, Kentucky, who is accompanying the party on this week's schedule of meetings, the audience of more than one hundred warehousemen, growers, business men and bankers responded to the spirit of the meeting with applause for the speakers.

The exchange is offering several methods by means of which they propose to take over existing warehouses and build plants in localities where there are at present no warehousing facilities. The methods include leases, purchases and construction. The exchange covers more than 450 loading or warehouse points and is the largest semi-perishable co-operative marketing orgnnization in the world, with more than 12,500 members.

Monday night the party left for Fargo, where the second meeting of the series was held. The exchange plans to take over every warehouse in this territory which it can use to advantage, anticipating an increase in membership to 15,000 members before the potatoes of the present shipping season move.

AN OPEN LETTER ON GREAT FILM

Producer of "Daughters of Today" Writes Strong Letter to Critics.

The following letter, in connection with the picture which will appear at the Princess next Sunday and Monday, should prove of interest to local movie fans:

"When I arrived in Schenectady to witness the opening of my picture, 'Daughters of Today,' I was told that there were certain persons in this city who wers denouncing the management of the State Theatre for showing the film as well as myself for having produced it. I am taking this opportunity of answering those who feel that they are called upon to criticize the film in any way except as regards its value as entertainment.

"According to various critics of the moving picture industry, perhaps the greatest opportunity given to it is the chance of offering education in an attractive form. When a producer actually attempts this he is met by a wail of reproach, accusing him of attempting to offer the sensational without any regard for truth or results. In 'Daughters of Today' I have attempted to teach a very definite lesson which I think every person who witnesses it will not fail to benefit by.

"A picture which directs the attention of fathers and mothers to conditions which need their attention and which should be corrected is performing a public duty.

"'Daughters of Today' is offered primarily as entertainment. That it justifies its production is shown clearly when it is realized that on Saturday every theatre record in this city was smashed when 5,983 persons witnessed its presentation and yesterday an even larger number taxed the capacity of the State theatre.

"It does not attempt to profit by sensationalism and when it is termed sensational it is only because the subject with which I dealt was of a most sensational nature.

"To quote one of your leading Schenectady educators, 'It will open the eyes of many a Schenectady mother and father and many of the youngest and best will be turned from the mad pursuit of an unending whirl of pleasure and the attendant dangers of the Jazz Age to the sound standards of conduct on which society is founded. Only by portraying the evils of life today can the remedy be made plain.'"—Rollin S. Sturgeon, Producer.

ATTRACTION AT FAIR LINING UP

Accomplished Comedians In Troupes Secured For Next County Fair.

Lester, Bell and Griffin, famous comedians, will be seen at the Pennington county fair this year in their comic clown capers and laugh compelling surprises. Their makeup is of the most original aud grotesque character and they wear the most ludicrous costumes imaginable.

They are an innovation in the 1924 list of outdoor attractions and givs a most convulsing performance of buffoonery. They present a little circus by themselves as their exhibition embraces rough acrobatic bumps and falls, idiotic capers, grotesque gambols and frenzied rivalry in knockabout feats and seemingly impossible dare devil stunts, bringing out wholesome gales of laughter.

Their comedy interruptions are not only convulsingly clever, but totally unexpected, and they are certain to take the audience by surprise. They will appear at both the afternoon and night shows.

The speed with which, Lester, Bell and Griffin, comedy acrobats work, and the rapidity with which they pass from one trick to another makes this trio of funmakers supreme in the outdoor amusement world, especially when one considers all the knockabout comedians that appear at ths fairs, celebrations and expositions.

All three members of the act participate in every trick of their routine, which includes head springs over tables, one foot pitch over tables, round off with flip flaps, back standing twisters, clever tumbling, long neck dives over tables and chairs, and much comedy business provided by unusual feats on tables and chairs. Their finish is fast and furious and provocative of much clean fun and entertainment.

KEATON COMEDY BEST FOR YEAR

"Our Hospitality" Opens Up a New Vein of Real Laughs and Drama.

Buster Keaton's second feature length comedy, "Our Hospitality," a Joseph M. Schenck production, comes to the Princess Friday and Saturday. Beyond a doubt it is the most laugh-provoking production of the year. Buster has opened a new vein of comedy in this picture, and the spectators last night gave every evidence of approval.

The story concerns the adventures of William McKay, ths last of a distinguished Kentucky family, which has been killed off in a feud with the Canfields. Buster, of course, is William, and his serious face and naive expression make this Southern Rollo a character long to be remembered. The story takes place in the early 1830's, which has given the producers a wonderful opportunity to use the humorous aspect of history.

They have certainly not missed a single chance. The sequence showing Buster's ride on the first steam train in America is refreshing. It's real history, but, better yet, it's real fun. It furnishes one of the rarest comedy scenes ever made. Parents who think their children might get a distorted idea of the actual happening need not fear, for "The Rocket" and its coaches are shown with true fidelity.

Natalie Talmadge, Buster's wife, who returned to the screen to appear in this film, is excellent in the role of the Canfield girl with whom the "last of the McKays falls in love. Looking prettier than ever, she brings back to the silent drama a broadened acting ability, and adds greatly to the picture. The baby, Buster Keaton II, shows real cinematic worth when he doubles for his father in the early scenes—he cries beautifully.

ULTIMATUM FOR CITY PRESENTED BY DAM OWNERS

Immediate Action Required or Dam Will Be Sold Council Told.

Public Invited to Thursday Evening Meeting to Consider Matter.

The city of Thief River Falls has been given until some time Saturday to definitely accept or reject the offer of the owners of the power dam at this place. W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls, representing the owners, appeared again before the council last night and advised the aldermen that he had three parties considering purchase of the site and that he had given one of them an option thereon, subject, however, to first option by the city, expiring this week.

The consideration is still set at $40,000 and the 1923 taxes, and with the power rights goes the small piece of ground on the east side, extending up to about where the old chimney of the saw mill was located, together with a considerable piece of ground on the west side, including the land on which is located the Henson & Barzen mill and elevator and other buildings.

Mr. Schreiter stated he had appeared before the council several times in the matter and he wished to dispose of the same without further delay, seeking action last night, but Chairman Evenson stated the aldermen could not buy the dam without putting it to a vote of the people on a bond issue. Alderman Oscar Paulson asked the city attorney, H. O. Chommie, if it would not be possible for the city, with nearly $200,000 to the credit of the electric light fund, to issue city warrants and buy the dam without putting it up to the people, and the reply was favorable, providing there was cash enough to care for the expenditure.

Mr. Evenson said he believed the people, especially the heavy tax payers should be given an opportunity to express their opinions on so weighty a subject and the other aldermen finally agreed to throw the meeting tomorrow night open to the public. They hope there will be a good representation present.

STATE FISHERY OPENS JULY 7

Announcement is made this week by S. O. Selvog, superintendent of the state fisheries at Redby, Red Lake, that the opening of the season will take place on July 7 this year. The late opening date is due to the fact that production is limited under an agreement with the United States Indian bureau. For this reason it is felt that the fisheries can be of better service to the public by supplying fish throughout the months of July and August, when there is nearly always a scarcity and prices go up beyond what ordinary folks can afford to pay.

It is the desire of the fisheries to dispose of a fair quantity of their production to private homes, and the patronage of wholesale and retail dealers also is solicited. Shipments can be made in 20 or 80 pound lots to private homes.

A considerable amount of fresh fish from Red Lake has been shipped into Thief River Falls in previous seasons and there is every reason to believe that the commodity will find a ready market here during the next two months.

Boys' Band, Attention!

H. S. Snyder, leader of the junior band, announces that hereafter rehearsals will be held regularly every Tuesday and Thursday evening. In order to get good results it is absolutely essential that all members attend every rehearsal, and it is important to be there on time.

TOM DAVIS WILL SEEK RECOUNT.

Tom Davis, candidate for governor in the Farmer-Labor primary, last Monday, who in the face of unofficial returns was defeated by Floyd B. Olson, by 248 votes, took preliminary steps Monday to obtain a court order granting a re-count of votes.

"I am confident I am nominated and am going to have a look at those ballots, Mr. Davis declared.

He said his plans provide for filing an application for the recount immediately after the official state canvass of votes is completed Wednesday.

Cake Made in Thief River Falls Starts on Journey to Hawaiian Island City

A large, juicy, dark fruit cake richly covered with mouth-watering sugar frosting, elaborated with honey-sweet flowers and twisty vines, will become a token of love and respect from an absent son to his honorable parents and an ambassador royal from Thief River Falls in this bountiful state of Minnesota to Honolulu in the Hawaiian Islands, 5,000 miles distant.

The cake is being sent by Yow Ping Choy, baker at Jung's, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Y. P. Choy, who reside in Honolulu, and will go the latter part of this week. Besides the usual decorative frosting of flowers there is a post card picture of this city framed in frosting and the name, "Thief River Falls, Minn." written above in twisty pink frosting. This toothsome dainty should prove one of the best advertisements ever devised and will undoubtedly become a delightful reminder of this far away country where their son resides long after it has melted in the mouths of Mr. and Mrs. Choy and their friends, who will no doubt be called in to partake.

MAYFIELD MAN TIRES OF LIFE

H. C. Jarr Sets Affairs in Order Before Firing Bullet Into Brain.

After carefully balancing the township books in his care, writing a letter to his friend and neighbor, Michael O'Leary, in which he stated, "Dear Mike, I am going home . . .," and a letter to the town board which he put in charge of his affairs, H. C. Jarr, a prominent Mayfield township resident, calmly lay down upon his bed and fired a bullet into his head with a .22 single shot rifle.

The body of the 61-year-old man was found Friday by a neighbor, Gunder Asbjornsen, when he came to Mr. Jarr's home to cash a warrant on the town of Mayfield, for which the latter had been treasurer for many years. No one answering his repeated knocks at the door of the house, Mr. Asbjornsen walked to the barn, thinking that Mr. Jarr might possibly be out there. The barn doors were closed and horses inside whinnied weakly and eagerly as if they were very hungry. The animals were very gaunt, and their mangers were bare. Mr. Asbjornsen ran back to the house and tried the door, which proved unlatched. Walking in quickly, he called, but no answer came and then, looking into the bedroom he discovered the body, neatly dressed, lying full length upon the bed, the .22 rifle still clutched in the dead fingers. Coroner Froehlich was called and took charge of the body.

At the examination which followed, it was decided that suicide, probably caused by ill health, was the cause of death, and that the fatal shot may have been fired as early as Sunday evening, June 15, five days before the body was discovered.

Deceased came to this section from Norman county 20 years ago, homesteading his present farm when the Indian reservation opened in 1905. He was a bachelor and although treasurer of the township since its incorporation and holding a high place in the hearts of his friends and neighbors, nothing of his past life was ever made known. In his farewell letters he gave orders to sell all his personal property such as horses and farm machinery and after paying the funeral expenses and a note the balance was to go into the township poor fund. He also made small personal bequests to particular friends. His township account was in excellent condition and he leaves an unencumbered farm. Relatives living in Spokane, Wash., were at once notified, and the body was buried Saturday in the Mayfield cemetery.

NATIONAL FARM CONFERENCE TO MEET JULY 11-12

Plan for Continuing Fight for Farm Relief Will Be Discussed.

Delegates From Pennington County Are Expected to Attend Meet.

Legislative measures for the relief of agriculture and plans for continuing the campaign during the summer and fall in their behalf before presentation to congress in December will be taken up at the national agricultural conference to be held at St. Paul July 11 and 12, it was announced yesterday.

Representatives of farmers, farm organizations, heads of educational institutions, bankers, business men and others interested in the economic situation of agriculture, have been invited to attend.

The call for the conference was sent out recently by the committee which fought for adoption of the McNary-Haugen agricultural relief measure in the last congress. The leaders in the movement include George C. Jewett, of Minneapolis, general manager of the American Wheat Growers associated, who is chairman of the committee, and Frank W. Murphy, of Wheaton, Minn.

The date for the conference originally was set for July 17 and 18 but the time was changed to July 11 and 12 so as not to conflict with other agricultural gatherings on the former dates.

While no definite arrangements have yet been made it is expected that several delegates from Pennington county will attend the meeting.

BASEBALL GAME IN CITY SUNDAY

Middle River Coming June 29 to Cross Bats With Thief Riverites.

The first real baseball game of the season so far as Thief River Falls is concerned will take place next Sunday afternoon on the fair grounds diamond, when the Middle River team is scheduled to try conclusions with the local sluggers. The game is called promptly at 3 o'clock.

The home team has been undergoing some pretty heavy practice during the past few weeks and with the addition of a number of competent players, such as "Chesty" Halbert, LaBree, McGinn and a few other of their class, the strong aggregation is presenting a strong front. Middle River always has a strong team and therefore a good game is sure to result.

No admission will be charged at the gate. Everybody who so desires will be admitted and a collection taken up on the grounds, with the idea that those who can best afford it will rally most liberally to the support of the team.

On July 4th the boys will go to Middle River to play at the celebration. Middle River and Badger play the first game, after which the locals will take on the winners. Oklee is coming here on July 6 and will attempt to repeat the trouncing given the Thief River boys two weeks ago on the Oklee diamond. The Sunday following, July 13, Warren is scheduled for a game on the local diamond.

DISTRICT COURT BUSY CLEARING JUNE CALENDAR

$5,000 Damage Suit Against S. R. Kirby Slated for This Afternoon.

Two Liquor Cases to Be Tried; Case Against Jas. Farr Dismissed.

District court convened yesterday and unusually rapid progress is being made in disposing of the cases which have accumulated on the calendar. A case of considerable interest is to be started this afternoon as soon as the selection of a jury is completed. It is the suit of Carrie Olson of Case Lake against S. R. Kirby, local healer, claiming damages in the sum of $5,000. It is understood the woman is a former patient of Mr. Kirby and that the claim for damages is made because of alleged injury to the patient's health through treatments from the healer. This case is attracting considerable local attention and the verdict of the jury will be awaited with interest.

The liquor case against James Farr was dismissed on motion of the county attorney. A similar case against Fred C. Brendecke, tried once before, appealed to the supreme court and a retrial granted, will likely come up this term. A third liquor case carried up from municipal court, that against John Johnson and Alfred Bakke, also is scheduled for trial. Sigrud Vik of St. Hilaire pleaded guilty to a liquor charge and was given a fine of $150 and a suspended jail sentence of 30 days, with Sheriff O. L. Ihle named by the court as probation officer.

William Poirier has been arraigned and will be tried on an illigitimacy charge, while Herbert Hangen, to be tried on a similar charge, failed to appear when his case was called. His bond was declared forfeited and the court issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

In a number of civil cases settlements have been made or are pending, while others have been continued over to the next term of court. A divorce was granted Axel T. Johnson in his suit against Astrid Johnson. A case in which H. O. Halvorson is attempting to recover on a note given by John Mostrom, was completed this forenoon and went to the jury just before 12 o'clock.

JOHNNY HINES COMES SUNDAY

"Conductor 1492" is the latest Warner Brothers' classic announced for the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday. This feature comedy stars Johnny Hines, screenland's greatest purveyor of real American fun and humor.

Johnny Hines has become to the screen what George M. Cohan is to the stage, the clean-cut, snappy comedian who is never at a loss to take advantage of a situation that offers a chance for a humorous quip, devoted to his parents, and glorifying the stars and stripes.

No slapstick or pie-throwing contests for Johnny. He indulges only in virile comedy calling for a clear head and strong and agile body; many a thrill is handed out to his audiences as they gasp in amazement at a daring feat, only to burst out into peals of uncontrollable laughter when he falls into a ludicrous situation.

"Conductor 1492" was written by Johnny Hines. The picture was directed by Charles Hines and Frank Griffin. Charles Hines, who is Johnny's brother, always accompanies him and as he knows his brother's abilities and understands his humor there could be no better direction for this picture.

Northwestern Banks Get Aid From Corporation; to Help Farmers Buy Cows

The $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation has made loans to more than 200 Northwest banks, which have aggregate deposits of more than $30,000,000.

Officers of the corporation said this week that its activities have had the effect of increasing deposits throughout the Northwest to a marked extent.

The corporation last week shipped two cars of selected dairy cattle from Barron, Wis., where they had been collected by its buyers, to Bisbee, N. D., for distribution to farmers of that vicinity, to whom the corporation has contracted to sell the cattle on long time payments. Another carload was started from a second buying center of the company at Thief River Falls to Mantador, N. D., to assist farmers of that district in their effort to get away from one-crop agriculture and make a start toward more profitable dairying and mixed farming.

DISCUSS PAVING OF CITY ALLEY

No Definite Action Taken at Tuesday Night Council Meeting.

The matter of paving the alley extending from the McFarland garage to the auditorium was again laid over at the council meeting for the third time when the aldermen met last night. At the first meeting there were no objectors present; neither were there any at the second meeting, but when the council met last night Francis Burns, representing the McFarland Auto company, appeared to object.

He stated that they had kept track of the different vehicles passing through the alley yesterday and that there had been only seven of them. The auto company, he stated, were heavy tax payers and they did not believe the alley should be paved at this time. Olaf Ramstad, Mr. Burns stated, was also to have appeared as an objector but failed to show up. The Larson Furniture company, the speaker claimed, as well as F. J. Stebbins, two of the petitioners, had signed the petition, although they did not care whether the alley was paved or not.

Ed. Lee said that he was one of the petitioners who represented sixty per cent of the property owners affected and that he believed the alley should be paved; that it was in bad shape, especially in the spring of the year and after heavy rains. Walt Jung also spoke in favor of paving the alley, saying that his two large trucks used the alley continually day and night, and that the alley was generally in bad shape. He said a storm sewer had been laid at great expense to the city for drainage purposes and that the only property owner in that block connected with the sewer was the Jung Bakery.

The council wishing to give other property owners a chance to express their desires laid the matter over until tomorrow night when the matter of buying the dam also will be considered.

The Brage chorus, pioneer musical organization of this city, under the leadership of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, has reached a high state of perfection and will give a good account of itself upon its appearance in St. Paul.

Former Residents Return From California; Plan to Remain Here Permanently

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dahle, Mr. and Mrs. Elling Larson and Oscar Bjerke, all well known former residents of this city, returned last week from California, where they had resided since last fall. The entire trip to and from California was made by automobile. While California is a nice place to spend the winter for people who have plenty of money, it did not appeal to the Thief River Falls folks as a permanent place of residence and they came back with the avowed intention of again establishing their homes here. Mr. and Mrs. Dahl are making arrangements to resume management of the Central hotel, which they own and which has been leased during their absence. Mr. and Mrs. Larson are now visiting relatives at Rugby, N. D., but expect to return to this city soon. Eleven days were required to make the homeward journey across country.

AGREE TO KEEP UP BATTLE FOR BETTER PRICES

Pennington County Price Stabilization Ass'n. to Fight for Action.

Defeat of McNary-Haugen Bill Not to End Effort in Behalf of Farmers.

The price stabilization meeting held in the court house Monday afternoon was well attended. Practically every township in Pennington county had representatives as well as some of the Marshall county townships located near Thief River Falls.

Those present at the meeting agreed upon the proposition of keeping up the fight on the matter of price stabilization, and arrangements were made to send delegates to the general convention which will be held in St. Paul the latter part of July. Many of the farmers expressed the opinion that this is a fight to the finish between the producers and the grain exchanges and market exchanges of the world, and that the only practical remedy is through political action. The sense of the meeting was that the idea of the government intervening in behalf of the farmers in the matter of prices should be spread to every agricultural district, asking only those be returned to congress who will be favorable to laws of this kind.

It is very evident that farmers are practically unanimous upon this question and that it is only a matter of organizing and spreading sufficient propaganda to compel congress to provide relief in the near future.

The meeting adopted an appropriate resolution, which follows:

"We do hereby assert our faith in the necessity of congressional action in order that the agriculture of America may be protected in the matter of prices of farm products, and be relieved from the impossible handicap of being ruled by the powerful grain exchanges of the world.

"That we approve of the action of those members of congress who worked for and supported legislation along the line of the Norris-Sinclair and McNary-Haugen bills and assert that the farmers of the United States should return to congress only such men as

SUPT. SANDE TO TAKE 'U' COURSE

Head of Rural Schools Will Spend Summer at State University.

Ole R. Sande, county superintendent of schools, left Tuesday morning for St. Paul in which city he will be until about August 9, returning then to prepare for the opening of the new school year. While Mr. Sande is gone the office will be open at the hours of one to four o'clock in the afternoons and anyone who has any business which they wish to transact, or trouble they wish straightened out, is requested to come to the office at these hours and talk with Miss Madeline Thill, who will be in charge. Miss Thill is experienced and, having worked with Mr. Sande during the past winter, knows how to conduct his work. Any business which seems complicated in any way will be referred to Mr. Sande by Miss Thill who will in turn reply by letter to the questioner. The county graduation and school officers conference will be held sometime during July, or as soon after the returns of the graduates come in as arrangements can be made.

Mr. Sande intends to spend the month of July and first part of August attending the summer session of the University of Minnesota, taking a course in rural school supervision and school organization and law. He asserts that one of the most serious troubles with our rural schools is the lack of adequate supervision. This defect is due chiefly to lack of time on the part of the supervising officer, to lack of help in the office and lack of knowledge of methods of supervision. The last mentioned is most serious and important and he is trying to overcome that handicap as far as possible by attending summer school at the U. and taking the courses mentioned from such masters as George A. Selke, formerly rural school inspector of the state department of education and engaged now as professor in the college of education at the U.

"I realize that my absence from the office here for six weeks may inconvenience school officers, teachers and the interested public, but having the interests of the children in the rural schools at heart, I feel it my duty to attend this summer school and I know that those concerned will be glad to co-operate with me in an effort to make it possible for me to attend."

Last Homesteaeds Being Settled.

The Northwest Angle, that point of Minnesota that sticks up north from the International boundary, in Lake of the woods, is being settled this spring. It consists mainly of timber land, principally cedar, spruce and tamarack, and some of the quarters have considerable value in timber. Soldiers with more than nineteen months of service can prove up with seven months' residence. Those who have no military service must put in three years before they can prove up. Filings are made at the U. S. Land Office at Crookston, Minn.—McIntosh Times.

The Spirit of Co-operation.

Only a few weeks ago the fate of the Minnesota Potato Exchange hung in the balance because there were not sufficient funds in the treasury of the Organization Committee to cover the expns of final organization and incorporation. Twin City and Duluth business men and the railroads had already contributed to their limit, an amount exceeding $30,000 for organization expense. Business conditions in the Northwest at that particular time were unsettled. The air was full of rumors that co-operative marketing had proven a failure in Maine. Matters looked dark indeed for the Minnesota potato marketing organization just at a time when success was in sight.

In company with S. G. Rubinow, organization manager, the editor of The Farmer made a special trip to Chicago to see what could be done to secure outside funds to complete the organization. Someone suggested wiring to President Foes of the Maine Potato Exchange for advice. After but a few hours' delay, back came the answer: "Have consulted with our Board of Directors. You must not fail and Maine growers are with you. Our organization will loan you $5,000 to complete your job." That was the spirit of co-operation that Maine growers were willing to back up with money and that is the right sort of co-operative spirit that should be back of farmers working shoulder to shoulder toward economic freedom.

Some day Minnesota potato growers will understand what the Maine potato growers did for them at a time when the marketing ship was in danger of sinking. We know Minnesota farmers will in time show their due appreciation not alone in repayment of the loan, but by furthering the co-operative cause whenever opportunity presents. Probably that opportunity may come soon in the shape of persuading and helping the growers of the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Michigan to build similar organizations in order that there may be some uniformity of action in the orderly marketing of the entire northern crop. At any rate, the growers of Maine and Minnesota have struck up a comradeship that should be mutually helpful.

In Recital.

Mrs. Thelma Erickson presented a number of her pupils between the ages of six and ten at a delightful recital at the high school auditorium Friday evening, June 20. These little tots, some of them with only a very few lessons, made a splendid showing and give every evidence of the possession of a right musical beginning.

Thursday evening, June 26, Miss Violet Rhodegaard will be presented in a recital, assisted by Harriet Hellquist and with Henry Arneson, violinist, as the evening soloist. Through a printing error tha date of the recital was placed on Saturday. This, however is not correct. The presentation of Miss Rhodegaard should interest the public at alrge who are all invited to attend as she is only 12 years of age and exibits an aptitude for the piano which should prove a deilght to all who are present Thursday evening to hear the interesting program she will offer.

Where are you going to celebrate?

As a rule planks in a political platform are not made by wooden headed politicians.

The politician who uses the hammer to excess does not build the best political fence.

Magnus Johnson's opponents in the recent primary are not expected to demand a recount.

Now all together for the Pennington county fair. It will be bigger and better in 1924 than ever before.

One farmer told The Tribune the other day that recent rains have made it very hard for small sugar beets—hard for them to keep from growing larger.

The road between Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire is a little tough just at present, but wait until the new direct highway is completed. Oh, boy!

Statistics show that there is one telephone for every eight people in the United States. Remember that seven others may want to use the line when the sweet voiced operator tells you the line is busy.

With crops going forward by leaps and bounds, with thousands of acres of new alfalfa, with rapidly increasing herds of good dairy cattle, and with the finest creamery in Northern Minnesota about to be built, there is ample reason for a better feeling among Pennington county farmers than has been in evidence during the past two years. Farmers here have adopted a winning combination, a fact which will be amply demonstrated hy their general prosperity a few years hence.

The election isn't over yet. Tom Davis is contesting the nomination of Floyd B. Olson for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket. In the meantime Ted Christianson is sitting pretty, with good chances of defeating either one of them in the fall election.

"More Ted and Less Taxes" evidently struck a popular chord among Minnesota voters, to judge from the nice plurality piled up by Theodore Christianson in the recent primaries. Whoever undertakes to beat Ted next November will find he has a real joh on his hands.

A lot of Thief River Falls people were up in the air last Sunday. The airplane pilots who were here that day taking up passengers for $2.50 a throw did a thriving business, and all who had the nerve and could spare the dough took this opportunity of looking down upon their neighbors.

Pennington county is rapidly gaining a reputation as the home of good dairy cattle. Additional proof of this was furnished last week when the recently organized agricultural credit corporation financed the purchase of a carload of cows here, which were sbipped to North Dakota. The corporation's agents go where they find quality stuff.

One man who returned from California last week remarked to The Tribune when asked about the weather out there: "Well, it must be admitted that the winters there are milder than they are in Northern Minnesota, but the other three seasons—spring, summer and autumn—well, in my opinion, California or any other part of the country can't bold a candle to the weather you have rigbt here. There is nothing like it anywhere."

The territory of which Thief River Falls is the center seems to be particularly favored by nature in the way of weather. While all sections of the country, including parts of Minnesota, recently have been visited by disastrous cyclones, tornadoes and torrential downpours of rain, Pennington county has enjoyed a few good showers of rain—just right for the growing crops—with not a single dollar's worth of damage from storms. This is one feature people residing here should remember when they feel inclined to register a knock against this particular section of the United States.

THE FARMING SITUATION.

Though the situation of the farmers is far from ideal, the average condition of the American farmer has improved nearly 10 per cent during the past year.

The revised estimates in the Department of Agriculture show that 1923 crops had a total value of about ten billions of dollars, an increase of more than a billion dollars in one year.

Total value of exports of principal agricultural products from United States for eight months ended Feb. 29, 1924, was $1,308,338,000, as compared with $1,233,716,000 for the same period during preceding year, an increase of 6 pet cent.

In a recent statement, the Department of Agriculture says: "The general agricultural outlook for 1924 indicates that farmers are undertaking a normal production program. It is apparent, however, that agricultural production this year will still be attended by difficulties arising from bigh wages and other costs.

"Domestic demand for agricultural products is at a high level. Foreign markets, on the whole, seem likely to maintain about the present level of demand."

THE GASOLINE TAX.

When a Minnesota man takes his flivver in hand and steps on the gas and tours over thirty-six states in this grand and glorious Union, he kicks in from one to four cents on each gallon of gas he huys at every filling station.

He makes no ohjection to paying it because the money is being used in making better roads for him to travel over, which gives him more mileage from his tank supply, greater comfort for himself and his family, less breakage of springs and injury to his auto.

When a tourist from any of these thirty-six states comes to Minnesota he has no gas tax to pay, which he would be willing enough to pay if it were used in making safer and smoother highways.

Minnesota is thus losing about four million dollars a year that autoists would be willing enough to pay, and a big percentage would come from drivers of other states.

The paving program has been almost stopped hy the highway commission from lack of funds, and there is a heavy drainage in trying to maintain roads where there is the heaviest traffic—a much greater expense than would be interest on paving bonds.

The people of Minnesota have the opportunity this year to put over a constitutional amendment that will give the legislature authority to put a tax on gasoline used by motor vehicles, to be paid into the good road fund.

This will mean four million dollars a year to start with, and the cost to each auto owner would he so small that he would hardly notice it, and he will save several times that amount when driving his car over better roads.

It is good business sense to vote for this amendment.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

THIS WEEK

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Shenandoah Passes.

Too Few Own Homes.

A Lady Vice-President.

The People's Independence.

The airship Shenandoah, sailing toward Albany, above the Hudson, last week passed ths Twentieth Century, the fastest New York Central train, coming from Chicago. The airship carried 120 human beings, the express train many more. The passengers on the fast train bent their necks looking upward, and thought how strange it was traveling up there in the air.

In a few years that well-appointed express train will he sent ont of date as the stage coach is now.

The young Vanderbilt boys and George F. Baker, real boss of ths New York Central, would do well to begin planning now for transportation through the air. They have the terminals, can raise money, and should see the warning written in the sky by smoke from the exhaust pipes of the big fiying ship.

President Coolidge tells real estate men he wants to see this country a home-owning nation. That's better than Henry Navarre's wish that every Frenchman should have a chicken cooking on the stove, La Poule, au poto.

Frenchmen, seven millions of them, own the soil of France, thanks to the revolution.

Thet's what helped them to hold Verdun.

The peasants own Sweden. That enabled Charles XII. to march with only 12,000 of them throngh Peter's great armies.

Too few own their homes and the land in this country.

The Agricultural Department reports the worst crops in many years. That's hsd news for those who eat the crops, hut may mean better prices for farmers not able to make a living recently.

The Chicago Bosrd of Trads expects higher prices for grain, and with the wheat crop cut more than forty million hushels something ought to happen.

Federal District Judges Carpenter and Wilkerson set aside President Coolidge's pardon of Philip Grossman, in Chicago, denying the President's power in civil cases and adding: "To allow such power to the executive is to strike a death blow at the indenpendence of the judiciary."

That's a good saying and courageous. All federal jndges depend on the President for appointment and promotion.

It's aleo a saying for the people to remember in case they happen, some day, to get rulers that represent them and nobody else.

At present our eystem "Allows such power to the judiciary as to endanger the indenpendence of the people." You see it when the casting of ons single appointed Supreme Court vote in the majority, has power to overrule an elected Congress. And when Congress is ruled by a bare majority, in a court beyond the people's control, that is not democracy.

If there exists any power greater than the people's power, then what we call self-government is a joke, as when a farmer lets his bahy "drive the horses," the farmer, however, holding the reins, while the baby only thinks he is driving.

Well thought out power to recall every one of their public servants, whether elected or appointed by an elected official, is what the people will have eventually. That will come when when they really take an interest in their government and thus prove their fitness to govern themselves.

Mrs. Genevieve Allen, of San Francisco, suggested that some woman be nominated for vice president. It isn't necessary to say what old politicians think of that. Nevertheless, young politicians will live to see things in politics more surprising.

The time has not come yet, however, for, strangely enongh, at this moment more women than men would be shocked at the idea of a woman for vice president.

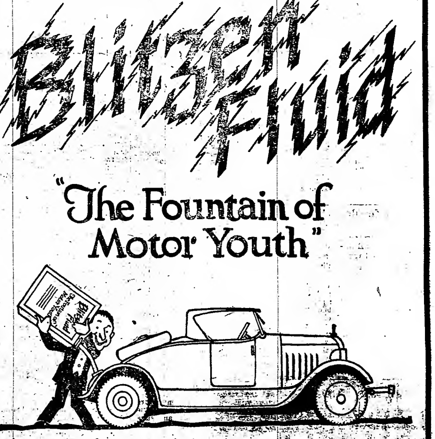
Treat Your Gasoline With-



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-
Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and parform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Anto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is prodnced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

EGG MARKETING WORK BOOMING

Very Rapid Growth of Co-Operatives in State Is Reported.

W. J. Corwin, of the Farmer, in charge of co-operative egg and poultry marketing activities for Minnesota, reports that steady progress is being made in the organization of district associations.

The following districts are selling: No. 1, Faribault; No. 5, Owatonna; No. 6, St. James; and No. 8, Madison. Associations which are getting their supplies in shape and expect to start just as soon as they have everything ready include: No. 15, Aitkin; No. 17, Albert Lea and No. 29, Winnebago. A number of districts also are well along in their campaigns. The Twin City district has about one-third of its quota.

Mr. Corwin reports that the total membership in the state is now over 12,000. Association memberships range from 800 to 1500. This means a guarantee of from 35 cars of produce for a year's business. On such a basis definite plans may be made by those in charge of the association's activities.

Commenting on prices secured through the co-operative associations, Mr. Corwin cites interesting figures from the St. James association. For the first two weeks in April, prices paid by this association to its members ranged from 17 to 20 cents on the various grades. So many of the eggs were in the upper grades that the average price was a little better than 19 cents. At the same time the range of local prices was from 15 to 19 cents, with an average of 17 cents. The average in 50 Minnesota towns during the same period, according to Mr. Corwin, was 16½ cents. And this is the result of proper grading and attention to quality.

Vandals, Beware!

The following resolution has been passed by the Thief River Falls Commercial club: "That the Commercial club offers a reward of $25 during the season of 1924 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons destroying flowers or shrubs on public or private grounds within the city of Thief River Falls."

"Gas Tax for Roads" Sweeping Country

Every State Will Have "Painless Tax" When Dozen Laggards Fall Into Line, Says Road Bulletin.

Minnesota will be one of the first states next to adopt the "painless" gas tax method of raising part of its good roads funds, automobile officials agree. For that reason, solid support is being urged for the gas tax amendment next November which will only divert the receipts when such a tax is levied from state general expenses and put it into better highways where it will give road users biggest direct returns, according to a ruling by Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton.

Utah has a 2½ cent gas tax and Arkansas a 4 cent gas tax, and Massachusetts levy is subject to a referendum next November the report adds.

Of the 19 states first to adopt the gas tax, 13 have since increased the rate in order to secure a larger portion of the road funds by that plan and 17 states adopted it last year. It is predicted that within a few years a gas tax will be collected in practically all states and further that those having many motor tourists will be next to adopt it.

The gas tax is popular, it is explained, because it is paid in nickels and dimes—at an average of a little over 2 cents a gallon on the gasoline that is put in the auto tank at the filling station. Also, it permits the automobilist from another state to pay something toward the upkeep of the roads he uses.

State Highway Plan Is Paid Compliment

National Pan - American Officials Travel Far to Study Modern Methods for Improving Roads.

Traveling thousands of miles to study highway construction and maintenance methods, Pan-American road commissioners were in Minnesota three days this week on their three weeks' tour in the United States. The distinguished party included 38 national representatives of twenty Central American and South American countries and a delegation of United States officials who arranged the financing and itinerary of the tour.

Minnesota was one of eight states visited in this country. An official announcement said this state was selected for its recent progress in highway development, because of the efficient methods employed here on account of the types of roads built and maintained through swampy sections which offer solutions of problems often encountered in the countries to the south. Extension of the tour to Minnesota was regarded by good roads advocates as a high compliment to the new highway program here. Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads at Washington, and other federal officials accompanied the distinguished delegates and they were received by Commissioner Charles M. Babcock and other officers of the Minnesota Highway department.

During a Sunday visit in the twin cities the party was welcomed by Governor J. A. O. Preus and other state and Minneapolis and St. Paul officials. The highway inspection tour began early Monday and took the visitors through Elk River, Aitkin, Grand Rapids, Hibbing and other Range towns to Duluth. The commissioners were shown much of interest and were greatly impressed with Minnesota, it was reported.

The tour of the Pan-American commissioner was financed through the United States government and local entertainment along the route was arranged by commercial clubs, because of the law preventing the use of any state trunk highway funds for such purposes.

Agree to Keep Up Battle For Better Farm Prices

will pledge themselves to support like measures.

"That the question of price stabilization on farm products has become a national issue, therefore we should so organize as to make all people understand the necessity of agricultural relief, and insist that the farmer shall no longer be compelled to accept for his products prices dependent upon the fight between the bulls and bears in the market.

"We believe that we should create both state and national organizations to carry out our program, and assist with all our influence and power to see that the next congress does not fail in the important matter of the protection on prices of agricultural commodities.

"We urge that every county in the state of Minnesota organize to the end that our demands may become known and influence so spread that the next congress will give us the relief we so much need and which is absolutely necessary in order that agriculture may survive.—Peter C. Wold, Eric Kittelson, R. J. McKercher, G. Halvorson."

Sugar Factory Progressing.

A sugar factory costing from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 will be built at East Grand Forks and completed in time for the 1925 crop. H. A. Douglas, president of the Minnesota Sugar Company, which will build the mill, announced plans at the convention of the United States Sugar Manufacturers association at Minneapolis last Friday. An 80 acre site has been purchased. Residents of East Grand Forks are providing $500,000 of the necessary capital, and some Minneapolis business men are interested.

The announcement follows one by A. E. Carlton, president of the Holly Sugar Company of Colorado that this company will build a mill near Fargo, N. D., in time for the 1925 crop if information as to rainfall is favorable. Delegations from Benson and St. Peter, Minn., were at the convention urging the merits of their communities for sugar beet production and sugar manufacture.—Ada Index.

PAN-AMERICANS SEE MUCH OF INTEREST

Having honored Minnesota with a three day visit, 38 highway executives and national officials making up the Pan-American Road commission this week are homeward bound.

The guests from 20 Central and South American countries were royally entertained by civic and commercial organizations at the various places where stops were made in Minnesota and almost constantly expressed admiration of all they saw and the generous hospitality extended to them. They saw the lakes, parks and other beauty spots and places of interest in the Twin cities, traveled northward by automobile through farming sections and thriving towns and across the great Mesaba iron range finding much to claim attention. They were especially interested in Minnesota's highway program and the road results, as was brought out by a prominent member of the visiting party.

A Minnesota official was explaining to a group of local citizens at one stop that the United States government was fostering the expidition to promote diplomatic, social and commercial relations with the nations represented following establishment of direct boat service between this and the countries to the South. The distinguished visitor added:

"We came to the United States mainly to study highway development, road improvement and maintenance, and we picked three states in which to center our work, North Carolina, now using $60,000,000 of bond funds nearly for good roads, and Illinois with nearly $200,000,000 of highway bond money, were selected with expectation of seeing extensive construction under way because of the large expenditures being made. Minnesota was chosen because of results we heard were being secured with comparatively small sums. And here we are learning how road money is made to buy the most. It is difficult to express the value we place on the knowledge we are acquiring here."

He added courteously that Minnesota ever would be pleasantly remembered.

Offers Cash Reward To Halt Vandalism

State Automobile Association Moves to Protect Tires, Also Safety, of Road Users.

Following the report of a car owner that the tires on his machine picked up seven large roofing nails on a certain stretchof road, and similar complaints from scattered districts, the Minnesota State Automobile association this week took steps to stop any maliciousness contributing to highway accidents.

G. Roy Hill, Minneapolis, secretary of the state organization, announced that $25 cash reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons depositing tacks, nails, broken glass or other materials injurious to auto tires on any local road in the state. He pointed out that such carelessness threatens even the lives of highway users by making for greater accident hazard on the roads.

Secretary Hill's announcement recalls the request of Minnesota highway officials for reports of malicious destruction of yellow markers and direction signs on the trunk routes. Several prosecutions have been brought for the offense and in one case a youth was fined $75 and costs. Public co-operation is sought to stop these experiences which tend to lessen the safety of the highways.

Crookston Boy Drowns.

George Russel, 17, son of H. O. Russel, traveling representative of the Austin Western Machinery company, was drowned in the Red Lake river Saturday evening when he lost his balance while fishing at the old dam near Crookston.

A brother of the youth was fishing on the opposite side of the river and saw the lad fall into the water, but was unable to save him. Help was summoned and the body was taken from the water in about thirty minutes, but efforts to resuscitate failed.

Attend District Convention.

A large delegation from the local lodge of Royal Neighbors spent Friday in McIntosh attending the district convention which was held there. There were about 300 present and the day was taken up in school instruction, an evening program with the usual lodge meeting, and a banquet served at six o'clock in the evening. The meeting was closed with a luncheon served at midnight by the Brooks camp. Those attending from this city included the Mesdames J. Kielty, J. Robinson, J. A. Wassgren, F. Hoppa, E. Pechie, Ed. Hils, J. Collins, Harry Schuster and Carl Whiting.

Days of Reckoning.

Reports from the office of the secretary of state of Minnesota state that the number of automobile drivers in the state, thus for in 1924, is 9,595 less than were registered in 1923. Does this mean that people are abstaining from chauffeuring or that many are trying to avoid paying their tax? Anyway, there should be a few less fools who try to get to the crossing ahead of the locomotive.—Worthington Globe.

Oswald Hanson.

Wednesday, June 18, Oswald Hanson, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hanson of Silverton township died as a result of drowning when he fell in a tub of water and was unable to extricate himself. Burial services were held Friday at the Silverton church with Rev. E. Sabo officiating. Interment took place in the Silverton cemetery.

GAS TAXES RIGHTLY REVENUE FOR ROADS

Advocates Further Insist That Popular Demand for Better Highways Will Carry Proposal.

Tribune readers wishing all automobile tax revenue used for road improvement will vote "yes' on the gas tax amendment next November.

Under a ruling by Attorney General [illegible] Hilton, the legislature now can impose a tax on gasoline but the receipts must go into the general state expense fund. The only effect of the gas tax amendment, it is explained, will be to put into the state road fund the income from any tax that may be levied.

All other details are for the legislature to determine, says a paragraph in the current highway bulletin following many inquiries about the tax proposal. The legislature has full authority to levy taxes on motor vehicles and on gasoline sales as well and to fix all rates, it continues. It has power to revise present rates either upward or downward. About the only power it lacks in this instance is that to place any gas tax collections in the highway fund.

That deficiency will be supplied by the votes of nearly 500,000 car and truck owners at the November election, their representatives assert, because auto owners will insist that auto and like taxes be used to improve roads. They hold they are entitled to have their taxes expended for better highways which afford them tangible and direct results.

Automobile club officials forsee a strong probability that a gas tax will be voted in the legislature regardless of the outcome of the referendum. This is because 36 states report it popular and because it will take from auto tourists from other states upwards of half a milliou dollars annually to swell Minnesota road funds. It is generally agreed that the rate will be two cents a gallon, the average in other states being slightly higher.

The question of making the gas tax an additional highway levy or offsetting it with a reductiou in the auto taxes may occasion a fight between the faction clamouring for lower taxes all down the line and those who contend that average trunk highway nsers can profit every year by paying more taxes on their cars and trucks. However, the bulletin atates, that also will be for the legislature to decide.

The Improved Blue Chimney New Perfection sets a new standard with quicker heat, greater economy and the most complete equipment ever offered in a moderately-priced oil stove.

It satisfies a woman's cooking needs as if she herself had planned it!

She delights in its faster cooking speed and its big saving in fuel—in its trim, substantial appearance—its higher cooking top with ample room for big meals and canning—its new square grates and extra shelf space.

She knows, too, that it gives the same reliable year-'round service that has made Blue Chimney New Perfection the world's most popular oil cook stove.

New Blue Chimney Burner
Faster-More Economical

The remarkable increase in cooking heat and the greater fuel economy of this new burner, are due to its new double-wall, double-draft construction.

MINNESOTA'S LAST HOMESTEAD LANDS

The Northwest Angle, that point of Minnesota that sticks up north from the international boundary, in Lake of the Woods, is being settled this spring. It consists mainly of timber land, principally cedar, spruce and tamarack, and some of the quarters have considerable value in timber. Soldiers with more than nineteen months of service can prove up with seven months residence. Those who have no military service must put in three years before they can prove up. Filings are made at the U. S. Land Office at Crookston, Minn.

Three Billions For Minnesota Highways

Big Outlay Warranted on American Railroad Investment Basis But Unasked, Says Bulletin.

Three billion dallars for Minnesota roads!

That would be a reasonable investment under railroad experience in this country. Railroads have less than 16 cents of each dollar invested in trains and other rolling stock and the big share of remaining capital in right-of-way, road bed, bridges and so forth. Minnesota owners of some $500,000,000 of automobiles and motor trucks are putting annually about $7,500,000 or less than 3 cents for each dollar of 'rolling stock' into roads on which to run the machines.

The figures from official records are cited in a current highway bulletin. More than to even suggest the economy of putting a mere hundreth of the warrented sum into better roads, the bulletin explains, the figures are given to stress the importance of putting a fairer proportion into roads, as compared to the outlay for 'rolling stock.'

"Isn't the automobile owner putting the cart before the horse?" queries the bulletin.

The musicians are about the only folks who can blow their notes and then cash in on them.

FULL REPORT OF RINGERIKSLAGET MEETING HERE

Secretary Lian Gives Complete Minutes of Sessions to The Tribune.

The following report of the recent convention of Ringeriksl̲aget was sent to The Tribune this week by Secretary Edward Lian of Fairdale, N. D.:

Ringerikslaget held its annual meeting in Thief River Falls June 4 and 5, 1924. President H. M. Heen of Adams, N. D., opened the meeting with a speech of welcome, after which new members were admitted and badges distributed. The afternoon meeting opened at 2 o'clock with an address of welcome by Mayor J. S. Arneson of Thief River Falls. He spoke of the Norsemen as pathfinders and pioneers, who made it possible for others to establish themselves in the great Northwest. The men's choir of Fairdale followed with several selections.

After a speech by the president outlining matters to be taken up at the convention, reports were submitted by the secretary and treasurer. Helge Hall of Middle River and G. Pederson of Waterville, Iowa, were chosen as an auditing committee. O. S. Johnson, "Segaskriver," gave a short outline of the contents of the new book which is about to be published. He has gathered 94 family histories, besides a large number of articles concerning historic places in Norway, stories of Ringerike and the emigrants from that district to America.

At 6 o'clock a fine banquet was served by the Ladies Aid of Trinity church in the basement of the church, accompanied by a much enjoyed program of short talks, songs and instrumental music. In the evening the gathering went to the auditorium, where Rev. Ring took the visitors on a trip through Scandinavian countries by means of a lecture and lantern slides. The Brage chorus favored the audience with several excellent numbers.

It was decided to take part in the centennial celebration to be held in Minneapolis next year. In the afternoon Theodore Christianson of Dawson gave a very interesting talk. The Commercial club then gave the visitors an automobile ride through the city and surrounding country. In the evening meeting a vote of thanks was given the Commercial club and the local Sons of Norway lodge for the fine reception and entertainment afforded the delegates. A rising vote of thanks was also given to Andrew Ness of this city who had charge of the arrangements for the convention. All of the business sessions were conducted in the Sons of Norway hall. The attendance was unusually large and many came form long distances. One family came all the way from Iowa, 600 miles, in their car. Many new members were signed up and the "lag" is showing a healthy growth. The founder of Ringerikslaget, Vegge Gulbrandson of Albert Lea, was present.

Storm and Auto Accident Each Claim a Life Near Oklee During Past Week

A severe wind storm which reached the velocity of a tornado accounted for the death of Emilia Bendickson, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Bendickson of Equality, near Oklee, Saturday afternoon, June 14. She had gone to the barn to help her brother get the horses in when the storm was seen approaching and just as she reached the building the wind blew it down. It is thought her death was caused by a falling timber. Her brother managed to escape through the front door just before the collapse. There were four horses and some sheep in the barn at the time of the accident and all escaped except one horse which was stunned for a short time.

Tuesday evening, June 17, when they were driving to Oklee to meet the train, Miss Annie Gunderson, 17, daughter of John Gunderson of Deer Park, met instant death when the car which her brother was driving turned turtle. Gunder Gunderson was so severely injured about the head that he was at once removed to a hospital in this city where an operation was performed to save his life. It is thought that loose sand was the cause of the mishap.

Board of Equalization Meets.

The city council, acting as a board of equalization, was in session the first part of the week reviewing the assessments for the city and hearing complaints of taxpayers who feel they have been discriminated against.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means to express our heartfelt thanks to all those who so kindly assisted us during the illness and after the death of our beloved little boy, Thomas Otis, also for the beautiful flowers.—Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ose and family.

Council Names Mrs. Peter Voldness as Poor Matron; Building Permit Granted

The city council in a three hour session last night did three things—granted a $200 building permit to J. O. Sether, appointed Mrs. Peter Voldness as matron of the poor farm at $35 per month, and allowed the usual grist of city bills.

However, they spent nearly an hour in considering bids on gasoline tractors for street work, reviewed the proposition of purchasing the power dam, and heard one objector to and two petitioners for paving the alley between Second and Third streets and Main and Knight avenues, laying these three matters over with the bids on pumps at the power house until tomorrow night.

The meeting was one of great importance—so much so that the aldermen were afraid to take any action on these four matters without giving the taxpayers full opportunity to voice their opinions, and accordingly they hope that the council chambers will be filled to capacity by heavy taxpayers and those interested in the welfare of Thief River Falls. Elsewhere will be found more detailed reports on the paving and power matters.

New Cold Storage Plant Built at Red Lake Agency

Announcement is made that work is practically completed on the new cold storage plant and fish hatchery stationed at Redby. The cold storage plant will be placed in operation July 7, when Red Lake Indians will take to the lake with their nets for the summer and fall fishing season. The plant has a capacity of 250,000 pounds of fish and its operation will mean that Minnesota residents will be able to secure fish the year around from this lake.

Previously all surplus fish was shipped to the eastern markets due to lack of storage facilities. Now the fish will be frozen and stored at Red Lake for state usage. Last year the Red Lake Indians were paid $60,000 in wages for fishing, exclusive of the royalty paid into the tribal funds.

High Cost of Gas Given Attention by Aldermen

With the operation of a street flusher and a tractor on street work there is a steadily increasing use of gasoline by the city and the cost thereof startled the aldermen last night when the list of city bills was read.

It was suggested that the city ask for bids on gasoline. Gasoline prices had not been cut in this city and gas was still selling at 22.8 cents per gallon, with Crookston one tenth of a cent less. At Detroit where there is competition the price was less than 18 cents last week when the aldermen were down there. In the Twin cities the rate is about 13 cents and less than that at St. Cloud.

The aldermen have been advised that tourists are complaining on the high cost of gas here and the city will suffer if something is not done to force down the high cost thereof.

The local auto club has not taken any action in the matter and probably will not but the aldermen hope a cut will be announced soon.

Warn Against Coaching Courses for Positions in Government Civil Service

The United States Civil Service Commission and the National Vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World have issued a joint warning against misleading advertising of many so-called civil service schools. The following points are emphasized:

1.—No school of this kind has any connection whatever with the Civil Service commission or with any other branch of the Government.

2.—No school can give advance information regarding examination questions.

3.—No school can furnish civil service information of value which can not be obtained without cost from the Civil Service commission at Washington or its representative at the post office or customhouse in any of approximately 3,500 cities.

4.—No school can "guarantee" appointment in the classified civil service. Appointment can be secured only through open competitive examination under the civil service rules. No school can cause a competitor to be certified for appointment out of the regular order, as determined by his examination rating.

The Civil Service commission states that large numbers of applications for examinations received at its office indicate that many civil service schools accept as clients and take money from practically illiterate persons who could not possibly pass any kind of examination.

E. I. McKinley, deputy labor commissioner of Arkansas, it is said in the joint warning, recently has investigated correspondence schools of this class and authorizes the statement that he has concluded that the majority of them come as near being "fakes" as the postal laws permit. The "schools" that Mr. McKinley condemns are the ones that offer to qualify persons for civil service positions or make a professional man of a laborer in a few weeks. Mr. McKinley says that schools which prepare for civil service examinations rank second to "detective schools" in number.

BUBBLE NOW IS PUNCTURED

C. Raven Finds Los Angeles Boom Gone and Thousands Leaving City.

C. Raven, of Wadena, who recently returned from an extended stay in Los Angeles, Cal., says that the wonderful era of progress and prosperity which that community has enjoyed for several years past has run out and now the dismal evidences of stagnation and ruin are rapidly enveloping the city while thousands upon thousands of people are leaving daily with what still remains of their financial wreckage. The big bubble has broken and in its wake are the hundreds of thousands of unemployed walking the streets, hundred upon hundreds of store buildings standing idle, thousands of families losing their homes and the wonderful building programs have come to a complete stop.

The typical California booster has fled and those who remain gravely acknowledge the seriousness of the situation. Mr. Raven states that it was his good fortune to become well acquainted with a building contractor there whose specialty was the erection of the more moderately priced homes. This contractor was born and raised there and claimed to be thoroughly acquainted with the city and people in all walks of life. He confessed freely that it was impossible to get any work of any sort and called attention to the thousands of families, who had bought homes on contracts, that were now losing them because of their inability to get work of any other kind.

Large civic and business organizations now acknowledge the seriousness of the situation and they are casting about for manufacturing and other institutions which will furnish employment to the hordes that sought salvation in the land of sunshine and plenty.

Passenger trains leaving Los Angeles are traveling in six sections to every one that comes into the city. Disintegration had already set in when Mr. Raven arrived in the city the first of March and the surprising rapidity with which it developed into a young stampede was hardly believable.

In analyzing the situation Mr. Raven states that it is his own conclusion that real estate men and publicity agents have been largely responsible for this debacle and not until some means of employment is furnished will the city ever be able to fully recover. Taxes are exhorbitant and already property in many cases is being offered at half the price which was once asked for it.

California still has its sunshine and milder climate, a wonderful place to go for those who have the money to spend and are not dependent on their own labor for a living, but it is no place for a working man, says Mr. Raven.

Confirming Mr. Raven's report is that of John Dower who recently made a tour of the state of California with the idea of putting in a string of lumber yards there for the John Dower Lumber company of Tacoma, Washington. Mr. Dower spent some time in that state during the past winter and foresaw the crash which soon came, concluding that it would be inadvisable at this time to go any further with the plans which he contemplated.

Price Rise Reported by Creameries Association

"We are pleased to report very satisfactory market conditions and progress during the entire month of May," reads a recent statement of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association. After the severe slump of April 17, the butter market steadied itself and the healthy, satisfactory market which prevailed during May will probably continue during June.

The May market opened at 37 cents and closed at 40 cents, resulting in an average price of 39.7 cents for the month.

In order to stabilize the New York butter market the association purposely diverted as many cars as possible from that market during the month of May. Only 7 cars were shipped to New York, while 87 cars were shipped to new markets. The association followed this policy because it realized that the average creameryman would continue to ship to New York despite a demoralized market.

Undoubtedly the association has been largely responsible for stabilizing the market. "Even the buttermen of the markets admit that we have been a big factor in making a 41 cent butter market at the present time," said H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department, last week.

Score another one for the benefits of co-operative marketing. The Farm Bureau may well be proud of this one of its proteges.

Gatzke Banker Here.

S. O. Ostgaard, cashier of the Farmers State Bank of Gatzke, was a business visitor in the city yesterday afternoon. He was on his return from Warren, where other business matters had called him.

Chas. Lieberman Buys Car.

Chas. Lieberman, well known local clothing merchant, has at last fallen a victim to the automobile bug and this week acquired a fine new Essex coach. Charley has waited for a long time before getting a car and he and his family are entitled to all the comfort and pleasure they can get out of it.

Bids Opened for Tractor But No Decision Reached

The council at their regular meeting last night opened four bids on tractors to be used in street work, each bid offering one or more tractors to the city at costs ranging from $820 up to $1,975.

Bidders included the Emerson Brandingham company, the Twin City company, the Lewis Motor company, and C. Gustafson & Son. Francis Burns, representing the McFarland Auto company, when asked if his company did not have a bid ready, replied that he had been informed that the city had already bought the machine, but he was advised differently by the aldermen, it appearing that there had been a misunderstanding.

This matter was one for further consideration by the street committee and the council as a whole deemed it advisable to lay the matter over until tomorrow night.

STANDARD OIL'S INSURANCE PLAN

Every Employee of Great Company to Be Presented With Life Policy.

Dependents of 25,000 employees of the Standard Oil company (Indiana) become beneficaries of an employees insurance plan adopted by the board of directors of that company and presented to the employees. Every employee is to be presented with a life insurance policy which will be maintained by the company with no cost to the employees. All of the company's employees in the twelve states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Wyoming and Oklahoma are affected, except those of the coal mining department at Carlinville, Ill.

One year of service with the company is the one requirement for participation. The minimum death benefit paid to dependents will be $500, based upon a single year of service. All payments are based upon length of service, reaching a maximum of $2,000 after ten years' employment. For those who have no actual dependents, a death benefit of $200 is provided to pay funeral expenses.

It was also announced at the company's general offices that full time commission employees of the sales department have been made eligible to participation in the employees' stock purchasing plan, the annuity plan and the insurance plan. They have hitherto been ineligible.

$500,000 Road Bill Goes Uncollected

Heavy losses of legitimate tourist road tolls are shown and proposed gas tax results forecast on recent official figures on 1923 gasoline consumption in Minnesota in a state highway bulletin this week. High lights on the tourists side are these:

Minnesota last year lost probably $500,000 of state revenue on tourist traffic because it was without a gas tax such as 36 out of the 48 states collect.

The loss this year will be considerably larger, it is predicted, because of the prospect for a record-breaking year of tourist travel.

Next year the loss may give way to profit, however, depending upon whether the next legislature taxes gasoline used in motor vehicles.

Assuming that motor vehicles took 175,000,000 of the 185,785,000 gallons of gasoline consumed in the state last year, according to official figures, a 2-cent gas tax would have produced $1,500,000, including $500,000 or more from tourists. The last item is based on an official daily average count of nearly 20,000 cars from other states covering in Minnesota 100 miles at 14 miles a gallon for 180 days last year, averages held reasonable as a whole.

Although collected from wholesalers on tank car shipments into the state, gas taxes are paid by consumers in nickles and dimes at the filling stations, and the gasoline consumption report discloses where the largest sums would be taken. Over 40 per cent of any state gas tax here, it shows, would be paid in the three wealthiest counties, where are located the cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. Gasoline sales in Hennepin county are more than 18 per cent of the state total, in Ramsey county over 14 per cent and in St. Louis county nearly 8 per cent of the whole. Over payments would aggregate $100,000 in one county, from $40,000 to $60,000 each in 16 counties; $20,000 to $40,000 each in 34 counties; $10,000 to $25,000 each in 25 counties, and less than $10,000 each yearly in 7 counties, all according to official consumption figures and including collections from tourists.

Gas taxes are said to be least expensive of all taxes to collect. In Indiana where the largest gas tax collections are made the cost is less than one-half of one per cent and no state reports a cost over one per cent.

Because of the extra tourist revenue it will yield, Minnesota automobile club officials agree that this state next year probably will follow the example of others and place a tax on gasoline, the legislature already having authority to make such a levy. Accordingly, car and truck owners are being urged to vote next November for the gas tax amendment which will allow the legislature to put the receipts into the road funds, whereas otherwise they would be spent on general state expenses.

Auto Collides With Team Near 8th Street Crossing

Colliding with an automobile, which it is claimed was running without adequate lights, driven by Ole O. Listol, a team of horses attached to a buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rustad were coming to town late Sunday evening broke away and were caught near the roundhouse. The buggy was badly demolished and its occupants received a number of bad bruises and scratches, although neither was seriously injured, which is considered a miracle under the circumstances. No appreciable damage was done to the car.

Sneak Thieves Very Busy in This City During Week

Sneak thieves visited four places last week, beginning Tuesday night with the entrance to O. H. Nelson's grocery store on Sixth street. Five boxes of candy besides canned goods and a large box of Hershey chocolate bars were taken. The thieves got in through the front by breaking the glass in the door. The Golden Rule suffered a loss of about five dollars in goods taken, chiefly cigarets and tobacco, when thieves entered the store through the basement window Thursday evening. This was followed by a similar occurrence at the Farmers Cooperative creamery where the till was emptied of four or five dollars Saturday night or early Sunday morning. A window furnished the means of entrance here. Sunday night someone who left the print of a size six shoe tried to break into the grocery owned by H. K. Strand. However, after getting into the back room they failed to open the door into the grocery department and left.

Vol. 24. No. 16 THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1924 $2.00 a Year in Advance.

MIDDLE RIVER'S CELEBRATION TO BE GREAT EVENT

Large Delegation of Local People to Spend Fourth of July There.

Thief River Falls Ball Team Takes Part in Game Durin Afternoon.

While it hardly seems possible, due to the late spring and consequent tardy arrival of summer, it is never the less a fact that next Friday is the Fourth of July. And in connection therewith arises the question: Where shall we celebrate? As for os Thief River Falls is concerned, there will be no particular observance of Independence Day this year. There may be a few private parties and picnics, both nothing in the way of a public celebration will be attempted.

Present indications are that a large delegation of Thief River Falls people will spend the day at Middle River, where a genuine old-time celebration under the auspices of the American Legion is to be staged. A fine program is in course of preparation and no effort will be spared in furnishing amusement and entertainment for visitors. The Thief River Falls baseball team is scheduled to take part in the slugfest during the afternoon. Middle River and Badger play the first game, after which the team from this city will take on the winner. A large bunch of baseball fans is planning on being present to help the boys to a victory.

The American Legion band of this city has been secured to furnish music for the celebration and will be in evidence all day and evening, while H. O. Chommie, prominent local attorney and orator, will deliver the principal address at the morning exercises. After dinner a splendid program of sports, including races, tugs of war and various contests, will be pulled off. The motion picture show expects to run continually all day and evening. To add a little more Thief River Falls spice to the celebration, Snyder's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the bowery lance throughout the afternoon and evening.

The Tribune predicts that Middle River will have a good crowd the Fourth, and assures its neighbors to the north that not a small portion of it will hail from Thief River Falls. All aboard for the Middle River celebration!

HELD FOR SALE OF POISON RUM

One Man Dead and Another Blind in "Moon" Case at Fosston.

Following an alleged drinking party in which Sam Wilson of Fosston was stricken with blindness and is now seriously ill in the hospital at Fosston, Ray Beaulieu, 30, a mixed blood Indian living on the White Earth reservation near Fosston, is being held in the Polk county jail at Crookston under $1,500 bond awaiting grand jury action. Another Fosston man, alleged to have drunk some of Beaulieu's liquor died recently although at the time was said to have been due to eating poisoned meat.

Charges against Beaulieu were made by a third Fosstonite said to have been made slightly ill by the poisonous liquor. He charged the mixed blood with selling liquor to himself and to Wilson. Appearing before Judge J. A. Hendricks in municipal court Monday Beaulieu waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court. Bail of $750 on each of the two charges was not furnished and the man is being held in the Polk county jail.

Feeling is said to have run high against the accused man before his arrest by Sheriff Nelson Monday. A sample of liquor said to have been in his possession, has been sent to the University of North Dakota for analysis.

High Cost of Living, or Perhaps Diverse Reasons Cuts Down Wedding Total

The first six months of 1924 evidently did not appeal very much to the marriageable swains and lassies of Pennington county if one were to judge by the records in the office of Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund. The aforesaid records disclose the fact that only 29 permits to wed were issued during the half-year period just ended, as compared with a total of 45 for the same period last year. This is a falling off of 16 weddings, and there must be a reason for such a slump. What it is has not yet been determined, and one guess is as good as another.

Local Theatre Announces Big Attraction Starting Next Tuesday, July 6th

Starting next Tuesday, July 8, and continuing for a faw days only, Rami Sammi, "the strange man with strange powers," will appear at the Lyceum theatre in connection with the usual high class picture program. Rami Sammi has just concluded a tour of the larger cities, including an engagement of ten weeks in Minneapolis and two in Duluth, where he was considered a marvel by those who were fortunate enough to see him. He is now on his way to the coast and Manager Brumund succeeded in securing him for a short engagement here.

During his visit in this city, Rami Sammi will appear at the theatre each evening, answering all questions asked him on any subject, and the people of the city and vicinity are invited to come to him with their problems.

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION SOON

Two New Members of Board to Be Chosen Saturday July 19.

Interest in the annual school election, which takes place on Saturday, July 19, is beginning to warm up. Two members of the board are to be chosen at this time and it is understood that V. C. Noper and Scott Laird have filed for the positions. Dr. H. W. Froehlich and L. M. Rayson, whose terms expire, have not yet filed for re-election, although the latter has stated that he expects to seek another term on the board. Dr. Froehlich has not yet made a statement but is being urged by his friends to file.

The Thief River Falls schools are the biggest business institution within the city and there naturally is some difference of opinion among citizens as to the best methods of conducting them. This difference of opinion can best be ironed out at the annual meeting and every person interested in the welfare of the schools should consider it his duty to take part in the proceeding at that time. Present indications are that clearcut issues will arise this year and that a spirited meeting and election are sure to result.

Council Winds Up Details of Dam Purchase Tuesdav Night at Special Meeting

At the adjourned meeting of the city council held last night a resolution was unanimously adopted authorizing the mayor and clerk to sign the necessary papers which will give the city of Thief River Falls ownership of the Kretzschmar water power property, which includes the dam and considerable property on both sides of the river. The council also decided that with the purchase of the dam it will be necessary to buy an additional engine for the electric light plant. All bids were rejected and the clerk was ordered to return the certified checks of the bidders.

A building permit was granted to M. V. Evenson for repairs to a house in Red Lake Rapids addition at an estimated cost of $500.

Thief River Falls Ahead of Quota in Sending Boys to Citizen Military Camp

Col Ingersoll and Capt. Pierce, of the Military Training Camps association, were in Thief River Falls last Thursday in conference with F. J. Stebbins, local recruiting officer for the Citizens Military Training camp to be held at Fort Snelling for one month beginning August 1. The officials expressed themselves very much pleased with the work accomplished by Mr. Stebbins and complimented him upon being able to exceed by a considerable number the quota assigned to his territory. The state as a whole, however, is still behind its quota and recruits will be accepted until July 15.

The army system of building up physical structure and preventing and controlling disease in used in these camps and is bound to produce healthy and strong men for the future that cannot fail to leave the seal of their physical perfection on the generations to come. The nation does not contemplate teaching men to destroy other men, but it does seek to so train men that they will be able to defend themselves, should occasion arise, against men who may attack the nation. No expense is attached to attending the training camp, as the government furnishes everything, including transportation.

Touring Country.

Chas. Young and Stanley Tucker of Omaha, Neb., arrived last week by car and are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buck near here. They are making an automobile trip over the country and will visit Canada and several western states before returning to Omaha. The former is a nephew and the latter a grandson of Mr. Buck.

JAIL TERM AND FINE DRAWN IN LIQUOR TRIALS

Damage Suit Against Kirby Continued Over to Next Term of Court.

The June term of district court for Pennington county came to an end last week, with only a few court cases remaining to be heard. These will be considered at a special term to be held on July 31 with Judge Grindeland presiding. Although the June term was shorter than usual, a considerable number of cases were disposed of.

Alfred H. Bakke and John Johnson were convicted by a jury of violating the liquor laws and each received a sentence of 90 days in jail, together with a fine of $200 and costs. In case of failure to pay the fine, they will have to serve four additional months in jail. The two men were taken to Warren Saturday to begin serving their sentence. The case grew out of a raid on the Northwestern garage on Main avenue some months ago by Sheriff Ihle, in which a quantity of liquor was discovered in the basement. Bakke was proprietor of the Jefferson Highway cafe, located in the building, and Johnson is said to have been in his employ.

The retrial of the liquor case against Fred C. Brendecke was continued until next term due to the illness of the defendant. This case has

OKLEE COMES TO CITY ON SUNDAY

Ball Players to Try Conclusions With Locals on Fair Grounds Diamond.

Can the Oklee ball players repeat the trouncing they gave to the Thief River Falls lads two or three weeks ago on the Oklee diamond? This is the question to be decided next Sunday afternoon when the team from down the line will play a return game with Thief River Falls on the fair grounds diamond in this city. Those who have kept tab on events claim that Oklee may win the game, but if such is the case the sluggers from the Red Lake county village will know they have been in a contest.

To judge Thief River Falls' ability on the baseball diamond by the exhibition put up at Oklee is hardly fair. In the first place, only a few of the regulars were there, and in addition none of the boys had any previous practice this year. This was especially noticeable in batting. However, the team has been greatly strengthened since that time by the addition of new players and the lads have been through a thorough course of training. They are now in fair condition to defend themselves against the onslaughts of Oklee's sluggers and if the latter win the game they are entitled to considerable honor.

The game next Sunday is called at 3 o'clock sharp. No admission will be charged at the gate but a collection will be taken up to help defray the operating expenses of the team and the traveling expenses of the visitors. All baseball fans should be on hand next Sunday to help the home boys to victory.

Credit Corporation Asks Farmers to Speed Up the Stock Loan Applications

Farmers who wish to take advantage of the livestock loans by the recently organized agricultural credit corporation, are asked to get their applications in without delay. While a number of applications have been received from Pennington county, there is still a considerable amount of money available and farmers here should take advantage of this opportunity to get money at a low rate of interest with which to increase their herds.

Albert Lonson, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, has been named secretary of the Pennington county loan committee. The other members are Math Barzen, J. J. McCann, Hans Anton, Waldie Christensen and Morgan Vaughan. Complete information regarding the loans may be secured from Secretary Lonson or any member of the committee.

Lars Backe Attends Lag.

Judge of Probate Lars Backe spent the latter part of the week in the Twin cities, where he attended a session of Mjosenlaget, which was in session Friday and Saturday. He also attended the Sangerfest at St. Paul.

B. NORBY GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW CREAMERY

Local Man Awarded Contract When Bids Were Opened July 1.

Building to Be Modern in Every Detail; Work to Start at Once.

Excavation will begin Monday on a new creamery, modern in every detail and up to the minute in every respect. The Thief River Creamery association on Saturday awarded the contract for the erection of the new 72x72 building to Bert Norby of this city at his bid of $30,892. The building which is two story will be square in type, built of number one shale brick with Bedford stone trimmings, with concrete floors and all openings cased in steel. The offices and sales rooms will be situated on the west side facing the street. On the south side will be a sloping conveyor for cream cans, placed at such an elevation that the patron may lift the cans directly from the wagon to the conveyor door, the slope being such that the weight of the cream can will slide it onto the scale after which it will be emptied, placed on the conveyor again and will slide to an outside platform at another door slightly in advance of the first one. The spur running past the grocery house will be used by the creamery and a large door will be placed at the northeast corner for the loading and unloading of freight, the handling becoming more direct this way and done with more dispatch and

FUNERAL RITES HELD THURSDAY

Emil E. Zeh, Pioneer Business Man, Laid to Rest in Greenwood.

As was noted in a brief paragraph in The Tribune last week, Emil E. Zeh, pioneer business man and early resident of Thief River Falls, died last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The cause of death is given as a cerebral hemorrhage, following a stroke of paralysis which he had suffered several weeks previously. Following the stroke Mr. Zeh spent some time at the hospital and seemed to be getting along quite well. He was then removed to his home, where he remained until his death.

Deceased was born in Minneapolis on October 31, 1866. He lived there for several years and attended the schools of the city. Later he resided at Faribault and Duluth. For the past 32 years he had been a resident of Thief River Falls, during most of which time he was either employed in grocery stores or engaged in the business for himself. For the past 17 years he was a partner of Geo. Curran and operated a store on Third street.

Mr. Zeh was active in public affairs, having been elected president of the first school board in the city, member of the city council several times, and for some time he held the position of chief of the fire department. He was highly regarded by a large circle of friends, and was generally considered a leading citizen of Thief River Falls. He was a member of the Elks, Odd Fellows, Masons, Modern Woodmen and U. C. T. lodges.

Left to mourn Mr. Zeh's death are his wife and one son, Ernest, four sisters, Mrs. C. E. Boughton, Sr., Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Joseph Jerome, Battle River; Mrs. Reichel of California and Mrs. J. D. Scott of Stark, Mont.; three brothers, Philip J. Zeh of this city; Fred and Adam Zeh, Missoula, Mont. His daughter, Zella, died in 1920, his mother 12 years ago, and a brother George, residing in St. Paul, died last winter.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence on Emil street last Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, with Rev. Chas. Gerlinger in charge, and burial took place in Greenwood cemetery. The Episcopal ritual was used. Relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Boughton of Red Lake Falls, Mrs. Scott of Starck, Mont., and Joseph Jerome, Jr., of Battle River.

Spend Sunday at Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Angell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olson, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Ness the Misses Lillian Eide and Annie Peterson and Messrs. Chris Steen, Ed. Ahlstrom and Carl Green motored to Red Lake Saturday afternoon on a fishing jaunt that proved most enjoyable. Saturday evening and Sunday morning were spent fishing with a later trip to the agency filling in the day. Tents were carried along and the outing was made a further success with meals served gypsy style. The party returned late Sunday afternoon to their homes in this city.

Commercial Club Sponsors Trip to Crookston School For Thursday, July 24th

A committee appointed at a recent meeting of the Commercial club has decided upon Thursday, July 24, as the date upon which residents of Thief River Falls and vicinity will form a pilgrimage for the purpose of visiting the Northwest School of Agriculture and experiment station at Crookston. There are many things of interest at the school and delegations from all parts of the valley are making visits during the summer months.

Further details of the Thief River Falls tour will be worked out by the executive committee of the club and will be announced in ample time for all who wish to make the trip. With favorable weather it is predicted that many from the city and surrounding country will want to go.

SIMLEY ATTENDS NATIONAL MEET

Present at National Educational Ass'n. Convention at Washington.

Superintendent I. T. Simley of the Thief River Falls schools left last Wednesday night for Washington, D. C., to attend the annual convention of the National Educational association, which opened Saturday and closes July 4. Mr. Simley is a delegate from the northwestern division of the Minnesota Educational association. The national meeting is considered the most important meeting of educators in the country, and many leading educators from all states will be present.

At the conclusion of the Washington convention, Mr. Simley will go to New York to take a post graduate course in education at Columbia university in order to fit himself better for his duties as superintendent of the local schools. He took a similar course at the same university last year and concluded that an additional term would be well worth while. Columbia university is considered one of the very best in the country and the summer course provides an excellent opportunity for educators to extend their training and to make them more proficient in their calling. Mr. Simley is generally regarded as one of the most efficient and progressive school men in the state and his decision to spend another summer at Columbia is in line with his policy of giving the best that is in him to his chosen work.

Many Friends Gather for Picnic in Honor of P. C. Wold, Pioneer of Kratka

A hundred or more friends with well filled lunch baskets gathered Sunday afternoon at the pleasant home of Peter C. Wold in Kratka township. A picnic supper for Mr. Wold had been planned by friends and neighbors to honor one of Pennington's highly respected citizens and pioneers. Very few men have lived here as long or worked as unselfishly for the common good of the public as Mr. Wold. He has filled many positions of trust including the board of county commissioners and the child welfare board.

At five o'clock a bounteous lunch was served which had been prepared by the ladies while the men were engaged in outdoor sports. L. O. Kongelf, deputy sheriff, acted as toastmaster for the occasion and called upon some of the friends present for speeches, all of whom responded with words of praise for the honor guest as a neighbor, friend and citizen. Theodore Quale and Mrs. J. M. Bishop were among the speakers, Mrs. Bishop also being chosen to make the presentation of a large leather rocker given as a token of esteem. Mr. Wold responded by thanking them for this assurance of high regard. Miss Laura Wold, who is attending the normal school in Bemidji, had arrived home for the occasion, Mrs. J. M. Sund and family of Marshall county and Elmer Wold, who is employed in this city, were also present making the occasion a family reunion also.

New Superintendent.

Miss Alma Gorder of Enderlin, N. D., has assumed the position of superintendent at the Physicians hospital, vice Miss Esther Stebbins, who recently tendered her resignation and will enjoy a well earned vacation. Miss Gorder is a graduate of the Deaconess hospital at Fargo and has had a great deal of experience in her profession. She comes here from Cleveland, Ohio, where she has been engaged as a nurse in a large hospital.

THOMAS KEEFE HERE.

Thomas Keefe of Staples, independent candidate for United States senator, is in Thief River Falls today in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Keefe will speak from his automobile at the bank corner this evening at 8:30, using as his text "The Dollar." He is said to be a deep student of economics and an excellent speaker. Everyone is urged to be on hand at 8:30 to listen to his message.

CITY NOW OWNS DAM; PROPERTY BRINGS $37,500

Purchase Includes Considerable Ground on Both Sides of River.

After considering the matter in detail from all angles, and after hearing public sentiment expressed at several meetings, the city council of Thief River Falls last Thursday night entered into an agreement for the purchase of the dam property from its former owners, Mrs. Anna Kretzschmar of this city and W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls. The purchase price was $37,500. To judge from the sentiment expressed by a number of speakers at the meeting Thursday evening, this solution of the power problem in Thief River Falls is satisfactory to an overwhelming majority of the people. This ends the agitation begun more than five years ago and Thief River Falls now has full right to be known as "The Power City."

The sum of $37,500 is named as the purchase price in the resolution as passed, and of this sum $20,000 will be paid in cash, or with a warrant dated the same as the date of the deed when it is filed. The remaining $17,500 will be paid in city warrants of $500 each payable at such future dates as the city has funds to meet them.

With the dam proper is deeded a long narrow strip of ground along the east shore, while on the west side is a wide strip of ground, about two blocks long and of varying width—in places as much as two hundred feet—which will become city property. It includes all of the land along the river bank below the home of Mrs. Kretzschmar to the end of the tail race, including the land where the mill and elevator are located, and four lots time, but it is the intention to even-Great Northern switch track down to the mill.

The council has as yet worked out no particular plan of procedure with regard to the improvement of the dam property. The present dam, while admittedly in need of repairs, will undoubtedly serve the purpose for some across the street on each side of the tually improve it to an extent which will make it capable of supplying the city with a large amount of additional power. In the course of time it is probable that the construction of a new dam may be undertaken, but such a thing cannot be considered at present or even in the immediate future because of the financial burden it would place upon the city.

MAGNUS SPEAKS AT LOCAL FAIR

Popular Junior Senator Secured for Saturday Afternoon, August 9.

Usually the last day of the county fair is lightest in attendance, but such is not likely to be the case in Pennington county this year. The reason for the anticipated large attendance on the last day this year is the fact that United States Senator Magnus Johnson will at that time deliver a speech in front of the grand stand. If this announcement fails to bring a record crowd, it will be the first time this has occurred in several years.

Preparations for the fair are going ahead at a satisfactory rate, and the premium list has been printed and distributed. Free acts and attractions of the highest grade available have been booked and there is every reason to believe that the 1924 fair will exceed all of its predecessors both in point of interest and attendance.

Officers of the fair association are: Herbert Fuller, president; S. E. Hunt, first vice president; J. J. McCann, secretary; and Albert Lonson, treasurer. Following are the superintendents: Fred Beerbower, livestock; V. C. Noper, grounds; Dr. H. W. Froehlich, schools; Emil Griebstein, poultry; S. E. Hunt, agriculture and club work; Roy Lambert, programs; Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, woman's department.

Adams in City.

Elmer E. Adams, publisher of the Fergus Falls Journal, was a business visitor in Thief River Falls yesterday. The Tribune office acknowledges a fraternal call.

Brock Promoted.

One local politician, who admittedly is a keen observer, remarked the other day that in his opinion Magnus Johnson will get sereval votes in Pennington county next fall.

Citizens of Thief River Falls in years to come will point with pride to the city council of 1924 which had the good judgment to purchase the dam property. Time will prove this to be the best investment ever made by the city.

First the Klan wins the school election in Grand Forks, and then the Nonpartisans take everything worth while in the primary election. Both are biter pills for the Grand Forks Herald to swallow without making a wry face.

When you have friends from other parts of the country visiting you, don't forget to take them out into the rural districts to view some of the fine fields of alfolfa now in evidence. Your visitors will think a great deal more of Pennington county if you do this.

Those who take an interest in public affairs should remember that the annual school eelction is not far distant. It will be held on Saturday, July 19. If you have any kick coming on the manner in which school affairs are conducted, the time to make yourself heard is at the school election.

The city street commissioner and his crew have inaugurated a campaign against weeds growing on vacant lots and alleys in Thief River Falls. Every resident of the city should see to it that the weeds on his own premises are kept under control, thus helping to make the weed campaign one hundred per cent effective.

A PRIZE EDITORIAL

The Omaha Bee recently conducted an editorial contest among its readers and Mrs. Charles L. Kelly, Nebraska City, Nebraska, a mother of five children, won first prize with the following editorial:

"My neighbor has prospered. His home is the last word in modern architecture and equipment. It is his hobby. He loves every board and block and nail in it. He surrounds it with grassy plots and shrubs and flowers, and adorns it inside and out according to his sense of artistic grade of beauty.

"Not only is his home a source of pride and satisfaction to my neighbor, but by its beauty and grace and general attractiveness it sheds distinction and adds to the value of property around about it.

"Now my home is a modest affair. It needs paint and the roof does not cover it as well as the mortgage. What is meant for a grass plot shows bare patches like the exposed portions of a little boy's trousers. And instead of graceful flowing vines, my house overrun by little rosy ramblers who clamber about scraping off the paint and leaving muddy streaks in their wake. There are five of them, and all the hard work, sacrifice and care they mean to me is nothing to the pride I have in their clear eyes, clean minds and sturdy bodies.

"To the hope I hold in their future the present struggle to keep them clothed, housed and fed is a small affair. They represent my family estate. To them I hope to leave an inheritance of character and courage. And to the world I shall bequeath not large sums to charity, schools or hospitals, but a family of men and women equipped to take up the problems of life.

"But when my neighbor begins to talk about taxes I have an uneasy feeling that according to his way of looking at it, I should have drowned these dimpled babes before their eyes were open. He has figured out to a penny how much it is costing to educate one of my children.

"Now I am paying taxes, too, but for nine months of the year my children are under supervision of trained teachers, men and women of unquestionable character and high ideals. It doesn't seem to me that they are receiving exorbitant wages. But my neighbor has no children. To him, school is just a building that costs too much in the first place, is costing too much in the upkeep and doesn't give back a profit to the town.

"I believe my neighbor is wrong. My children have a monetary value to the town. For their needs my earnings are spent. I buy from him such things as he has to sell, thereby adding to his riches.

"I go farther, I am not raising hogs for profit nor cattle for the market, but raw material for the nation tomorrow. They are not mine alone. They belong to my neighbor as well. It is to his interest as well as mine that they become fit and useful citizens. As they are trained, as they are educated they will develop. The community has a part in that development.

"My neighbor has no more right to spread propaganda for cheap schools, a niggardly system that will dwarf the future of my children, than I have to throw trash in his front yard."

Our National Pride.

Wonderful Baby Crop.

Women With Black Noses.

157 Pound Holstein Calf.

You've heard of England's patriotic exhibition, at Wembley, planned to boom the British Empire and arouse patriotism.

Britishers walking around that map see all parts of the earth's surface owned by them lighted up by red lights form below. They see thousands of British ships moving along through the water on the great world's trade routes. Signs tell them that the British flag flies over one-quarter of all the land on earth.

When the visitor from Canada, Australia, South Africa, sees that he says to himself, "Partnership in the British Empire is a pretty good thing."

And other nations including ours are bound to give the Britishers credit for governing ability. You saw the other day a statement by the British Labor Prime Minister MacDonald, that the whole army of the British Empire is smaller than the army of Holland or Spain. That means good management.

The great Everett Cotton Mills of Lawrence, Massachusetts, have closed. "No demand for colored cotton goods." And England is shipping millions of yards of colored cotton cloth into this country. The stores discover that goods sell more easily when labelled "Made in England."

It wouldn't be a bad idea to have at Washington, and in every big city, a patriotic map showing what the United States amounts to.

We don't own one-quarter of the earth's surface. But we have got a couple of oceans, some big lakes, the Mississippi, Niagara Falls, the Rockies, more than half of all the gold in the world, and one hundred and twelve millions of pretty intelligent American human beings. It ought to be possible in some way to interest Americans in buying goods made in their own country.

In England, if you buy goods not British made, you are looked upon with contempt. Here, if you insist on buying good not American made, you are considered fashionable.

A new locomotive, just tried in the East, interests you. It is a whole power plant in itself, burns oil, changes that into electricity, and runs by the electricity.

A boy can learn to run it in ten minutes. It has great power, and you are told that it uses only ten to fifteen cents worth of fuel per hour. That won't please mine owners.

This nation has many valuable crops running up into the billions per year. The most valuable of all, although you couldn't sell it for ten cents or even give it away, is the crop of babies.

In the United States last year, 1,238,000 brand-new babies were born. Only 621,000 deaths occurred, leaving out immigration, a population increase of 617,000. That is a great city added to the nation by the nation's mothers.

How fast this country grows, even with limited immigration! Our population is now more than 112,000,000, more than 7,000,000 increase since the census of 1920. That's good news, for what we need is another 100,000,000 people to do work now neglected, and to consume the products of farms and factories.

In England women are beginning to take snuff, tired of cigarettes. That won't last, for snuff makes the nose black instead of pink on the inside. Pink snuff may be invented. Nevertheless, snuff taking won't endure.

But it illustrates the fact that women find it difficult to take their bad habits as moderately as men do. Their intense nervous systems always demand more, more. That's why they should never start anything that can be done to excess, drinking, drugs, gambling or gadding.

More interesting to 20 million farmers than any other news is the birth in Canada of a calf weighing 157 pounds at birth. The mother, of course, is a Holstein. The average weight of a new-born calf is between eighty and ninety pounds.

If "artificial selection" could raise the average weight of calves to the Canadian maximum, it would mean tens of millions increased profit to farmers.

SELL YOUR BUTTERFAT TO YOURSELF

Your co-operative creamery fixes the prices on butterfat.

With no co-operattive creamery, who will fix the value of your butterfat? The buyer of it, of course. Think this over.

The co-operative creamery makes the best butter. Good butter insures best prices for butterfat.

Your co-operative creamery can pay as much and more for your cream than can any cream buyer or centralizer. If you are selling your cream elsewhere and getting a higher test or price than you would receive at your local creamery, you should not conclude that the creamery is wrong, but investigate, and you may find that the other fellow is baiting you to get your business. When your co-operative creamery is killed, what then?

The operator in your creamery is a member of the Minnesota Creamery Operators' and Managers' association and could gain nothing by cutting and is fully qualified to operate the plant. He is working for a salary, your weights or tests. It is to his interest to treat every patron right and in that way build up the business, and a good position for himself.

The co-operattive creamery is no experiment. There are 640 such creameries in Minnesota.

The co-operattive plan of operating a creamery is the safest plan in the world for the farmer. You control the business at all times. The products are sold to the best possible advantage, and after deducting operating expenses, the balance is paid out to patrons in proportion to the amount of fat delivered by each patron. Nothing could be safer and more economical.

If you are now a patron of your co-operative creamery, stand by it and help make your business still better and stronger than it now it. If you are not patronizing the creamery, you are not getting what you should for your butterfat. Call at the creamery and the operator will gladly explain anything you wish to know about the business—Your Business.

MEYER DENIES REPORTED CHARGE FOR SELLING BUTTER

Commenting on reports that have come to his office regarding exorbitant handling charges made by the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department, said:

"Solicitors, supply salesmen and trouble makers, have spread the report that our expense in concentrating, inspecting and selling the butter is exorbitant. We certainly wish to deny these false reports.

"The deduction amounts to only 10 cents a tub or box, which covers our inspection service, salaries, selling expense, advertising, warehouse rent and refrigeration, and in general our expense in opening new markets for all grades of butter. At the present time we are saving 27 cents a hundred weight on freight by having our butter merchandised in cities other than New York and Philadelphia, so that in reality it has cost us nothing to concentrate and merchandise butter.

"The customary charge for cartage in the markets is 6 or 7 cents a tub. The Association does not pay for any cartage or handling in its new markets."

Telephone Users Relieved of Tax on Long Distance Calls

On and after July 3 the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued as a result of the new tax law passed by congress and signed by the President on June 2.

The elimination of this tax affects all long distance calls of 15 cents or more. On calls for which the charges are from 15 to 50 cents, inclusive, the tax has been 5 cents and on each message for which the charges are more than 50 cents, the tax has been 10 cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal Government.

This reduction in the cost to users of long distance service increases its usefulness for business and social purposes. Ask our Business Office for assistance in further adapting long distance service to your requirements.

been tried before, but was appealed to the supreme court by Brendecke and that body granted a new trial.

The illegitimacy case against William Porier was continued until next term of court, and in a similar case against Herbert Hangen the defendant's bonds were declared forfeited upon his failure to appear for trial when the case was called. It is understood his bondsmen are now making an effort to locate the young man.

On the civil calendar the suit of S. M. Erickson against W. C. Nichols was dismissed on motion of defendant, while the cases of F. A. Grady against John Mostrom and First and Peoples State bank against Henry Hyland were continued. The divorce case of Marie Johnson against Arthur G. Johnson will come up for hearing at the special term July 31. In the case of the Rust-Parker company against Singer Brothers, the plaintiffs failed to appear and the defendants were given a judgement for $43.88. The action of the First National bank against Bertha Giller and Annette Goodman will be considered by Judge Grindeland on July 31.

H. O. Halvorson was given a verdict of $122.69 in his suit against John Mostrom to recover on a note for $240, while the case of W. R. Hoag against Lester E. Gesell, involving a land deal, was continued until next term.

The damage suit of Carrie Olson of Cass Lake against S. R. Kirby, a case which created considerable local interest, did not come to trial at this term. The jury was chosen and the trial started, but was continued in order to give plaintiff time to file an amended complaint. The plaintiff failed to appear in the case of Glenn R. Murray & Company against Andrew Ness and the action was dismissed. The court also dismissed the case of Charley J. Safarik and Anna Safarik against the Empire Farms company.

B. Norby Gets Contract For New Creamery Job

ease than the present method. There will be a concrete driveway 18 or 20 feet in width around the entire building making it very convenient for patrons on busy days as congestion will be eliminated to a great degree.

A large ice machine will be installed at a cost of $3,000 or $3,500 in the basement of the new building. The adding of this one item, practically the only machine to be bought immediately, will double the output of the creamery. This depends largely upon the cooling system and with the new facilities the output of the best year, 1922, when nearly 640,000 pounds of butter were turned out, will easily be doubled. In the basement also will be a room which can be used as cold storage for eggs, poultry and cheese when the creamery reaches the stage where a cheese factory can be started and eggs and poultry are shipped. The boiler and fuel rooms will also be here.

The first floor will have a ladies' rest room in the northwest corner opening onto the sales room. The offices will be located in the southwest corner just off the sales room and the milk testing room will be just back of the office. Immediately off the sales room will be the refrigerator in which will be stored the bottled milk and butter for sale. The work rooms will take up most of the remaining floor space and no new machinery will be installed though there will be room for a new churn when it is needed. There will also be a small assembling room and an automatic elevator.

The elevator will be used to carry the milk to the second floor where it will be cleared by filtration in large vats and fed by gravity to the first floor as used. This is considered a big improvement over the method used at present as the clarifier now in use breaks up the fat molecules, lowering the cream line which is necessarily accompanied by a slight loss. This will not happen with the new method, however. The second floor will also have a large storage room which may be used for a cheese factory, and the preparation of buttermilk at some future time.

There is also a large assembly room 25x40 which can be finished at an additional cost of $1,610 for use as a stockholders' meeting place or business room. It will have a seating capacity of 300 or 350 people.

The insulation of the refrigerators on the first floor and basement were bid for by Armstrong Construction company at $1,645 and Insulation Sales company at $1,680. Both firms are in the Twin cities. The former company was granted the contract.

The firms bidding for the construction work were: B. Norby, Thief River Falls, $30,892; Alex Nelson, Perham, $33,995; Prichard company, Thief River Falls, $37,990; C. M. Carlson, Thief River Falls, $36,150; L. D. McAdams, Thief River Falls, $36,990; Becker Construction, Crookston, $39,471; L. W. Baumeister, St. Paul, $38,990; O. M. Symonson, Crookston, $40,220; and E. Rydeen, St. Paul, $38,641.

Perhaps, some day, the world will bless the big war, although it did cost 250 billions and 20 million lives.

Poison gas will do more good than it has ever done harm; it has been used to destroy the boll weevil.

And now, in the Ukraine, Trotsky orders his army fliers to use gas against locusts and field mice.

There is plenty of fun in the world for the fellow who isn't too anxious to find it.

The givers are the healers of the earth; and the greatest giving is the giving of love.

The fighter who is given to bragging wastes a lot of time that should go to developing his wallop.

Maybe you, too, have noticed that two banana peels make a good air of slippers.

About the only golden crowns that most of us will wear are those we get of the dentist.

Perhaps one reason why the Scotch are such good fighters is because they hate to give up.

The man who pays as he goes may not be able to go far—but he can always come back.

Even the judge has his trials.

The fool who used to rock the boat has made way for the simp who steps on the gas.

Some men accidentally get into trouble, while others deliberately umpire ball games.

A famous circus woman can lift an elephant with her teeth. Many frailer women have the strength to get along with an ordinary husband.

Most of us go on the theory that it's no sense having troubles unless we can have the fun of talking about them.

A CONTRAST

The citizen who stands on the street corner with his hands stuffed down in his pockets, his shoulders stooped and a sneer on his face, is of no value to any community.

He is the fellow who says the fire department doesn't know how to fight a fire, and tells how it ought to be done. But he never lends a hand.

He is the fellow who complains about the ruts in the streets, but he hasn't paid any taxes for years and of course doesn't help keep them in condition.

He is the fellow who finds fault with the public schools and the teachers, but never did anything in his life to improve the schools.

He is the fellow who condemns everything and sees no good in anything.

You all know him and his type. The sooner he leaves us, the sooner we will be able to move forward.

Contrast him with the citizen who is a booster and may be counted on to help every worthy cause.

This type of citizen pays his debts and his taxes, stands for everything that is for the betterment of the place where he lives and never allows his enthusiasm for his home town to lag.

He is an asset to any community. It is the men of his class who are responsible for all of the improvements that are made. We owe it to him that we have as good streets as we do, that our school system is as modern as it is and that we live in a place that we can boast of to our friends.

Classify yourself and see which class you belong to, which type you match. If you belong to the former, it's time for a rejuvenation. If you belong to the latter, more power to you.—Sauk Rapids Sentinel.

LONG DISTANCE TAX ENDS SOON

Elimination of Tax Affects Messages Costing Fifteen Cents and More.

As a result of the new tax law passed by congress and signed by the President on June 2, the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued on and after July 3.

All long distance calls costing fifteen cents or more will be affected by the elimination of this tax. The tax has been five cents on calls costing fifteen to fifty cents, inclusive. On each long-distance telephone message costing more than fifty cents, the tax has been ten cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal government.

Many petitions and resolutions from the Middle West asking that this tax be removed were received by senators and representatives during the last session of congress. Business men contended that this tax was a burden on producers and consumers, and that it was a relic of war times.

About 1,700,000 long distance calls are made in the United States each day. Over 15,000,000 telephones in the nation are all interconnected, and enable persons in more than 70,000 cities, towns and communities in the United States, Canada and Cuba to converse with each other any hour of the day or night. This has led to a steadily increasing use of the long distance service for social and business purposes.

Removal of the federal tax on long distance telephone calls does not mean that the Telephone company will not continue to pay its proportion of taxes. The federal message tax was assessed against the telephone user. The telephone company will continue to pay its regular federal, state and other taxes.

Rules Govern Employment of Women and Children in State; Look 'Em Over Now

The new hour law passed at the last session of the legislature which went into effect July 1, 1923, provides that no woman shall be allowed to work at any occupation more than 9½ hours in any one day and 54 hours in any one week, with the exception of nurses engaged in the care of the sick, women engaged in domestic service and telephone operators in towns of less than 1,500 inhabitants.

The "One Day of Rest" also passed at the last session of the legislature provides that all employes shall have one day of complete rest in seven with certain exceptions including women working in hotels and cafes.

The Child Labor law regulates the working hours for boys and girls under 15 years of age to not more than eight hours in any one day and 48 hours in any one week. Children under 16 years of age may not be employed at any occupation before seven o'clock in the morning nor after seven o'clock at night.

The minimum wage in cities of 5,000 or more population is $12.00 for a week of from 36 to 48 hours and 25 cents for each additional hour making the wage $13.50 for a 54 hour week, the limit fixed by the law which went into effect July 1, 1923. Learners may be paid at a lesser wage as fixed by Wage Order No. 12.

The minimum wage in towns under 5,000 is $10.25 for a week of from 36 to 48 hours and 21½ cents for each additional hour making the wage $11.54 for a 54 hour week, the limit fixed by the law which went into effect July 1, 1023. Learners may be paid at a lesser wage as fixed by Wage Order No. 12.

LIVESTOCK REPORT SHOWS BIG JUMP IN YEAR'S PROFITS

A recent report of the Central Co-operative Commission Association of South St. Paul, shows that during the period from January 1 to June 1, 1924, the association handled 8898 cars of livestock, as compared with 8005 cars for the same period last year. This is an increase of 884 cars.

For the period above mentioned the net earnings of the association over and above all operating expenses was $48,556.15, as compared with $40,170.60 for the corresponding period of 1923.

In a letter to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, J. S. Montgomery, manager of the association, commented on the report as follows: "We have made a very substantial increase, both in total volume of business and in net earnings. It is not, however, as large an increase as the increased efficiency of our organization, the service we rendered to our patrons last year, and the preparations we have made to render service this year, entitle us to have.

"There are many producers in the Northwest, who, because of carelessness on their part or indifference toward the affairs of their association, are not participating in its earnings."

FARM BUREAU WILL STUDY TAX PROBLEMS

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has under consideration a plan whereby local committees would be set up in each county in the state for the purpose of investigating all phases of rural tax problems.

Such committees would be known as tax committees and would be appointed through the local Farm Bureau organizations.

It would be the duty of these committees to ascertain the amount of taxes paid by their respective communities, and the manner in which these taxes might be reduced with the least inconvenience.

Several county farm bureaus already have such committees which are doing excellent work. Special attention is called to the work which has been done by the tax committee set up in Redwood county. It has made interesting discoveries with regard to tax payments and tax distribution.

Minnesota offers a fertile field for such studies, as disclosed by a recent study in Redwood county. One fact brought out, for instance, was that the average tax millage for Minnesota counties, as a whole, is over 59 mills, while the millage in Redwood county is something over 38 mills. What makes the difference? There must be some interesting studies behind these figures.

MANY CLUBS VISIT NORTHWEST SCHOOL

More than 30 farm and community clubs have already been scheduled for inspection trips to the Northwest Experiment Station and School of Agriculture, Crookston, during the present season. These visitations began ten days ago and will continue almost from now until threshing season opens in August. The usual plan is for the members of the group to bring their own lunch baskets for dinner. Coffee and cream are served at the school.

Following this the visitors are taken in charge by the various members of the station staff while the women meet with Miss Fanny B. Lippitt, head of the Home Economics department. The fields, orchard, livestock and poultry departments are inspected in turn.

The following visitations have already been scheduled for the season. Big Woods farm club, Oslo; Community club, Eldred;; Holt Community club, Holt; Barndt-Helgeland Farm club and Commercial and Community clubs; Tabor Community club, Angus; Winsor Farm club, Gonvick; Radium Community club; North Star Creamery association, McIntosh; Mallory Farm club, East Grand Forks; West Prairie and Donnelly clubs, Stephen; Bloomer Farm club, Argyle; Crops and Soils association; Winger Citizen's club, Winger; Boxville, McCrea, Roon and Warrenton farm clubs, Warren; Fairfax-Andover, Booster and Maple Leaf farm clubs, Crookston and Commercial and Community clubs, Thief River Falls.

Clubs and community groups that are interested should correspond with Supt. C. G. Selvig regarding date not already taken. Members of all the groups who have taken part in one of these trips have been very well pleased and have felt repaid for time and effort spent.

Good Roads Movement.

(From the Morton Enterprise.)

I wonder how many of those who drive over the magnificent roads in the state think of the cost and the work that is needed to keep them ready for every day work to say nothing of the care needed to persuade the people of this great state that it is to their advantage to have good roads.

We are inclined to be selfish when it comes to paying for things we enjoy without thinking who IS paying for them. But when we think of the efforts that have been made to put over a program that will result in good roads all over the state, to get the people to vote a tax or to raise the auto tax immediately a howl goes up that we are being robbed.

This to say the least, is a short-sighted policy that does not pay. If facts are to be heeded, and that is the only way we can come to real conclusions, we find the roads cost us 7.79 cents for each mile we drive.

Stop, look, think—and see whether it would not pay to put a two cent tax on gasoline and pave all the main arterial roads and thus save for all who use the roads. This is no rich man's scheme but a sensible plan to put our state on the map for the millions of tourists that are crowding the great Northwest and spending millions of dollars a year within our borders.

Wisconsin put us to shame last year, 1923, by paying 400 miles and Illinois 1,000 miles, while Minnesota paved a measley 40 miles. Then the sleepy south is waking up, and North Carolina is spending $60,000,000 in that state for paving.

We do want good roads, then to get them we must have the money for neither the state, county or nation can do work without cash any more than an individual can. Then the question naturally arises, "How shall we get it"? While many of us think that Mr. Babcock is asking too much, we do not refuse to ride on the roads built under his plan, nor after being mired on some country dirt road, do we refuse to climb, in great glee, onto a pavement when we can do so.

In the long run we would all be gainers, and it is coming, no matter how long we may delay it, for common sense will finally prevail and good roads will be built all over our state and every resident will enjoy them and by a tax on gas, we can get outsiders to help us pay the bill. Do some solid thinking and then put into action some plan that will give us roads for every day in the year. Endorse any plan that is decent and worth while for good roads.

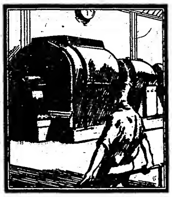
SOUND INVESTING IS NOT SPENDING



How Electric Rates Are Kept Down

"HOW HAVE YOU MANAGED to keep the selling price of electricity far below the advancing scale of prices in general?" is a question we are often asked.

It has been accomplished, first, because the Company is a large organization; second, by the investment of new capital in modern, efficient equipment; third, by constant striving for greater efficiency.

In 1923, of the 636 hundred million kilowatt hours of energy produced, about 46 per cent was generated by water power and 54 per cent by steam power.

This is but one of many factors which have helped us to comtion of 435,347 tons of coal. If our steam plants had operated in 1923 at only the same degree of efficiency attained in 1919, they would have used over 850,000 tons of coal last year.

In other words we saved—conserved, 420,000 tons of coal in 1923 as a result of investment of additional capital by the shareholders and bondholders and the efforts of the operating organization, compared with the basis of 1919.

This is but ne of many factors which have helped us to combat the rising tide of prices in the interest of the users of electricity.

Penney Store at Bemidji Badly Damaged by Flames

More than $60,000 damage was done to the stock of the J. C. Penney company at Bemidji Saturday in a fire and several thousand dollars damage was done to the Battles building in which the store is located.

The fire, believed to have originated as the result of defective wiring, started between the floors of the first and second story. The heat was terrific and the smoke was intense on the second floor of the building.

Miss Pauline Olson, Miss Delia Anderson and Miss Lucy Barrett lost practically all of their belongings as the fire worked through the floor of their rooms and they had to leave the building before they could save anything. The J. C. Penney company carries its own insurance and the building is also covered by insurance.

GREAT MEETING AT ST. PAUL IN PRICE PROGRAM

Farmers of Northwest to Continue Fight for Governmental Relief.

On July 11 and 12 there is to be held in St. Paul, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Garrick theatre, a great national conference of farm organizations to formulate a definite plan and map out a concerted campaign for the attainment of such legislative protection for agriculture as was embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill. While this bill failed of passage in the last session of congress, its principles are still very much alive. The farm organizations which led in the promotion of that bill and the far-visioned business men who aided them are girding themselves for the second stage of the struggle which will come when congress again convenes.

At the conference in St. Paul definite plans will be formulated for a continuous campaign during the summer months and for the preparation of legislative measures of relief to be presented to congress in December. This is an open conference to which everyone is invited. It is expected that an executive committea will be appointed to carry out the plans adopted. The McNary-Haugen bill is the only practicable plan so far proposed that will lift agriculture to the level of other industries, and undoubtedly it will serve as the model for the conference.

Three hundred farm and commercial organizations of the United States, national, state and local, indorsed the McNary-Haugen bill. Twenty representatives of these organizations were on the ground in Washington and made up the legislative committee actively promoting the passage of the bill. When congress adjourned without according the necessary relief the decision to call a national conference in St. Paul for the prosecution of a further campaign was made by this legislative committee.

Among the organizations actively represented on the Washington committee were the American Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, National Livestock Producers association, National Milk Producers Federation, National Wool Growers association, American Wheat Growers Associated, St. Paul association, and state farm organizations of Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kansas. All of these organizations are behind the call for the conference in St. Paul.

Other organizations and agencies among the 300 which indorsed the McNary-Haugen bill were the United States Department of Agriculture; American Federation of Labor; National Board of Farm Organizations; American National Livestock association; Corn Belt Meat Producers association; Tri-State Grain Growers association, Fargo, N. D.; Iowa State Legislature; Republican state conventions of Minnesota and Iowa; State Bankers' associations of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Washington and Oregon; State Retail Merchants 'associations of Iowa and Monatana; Minnesota Editorial association; city commercial associations of St. Paul, Des Moines, Cedar Falls, Aberdine, Mitchell, Lincoln, Portland, Seattle and Spokane; and many other organizations too numerous to mention.

There are those who have said that the demand for agricultural protection comes only from a few disgruntled spring-wheat farmers in the Northwest. A glance at the preceding list of agricultural and commercial organizations covering the United States that promoted the McNary-Haugen bill exposes the fallacy of that contention. The millions of farmers and business men included in these organizations believe that agriculture must have the same legislative protection that is accorded to business, industry and labor, or the barriers by which these latter are now protected must be struck down, if agriculture in America is to survive.

That is the belief that will be transformed into a definite concrete plan of action at the national conference in St. Paul, July 11 and 12. Plans are perfected for the accommodation of a great host of farmers and interested business men from Minnesota and all surrounding states and of agricultural leaders from every state in the Union. That the strength of purpose behind this imperative movement may be strikingly revesled, a large attendance is specifically urged.

Methodist Picnic.

The Methodist Episcopal church picnic which was held Friday at Squaw Point with Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Smith as honor guests, was somewhat spoiled because of the rainstorm which began at an early hour. The speeches and somewhat elaborste program which were scheduled had not been reached before the rain began, and the sports just began. However, a large number of people were present and a delightful picnic lunch was enjoyed.

Enjoy Picnic Supper.

MIDDLE RIVER'S TEAM DEFEATED

Ball Game Sunday Results in Score of 2-1 in Favor of Home Team.

In spite of the cold wind which prevailed Sunday afternoon, a fairly large crowd was present at the fair grounds diamond to witness the first ball game of the season on the home grounds. Middle River sent the visiting team, and the boys from up the line put up a game battle against the locals but were forced to content themselves with the short end of a 2-1 score.

Gulrud and Anderson constituted the battery for Thief River Falls and gave a good account of themselves. The local lineup was strengthened by the addition of LaBree, McGinn and Howe, who are expected to remain with the team during the remainder of the season. With a little more practice, especially at bat, the Thief River team should prove a very formidable opponent for most of the aggregations from this section of the state.

Middle River's pitcher, Gullickson, though a little wild at times, is an extremely hard worker who throws a wicked ball. He allowed very few effective hits here Sunday and it is said this was the first time he had appeared in the box this year. The bunch from up the line put up a good game and local fans look forward to several more contests with them before the close of the 1924 season.

The membership drive instituted by the Legion auxiliary will be continued for a short time. A meeting was called Tuesday evening but as all members failed to respond, no present results are forthcoming. However, it is to be borne in mind that the losing committee is scheduled to put on a dinner for the winners. In regard to aiding the auxiliary, every legion man should urge his wife, sister or mother to become a member. Cooperstion will greatly aid the auxiliary to gain the "over the top" membership increase they have set as a goal. Mrs. David Robinson and Mrs. Herbert Hanson are the leaders of the two committees.

Members of Brage Chorus Take Part in Meeting of Norwegian Singer Society

The gathering of the Norwegian Singers association which takes place every two years, and which was held this past week in St. Paul, was considered a complete success with many thousands in attendance at the concerts given Friday and Saturday night in the St. Paul auditorium and Sunday afternoon at the hippodrome on the state fair grounds. Those who went from this city to represent the Brage chorus were L. H. Larson, Bernhard Knudsen, Chris Gulrud, Dr. P. L. Vistaunat, Dr. N. J. Nesse, Gay Halvorson, B. Relative of Thief River Falls Folks Drowns When Boat Capsizes; Find Body

Word was received last week by Mrs. S. Brandon of the death by drowning of her brother-in-law, Peter Nygaard in Big Sioux river, Sioux City, Iowa.

The tragedy happened when a launch passed close to the boat creating such big waves that the occupants were thrown into the water. Mr. and Mrs. Nygaard were in bathing suits and were accompanied by a neighbor, Charles Downs. Mr. Downs was rowing and Mr. Nygaard requested the time. He reached over and took the watch from the former's pocket just as the launch passed and it is thought that the action combined with the huge waves caused the disaster. Mr. Downs saved Mrs. Nygaard, who was unable to swim and not seeing anything of Mr. Nygaard, turned in an alarm. The body was recovered an hour and a half later. Mrs. Nygaard is a sister of Mrs. Brandon and daughter of Mrs. O. C. Nyhus of this city.

YOUNG BURGLAR PLEADS GUILTY IN COURT HERE

Canadian Youth Now in Jail Awaiting Sentence From Judge Grindeland.

As the result of some clever detective work on the part of local police, Fred Simpson, 24 years of age, and said to hail from Brandon, Manitoba, was apprehended last Friday and pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary when brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court. Bail was fixed at $1,000 and being unable to raise this amount, Simpson is held in the county jail until such time as he is given an opportunity to appear before Judge Grindeland of the district court for sentence. The robbery occurred in the Farmers Co-operative Meat Market some time Friday night or Saturday morning, meats and groceries of considerable value being stolen.

The robbery was discovered upon the arrival of F. M. Shanahan at the store in the morning, who became suspicious when he saw a window in the rear part of the building had been raised and left open. Further investigation disclosed the loss of some hams and a quantity of groceries. Shanahan called the police, and suspicion led to the home of Ray Chapman on Duluth avenue south, where part of the stolen goods were discovered and Simpson apprehended. Simpson admitted that he had stolen the goods but insisted that he did it because he was out of work and hungry.

Authorities are now communicating with Brandon, Canada, in an attempt to learn something regarding Simpson's former record. When this information is secured he will be taken before Judge Grindeland at Warren for sentence, which may be a term in the penitentiary or reformatory, depending in a large measure upon the offender's past record.

SONS OF NORWAY PICNIC JULY 13

Big Annual Outing to Take Place at Squaw Point Next Sunday.

Next Sunday, July 13, the annual district picnic of the Sons of Norway lodge is scheduled to take place at Squaw Point. This is one of the big affairs of the season for the order and Snorre lodge is making preparations to care for an immense crowd. The district includes Halstad, Crookston, Fertile, Gonvick, Gully, Oklee, Erskine and Shelly, all of which lodges are expected to sent large delegations if the weather and roads are at all favorable.

The program committee has arranged a splendid program for the occasion, including speeches, music and sports. Theodore Christianson of Dawson, Republican nominee for governor, will deliver the principal address, and short talks also will be given by Thos. Vollum of Erskine and Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke. The Brege chorus of this city will render several musical selections, and it is expected the Fertile choir will be on hand to sing a number of songs. Part of the afternoon will be devoted to a program of sports, such as foot races, sack races, tugs of war, etc., and there will be something doing every minute.

Visitors are asked to bring their own lunches, and coffee will be served on the grounds. Members of the Daughters of Norway are lending valuable assistance in arranging for the picnic and no doubt will be very much in evidence on Sunday when it comes to looking after the wants of the visitors.

WHAT ARE THEY?

S. R. Sorenson, farmer living four miles west of Thief River Falls, on Monday brought in five young birds which he found in an alfalfa field on his farm. The birds are very young and not yet feathered out, but are nearly as large as the average hen. Their general appearance indicates that they belong to the hawk family, and their size seems to prove them to be eagles of some kind. The mother bird has not been seen and therefore one man's guess is as good as another's. Scott Laird now has the young birds on display in the window of his store and they are attracting a great deal of attention.

Seven Members Added to Depositors' Committee of Closed Citizen's Bank

Seven new members were chosen by the depositors of the Citizens State bank at the general meeting of depositors held in the auditorium last night, thereby increasing the committee to 12, who will continue their efforts to work out a method of reorganization and report back to the depositors at some later time.

In the meantime the state banking department will continue its work of looking after the interests of all depositors in the customary manner, until such time as a re-organization is effected or it is deemed advisable to liquidate the affairs of the bank.

FIRE WORKS TO BE FEATURE AT FAIR THIS YEAR

Exhibition Expected to Surpass Anything Attempted Heretofore.

Anybody who has ever watched a great conflagration will agree that the flames are beautiful even as they destroy. The billows of fire, shower of sparks, the huge flame flowers that rise from the tops of buildings, all these have a diabolic beauty that fascinates and appals. Unleashed and untamed, the Fire Monster, which the ancients pictured in the form of a dragon that breathed forth smoke and flame, devours all within its path. But the destroying genius can be tamed and tied; chained and imprisoned, in the form of fireworks, and when released it is all the more beautiful; all the more colorful and fascinating for having been conquered. And thus man has added another conquest over another dragon to his score. The Chinese did it first. They took the lead in shackling the flames and making them obedient to the will of man. But good old American blood has improved vastly on the crude firecracker and rockets of the land of pigtail and chop-suey, and today, in America, fireworks are not merely fireworks, but an art material as well, with which master pieces of beauty may be wrought in many colored flames as readily as in clay or wood. This new art has reached its highest point, critics admit in the works of the great Thearle-Duffield Fireworks Division of the W. A. S. A.

This company of experts has gone so far as to recreate American history in fireworks. Some of the notable achievements of the masters of the fire demon will be seen at the Pennington County Fair on August 7 and 8.

The program arranged for the Pennington County fair will include, besides the many set-pieces, grand salutes of aerial guns, salvos of bomb-shells, grand illuminations of colored fires, American star rockets, aerial rainbow of natural colors, chrysanthemum shells, Liberty rockets and a hundred other pyrotechnic devices are also on the list for exhibition here. The patrons of the Pennington County fair have a real treat in waiting for them when they see this greatest of all night attractions.

Fine Rain Tuesday Again Boosts Prospects for Big Yield on County's Farms

A series of warm showers which fell yesterday will prove of great value to the growing crops of Pennington county. Moisture was badly needed in some places due to the past three weeks of dry weather coupled with several days of heat. Cooler weather followed the rain and should serve to hold the moisture in the ground.

Crops are now in fine condition, although in some places somewhat behind the usual stage of growth at this season of the year due to the late spring. Winter rye is in good shape and with a few more days of the right kind of weather will be ready to harvest. Other small grains are rapidly advancing to the maturity stage, while corn and potatoes are yet considerably behind a normal stage although under favorable conditions excellent yields are expected from both crops. Alfalfa has made wonderful progress and harvesting of the first crop of hay is now taking place in many quarters.

Duane Ryan.

Friday, July 4, occurred the sad death of little Duane, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ryan. The child was born June 17 of this year and since birth had been suffering from complications. The funeral was held from the Larson chapel, Rev. George Larson officiating and interment being made in Greenwood cemetery.

SUMMER RESORT AT RED LAKE IS ASSUMING FORM

Organization to Handle Project Now Completed and Charter Secured.

Campaign to Dispose of Lots Gets Under Way in City at Full Speed.

Day by day in every way the realization of the dreams of those who have hoped for the establishment of a summer resort at Red Lake is coming closer and closer. The local men who formed a temporary organization recently to take over the lease of the 163-acre plot at the Red Lake narrows have been granted a charter by the secretary of state and are now engaged in selling memberships and lots to those who wish to lease ground. Lots are going rapidly and it will not be a great while before all the property is in the hands of people who will proceed at once with its improvement. Temporary officers of the new organization, which is known as the Red Lake Summer Resort association, are: E. O. Mogensen, president; Math Barzen and F. J. Stebbins, vice presidents; Geo. M. Wilson, secretary, and F. H. Herrick, treasurer. As soon as a sufficient number of memberships have been sold a meeting will be held and permanent officers elected for the association.

There is no question but what this project holds vast possibilities for the future. The land is located at an ideal place, the narrows on the west shore of the lake, with a beautiful bathing beach, abundant fishing, and ideal surroundings for the erection of summer cottages and other summer resort structures. The lake is the largest body of fresh water wholly within the United States and therefore facilities for high class boating are unsurpassed and in the future will attract people from long distances. In fact, there isn't another place in the state of Minnesota that can hold a candle to it as a summer resort once it is properly improved and adequate highway facilities provided.

The road to the narrows is now in process of construction and although a little rough in places can easily be traveled. In time the proposed highway directly east from the Pennington county line will be completed, which will cut the distance nearly in half. Last week from July 4th to Sunday more than 50 automobile loads of people made the trip from here to the lake, and all of the tourists came back with high praise for what they saw and experienced. Many of the folks camped at the narrows for two or three days.

JOYLAND VAMPS AT THE LYCEUM

Musical Comedy Company Is Attraction for Saturday and Sunday.

Several musical comedy surprises are promised Thief River Falls theatre goers, with the 1924 edition of the Joyland Vamps, which play at the Lyceum theatre on Saturday and Sunday, in connection with an excellent program of motion pictures.

Percy Lohr, one of America's foremost comedians and fun providers, heads the cast of the current production. Mr. Lohr recently closed the most successful engagement of his entire career as a comedian in Milwaukee and his appearance with the Joyland Vamps will prove a revelation to lovers of genuine comedy. He has a truly unique comedy character that makes for laughter every second he is on the stage. He will be ably assisted by a cast of twelve musical comedy artists. Carl Cole will be his principal assistant in the comedy line. Cole does a modified Dutch character that will provide laughter galore. Walter Miller is an ideal straight man with ability to keep things going at a lively pace. Jack Thomas is a purveyor of real Irish humor, Catherine Watts is a prima donna of no mean ability, and Babe Raymond as a dashing soubrette will inject "pep."

Seven high stepping choristers will be in evidence to liven up the many song and dance numbers. The current production of the Joyland Vamps has been provided with new and gorgeous scenery and costumes for each and every one of their shows. The first presentation will be "The Queen of Bohemia" and this piece should meet with instant favor among local theatre goers. The company is composed of twelve people, all entirely new to this part of the country.

$500,000 FINAL PAYMENT MADE BY WHEAT POOL

Geo. C. Jewett Resigns as Manager of American Wheat Growers.

W. J. Brown in Charge of Affairs Until Successor's Election.

Geo. C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers Associated since its organization in 1920 has submitted his resignation to accept a position with the Federal Land bank at Spokane, Wash. W. J. Brown, of this city, president of the organization, will have charge of its affairs until such time as the board of directors chooses Mr. Jewett's successor. Several men prominently identified with grain marketing in the Northwest are said to be under consideration for the office of manager of the association. The board of directors consists of 16 members, two from each of the eight states included.

A settlement of approximately $4,000,000 with wheat growers of Montana for their 1923 wheat crop pooled with the American Wheat Growers Associated was completed with the distribution of a final payment of $500,000, W. J. Brown, president of the organization, announced.

It was disclosed at the same time that the wheat marketing organization has enrolled thousands of new members, especially in North and South Dakota and Minnesota, and that the organization this year will have its largest wheat pool because of big grain crop prospects in the Northwest. Although the Montana crop was considered large in 1923, officials of the marketing association predict that the 1924 crop will exceed that of the past year and that a large share of this increase will be pooled with the Wheat Growers Associated for disposal.

WARREN COMES FOR 'SLUGFEST'

Scheduled to Meet Thief River Falls Team Sunday Afternoon.

Baseball fans in Thief River Falls and vicinity will be given an opportunity next Sunday afternoon to witness another high class contest, when the Warren team is slated to meet the locals on the fair grounds diamond at three o'clock. The Warren lads are coming with their minds made up to win the game if such a thing is possible, while the Thief River boys are equally determined to vanquish their ancient athletic foes. It should be a good contest, with excitement enough to satisfy the most ardent fan.

An effort is now being made by the Thief River Falls team to secure the services of a competent pitcher and it is likely that one will be on hand in the near future. In all other respects the locals are in fine shape, showing up exceptionally well in the infield and doing fairly good work at the bat. Just how the acquisition of a new pitcher is to be financed is not yet determined but it is likely that a subscription list will be circulated in an effort to raise at least a part of the required amount. It is obvious that a pitcher must be secured if the team is to continue in the field with any degree of success and local boosters for baseball are going to see to it that one is available.

Club Indorses Film.

Big Marketing Campaign.

An intensive membership drive will be conducted in the entire Thief River Valley, beginning next Monday. It is hoped to enroll all the poultry producers so that the association will be able to start operations. President Olaf Neset states that as soon as an enrollment of 1,000 members is secured, the organization will begin functioning.

A number of local men have been working hard to put it across, and the matter will be brought up before the Commercial club at its meeting tomorrow.

B. O. Norby of Eyota will have temporary charge of the campaign.

REV. S. L. TALLAKSON

LEGION TO PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Meeting Thursday Evening to Consider 1925 State Meeting in City.

Every member of the Commercial club, every business and professional man in the city and any other person interested in the matter of securing the 1925 state convention of the American Legion for Thief River Falls is urgently requested to attend the meeting of the local post of the Legion at its club rooms on Thursday evening of this week, at which time the question will be taken up for discussion.

Securing the state convention for Thief River Falls is a big job in itself, but leaders among local Legionaires believe this can be accomplished provided they get proper assurance of support from citizens generally in the matter of properly entertaining the large number of visitors upon their arrival here. The state conventions usually continue for a period of three days and thousands of delegates from all parts of the state will be in attendance. Furnishing this host of buddies with proper accomodations and entertainment is a big job and the local post cannot do it wthout the hearty support of every citizen in Thief River Falls.

The place of next year's convention will be decided upon at a meeting to be held at St. Cloud early in August and for this reason it is imperative that folks here reach a decision in the matter prior to that time. The meeting Thursday evening, which by the way is the regular meeting night of the post, is called promptly at 8 o'clock. Every person interested should be on hand promptly at that time.

THOMAS KEEFE TALKS IN CITY

Independent Candidate For U. S. Senator Delivers Speech Wednesday.

Thomas Keefe of Staples, independent candidate for the United States senate, paid a visit to Thief River Falls last Wednesday and in the evening delivered a speech to a fairly large crowd on the corner of Third street and LaBree avenue. Mr. Keefe and his young son are making the campaign in a specially designed Ford car, in which they eat and sleep as well as get over the roads.

In his speech Mr. Keefe maintained that the money supply was manipulated by a few for financial gain. He contends that the supply of money has been increased, thus limiting the buying power of the dollar. He advocated legislation which would give the power of measuring money, as he calls his plan, to the bureau of labor statistics. This is the "measure for measure" idea and is original with Mr. Keefe so far as The Tribune knows. The speaker insisted that by this procedure money borrowed with a "small dollar" would be paid back in kind, consequently reducing all public as well as private debts.

Mr. Keefe has written a pamphlet entitled "The Feast of the Wolves of Wall Street," copies of which are sold to the public at 25 cents each. While this booklet may be considered radical by some, it contains much truth and is well worth reading.

Bischoff Lauded.

Herman Bischoff, well known blind musician of this city, took part in a program at Greenbush one evening last week and the next issue of the Greenbush Tribune described his performance in glowing terms. A blind boy residing near Greenbush, a fellow student of Bischoff at the Faribault school for the blind, also took part in the program.

NEW PASTOR TO TAKE CHARGE OF TRINITY CHURCH

Choice Is Made After Several Candidates Have Been Considered.

Officials of Trinity Lutheran congregation of Thief River Falls this week announce that Rev. S. L. Tallakson of Grand Forks has accepted the call of the congregation and will become pastor of Trinity Lutheran church within a short time. He will occupy the pulpit on Sunday, July 20, and it is expected that he will be formally installed on the first Sunday in September. Trinity church has been without a pastor since the resignation of Rev. T. E. Sweger, who is now field superintendent of home missions and education for the Lutheran church.

The new pastor comes very highly recommended and is known to be a man of more than ordinary ability. He is a hard worker with a pleasing personality in addition to being a fluent and forceful speaker. Rev. Tallakson received his preliminary education in the schools of Willmar, this state, and in 1906 graduated from Luther college with a Bachelor of Arts regree. He then entered Luther Seminary at Hamline and in 1909 completed his theological course in that institution. His first charge was at Roseau, where he remained as pastor for six years. In 1915 he went to Chicago and continued his work there for four years until he came to Grand Forks in 1919. Since 1919 he has been in charge of the congregation of the First Lutheran church of that city, a position he has held to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

Rev. Tallakson is married and his family consists of his wife and two adopted children. That they will find a ready welcome in the social and business circles of Thief River Falls goes without saying, and The Tribune joins in the hope that they may find this city entirely to their liking in every respect.

LOCALS WIN ONE AND DONATE ONE

Baseballers Defeat Middle River and Drop Second Game to Oklee.

Thief River Falls broke fifty-fifty on the baseball diamond during the past week, with a victory over Middle River at the latter place the Fourth and a defeat from Oklee on the fair grounds diamond Sunday afternoon.

In the Fourth of July game the locals showed up exceptionally well. Gulrud pitched like a veteran and the rest of the players backed him up to perfection. The game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness, with the score 7 to 2 in favor of Thief River Falls. In the afternoon game Badger defeated Middle River but were not in a position to participate in the second game as advertised, which made it necessary for the latter team to take part in the evening game against Thief River Falls.

Sunday afternoon the Oklee team appeared here as scheduled and defeated the locals for the second time this season, the score at the end of the game standing 21 to 17. The first Oklee man up to bat knocked out a homer and from then on it was a case of hit and run with both sides sharing in the honors. "Pickerel" Nelson ocupied the box for the locals in the first inning but was replaced with Blomberg when the Oklee merry-goround got to going too strong. Just once, during the game did the Thief River Falls lads succeed in getting into the lead. They were unable to hold it, however, and in the next inning the visitors assumed the lead and kept it until the end of the game. In spite of the large number of scores made it was an interesting game and kept the crowd on its feet every minute of the time.

QUALITY MAINTAINED

Chiropractic has No Quarrel with Dietetics

Chiropractors leave the practice of dietetics to the dietitian.

We find that what is food for one is poison for another.

We see a horse, a cow, a sheep, and a goose all eating grass, and yet, in the horse something converts the grass into hair and strength; in the cow it becomes horns and milk; in the sheep it is converted into wool, and in the goose into feathers and eggs.

Chiropractic

teaches that this phenomena can only be explained in terms of a "power within" that knows the chemistry of making grass into living tissue. We cannot explain the results by the chemicals in the grass.

Chiropractic teaches that this "power within" uses the brain and nerve system, through which it carries on all the physical processes by means of impulses sent over the nerves to the various cells and tissues of the body.

Disease to the chiropractor is simply an abnormal expression of the functional impulses sent over the nerves, as a result of the impairment of the nerve by a vertebra being slightly out of alignment.

To adjust the vertebra to normal and thereby remove the cause of disease is the work of the chiropractor.

Employ none but a competent chiropractor.

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse

THE LEGION CONVENTION.

Thief River Falls has a good chance of landing the state convention of the American Legion in 1925. Whether or not the convention comes here depends to a considerable extent upon the attitude taken by the rank and file of our citizens upon the proposition. It is too big a job for members of Elmer J. Eklund post to tackle single handed. However much they might wish to do so, the boys simply can't handle it. Financing and arranging the details of a convention of this magnitude is a job of no mean proportions and if it is to be done properly it is absolutely necessary that every citizen of Thief River Falls lend his support to the undertaking in every way possible.

The matter has been talked over and discussed for a long time, and has been considered at meetings of the Commercial club. However, it takes more than talk to put the convention over and the time has arrived when action is necessary. With the hope of getting the matter past the talking stage, a meeting has been called at the club rooms of Elmer J. Eklund post Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited. At this time the question of securing the 1925 convention for Thief River Falls will be discussed and an attempt made to decide upon a plan of action. If you want this city to be the host of the state Legionaires next year, make it a point to be present at the meeting Thursday evening. It is a big proposition and must be handled in a big way.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

There is no logical reason why the election of a president, a lower house of congress and perhaps one-third of the upper house should have any disturbing effect on the business of the nation. The United States has got along very well under the constitution for some hundred and forty years. In our earlier days conditions were chaotic, and there was no much thing as credit for America; the value of American currency was lower than any currency in the world. But with the adoption of the constitution there began a reign of orderliness and growing stability that has never ceased.

Poiltical croakers from time to time have sought to frighten the people by forebodings of what was to happen to the nation if this, that or the other candidate were elected, or if this, that or the other policy became the policy of the nation. The plain fact is that no matter what has happened, America has continued its onward march; the people have grown more prosperous; the happiness of the people has been greater; their vision wider; their charity more all embracing, and their patriotism more deeply rooted.

Politics is a necessary factor in our lives. There must be government, there must be parties, elections and rivalries. Out of this maelstrom of thought comes our advancement. Let us hope the American people will have enough balance to realize that they should pay attention only to the constructive elements in our political struggles and discard consideration of everything that deals with portending trouble; everyone, Republican, Democrat and Independent alike, realizing that no matter what may be the result of the issue, America will progress, and times will be better.

For a small town, Middle River certainly put on a dandy Fourth of July celebration. The town was taxed to the limit in caring for the huge crowds which assembled there that day, but everything went off without a hitch and the visitors returned to their homes feeling that the visit to Middle River had been enjoyable. Thief River Falls contributed generously to the crowd, a conservative estimate being that several hundred from this city spent the afternoon and evening there. Put on another celebration you Middle River folks, and we will all be there.

When the country town looks over its assets, it must place a very high valuation on its local merchants. We know that if our home town goes ahesd, and the country around it becomes more prosperous, their business will gain. Consequently they have a direct personal interest in helping advance movements. So it is that when you patronize your home merchants, you assist a group of people who keep up an incessant effort to develope the community. Backing them up promotes the growth of your home town.

Oklee beat us again last Sunday on the baseball diamond, principally because they are longer winded and can stand more running around the bases. When the Thief River Falls boys circled the diamond for the 17th time they were completely exhausted and gasping for breath. Marathon running will be included in baseball practice from now on to fit the boys for a similar emergency in future games.

A few more weeks of such weather and the corn crop will be out of reach of a frost. Let 'er sizzle.

The Nordic Craze.
To Live With Monkeys.
Tailless Aligators, etc.
Foot and Month Cure.

The "purely Nordic" craze has gone far. A scientific association of German "racialists" proposes to plan a new State in which only those "purely Nordic" will be admitted.

The scientists allege that blood tests will distinguish the purely Nordic from the mixed breeds.

That's interesting, as there is not on all the surface of the earth any single sample of a pure breed, whether of "Nordic", Aryan, Semitic, Mongolian, African or Malaysian atrain. All the breeds were mixed up long ago, although they don't know it.

That new Nordic state, by the way, would exclude the founder of Christianity, whose mother was a Jewess. He, certainly, was not "purely Nordic."

Here's one original thought. John Gromardie, citizen of New York, writes to the Franklin Park Zoo in Boston, saying he'd like to be exhibited in the monkey house, with the other primates, "to show the public how much man resembles the ape, in accordance with the Darwinian theory."

Some that live in the open spaces, Texas, Washington, California, Florida, etc., will probably suggest that if all New Yorkers adapted to demonstrating the Darwinian theory were locked up in the Zoological Garden there would be many vacancies in Fifth avenue and at Newport.

How many little boya know that our word "muslin" cames from Mosul, or that our able Italian Mussolini got his name from that land of the Mohammedans? Read in Marco Polo's Travels that "great merchants who convey spices and drugs from one country to another are termed mossulini."

Herr Schomburgk, an African explorer, is accused in a Berlin court of stealing from the holy grove in Liberia the "sacred stone of the alligator without any tail."

Tribes of the African West Coast have worshiped that sacred fetish for years, and want it back, to bring them luck.

Schomburgk says he bonght the fetish for $5.

Only those NOT afraid to walk under a ladder or sit thirteen at a table have a right to laugh at the worshippers of the tailless alligator.

Arthur Hsrris, the I. W. W., stabbed in a fight with farm hands, learns the value of scientific education. A knife thrust penetrated his pericardium sac containing the heart and made a wound three-quarters of an inch long. The sac filled with blood, the heart couldn't work. But while Harris, fully conscious, saw everything that was going on, surgeons in Kansas City removed three of his ribs, drained the pericardium, permitting the heart to continue pumping, pnt back the ribs, sewed him np, and he lives. Thanks to local anesthetic, Harris felt no pain.

Six million bonus applicationa are ready, five millions more will be prepared and sent out. Some pocket patriots are weeping about that. It makea them sad to pay a few dollars in taxes to men that won the war, and saved them their money.

Yet the paying out of tbat bonus money will be to general prosperity like pouring water on dry aoil. Everybody will share in the prosperity that the bonus distribution is bound to bring. Every dollar of it will be SPENT. It'a the money SPENT that count.

A Berlin scientist has found and isolated the germ that causes foot and mouth disease. That news will be worth many millions to this country directly, and hillions perhaps, indirectly.

It is reported, although fortunately NOT proved, that agitators in the West have purposely spread foot and month disease by means of dogs and otherwise. California is a bad state in which to play a game of that kind. The perpetrators would find it more dangerous than horse-stealing in Texas, in the old days.

Newspapers print a atory that Senator Robinson of Arkansas, having a little dispnte with a Dr. Mitchell at golf, knocked him down and ont with one blow. Farmere in Arkansas will not only forgive but cheer their Senator for knocking a man down with one blow. Whether they will forgive him for playing golf is another question.

BALANCE

Bank statements are so arranged that resources and liabilities balance—that is—for everything the bank owes, it owns something with which to pay.

In the case of the First and Peoples State Bank attention should be called to the fact that in the assets which balance the deposits of its customers, there is a very large proportion of cash and readily negotiable securities.

We are therefore able at all times to give both the security and service which our customers have a right to expect from their bank.

PLANS STARTED FOR GREAT FAIR

Northwest Dairy Exposition at Fair to Be Larger Than Ever.

Increased farm profits promoted by scientific feeding of dairy cattle at low costs and diversification of standard crops is the message at the second Northwest Dairy Exposition, to be held in conjunction with the Minnesota State fair, August 30 to September 6, will deliver to the farmers of the Northwest.

Plans for the 1924 exposition are already under way. Headed by Jule M. Hannaford, Jr., of St. Paul and D. D. Tenney of Minneapolis, a joint business men's committee of the St. Paul association and the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association has built a substantial framework about which the 1924 show will be molded.

"The committee is planning to round out every dairy development program begun in the Northwest by the National Dairy exposition in 1921 and 1922, and continued by the Northwest Dairy exposition in 1923", said Mr. Hannaford, who is chairman of the committee. "Our plan this year is a diversified farming show under the name of the Northwest Dairy exposition, with special stress on low-cost feeding—in other words, feeding on the farm itself in such a way as to produce profits."

Mr. Tenney, vice chairman of the joint committee emphasized the fact that the space allotted to educational exhibits has been greatly increased. "We know," said Mr. Tenney, "that the Northwest is the greatest dairy cattle market in the country. During the past three years the dairy cattle increase in the United States has been 4.3 per cent or 1,081,000 head, and nearly 50 per cent of this increase has been in the Northwest."

Edward Barr of St. Paul who acted as promotion manager and publicity director for the National Dairy exposition held in the Twin cities and last year as director of the Northwest Dairy exposition has again been named executive director for the committee.

REPORT MUST BE MADE BY HUNTER

Law Requires Last Year's Report Before New License Is Issued.

Thousands of Minnesotans are looking forward to the next hunting season without giving thought to the possibility that they might not be privileged to hunt. Such a prospect, however, is not remote, for a majority of all those who hunted last season have, by their failure to comply with the law, courted disappointment when they apply for their licenses next fall.

Probably a majority of Minnesota hunters are good sportsmen who pay strict attention to regulations governing open and closed seasons and bag limits. But is it equally true that a majority have jeopardized their right to a 1924 hunting license by neglecting to report to the Game and Fish department as to the number of game birds and animals taken by them last season.

Such areport is required by law, and refusal of another license is the penalty for neglect. Maybe the average sportsman assumes that his failure to comply with this provision of the law has been overlooked by the Game and Fish department, but he is only fooling himself. The department has compiled a complete list of 1923 licenses, a complete list of those who have reported their season's shoot, and a complete list of those who have failed to do so.

The law provides: "Every person to whom a license to take birds or quadrupedes is issued shall, on or before thirty days after the expiration of his license, make a written report to the commissioner on a form prepared and furnished by him, stating the kind and number of each bird or quadruped taken under such license. A licensee who willfully fails or neglects to make such report shall not be granted a license to take birds or quadrupeds for one year thereafter."

The foregoing provision has been flagrantly violated in every county in Minnesota, and the department is compiling for publication by the newspapers of the several counties a list of the names and addresses of all licensees in such counties who have failed to report as required by law.

Every license issued carried a report card on which the season's shoot might be tabulated, with instructions for making returns, so neglect must be charged to indifference. These reports are essential in the compilation of data relating to the increase or decrease of various species of wild life, and serve as a basis in fixing bag limits and determining other facts necessary to the protection and propagation of game.

If you have failed to report within 30 day, you have waived your right to a license next fall. Probably the next best thing is to do it now.

Out of 515 licenses issued in Pennington county last year only 139 have been properly reported to the department. This means that the remaining 376 will have to be reported soon or there will be trouble next fall when local hunters apply for licenses.

CONFERENCE IS MECCA OF MANY

Large Attendance Indicated at St. Paul Meeting on July 11 and 12.

That the national conference of farm organizations to be held in St. Paul, July 11 and 12, will be one of the most important gatherings in the interests of agriculture ever held in this country, is indicated by the early response to the special call sent out by the committee for the promotion of the McNary-Haugen bill. That bill having failed of passage in the last session of congress, it is now proposed to formulate definite plans and map out a concerted campaign to carry into effect in the next session of congress the principles of agricultural equality such as the McNary-Haugen bill proposed.

While the conference is an open one to which everyone interested in agricultural promotion is invited, special invitations were sent out to those leaders of farm organizations and members of congress who took a leading part in promoting the McNary-Haugen bill. Early advices indicate a very wide acceptance of this invitation and a very deep interest in the porposes of the conference.

Among the leaders who have definitely announced their decision to attend are John G. Brown and Jas. R. Riggs of Indiana, president and director respectively of the National Livestock Producers' association; Robt. A. Cowles and George A. Fox, treasurer and secretary of the Illinois Agricultural association; George N. Peek, business man of Moline, Ill.; William Hirth, Columbia, Mo., and George C. Jewett of Minneapolis, general manager of the American Wheat Growers Associated, Inc.

Soo Employees Picnic.

The annual picnic of Soo Line employees will be held this year on Labor Day. Before the Mason and Eastern Star orders have made this their regular picnic day, but have given it over to the employees. The public is cordially invited to attend also.

POOR BUSINESS STATE OF MIND ASSERTS KELLY

Says Conditions Can Be Improved Through the Use of Better Methods.

At the request of The Tribune, T. K. Kelly, nationally recognized as an authority on advertising and selling, prepared the following article as a suggestion to the business men of Thief River Falls on how to stimulate business. The Tribune believes Mr. Kelly's suggestions to be of great value and urges their careful consideration by every business man in Thief River Falls.

I wonder if we recall the resolutions we made in January, 1924? It seems this last year, more than ever, that promises with some people are like pie crusts—easily broken.

About every organization in January, 1924, firmly resolved to make this year better than 1923 and one of the chief reasons why many have failed to keep these promises they made to themselves is because they sold themselves on the idea that it cannot be done.

Business these next few months is going to be no better than during the past few months if we do not use better business methods, if we do not eliminate the idea that there is no money in our district, and that people are not in a buying mood.

Step into your bank today and find out their daily clearances. Stop into the postoffice or express company and find out how much money is being sent out of town. You'll find that there is just as much business tapping at your door today as there ever was. But, are you doing as much to get that business as you should be in keeping with business conditions today?

There are thousands and thousands of men and women employed today, from coast to coast, by firms selling direct to the consumer. They are taking the trade right away from under the eyes of the retail merchants in their immediate vicinity, and taking it from where retail merchants expect their biggest business. Still, retailers in some districts wake up—they have a fair day Monday, Tuesday is dull, Wednesday about the same, Thursday no better, Friday some trade and Saturday they are not busy.

What is to prevent a store employing say four clerks from sending two or three clerks out to visit families in their immediate districts, putting in full working hours, doing this Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays?

The retailer in having his clerks call upon the people at their homes will have a better entree than the unknown solicitor who is calling at these homes selling merchandise.

People in a merchant's district don't know what kind of firms these unknown solicitors represent—they don't know whether they are reputable or not, but they do know the local merchant, his store, and his stock. They know they can depend on the right kind of merchandise at his store because he is a part of the community he is a citizen in the district the same as they are, and certainly would not defraud them by selling inferior merchandise at hold-up prices the same as many of these concerns are doing.

There is not a wholesale house or manufacturer in existance who will not give you special for leaders that will enable you to combat the prices and values that the bell-ringers are offering to the retail trade.

Some merchants will say, "My clerks will not do that—they have too much pride." Clerks of that caliber must eliminate their pride if they're going to retain their positions—in fact, no man should have any pride until he is a millionaire, and when he's a millionaire he doesn't need any pride, because a millionaire in overalls is regarded just as highly as he is when he wears a dress suit.

Every clerk employed should be thoroughly on his job—he should have faith in his employer, in the stock, the store, the values given to such an extent that he would be glad and willing to go out and tell his neighbors about it.

I suggested this plan to a merchant one day a short time ago, and his reply was, "It's a good plan alright, but it won't work in my territory." That's one of the chief obsticles that a lot of retailers place before themselves. They get the idea that their trade is different, their town is different, and from the way they talk, you might think they were doing business on a small island thousands of miles from civilization.

As a matter of fact, if you look at the situation right square in the face it simmers down to the point that the trade in Podunk is about the same as the trade in New York City. People everywhere are about the same, they think the same things, and act about alike. Whether your trade is made up of city folks or of farmers, it doesn't make any difference. Good merchandise offered at attractiva prices will be a business getter—particularly when that merchandise is demonstrated to them right in their own homes, where there will be nothing much to distract their attention. The farming population is made up of kindly, genial men and women, who will be glad to have a visit from a merchant or a merchant's representative introducing his merchandise.

There is hardly a merchant in business today who has not got an automobile, and he certainly can afford to spend some time each week out in the country with two of his clerks, supplying merchandise to the people in the outlying districts. A shoe dealer, for example, should present not only some of his newest styles and latest numbers, but he should have a top-notch leader, selected probably from some style that needs stimulating. This would be an effective way to avoid the loss that comes from slow selling depreciated merchandise.

Just as soon as a merchant starts to figure that his expenses are just as high and go on just as steadily during the dull days as during big days, then he is going to get busy and inject some ideas into his business that will make dull business a thing of the past. The time is past and never will return when we can work only half time.

I would tell salespeople in the store, who might object to such work, that it was up to them to make the business a paying proposition for me or they would have to expect less remuneration. I would give them to understand that they would get paid for their services, and no more, and that naturally the worth of their services to me depended upon what those services produced.

Besides helping to combat the menace of the bell-ringer, selling more merchandise immediately, and affording effective means of selling slow moving lines, this plan of canvassing gives a merchant a good method of getting closer to his customers. Few of us realize how many customers we lose through being too distant, and through not being in close touch with them.

Retain the friendship of old customers by all means, and good efficient work in canvassing is a splendid way of accomplishing this. A well trained efficient salesman or saleswoman can be an invaluable missionary in behalf of your store out among trade.

If the trade is slow in coming to your store, bring your store to the trade. If merchants will follow out this plan and back is up with some good, hard hitting advertising they will have no need to complain about poor business. Business in any line is about what you make it, whether it be a retail store, a bank, or a brokerage business.

But, to the merchant who is befogged with the idea that business is so bad that no effort can make it better will have to get rid of this idea as his first move for better business.

There's nothing in the present business situation that warrants such an attitude. Yet, for some reason or other, a great many business men seem to expect that the United States should enter another period resembling war prosperity. But, regardless of that sort of reasoning, or rather lack of reasoning, there has been nothing at any time to indicate that money will ever roll up hill again.

Many business men appear to have an idea that they should get rich over night—that's an idea that still persists, handed down to us from the gun powder era. We may as well make up our mind that the world is not going to pay a bonus, even though we all think we're entitled to it.

As to the business situation, we must admit that business doe not come as easily now as it did in 1919 and 1920, but what of it. The work that it required to make your business show a profit is nothing, absolutely nothing, compared with the thrill that comes in knowing your business is progressing and knowing that you're making a success.

And in considering such plans for increasing your business as this idea of canvassing out through your trade, or any other idea that has the elements of practical business sense, do not be too easily discouraged. Remember, that a great deal you hear about business is mere propaganda.

I know of one instance where a merchant had quite a successful sale, and shortly after it was completed a competitor happened to drop into his store. He inquired how the sale had terminated.

The merchant who had the sale stated that it was very bad, he had not made expenses. He declared that everything had been done that it was possible to do, but that there was no money in the country as far as he could figure out.

The visiting merchant went on his way, and stopped in to see another merchant, and re related all about the unsuccessful sale held by merchant No. one.

"Why, that's strange. I have it from good authority that he sold a great deal of goods and made a pretty fair profit on the sale," said the third merchant. So in discussing this case the two merchants finally saw through the game of the merchant crying hard times. He wanted them to think that he had made no money, he wanted them to be pessimistic about business, because if he had said "Business is wonderful, I have made fine profits," they naturally would have been inspired likewise, and undoubtedly think, "Well, if he can get such business, I guess I can—he's no better merchant than I am".

So there's always two sides to every story, and about 95 per cent of this talk about there being no money and no business should be taken with a grain of salt.

We've got to be more ready in the future than we have been in the past, and take up new promising ideas for increasing business, simply because something worked well five, ten, fifteen or twenty years ago is no assurance that it is equally effective today. A great many merchants confuse business principles with business methods—they are altogether two different things.

There are a certain number of principles in doing business that remain the same, regardless of time, place or conditions, but the methods of doing businss are changing constantly, and we've got to change with them if we are going to keep abreast of the times.

I have often seen the effects of conservatism brought to the point where it is mere inaction. There are businesses being conducted today not by the men who are in charge of the store, but by the men who founded it, and who may have been dead these twenty-five or fifty years. If these same men were living today they probably would be the quickest to change their methods to suit new times, whereas, their successors hold to them as if they were something sacred. This again is simply confusing methods with principles.

One merchant met my suggestion of canvassing out among the trade with the statement that they'd been established for sixty years and had never gone out tramping begging for business at the homes of their customers, and they did not think they had to start that now.

Such an attitude is about as senseless as if that merchant were to stock his store with the styles of merchandise in vogue sixty years ago, and insist that inasmuch as it was the right thing for those times it is still the right thing. We must not lose sight of the fact that methods must change with the times no less than the merchandise we carry.

AS OTHERS THINK

A Farmer's Explanation.

Editor Tribune:

Please allow me to express my views on the conditions of our times with the view of getting things fixed up right. I am engaged in farming, the basic industry of our land, but if this condition lasts much longer I will have to duck under the same as the rest. But if farming fails, then everything will fail, for farming is the foundation of the whole thing. If you destroy the foundation, the whole structure will collapse. I want to use the symbol of Uncle Sam to mean our government. The money of the country is the life blood of Uncle Sam. In this way I can better point out where Uncle Sam is lame and where he is sick.

Now, these ailments of Uncle Sam's are old, but they have been more noticeable since the war being that all fixed pricss are at the top notch while what the farmer has to sell is down low. If a man tries to do business and finds he is losing money by it he quits, but then the taxes and interest take his land away. You see we are buying in the world's highest market and selling in the world's cheapest market. This condition has caused land to be abandoned, but usually the fertility has been impared. This country has been settled too fast through the homesteads. The price of farm produce has not kept pace with the price of labor, and this condition has robbed the land of its fertility. And this is where Uncle Sam is lame. But he is sick also. Let me see if I can explain this. The first panic year I can remember was in 1873—the time silver was demonetized and it went down in history as "the crime of 1873." It was perhaps the worst panic this country ever had and it lasted quite a number of years. Then in 1893 we had another panic and that lasted quite a number of years. In 1907 another panic occurred but the bankers of the Northwest agreed among themselves and ordered a stay of the money for 60 days. That saved the condition for the farmers.

About 1920 our last panic came on. In all panics the farm produce has been selling cheap, far below the cost of production. I am reliably informed that in 1873—when silver was demonetized—it was not done through any special legislation, but that the recording clerk simply dropped silver out as primary or redemption money. This act dropped out one-half of our redemption money and caused us to have too much token or representative money in its place. Such representative money is usually issued on bonds and the country has to pay double interest on it. And then do you not see that when one-half of our primary or redemption money had with one stroke of the pen become token or representative money it is easy for the money trust to corner this gold and create a panic any time they wish to do so.

Now, as I heve said before, Uncle Sam is sick. He has convulsions. The blood has rushed to his head and heart while his extremities are icy cold. Now wa see that the circulating medium—the blood of Uncle Sam—is congested to the extent that it causes spasms or convulsions. Let me read this a little different. We see that the circulating medium—the money of our government—is congested. It has gone out of our service. It has gone into financial centers, the head and heart.

Do not think for a moment that I write this dispairingly, for I do not. I have great hopes for this country. We have good lands, good soil, good and industrious people.

Another Lumberman in Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Effinger are the proud parents of a 7 and a half pound son born to them Saturday, July 5. The supposition is of course, that the young man will be brought into an early knowledge of the fine points of selling hard and soft lumber to hard and easy customers. Artificial music will be brought up for debate at a future time.

ROSEWOOD

Doings on the Nation's Holiday.

The holiday of the nation, July 4, with all its excitement, joy and celebrations, is a thing of the past for this year, and only the memory of a happy day lingers in the minds of the celebrators. The Fourth proved to be an unusually nice day for outings, and even lacked the customary dampening rain, which has seemingly been a necessary evil during the last few years. We will try to mention a few of the days celebrations and celebrators, but for lack of information and space many things will be omitted, and people and doings so treated, will please bear the fact in mind and that they are not intentionally left out. The chief celebration at Rosewood was the outing of the Ladies' Friday Afternoon club together with their husbands and families to the Lilac farm four miles west of town. A very interesting day was spent in the green and at various sports and pastimes and with an outing picnic dinner for all. About fifteen families partook. In the evening the participants gathered at the Rosewood hall, where dancing with home talent music proved very interesting. The celebration announced at the Ranum boys' farm was for several reasons slated, and those intending to spend the Fourth there turned to Middle River instead. Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson and two children motored to Bemidji where they spent the Fourth celebrating and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Hanson, a brother to John Hanson, and returned home on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson spent the day at Gully visiting with friends and relatives and returning the next day. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hellerud remained here over the day but left later for Twin Valley where Mrs. Hellerud will spend a week at a family reunion, and Mr. Hellerud will return by Tuesday. G. S. Bacon, the state custodian of the bank affairs here motored to Detroit where he spent the day along the lakes. Jalmer Rafteseth and Miss Nellie Wiseth of Goodridge, who is here over the Fourth from Hibbing, motored to Grygla on Friday to pass the day at touring. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Furan attended the Friday club picnic and in the afternoon attended the picnic at the Peter Bugge farm in the town of Numedal. Miss Clara Reheau spent the Fourth with her home folks at Radium, returning to her work at the Petterson home on Saturday evening. John Sorenson and Joel Shoberg attended the Polk County fair at Crookston during the day and in the evening took in the celebration and fireworks at Grand Forks. Mrs. Emil Anderson and children spent the day at a picnic of their relatives at Squaw Point, having with them Emil Anderson who is still at the Physicians hospital securing treatment for his leg, but being well enough to be with them for a while at the picnic. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Batten from Minneapolis, who are visiting with the former's father, John Batten, at this place, motored to Warroad and Lake of the Woods where they spent the day sight seeing and celebrating. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gulseth motored to Benwood where they spent the day visiting with a brother, Alec Gullseth and family. August Schultz arrived on Thursday by car from Lesters Prairie and spent a few days until Monday with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dols, and escorted his family who have been visiting for some time previously at that place. Albin Stengelson from Minneapolis is spending the Fourth visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peder Stengelson, making the trip in his car. Hans Hanson and Miss Olga Alby also from Minneapolis arrived here by car on Thursday to spend the holiday with Miss Alby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Alby. Mr. and Mrs. Peder Alby and family from Mex, N. D., motored up before the Fourth and are visitors over Sunday at the Ole Alby home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stromberg and family. Carl R. Hall, and a large delegation of young folks spent the day at Middle River celebrating and most of them taking in the dance the same evening.

Probate Court Here.

The probate court at Warren had a hearing last Wednesday afternoon on the matter of the Mothers Pension to Mrs. Julia Axelson at this place. Judge P. H. Holm presided at the court and the county was represented by Attorney W. O. Braggans. The opposition was led by Selmer Haugen and Martin Jarshaw, both members of the New Solum town board, while the defendant had as witness, R. Hall, Emil Blomberg and Joel Shoberg. After a recommendation by the county attorney the court ruled that the county aid should neither be cancelled nor cut, and that the court ruling of last fall of $18 per month be continued in the future without interruptance.

A baseball game was played at the local diamond last Sunday afternoon, but owing to a misunderstanding very few of the local players were present. A delegation of Silverton players accompanied by a number of Thief River Falls enthusiasts arrived here in cars in the afternoon understanding that a game was scheduled for the day, and finding only a few knowing of the game two sides were formed Rosewood being assisted by more than half of outside volunteer players. The game was interesting and resulted in a score of 12 to 2 in favor of the Rosewood team and their assistants.

The annual confirmation exercises of the Rindal church will take place next Sunday forenoon at 10:30 a.m. There are several confirmants this year, and the class speech will be delivered by Rev. George Larson, pastor of the church.

The L. L. Furan, Chas. Sagmoen, B. P. Sagmoen and Emil Blomberg families from this place and the Victor Mosbeck and Severt Benson families from Thief River Falls enjoyed a Sunday picnic at the Government grounds on the Thief river east from Steiner.

O. S. Hellerud has been appointed traveling salesman for the Thomas D'Murphy company, an Iowa concern doing business in year calendars and advertising novelties.

Mr. Roscoe and Misses Lyda and Nettie Batten motored to Gatzke last Sunday where they spent the day visiting among friends.

Ray Johnson, accompanied by a few friends from Thief River Falls motored here on Monday morning to look after things of interest.

Mrs. Inga Remmen, accompanied by several of her daughters, motored here last Sunday from Thief River Falls for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gulseth.

Steiner Johnson returned on Thursday from Fosston where he had spent the previous week visiting with his brother John.

Misses Viola and Julia Axelson and Oscar Baker from Thief River Falls motored up on Monday evening to visit with the former's mother, Mrs. Julia Axelson.

YOUNG MINISTER DIES SUDDENLY

Rev. H. Lutz of Goodridge Expires While Undergoing Operation.

The Tribune is indebted to Rev. E. H. Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church for the following obituary of Rev. Henry Lutz of Goodridge, who died suddenly Saturday morning while undergoing an operation for the removal of his tonsils:

"It has pleased almighty God in His unsearchable wisdom to call from this life to the better life above our dear brother, Rev. Henry Lutz. The departed was born July 29, 1894, at Odebolt, Iowa. After confirmation he entered Concordia college, St. Paul, Minn., to prepare for service in the holy ministry. After a few years of study there he transferred to Concordia seminary, Springfield, Ill., from which institution he was graduated in 1920. During the time of his seminary schooling he served as supply pastor and teacher in Chicago and Denison, Iowa. At graduation he was called to serve his Master in the field assigned to him, he came to Goodridge and was ordained to the holy ministry in the Missouri Synod Lutheran church, and installed as pastor of the parish in and around Goodridge on August 8, 1920, by the present speaker. On June 14, 1922, he entered the estate of holy matrimony with Miss Ida Franzmann of Grygla. Their union was happy, but, oh, so short.

"In the large field assigned to him, the departed labored with untiring zeal and under the manifest blessings of the Lord. The work flourished and expanded from four to twelve preaching places and congregations, so that the Mission board readily assented to giving him an assistant. The field was to be divided two years ago, but because another pastor was not available, students were called to assist in the work. Mr. Schoedel and Mr. Remer will be remembered as faithful coworkers of our departed brother. This year a call was assigned to one of the seminary graduates, and we all were hopeful that the call would be accepted, so that the work of pastor Lutz might be lightened. But the Lord has seen fit to release him from all further labor and strife.

"For several years he had been troubled with bad tonsils, often interfering seriously with the performance of his duties. Upon the advice of competent physicians it was decided to have them removed. Saturday morning he left with a smile for the hospital. When the operation was well under way, he was seized with convulsions, which, in spite of the heroic efforts of the physicians, and the prayers of his pastor, caused his instant death.

"The Lord alone knows why it should be thus. We bow before his supreme will and wisdom and say with sorrow, yet with faith: His Will be done.

"The span of his earthly sojourn was comparatively brief, having reached the age of 29 years, 11 months and 6 days. He leaves to mourn his early departure his stricken wife, one child, his father, four brothers and one sister, besides other relatives and a host of friends.

"Since his father was not able to travel, the remains will be sent to Denison, Iowa, his former home, to find their final resting place and to await the summons of the Lord of Hosts.

"By faith in Christ, the Savior of sinners, we know that he has entered into the mansions of rest and glory. That is our comfort and stay in these dark hours. But let us remember that we too must pass the same road, nor do we know how soon. Let us utilize our days to prepare for the blessed end."

"Memorial services were held at St. John's Lutheran church in this city Tuesday at 12 o'clock, Rev. E. H. Kreidt reading the Altar service and obsequies, and Rev. E. Thoen of the Norwegian Lutheran Synod speaking a few words of honest admonition and comfort on James 4, 13-15. After the service at the church the procession formed and moved to Goodridge, the center of Rev. Lutz's parish. It had been arranged to use the Norwegian Lutheran church, but on account of the large number present, it was decided to use the auditorium of the public school. About 400 people crowded the auditorium and halls. Rev. Herman Meyer of Lakefield, president of the Minnesota district, preached the German sermon, choosing as his text Jer. 29, 11-13. Rev. E. H. Kreidt of this city preached the English sermon from Second Timothy 4, 7-8.

"The following pastors served as pall bearers: The Reverends H. A. Mayer of International Falls, C. Glock of Remer, Martin Hauser of Warren, Louis Keinath of Greenbush, B. Schwanfelder of Fisher and Erdman Frenk of Bemidji. Other pastors present were the Reverends E. Schuett of Crookston, M. Brammer of Euclid, E. Weidenhoefer of Wylie, Am. End of Cologne, O. Petersen of Fertile.

"August Lutz of Webster, S. D., and Miss Viola Zempke of Storm Lake, Iowa, a brother and cousin were present.

'BIG BROTHER' IS COMING SUNDAY

Rex Beach Story Will Be Shown on Screen at Princess Theatre.

Rex Beach's novel, "Big Brother," which ran as a serial in "Hearst's International Magazine," has been produced for Paramount by Allan Dwan and will appear at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday.

In commenting upon his picture, Jesse L. Lasky said in part: "I consider 'Big Brother' one of the greatest stories of the season. It was told to me by the author, before it began appearing in Hearst's magazine, and we lost no time in buying it. It is a story of New York gangdom and the work of the Big Brother movement in protecting and rescuing boys from evil surroundings in our big cities.

"Behind the writing of 'Big Brother' is an appealing human interest story. Mr. Beach was in Washington some time ago during a convention of the Big Brother organization. He became acquainted with several leaders of the movement and from what they told him of the work of their organization he was inspired to write his novel. Neither the novel nor the picture which we have made is in any sense propaganda; it is a powerful, colorful story of dramatic action against a background of a philanthropic movement, which embraces the entire country and includes it its membership men from all walks of life.

"Tom Moore plays the title role and other members of the cast include Raymond Hatton and Edith Roberts, featured with Mr. Moore, Joe King, Mickey Bennett, Charles Henderson, Yvonna Hughes and many other just as prominent.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Delmer LaVoy of Minneapolis, representing the Minnesota State Fair and Livestock Show, will be the principal speaker at the Commercial club luncheon Thursday noon of this week. At this time decorations for fair week will be discussed, and a large attendance is desired in order that this important matter may be disposed of properly.

Victoria Bailey.

Victoria Bailey, wife of G. Bailey of this city, suddenly died July 6, when she suffered a severe heart attack at her home. She was 33 years, 10 months old and was born in Northwood, N. D. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isasc Olson. Married 16 years ago, the couple moved to this city where they have since made their home. There are four living children left besides the husband to mourn her loss, Muriel, Alice, Lily and Robert. The funeral services will be conducted Friday at the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. Albin A. Larson officiating. Burial will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

Sleepers on Soo Trains Will Be Continued, Says Traffic Manager's Letter

General Traffic Manager F. R. Newman of the Soo Line has informed the Thief River Falls Commercial club that in accordance with its request the sleepers on trains 109 and 110 will be set off here in the future as in the past. The sleeper accommodations were to have been taken off on account of the small patronage received, but the recent action of the officials means that this service will be continued indefinitely.

Mr. Newman stated that the Soo Line appreciates the co-operation and friendly relations existing between the company and the people of the city of Thief River Falls.

ACTION TAKEN BY MAYOR TO COMPEL LOWERING OF GAS PRICES IN THIS CITY

Oil Companies Fail to Respond to Messages Sent Yesterday by City Executive. Arrangements Made Today for Tanks, Oil Pumps and Gas Ordered for City Delivery.

Action was started yesterday by Mayor J. S. Arneson to bring down the price of gasoline in this city. As a preliminary a wire reading as follows was sent to the three leading oil companies now selling that commodity in Thief River Falls:

Thief River Falls, Minn.,
July 15, 1924.
Standard Oil Company,
Fargo, N. D.,

Unreasonable prices charged public for gasoline at local stations. Unless adequate reductions take place by noon tomorrow I will take steps immediately to sell such commodity from city filling stations.

Signed J. S. ARNESON, Mayor.

Similar telegrams were sent to the Pyramid Oil Co., St. Paul, and the White Eagle Oil Co., Minneapolis.

No response has been received from the messages up to the hour of going to press, according to the mayor, and steps are now under way to put the city in the business of selling gasoline to the public. Arrangements have already been made for tanks, pumps and other necessary paraphernalia, a carload of gas will be ordered today and upon arrival the same will be offered to the public at cost plus handling charges.

It is expected that gasoline may be sold here at 17 or 18 cents per gallon, where the price is now 22.8. In other words the public is being mulcted now to the extent of at least five cents per gallon.

The mayor is fortified with telegrams which he received yesterday from many leading towns in the Northwest indicating that the oil companies operating here are maintaining a higher price level than is the case in any other city so far as can be ascertained. It is also the determination of the mayor that the city, once started in the oil business, will continue indefinitely to sell the commodity at cost to consumers. He states that tractors and motor vehicles are now standing idle because of the exorbitant price of fuel oil in this city, and hence it is his purpose to keep the city in the game as a measure of protection to the public.

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVERS MUST QUIT PRACTICE

Crossing Near Hazel Scene of Many Narrow Escapes Says Engineer.

This newspaper has been made aware of a condition at Hazel which threatens to result in fatalities sooner or later unless certain reckless drivers desist from a practice which has given many a Soo Line engineer hair raising thrills recent months.

It seems the fool killer has overlooked some of the boys who are in the habit of attending Friday night dances at the Hazel town hall. Following such dances some of them seem to delight in playing with death at the west crossing where they drive their cars over the track at the approach of the Soo Line west bound flyer. In several instances the escapes have been so narrow as to beggar description. Railroad engineers are cautious enough and will go to any extreme to avoid accidents, but in the face of such asinine practices they are quite helpless. And things have come to such a pass that it seems necessary to issue a public warning in the hope that the local authorities at Hazel will step in and see to it that such drivers no longer imperil the lives of innocent people.

Every day the newspapers are filled with stories of death and disaster resulting from reckless driving. At Mankato last week a family of eight people were annihilated. Every day from every section of the country come similar reports of mangled bodies under the wheels of railroad trains. In view of this situation it would seem high time that none were permitted to take such chances at a crossing which is so well exposed to view, and where it is plainly evident that an attempt is being made to "show off" the bravado of the man at the wheel.

Annual Elective Session of School Board Saturday

The annual election meeting of the school board for the coming year will take place Saturday evening, July 19, at the auditorium. The meeting will take place at seven and immediately following the business session, voting will begin. The polls are to be kept open an hour. The four men up for election are Scott Laird, V. C. Noper, C. M. Carlson and L. M. Rayson.

FLOYD B. OLSON TO SPEAK HERE JULY 21, 2 P.M.

Candidate for Governor on Farmer-Labor Ticket Is Touring State.

Thomas V. Sullivan, Attorney-General Nominee to Appear Also.

Floyd B. Olson, Farmer-Labor candidate for governor, and Thomas V. Sullivan, aspirant for the position of attorney-general on the same ticket, are scheduled to speak at Thief River Falls Monday, July 21 at 2 p.m. Both Mr. Olson and Mr. Sullivan are said to be speakers of unusual ability, classed by some as being among the best that Minnesota has produced in many years.

It is likely that these two speakers will be accompanied on their campaign by candidates for congress and other offices, and citizens in this locality should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing discussion of the different issues on the Farmer-Labor side of the fence. No doubt arguments of other party candidates will be presented in Thief River Falls as the campaign progresses, and it is the duty of every citizen to get out and acquire all the information he can.

Young Robber Begins Time Sentence in Reformatory

Fred Simpson, who was incarcerated in the local lockup last week after the robbery at the Cooperative meat market, was taken last Friday to Crookston, where his case was taken in hand by Judge William Watts. Due to the fact that nothing definite about the boy was learned from his home in Brandon, Manitoba, he was given a sentence not to exceed one year in the state reformatory in St. Cloud. He was taken there Monday to begin serving his sentence.

Committee to Meet With Business Men Next Week

The Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion has appointed a committee with Oscar Smith as chairman, Oscar Paulson and Francis Burns to meet with a committee of business men Thursday evening, July 24, in the Legion club rooms. This meeting will be held to arrange for a delegation to attend the Legion state convention to be held early in August at St. Cloud and to interest people in this city as the logical meeting place of the 1925 convention.

Mattison Family on Trip.

M. A. Mattison, associate editor of The Tribune, accompanied by his wife and five children, left bright and early last Thursday morning by car for Luverne and other southern Minnesota points. This part of the state was the Mattisons' home for many years and naturally they will find many interesting changes and have the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with old friends. They will be gone for about ten days or two weks.

Mayor to Address Community Club.

The Community club at Esplee will hold their second annual picnic on Thursday, July 24, at the Ballou farm northwest of the Chapman corner. Mayor Arneson is scheduled to address the club and other speakers are the county agent of Beltrami county and Commissioner Hays of that county.

Childish Law Enforcement

It seems the Industrial Commission of this state is making an effort to revive the Eliza Evans method of enforcement with reference to laws which pertain to the labor of minors.

Eliza Evans was a tall, angular, stern visaged woman who used to be in charge of welfare work for the state of Minnesota under the direction of the commissioner of labor. Eliza made everybody walk the chalk mark regardless of sex, color or previous condition of servitude. She had the state stirred up from center to circumference. At stated intervals she started out from the marble pile on Capitol hill with blood in her eye, and the way she made the small manufacturers, proprietors of peanut stands, steam laundries, soft drink parlors and waffle emporiums dance to her music would make a colored jazz band performer green with envy. No little town in the state escaped her wrathful entry when she started her pilgrimage and no establishment was too small for the application of her brand of law enforcement.

A couple weeks ago a lady whose name is Clinton, much more winsome than Evans, good to look upon as a matter of fact, (according to local observers) entered Thief River Falls for the purpose of looking up infractions of the state so-called welfare laws.

She discovered a boy under sixteen working at a soda fountain. The law says he must not work after supper. So he must quit his job. He likes his job and is satisfied with the hours which are far from being hard. His employer is satisfied. The boy's parents are satisfied. But the law says he must quit. He must loaf the streets or play pool evenings. The law, you understand, forbids this boy from making good use of his time—and such laws must be rigidly enforced, if for no other reason than providing work for an inspector.

Two girls are discovered working in a bakery during vacation. Their pay is slightly under the minimum wage established by law—by about thirty cents a week, we understand. As an offset the proprietor donates lunches during the week worth several dollars. The girls are satisfied. Their parents are satisfied. But the law must be obeyed even though the girls under such a system of law enforcement actually have their wages reduced. It is a great system but it provides work for a horde of useless inspectors. And it is the law, b'gosh.

There are other similar instances in this city where boys and girls were threatened with a loss of their jobs and employers threatened with arrest, but the above mentioned cases will serve to illustrate what is going on apparently with the sanction of the Industrial commission.

People are being annoyed in this manner every day in every nook and corner of the state by a system of childish law enforcement which was never contemplated by the men who passed the laws. Such laws are passed to protect minors from abuse by sweat shop employers. There are none such in the smaller villages and cities.

The people of Minnesota are sick and tired of this senseless interference on the part of its multitude of inspectors, and, as Ted Christianson so well stated in his remarks to the business men of the city in a recent speech, it is time to call a halt.

If the members of the Industrial Commission are devoid of common sense it is up to someone to inform them that if every state law and city ordinance on the statute books were enforced in the picayunish manner in which their inspectors are persecuting the people a riot would assuredly ensue in 24 hours.

DELEGATES MEET HERE THURSDAY

Banquet to Follow Morning Session at Oakland Park Sanatorium

About 50 visitors, representing 14 or 15 state sanatoriums and delegates from the state advisory commission will gather in this city Thursday, July 17, when the Minnesota State Sanatorium association holds its meeting here.

A noon luncheon and a number of talks on different subjects will be given at the Oakland Park sanatorium during the regular session opening at 9 o'clock in the morning. Dr. L. G. Guyer, Nopeming sanatorium, Nopeming, Minn.; Dr. A. J. Boquist, Glen Lake sanatorium, Oak Terrace, Minn., and Dr. R. L. Laney, Lake Julia sanatorium, Puposky, Minn., will be the chief speakers. The Commercial club will be host to the visitors that evening at a seven o'clock banquet to be served at the Hotel Brumund. Mayor J. S. Arneson will be toastmaster for the occasion.

Zeh and Curran Grocery Changes Hands This Week

As will be noticed by an announcement appearing on another page of The Tribune, the firm of Zeh and Curran on Third street is changing hands this week, and Ernest Zeh, son of Emil Zeh, whose death occurred recently, is taking over the store.

Mr. Curran announces that the change is made necessary on account of continued ill health, and the fact that he has not had a vacation in 17 years. No plans for the future have been made, but he intends to take a trip later on in the year.

Mr. Zeh intends to carry on the business on the same basis and with the same straight-forward policy to his patrons which was characteristic of his father and Mr. Curran during their many years of association in this city and no doubt will receive the excellent backing in patronage he deserves in his first business undertaking.

FAMOUS WRITER HERE ON VISIT

Sam Clark Was at One Time Publisher of Thief River Falls Press.

Sam Clark, at present publisher of "Follyology" and "Jim Jam Jems," two nationally known publications, and who began his career as a writer in this city when he published for a brief period the Thief River Falls Press, was a visitor in the city Monday, driving over from Grand Forks with Mr. P. R. Fields, manager of the International Harvester company in that city. Mr. Clark returned to Grand Forks yesterday after calling on a number of his old time cronies in the city and deeply regreted lack of time in which to call on all of them so he told The Tribune.

Since leaving Thief River Falls some seventeen years ago, Sam, who by the way, is also a lawyer, has been engaged in many enterprises and has seen much of the world. He owned for a time a Minot daily newspaper and became mayor of that city. During the world war he was probably the only American to see the inside of the famous "Hindenburg Line," and was taken by the famous German war lord in an armoured car to Constantinople. This was when Henry Ford sent his peace ship across the Atlantic. Mr. Clark, by the way, is one of Mr. Ford's closest friends, and often confers with the automobile manufacturer concerning matters of public policy.

Sam noted with satisfaction the changes which have taken place in Thief River Falls. "One of the finest in the Northwest," was his verdict and he also commented upon the splendid appearance of the farming territory adjacent to this city. "In my drive from Stephen and Warren, I could not help but notice the great change which has occurred," said Sam, "fine farms with substantial buildings and improvements." He said he had seen nothing finer anywhere in the Northwest and he expressed the idea that this section is due for a long period of prosperity.

While in the city he was entertained at the home of Don Gamble and many old time friends aware of his presence called to see him during the evening.

South Dakota Couple Die When Man Pilots Auto in Path of Soo Line Engine

Tuesday afternoon, July 15, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindell of Lepean, S. D., were killed when their car was struck by a Soo Line train at the Wheeler crossing two miles northwest of Detroit.

Lindell, about 50 years of age, started off on a side road at the crossing, and evidently deciding it to be the wrong way, backed up. Disregarding the approaching train entirely, he took the crossing and met instant death when the engine hit the car. Mrs. Lindell died a few minutes after reaching the Detroit hospital.

This places the rail crossing accidents in the Detroit region to eight fatalities.

Mrs. Zeh on Park Board.

Mrs. Emil Zeh has been selected by Mayor Arneson to succeed her husband, recently deceased, as a member of the city park board. Mrs. Zeh has actively interested herself in the park affairs of the city for many years owing to the activity of her husband in such matters, and it was her sympathetic interest in the recreational plots of the city which led the mayor to select her for the position.

CHRISTIANSON IS SPEAKER AT SUNDAY PICNIC

Many Northwestern Towns Send Delegates to Sons of Norway Picnic

Candidate Proves Drawing Card and Delivers Fine Address.

The picnic of Sons of Norway lodges which took place at Squaw Point last Sunday under the auspices of Snorre lodge of this city proved to be a highly enjoyable event and was participated in by lodge members and their wives from many points in the district. Delegates were noted from Grand Forks, Crookston, Gully, Gonvick, Erskine, Winger, Fosston and Oklee. It is estimated that the attendance was well over 2,000.

Amid ideal weather conditions the crowd began assembling early in the day. A grand stand had been improvised in the center of the picnic grounds, stands of various kinds having been arranged under the surrounding trees.

President Knudsen of Snorre lodge called the assemblage together and extended the welcome of Snorre lodge after which he introduced Mayor Arneson who handed over the keys of the city and bade the visiting delegates welcome on behalf of Thief River Falls.

Hon. Theodore Christianson delivered the address of the day, devoting himself to a discussion of the origin and exploits of the Nordic race. He paid a high compliment to men of character and brawn who blazed the way on prairie and through forest in the great Northwest, and named men of art, politics and literature who have reflected their measure of credit on Scandinavia. It was a thoughtful address which showed the speaker to be thoroughly familiar with his subject. Mr. Christianson is a forceful and convincing speaker. His bearing is that of a scholar and a statesman and he impressed the large audience last Sunday with his earnestness. He met many of the visiting delegates and it is conceded by all that his visit here resulted in many new friends for the candidate for governor on the Republican ticket. He drove here from Walker with Mrs. Christianson and after the speech left here by car for Park Rapids.

Splendid speeches were delivered by Bj. Bjornaraa, president of the Gully lodge, Thos. Vollom of Erskine, recent candidate for governor and Mr. Berget of Crookston. Several fine readings and impersonations were rendered by Miss Kolstue of Oklee, who was acorded liberal applause by the audience. Brage chorus sang several of their best selections and contributed in a large measure to the success of the picnic.

Reappoint Libraray Board Members.

Mesdames P. W. Mabey, Dan Shaw and L. G. Larsen, whose terms as members of the city Library board recently expired have been reappointed for the ensuing three years by Mayor Arneson. In sending the names to the council for confirmation the mayor made special reference to the excellent services rendered as members of the Library board by the women mentioned.

Mrs. LaGeske of Duluth, who has been visiting in this city at the home of her father, Hubert Holzknecht during the past week, left for her home in Duluth Saturday morning. She was accompanied to Duluth by her sister, Marion Holzknecht, who will be a guest at her home for a month.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK CONTROL CHANGES HANDS

C. L. Hansen Retires and Is Succeeded by J. W. Black of Minneapolis.

Reorganized Institution to Have Backing of Strong Concern

A business deal of prime importance to Thief River Falls and surrounding territory was consummated last week when C. L. Hansen disposed of his interest in the First National bank to the Marquette company of Minneapolis, a corporation composed of leading bankers of the Northwest. John W. Black, of the Marquette company, becomes president of the First National and the Merchants State Bank of St. Hilaire, which was included in the deal.

Mr. Black who thus succeeds to the interest of Mr. Hansen, is known all over the Northwest as a substantial and conservative business man. The fact that he has as his associates men whose names stand at the head of many of the larger financial institutions of the Northwest is in itself a guarantee of his character and integrity. Mr. Black served for two years as a director in the Federal Reserve bank. That he will bring to the First National renewed energy and prestige goes without saying and in all quarters it is considered a fortunate circumstance that Mr. Black should ally himself with the business interests of the city and country at this time. It is understood that Mr. Black, whose home is in Minneapolis, will make frequent trips to Thief River Falls and will in all respects maintain a close connection with the future of the First National.

Paul J. Wedge, who for the past five years has been cashier of the First National Bank of Miles City, Montana, has been elected a director and becomes vice-president of the institution. He arrived in the city yesterday and is now in active charge of the First National. His wife and three children will move here from Miles City some time before school opens.

Mr. Wedge is well equipped for the responsible position which he will occupy with the First National. He is a native of Minnesota, having spent his boyhood days in Plainview, Wabasha county. Mr. Wedge is a graduate of Carlton college and sti-

BUDDIES TO FILL IN THEIR BONUS BLANKS MONDAY

Local Legion Committee to Give All Possible Assistance to Vets.

Monday and Tuesday nights, July 21 and 22, are the dates on which every World War veteran in this vicinity should meet at the Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls and see to it that his adjusted compensation blank is completely filled in, finger prints taken, and the finished product started on the way to Washington.

The local post of the American Legion at its regular meeting last Thursday night made arrangements to take care of this matter, and it is intended that the work shall be done up in a hurry and in an entirely satisfactory manner. A committee consisting of Verner Nelson, Ted McGinn, Darby Anderson, Oscar Paulson, Francs Burns, Theo. Tandberg and Lawrence Hermanson, will be at the club rooms on the nights stated at 8 o'clock sharp, with typewriters and all other necessary paraphernalia to lend every assistance possible in helping the vets get their applications in shape. Attorneys H. O. Chommie and G. Howard Smith will be there to see that no errors slip in which might jeopardize passage when the applications reach the war department. T. P. Anderson, county auditor, who has already given much of his time to this work, has offered to give even further assistance in taking care of the boys. It is the desire of the post to have every available typewriter in town busy at this date and to have someone peckng away on each one of them. Therefore, in addition to the above named committee, the services of any person, male or female, who has a machine and is willing to put in an hour or so on Monday or Tuesday night, will be deply appreciated by the Legion.

A systematic method will be used

"Super-power" Is Here in the Central Northwest

"Superpower" is a new word not yet well understood. It means simply interconnected power sources—water power and steam plants—and transmission systems.

In the Central Northwest the "superpower" idea is well advanced. It has greatly benefited the people by carrying service to hundreds of communities not previously supplied and by keeping down electric rates during a period of high prices for nearly everything else.

The above map gives an imperfect idea of what has already been accomplished by Northern States Power Company.

Twenty-four water power plants and 22 steam-electric plants are in this system. There are 5,500 miles of transmission and distributing lines. The total generating capacity is more than 300,000 horsepower to which 80,000 horsepower will be added by the new High Bridge steam-electric station.

Interconnection means better and more widespread service, increased use of the great amount of capital invested, and reasonable rates.

All these facts mean much to the investor. They add further safety to an already safe and productive investment.

You can share in the "superpower" development by joining us as a financial partner. More than 35,000 shareholders can testify as to the regularity of dividend payments and the generally satisfactory character of the investment.

Black Cats and Luck.

The reason why black cats should be held to bring luck is not apparent at first, for they were regarded as the spirits of witches, and witches were burnt alive when caught. The truth is that they were undoubtedly held to represent evil spirits that might bring ill-luck, but if an evil spirit walked harmlessly into your house and was disposed to accept a saucer of milk in the most friendly way, it was a sign that he would do you no harm.

Fine shower again yesterday. Just enough of rain and plenty of sunshine to make everything look grand and glorious. Let us all give thanks to God for living in the greatest country on earth.

Men who consider themselves chivalrous and brave do things which are most cowardly and despicable when under the influence of moonshine. This seems to be the case in Thief River Falls and every other place where the dirty poison is being peddled.

The editorial fraternity mourn the death of Editor D. C. Lightbourne of the Ada Index, whose demise occurred last week. Mr. Lightbourne was a native of Minnesota and was 64 years of age. He was held in high asteem in Norman county where he held many positions of trust.

Sam Clark, whose visit here is mentioned in the news columns of The Tribune, says Thief River Falls is the best looking town in the Northwest. Sam is some traveler, is also a keen observer, besides being possessed of good judgment, and his appraisal so kindly expressed fills us with glee. (Crookston papers please copy.)

The city of Thief River Falls is the only town in the Northwest which has any extensive building program going on within its borders. Indications point to confidence in the future of the city on the part of the business men—and that is a barometer which may safely be followed by citizens in every walk of life.

Sportsmen who will soon convene at Park Rapids will ask the governor to open the prarie chicken season this fall. Another element will ask that the deer season may be closed. There is some sense to the latter but we trust the governor will pay no heed to the former request. Give the chickens a rest for a season and put off extermination of these birds that much longer.

A Soo Line engineer states that auto drivers have recently had some narrow escapes near Hazel. These things occur as a rule on Saturday morning following the Friday night dances at Hazel. Looks very much like the effects of moonshine. It is inevitable, says this engineer, that someone will get killed unless the practice is discontinued. Too bad. Respectable young folks will take warning, we trust, and refuse to indulge in flirtations with death.

The St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press is running a series of feature articles by former Congressman Frank M. Eddy, dealing with former political campaigns in Minnesota. Frank probably carries around in his cranium more interesting data concerned with this subject than any other ten men in the state, and the best part of it is that he can reduce the details to writing in better style than any other living Minnesotan. We should much prefer going without our Sunday dinner than missing any of these snappy stories.

Complaint over the loose manner in which liquor violators serving jail sentences in various parts of the state have been allowed liberties by sheriffs in chorgee of certain county jails, has aroused federal authorities to action, and it would not be surprising if some of the offending sheriffs found themselves looking for new jobs in the near future. If the facts are as stated, and we think they are all of that, such sheriffs ought to be fired without ceremony. Better law enforcement is the crying need of the hour and it ought not be possible for any county officer to set at naught the good work of the federal judges in ridding Minnesota of men who make a living by selling poison to their neighbors.

The Tribune overlooked mention of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Fairmont Sentinel by Frank Day. The Sentinel was established on July 3, 1874, and except for brief intervals when he fell from grace to hold political office, Frank Day has been its editor. In many respects the Sentinel editor is the most unique figure of Minnesota newspaper circles. As tender hearted as a baby, as sentimental as a school girl, this same Frank Day can roar like a lion. If you don't believe it, just mention John Barleycorn to him. He is often wrong, but always fair, and his friendship is highly prized by all who know him. Frank Day, and none other, made John A. Johnson the best beloved and most widely known governor Minnesota ever had. Dear old Frank Day, with all your human faults, we see only your heart of pure gold, and here is wishing you many years of service in a profession which you have graced as none other.

Officers of the Commercial club are trying hard enough to keep the organization alive but it is an uphill job. What's the matter with everybody putting a shoulder to the wheel. The county fair will soon be on, the state fair is important because we shall again send a Pennington county farmer delegation to view it as our guests. We want a beet sugar factory here. We ought to have a woolen mill. And do not forget, gentlemen, that being everlastingly on the job is the only way to get any of these things.

A scientist says legs will entirely disappear during the next century due to the habit people have of riding instead of walking. For the sake of the bald headed row we hope the scientist is mistaken.

A good farmer told The Tribune yesterday that he doesn't worry a great deal about this being a good corn season. He says he can raise sunflowers aplenty in any kind of a season, and he claims the plant makes a feed which equals corn in every respect. This farmer claims he can increase a hog's weight more rapidly with sunflower rations than with corn, clover, alfalfa or anything else. He says it's no idle theory with him. He did it last year and can do it again, and to prove that he means business he is getting ready to plant twenty acres to sunflowers next week.

THE LEGION CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the local post of the American Legion last Thursday evening a committee of Legion boys was appointed to meet with a committee of business men with a view to arriving at some decision regarding the state convention for the year 1925. The meeting of last week was advertised as one at which every interested business man in the city should meet to discuss the matter with members of the local post. If the attendance of business men at this meeting is to be taken as a measure of enthusiasm of Thief River Falls people in getting the convention for this city, then the idea might as well be given up at once, as very few showed up. However, the committee has taken the matter in hand once more and is working in conjunction with several representative business men, as it is believed that Thief River Falls people really would like to have the convention here but as yet do not realize the importance of getting to work immediately. Another meeting has been called for Thursday night, July 24, and the attendance of business men will determine in a large measure whether or not the convention will be held in this city. The meeting will bring from 5,000 to 7,000 people to Thief River Falls and it is no small job to handle an undertaking of this kind. It's a city's job, one that requires cooperation between every business and resident in our city. Let everyone come down to the Legion meeting Thursday night, July 24, and see that the thing goes over big. The Tribune believes that the 1925 convention of the American Legion will put Thief River Falls on the map as a convention city.

MANY VETERANS SECURE RELIEF UNDER NEW ACT

The liberalizing features of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, more commonly known as the Reed-Johnson act, approved by the President on the last day of the recent session of congress, are bringing relief to thousands of veterans of the late war, according to a statement made today by General Frank T. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans bureau.

"We are putting the new provisions into effect as rapidly as practicable," said Director Hines. "When the full effects of the act are felt, I believe the veterans will receive a full measure of desired aid from the U. S. government."

The World War Veterans Act, 1924, is the result of a desire on the part of the officials of the U. S. Veterans bureau, representatives of veteran organizations, and of the congress itself, to remove the flaws that have appeared in the previous relief acts, to enlarge upon the relief functions of the bureau and to codify the laws affecting veterans of the late war.

There is probably no feature of the act more outstanding than that which provides hospitalization in government hospitals and necessary traveling expenses in the case of any veteran of any war or expedition since 1897, who has not been dishonorably discharged from the service, and who is in need of hospitalization, without regard to the nature or origin of his disabilities. Preferance, however, will be given to those veterans who are financially unable to pay for hospitalization and necessary traveling expenses. This provision is one that will appeal to every world war veteran as an example of the gratitude the nation feels towards its soldiers.

Those veterans suffering from active tuberculosis will be especially interested in the feature of the act which provides that where this disease appears before January 1, 1925, developing a 10 per cent degree of disability, it shall be conclusively presumed that it is of service connection. Such disabilites as neuro-psychiatric disease, paralysis, agitations, encephalitis legthargica, and amoebic dysentery, developing a 10 per cent disability before January 1, 1925, have been given a rebuttable presumption of service connection. It is estimated that these provisions will provide compensation and hospitalization to many veterans who before the passage of the act had been unable to connect their disability with service.

The new act gives to the director the right to delegate to the subdistrict offices certain powers which were previously restricted to the central office and the regional offices with the object of making awards of vocational training and of compensation and ratings of disability as quickly and conveniently as possible and at the place where the examinations are made.

For those entitled to vocational training, an important feature of the new act is that providing that the test of rehabilitation is to be employability and that the trainee is entitled to maintenance and support allowance for two months after this condition has been reached. No course in vocational training will be commenced after June 30, 1925; nor incompleted training extended after June 30, 1926.

Several new insurance features have been provided. Under the provision preventing lapsation of insurance where the veteran is entitled to uncollected compensation and becomes permanently and totally disabled or dies, insurance may be paid in the amount that the uncollected compensation would purchase.

All term insurance shall cease on July 2, 1926, except where death or total permanent disability shall have occurred before July 2, 1926. Where term insurance has matured by reason of total and permanent disability, and such total and permanent disability has ceased, the insured, while required to renew payments on term insurance, will have two years from the date he is required to renew payments of premiums, in which to convert the term insurance even though this might extend beyond the period in which term insurance would otherwise have to be converted.

The benefits of the new act are limited to those who suffer from disability or injury that can be connected with service between the declaration of war, April 6, 1917, and the peace resolution of July 2, 1921.

The former requirement that the disease must have been incurred "in line of duty" has been stricken out, but the requirement that such disease or injury be not the result of wilful misconduct has been retained.

Members of the National Guard, called into Federal service, who became disabled or who died before being accepted and enrolled for active service, are placed in the same status as men inducted by local draft boards.

M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL FIGHT TO BE CONTINUED

After forming a permanent organization to represent to congress the McNary-Haugen bill and to further promote the interests of the American farmer, the National Agricultural Relief congress, in session in St. Paul last Friday and Saturday, adjourned late Saturday.

The resolutions as passed at the closing session comprised chiefly the two main issues mentioned in the original call—renewed support of the McNary-Haugen bill and a centralized national farm group.

Efforts to broaden the scope of the organization at present were branded on the floor as "premature."

The convention [illegible] table a motion presented by [illegible] Manahan of St. Paul, representing the Equity Cooperative Exchange, which called for specific legislation demanding reduction of freight rates.

It was the consensus of opinion expressed on the floor of the convention that the greatest importance attaches to promoting the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill and that if the farmer gains that end he will have at least paved the way for permanent congressional recognition.

The conference created the American Council of Agriculture "to do that which shall be necessary and advisable to secure enactment by congress of legislation embodying the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill and thus secure for American agriculture equality with industry and labor."

George N. Peek of Moline, Ill., representing the Rock Island Farm bureau, was elected first president of the council by acclamation when Frank W. Murphy of Wheaton, Minn., refused to run in opposition to the Illinois man.

Other officers named are: Lieutenant Governor Carl Gunderson of Mitchell, S. D., representing the South Dakota Wheat Growers association, vice president; R. A. Cowles of Bloomington, Ill., director of finance and treasurer of the Illinois Agriculture association, secretary and John R. Mitchell, St. Paul, banker, treasurer.

Classing himself as "one of the great army of unemployed," President Peek, who formerly was connected with a Rock Island farm implement firm, in his speech of acceptance, said the legislation provided in the McNary-Haugen bill was a question of national policy as to whether "we are going to retain the institution of the American farmer or make him a peasant for the benefit of industry."

He pledged himself to the conference "that just so long as this great injustice prevails to American agriculture I shall do my very best to promote the interests of the farmer in solving the emergency."

Resolutions adopted provide:

Endorsement of farmers' cooperative marketing associations as "essence of cooperation and bring into being the necessary instrumentality for permanent and successful marketing of farm commodities."

Favoring orderly marketing of grain "through farm controlled cooperative agencies throughout and discouraging speculative buying of grain by farmer elevator companies."

Recommendation of a "greater harmony of purpose and action in the operation of cooperative livestock commission companies at the various stock yards in which premises such splendid progress has been made during the last two years."

Urging "all carload feeders throughout the country to henceforth consign all their livestock to a cooperative commission company and even so, we recommend the immediate establishment of a farmers' livestock shipping association at all points where such associations are not in operation at this time and where the movement of livestock justifies such agencies."

Sanctioning as "our first objective the undisputed control at the earliest possible moment of the central grain and livestock markets—for this control is overwhelmingly vital to the successful operation of producers' contracts as applied to these commodities."

Recommending "rewarding those those who supported the McNary-Haugen bill in congress without the slightest regard to the party label."

Approved the pledge "to be exacted from all candidates for congress whether in the house or senate that they pledge themselves to vote for and faithfully support legislation that will give agriculture equality with industry and labor and in line with the spirit of the McNary-Haugen bill."

Supplemental resolutions provided that "this conference and organizations here represented express their appreciation of the signal service rendered by the department of agriculture under the sincere and able leadership of Henry C. Wallace." that the council "give special consideration to the problems surrounding the cotton producers and to this end invite their friendly cooperation" since the McNary bill did not receive the support of the cotton states generally," and that the secretary write to each member of congress who supported the McNary-Haugen bill expressing the appreciation of all farm organizations of the United States."

Under the membership clause of the organization plan it is provided that "the membership of this council shall consist of group membership" and that "any agricultural organization or association within the United States" be admitted.

Immediately after the election of officers, George C. Jewett, chairman of the conference, appointed a committee of 13 on membership in the American Council of Agriculture, which included Frank W. Murphy, Wheaton, Minn., representing the Northwest campaign committee for promotion of the McNary-Haugen bill; George C. Lambert, St. Paul, representing the equity Cooperative exchange; and George E. Duis, of Grand Forks, representing the North Dakota Wheat Growers' association.

The first annual meeting of the council, together with the president, secretary, treasurer and vice president, who will act as ex-officio members, will be held on the second Tuesday in February, according to the constitution adopted. The place of meeting has not as yet been named, but in view of the meetings of several national farm organizations scheduled for that month in Washington, it will probably be at the national capitol, organization leaders said.

Hundred Miles an Hour Birds Fly Day without Stop

Flying at a rate of a hundred miles an hour, some birds can continue on the wing for a day without stopping. The vulture, it is said, can travel great distances at this speed and often stays in the air for a full day of flight. Many wild ducks and similar fowl attain almost as great speeds when migrating, while, among smaller birds, the swallow has been known to reach ninety miles an hour and to keep up that speed for long stretches.

The eagle, despite its strength and big wings, seldom flies as fast as a mile a minute. The crow, though seeming to be a slow mover in flight, makes about twenty-five miles an hour, and the carrier pigeon does an average of sixty miles in the same time. The tiny sparrow can travel at twenty miles an hour but only for very short distances. The wild goose does one hundred for hours without appearing to slacken its pace during the entire time it is flying.

Removing Stuck Bullets

A lead bullet stuck in a rifle barrel can be easily removed in the following way: Get a piece of wire of the kind and size used for barrel hoops and long enough to reach the bullet from the chamber end of the barrel. Flatten one end of the wire by hammering it out cold, forming it to a blunt point like a flat drill, and file the edges sharp, rounding off the corners to fit the bore. If a breast drill is handy the wire is tightened in the chuck and the bullet drilled out. If a carpenter's brace is used it is necessary first to flatten the end of the wire to fit the chuck snugly. As lead is very soft it is a matter of only a few moments to drill out the bullet. The rifle should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled before firing a loaded cartridge.

Missionary Gives Interesting Glimpses of Foreign Lands. Life In India and Palestine.

Wednesday afternoon of last week Miss Clara Bjoland arrived in this city from a seven year sojourn as a missionary in India, her time being chiefly spent in Viramgam teluka, or county, which is about 300 miles north of Bombay in the plains country of Gujarat.

India is a land of mixed tongues. There are 33 different languages not to mention about 150 dialects spoken by the 320,000,000 people dwelling in this land which is about as large as the United States east of the Rocky mountains. Miss Bjoland spent two years in the city of Ahmedabad learning the Gujarati language which is spoken by some 12,000,000 people.

The Gujarat country has been especially noted in the old days for its embroideries in gold and silver. Besides this industry the people are engaged in rug making and also make fine woolen shawls, so fine that they can be drawn through a ring, and shawls of silk. They also embroider on different materials, silks, the cashmere cloth and velvet.

The people are most hospitable and even the humblest will offer his last crumb to a stranger who happens to be his guest.

In the city of Ahmedabad live 274,000 people and this is the home of Mahatmah Ghandhi, the home rule advocator, who has been the leader in politics there the past few years.

According to Miss Bjolsnd, Ghandhi is really a very great man, but one ahead of his time. The masses are as yet uneducated and if home rule were granted the higher cast people would undoubtedly create a system so severe that the lower casts would become the virtual slaves they were before the coming of the British. One of the leader's teachings is that the untouchable system whereby one of a high caste by so much as touching one of the lower caste became defiled, should be done away with. If this can ever be brought about, home rule might stand some show of success as the different classes would possess a bond of sympathy in their equality. As conditions are now, religion and custom would prove a gulf too wide and deep for any understanding to be reached for mutual good in government.

Recently Ghandhi was released from prison where he was lodged when last year's riots took place. However, this had simply made him appear as a martyr to the cause in his "fight for the poor" and he is looked upon almost as a god. Under a quiet surface a spirit of unrest is noticeable throughout the country as in most other countries of the world through which Miss Bjoland passed on her way home this spring.

After her student years in Ahmedabad, Mis Bjoland was sent by the Christian Missionary Alliance to Viramgem, a city of 26,000 people about 50 miles west of the former place and with this city as her station she visited some 300 villagers in the surrounding country. During the past year she was enabled to visit 150 villages in a new field due to the gift of a small car for which she was very grateful and which was presented by friends in this country.

Viramgam teluka is unique in that it is composed mostly of high caste people such as farmers and merchants and is comparatively wealthy. The country is rolling plains and the soil very rich. Cotton, wheat and some native grains form the chief crops.

Many of the people are also employed in the weaving mills of which the city of Viramgam has two which are very large.

There is also a large salt deposit which is worked under government supervision. Being low and near the seacoast, the climate is depressing to a foreigner, their cool months, from November until the end of April, being somewhat like our summer months. During this time Miss Bjoland spent practically all of her time outside, traveling from one village to another. Her work in Virgamgan was done during the hot season, from the last part of April through the month of June, and the rainy season, beginning generally in June and lasting through August.

There is no jungle land in the teluka of Viramgam, although a short ways from there tigers have been known to appear. However, to make up for this lack, there are any number of different families of snakes from the cobra de capello to a pleasant little thing about two inches long which although set on the idea of biting the reporter was informed did not ALWAYS kill. These were very friendly by nature also and insist upon huma habitations as the nicest places to have their nests. They are also possessed of a love for the high places and dote on crawling up to the rafters where they invariably doze off and of course lose their hold. Anytime at all, one might be in the midst of a brown study and enjoying oneself immensely—zzzzip, kerflop—and find oneself gazing at a live study of a wild snake in full possession of its faculties and a large supply of the choicest poison. The little two inch variety (unnameable) also relishes hide-and-seek and put-and-take: getting into any little corner or under any old newspaper laying around and letting one pick up the article when a flirty little bite would announce that one had been taken in again.

On April first, having completed her first seven years of service, Miss Bjoland was granted an extended furlough and began her journey to the home of her mother in this city.

Leaving Bombay that day she arrived in Suez 11 days later. She reported the Red Sea as much cooler than was expected and passing northward, the party viewed Mount Sinai standing above the lower level of the hills. Missing the train to Jerusalem the party spent a day visiting Cairo where they saw many of the ornaments and much of the household furniture which was recently found in the tomb of Tutankhamen. All that they saw was very beautiful being, for the most part, either constructed of ivory, or ebony and gold inlaid.

Because it was nearing the Easter season, room was almost impossible to get in the train and few seats were available as everyone in the country seemed bound for Jerusalem. However, the crowds were very good natured and the 12 hour journey was filled with music and song and laughter. While in the city, Miss Bjoland visited the school which the Christian Alliance controls, also the church of the Holy Sepulchre which is used by all the Eastern Christian churches for the Easter services. This church is wonderfully decorated and has the supposed tomb of the Savior within it in an exquisite marble room which is hung with hundreds of gold and silver lamps. However, because of the immense number of people going to the services she felt it useless to try to attend Easter worship. Miss Bjoland also visited the Wailing Place where the Jews go every Friday to pray, going from there to Golgotha, of the Hill of Skulls. At the base of this hill is the tomb now generally accepted as the real tomb of Jesus. The Garden of Gethsemane and Mount of Olives were lovely as the cool season was in, making it the best time of the year in which to visit Palestine. While in the Holy Land, the Dead sea also was visited, Bethlehem, the River Jordan, the plains of Hebron and Capernaum. The atmosphere about the Dead Sea was very depressing, reminding the visitors of India a great deal and they were glad to leave. Passing the Jordan, they saw a number of Greek pilgrims in bathing, wearing the conventional white robes of purification. The Jordan was rather disappointing, it proved so small and dirty. Bethlehem proved to be rather disappointing and incongruous as it had the appearance of every other little oriental town and just when one was soaking up atmosphere and getting into the right spirit around the corner would whoop an auto with a load of tourists bent on seeing everything in so many minutes seemingly.

Upon return to Port Said, a five day boat trip was taken to Naples which was made the center point for a visit to Pompeii and Mount Vesuvius. The trip to the ruins took about two hours and on the way the still, for the most part, unexcavated ruins of Herculeaneam were pointed out from the train. Upon arrival, it was found that nearly all of Pompeii has been uncovered and many wonderful buildings, statuary and paintings were seen by the party. The roads were paved with stone and ever so often an immense flat rock above the level of the road was noticed. This was said to form a stepping stone from one side walk to the other during the rainy season.

The Romans seemed to have been rather oriental in their love of color as most of the paintings seen were in brilliant pinks, greens and blues.

The homes seemed to have been sparsely furnished as to furniture, but ornamentation was lovely. Birds, men and animals were the chief models for these and there were a great number of battle scenes. A very large number of wall carvings were noticed also. In the museum they also saw a number of petrified articles, a woman lying with her face pressed to the ground, a man with a bound foot, evidently invalids who could not escape from the city. There was also shown a dog in a pose that suggested knawing at the chain which bound him to the kennel. Little articles such as pieces of meat, bread and any number of small fruits were also seen which had been preserved by the flowing, molten rock.

A cable car was taken from Naples to a station near the summit of Mount Vesuvius. From here guards led the party to the edge of the old cone. Looking down into this, the party saw the new mouth which is in the form of conical hill from which rumbles of thunder ascend continually and from which dense smoke pours. Ever so often to the accompaniment of a deeper rumble, flames jet forth from the mouth making a most beautiful as well as awe inspiring sight.

After a visit in Rome where they went through St. Peters and the Vatican galleries, the party traveled to Florence where they visited the Ufizzi art gallery and on to Milan and Venice. Venice, as is well known has few streets and these are mostly composed of bridges according to Miss Bjoland. What does not go to make up the end or beginning of a bridge seems to be a sort of porch attached to some building. Leaving here, the party traveled by way of Lucerne, Switzerland, to Paris, where among other things, they saw the tomb of Napoleon and marvelouus painting of figures of the last war called the War Pantheon. The tomb of Napoleon is of stone, very large and windows are so placed that a shaft of light always centers upon it. The War Pantheon was painted by Pierre Carrier-Belleuse and August-Francois Gorguet, two noted French artists, with the aid of other noted French painters. It consists of several panels of figures, nationally and internationally known because of work they had accomplished or deeds they had done during the war. The differnt nations are shown with their individual heroes, figures so reealistic they seem in some way really statues. United States is represented by a picture of the war president, Woodrow Wilson, standing below a center pedestal of marble which is surmounted by a bust of George Washington. The various state executives are shown grouped around him while a cowboy, a business man and a farmer lad led by a West Point cadet pass in review. An Indian in full head dress feathers and bead decorated costume sits on the platform nearby with a gun.

According to Miss Bjoland much of the land and homes passed on the way to Paris still showed the effect of war, the buildings being simply shells and great holes in the earth showing where bombs had torn up the land. However, much reconstruction work is being done.

Upon her arrival in London a few days later, she visited the British Empire exhibition now being held at Wembley.

This exhibition is designed to display the natural resources of the various countries within the British Empire and the activities, industrial and social, of their peoples. This fair is so vast that it is impossible to describe it shortly. For a visitor to attend just one was simply stupifying. It might be comparable, possibly, with trying to watch every act simultaneously in a 16 ring circus. India was represented at the Park by an exhibition building modeled after the Taj Mahal. One of thee odd things she noticeed while in the park was a statute made of butter and representing thee Prince of Wales standing beside a favorite mount.

After visiting the world famous gallery of wax statues called Madame Tussaud's the party left for Norway. They arrived toward the end of May, but found the year as backward there as everywhere, snow still being visible in spots. A political unrest is noticeable there and there have been many strikes according to Miss Bjoland, but it has been succeeded by a short quiet. A three weeks visit there, in Christiana and Bergen was followed by the trip to the United States and her arrival here last week, Wednesday. She expects to remain here with her mother, Mrs. I. Bjoland until next year, returning to India sometime in the fall.

Mr. Murray was doing some work near his place when the three men drove up in an automobile. One of the men got out of the car and came to him with a bottle, offering him a drink. The company intends to get out sufficient raw material this fall to keep a crew at work all winter stripping and trimming the mica for shipment. The west half of the ground floor of the Masonic block has been leased and will be used for a work room. There will be about 20 people employed in the preparation of the mica. His wife is a former Red River valley girl, Kathryn Buchnan of St. Thomas, N. D., so that the move to Thief River Falls is a good deal like coming home according to the statement of Mr. Wedge. Except for the changes above noted the personnel of the First National will remain unchanged. Mr. Thronson will remain as cashier and the local directors will continue to serve as before. According to the statement of Mr. Wedge it will be the policy of the First National to confine itself strictly to the banking business along conservative lines.

Mr. Hansen retires at this time from the institution which he built up to one of the strongest in the Northwest, owing to ill health. He plans to comply with this order and may go abroad for a period. He will make his definite plans for the future after that, and it is not unlikely that he will continue to make this city his permanent home. He has been identified with the growth and development of this section to an extent wich has made his name known all over the Northwest.

He retires with the best wishes of the people of this community and it is the expressed wish of his many friends that he may fully recover his health and again become a leader in the community and civic activities of the city.

Inez Bergstrom Injured.

Sunday afternoon, Inez Bergstrem, 12, daughter of H. Bergstrom, 219 Kendall avenue south, was injured when the front wheels of a car driven by F. F. Haynes struck her.

The child was coming out of the Eastside drug store and started to cross the street, her father's car being parked there. Mr. Haynes was coming from the bridge, driving slowly, but not seeing the girl soon enough, was unable to stop his car until the front wheels had knocked her down, bruizing her slightly and causing a shock from which she was some time in recovering. She was unconscious when taken to the Swedenberg hospital, but later recovered and was taken to her home Monday morning.

Attend District Convention.

A delegation representing Snorre Lodge of Sons of Norway, composed of President Bernhard Knudsen, L. H. Larson and John Linde, left last evening on the Soo Line flyer for Albert Lea, Minn., where they go to attend a district convention of Sons of Norway lodges. Three states are embraced in the district which holds its meeting at Albert Lea, namely, Minnesota, South Dakota and Iowa.

Following the Albert Lea meeting the members will attend the Grand lodge meeting which convenes the following week at Racine, Wisconsin. The Albert Lea meeting will take place on Thursday and Friday of this week. Bj. Bjornaraa of Hickory, president of the Gully lodge, will leave this evening with the Thief River Falls contingent.

Rev. Albin Larson of this city, accompanied by nine students of the North Star College at Warren went to Bemidji Wednesday of last week and gave a very well received concert of solos, duets and groups of songs, according to the Bemidji Sentinel. The program was given in the Bethel Lutheran church Wednesday evening. Rev. Larson also giving an addres at the same time. The group returned here on the following day.

Picture of Contrast Is "The Call of the Canyon"

The inspiring contrast between traffic-crowded streets in New York and magnificent open spaces of mountainous Arizona are shown in a manner never before presented on the screen in "The Call of the Canyon," a paramount picture adopted from Zana Gray's latest novel, which will be on view at the Princess theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Gray is said to have accomplished one of the greatest achievements of his career in this novel.

The picture retains the spirit of the story. The scenes in Arizona described in the story, were used as a background for the picture as was the case in filming "To the Last Man," the first of Mr. Grey's stories to be picturized for Paramount.

MANY SIGN FOR POULTRY DRIVE

Three Days' Work Results in Reaching Over Half of Quota Set.

The membership campaign begun Monday of this week by the Thief River Valley Cooperative Poultry Producers Association, in which they set a goal of 1,000 members, is already over half accomplished and at the end of the week the committee should see an over the top membership an easy possibility as there are still many places to visit. Mr. [illegible] Norby who is in charge of the drive announces much enthusiasm from everyone and is confident that the goal will be well in sight by the end of the week.

Stuart McCloud is in charge of the vicinity around Goodridge and Mrs. William Vaughan is successfully handling the country around Highlanding. The Middle River district is adding a large number of signers under the leadership of Elmer Tandberg, while Holt and Strathcona are being canvassed by Peter [illegible]. County Agent J. W. Taylor is in charge of Greenbush and Roseau as well as all of Roseau county. C. P. Johnson is in charge of Lancaster and Mr. Dahlgren at Newfolden. T. P. Anderson aided the association Monday by a visit at Wylie while Mr. Norby and Olaf Neset held a meeting at Viking. Today (Wednesday), Mr. Norby will be in Oklee and this evening will meet Mr. Neset and go to Grygla where they will hold a meeting. Red Lake county is also to be canvassed this week, but the territory is so large the men may not be able to cover all of it in which case the drive will be continued next week.

in order to expedite the work. Several persons in one corner of the room will fill out the front side of the blank, someone in another part of the building will take care of the back side, and in still another department there will be facilities for taking finger prints which will be used for identification in Washington.

Attention is called to the necessity of getting this work done immediately. The compensation bill provides that in the event of a veteran's dying before application is made for his adjusted compensation, the beneficiary will be able to collect only the cash value of his policy, which means that about two-thirds of the otherwise full-valued policy will be lost.

The committee in charge ask that all service men bear this meeting in mind and not to be "straglers."

Mrs. John Fellman and son Winton, left Wednesday morning for Clearbrook where they will visit for a week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lerson.

Commercial Club Notes.

The dues for the last half of the year were due July 1. If every member will send his check directly to the secretary, it will save a lot of work in his office.

There will be no regular luncheon of the club this coming Thursday. Instead there will be a banquet at 7:00 at the Brumund hotel, given to the members of the sanatorium commission who have a meeting here next Thursday.

There will be no luncheon a week from Thursday, July 24, which is the day for the visit of the citizens and farmers to the State Farm school at Crookston.

The agricultural committee of the Commercial club are devising plans for selecting the men who will go as guests of the Commercial club to the state fair this fall. It will be recalled that last year ten men were sent as guests of the club.

Nels [illegible] of the Industrial committee, is corresponding with some parties from Montana who are looking for a location for a pea canning factory.

All citizens who are interested in securing the state convention of the American Legion for 1925 are requested to meet at the Legion club rooms at 8 p.m., July 24, to make arrangements and definite plans for sending a committee with a committee of the Legion members to St. Cloud where the convention is held this year.

At last Thursday's meeting the Commercial club went on record as favoring the buying of flags by each business house to be displayed on all occasions of festivity in the city. A committee will shortly call upon each merchant. The cost will be a little less than $5.00 for each flag, including holder and sticks.

Because of the lack of room at the Brumund hotel, only fifty people can be accomodated at the seven o'clock banquet tendered the visiting Sanatorium delegates Thursday evening and everyone wishing to attend this affair is advised to get their tickets as early as possible from Mr. Brumund.

Commercial Club Notes.

Next Thursday, July 24, has been declared official visiting day at Crookston and the Commercial club with those wishing to go, will leave here at 9:30 a.m. passing through St. Hilaire and Red Lake Falls. The farmers are requested to register at the creamery and to take along luncheon. Coffee and cream will be served free.

Visits Sister.

Mrs. A. L. Amundson returned to her home in Roseau Friday after spending a week in this city visiting her sister, Mrs. H. G. Gustafson at her home on Riverside avenue.

Picnic Dinner.

Mrs. Anna Dock and Mrs. C. Christenson of Minneapolis were chaperones Tuesday at a picnic dinner and swimming party at the Hinton Camp given by Miss Phyllis Dock to a few of her girl friends. A most enjoyable time was spent, the group returning to their homes here late in the day.

A whole town destroyed in a spectacular battle which brought lasting peace to the great plains—the strife of primitive men for a great patriotic cause—an epic in national progress.

This is the spectacle of "The Heritage of the Desert," an adaptation of Zane Gray's famous story which has been produced as a Paramount picture, due at the Princess theatre next Sunday and Monday. The battle is for water rights—the thing which turns the blistering heat of the desert into an earthly paradise of fertility. This fight started 45 years ago, is still being carried on today. Seven states are waging a legal conflict at Washington for possession of water rights to the upper Colorado river in Southern Utah.

Hundreds of players, including a tribe of Navajo Indians, lend picturesque to this picture. A cavalcade of 300 persons traveled on horseback from Flagstaff into these beautiful locations 150 miles to record this great phase in American history upon the screen. They suffered the same hardships as the people they imitated braving desert heat and passing along roads built along the sheer face of canyons.

The story deals with the fight between honest pioneers and desert badmen for the possession of water rights of the Colorado river. August Naah, a patriarch of the desert, lives with his followers in an oasis, while ranged against him are Holderness and his gang who occupy the fortified town of White Sage. The quarrel is advanced to open warfare when Jack Hare, a tenderfoot who had been driven out of White Sage, is befriended by August Naab.

Naab has a son, Snap and an adopted daughter, Mecal, whom he hopes will eventually marry. Jack Hare, however, becomes a rival of Snap for the affections of Mescal. Meanwhile the girl falls into the hands of the Holderness gang. When Snap goes to reclaim her, he is killed by Holderness. Enraged by the murder of his boy, Naab calls his followers together and rides down upon White Sage. As allies, he has a tribe of Navajo Indians. The town is fired and, in a spectacular battle, Holderness is killed and the menace to the peace of the desert wiped out. Mescal is rescued from her captors by Jack Hare and for a space a new era of peace settles down upon this great wilderness.

August Naah has a great vision of the future—a vision which has today come to pass with the harness of the waters of the Colorado for irrigation.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of DEL MONTE Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other ways. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

A whole town destroyed in a spectacular battle which brought lasting peace to the great plains—the strife of primitive men for a great patriotic cause—an epic in national progress.

This is the spectacle of "The Heritage of the Desert," an adaptation of Zane Gray's famous story which has been produced as a Paramount picture, due at the Princess theatre next Sunday and Monday. The battle is for water rights—the thing which turns the blistering heat of the desert into an earthly paradise of fertility. This fight started 45 years ago, is still being carried on today. Seven atates are waging a legal conflict at Washington for possesaion of water rights to the upper Colorado river in Southern Utah.

Hundreds of players, including a tribe of Navajo Indians, lend picturesque to thia picture. A cavalcade of 300 persona traveled on horseback from Flagstaff into theae beautiful locations 150 miles to record thia great phase in American history upon the screen. They suffered the same hardships as tbe people they imitated braving desert heat and passing along roads built along the sheer face of canyons.

The story deals with the fight between honest pioneers and desert badman for the possession of water rights of the Colorado river. August Naab, a patriarch of the desert, lives with his followers in an oasis, while ranged against him are Holderness and his gang who occupy the fortified town of White Sage. The quarrel is advanced to open warfare when Jack Hare, a tenderfoot who had been driven out of White Sage, is befriended by August Naab.

Naab has a son, Snap and an adopted daughter, Mecal, whom he hopes will eventually marry. Jack Hare, however, becomes a rival of Snap for the affections of Mescal. Meanwhile the girl falls into the hands of tbe Holderness gang. When Snap goea to reclaim her, be is killed by Holdernesa. Enraged by the murder of his boy, Naab calls his followers together and rides down upon White Sage. As allies, he has a tribe of Navajo Indians. The town is fired and, in a spectacular battle, Holderness is killed and tha menace to the peace of the desert wiped out. GREAT PENNINGTON COUNTY FAIR OPENS TO PUBLIC ON AUG. 7; CONTINUES 3 DAYS

Finer Exhibits and Better Program of Attractions Than Ever Before—Senator Magnus Johnson to Speak on Last Day—Wonderful Fireworks Featured Each Evening—Large Attendance Anticipated.

Preparations are going forward at a satisfactory rate for the twenty-third annual Pennington county fair, which opens in Thief River Falls on Thursday, August 7, and continues for three full days. Indications are that the fair this year will be bigger and better in every way than any of its predecessors, and that the exhibits will prove a revelation to local people as well as visitors from other sections of the country.

The entertainment features at the fair this year are particularly attractive. As a headliner has been secured Hoaglan's Gigantic Hippodrome, presenting a variety of features in the amusement line which should appeal to everyone. Included in these are auto polo, thrilling chariot races, three-horse standing races, tandem races by thoroughbreds, push ball, comedy mule acts, eight horse elimination race, two horse Roman standing race, the bucking Ford, and running races participated in by four American record holding horses. In addition to these ten big free acts, Lester, Bell & Griffin will give three fine acts, the Carlson Sister two acts, and the Chilcott Troupe two acts.

As an added attraction a dazzling display of fireworks will be shown each evening of the fair. This will be the most elaborate display of fireworks ever attempted outside the larger centers and is in charge of Thearle-Duffield company, the greatest firm of its kind in the world and noted for its wonderful productions. The fireworks alone will be worth more than the price of admission to the fair grounds.

Contrary to the general rule, the last day of the fair is expected to draw the largest crowd this year. The reason for this will become evident when it is announced that Senator Magnus Johnson has been secured to deliver an address on Saturday afternoon in front of the grand stand. Magnus has a legion of friends in this section of the state and it is a foregone conclusion that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing him discuss the issues of the day.

The livestock, grain exhibits, school displays and woman's department will have the finest showing in the history of the fair. Not only will the displays be larger but of better quality than in former years. The following superintendents are in charge of the various departments: Fred Beerbower, livestock; V. C. Noper, grounds; Dr. H. W. Froehlich, schools; Emil Gribstein, poultry; S. E. Hunt, agriculture and club work; Roy Lambert, programs; Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, woman's department.

The attendance at last year's fair was over 14,000, which was exceeded only in about 15 counties of the state. This proves conclusively that the Pennington county fair is one of the most important and most successful in Minnesota, a fact which reflects credit both upon the management of the fair and upon the residents of the community in which it is conducted.

A very reasonable price of admission will be charged at the gate, 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The Gasoline Situation

Statement by Mayor J. S. Arneson: "On July 16th I ordered a carload of gasoline from the Northern States Oil Company of Minneapolis, having in my possession such order countersigned by their representatives. I was assured by the representative of the company that efforts would be made to obtain a car in transit in order to get speedy delivery. I have asked the railroad company and the oil company to trace the car, but so far without result. Chances are the car is still in the oil fields. Gasoline has taken a small drop during the week. It is now down to 21 cents I am informed, but that price is still at least three cents too high.

"During the past week the city council placed themselves squarely behind me in the movement for lower gas prices, and the public is asked to exercise a little patience while the situation is being adjusted. It is barely possible that unloading facilities as specified by law will have to be arranged for before gasoline and kerosene can be delivered to the public. But such facilities will be in place as speedily as possible. The oil companies have levied a tribute upon this community which runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars, and they may continue the practice for a few more weeks, but the pledge is here made that this fight is to a finish. Surrender will not take place until it is definitely determined whether the state and federal laws are such as to protect the public from this form of robbery. We expect to meet with legal obstacles and endless red tape. That much is already evident. The final result will determine whether the oil companies have a strangle hold on the community which can continue to prevent people from buying oil at reasonable prices."

POOL CONTRACT HELD VALID BY SUPREME COURT

Marketing Contract Comes Prior to Mortgage, Says Kansas Tribunal.

Decision of Far Reaching Importance to Co-operative Associations.

Officials, directors and members of the Kansas Wheat Growers Association were delighted last week when the announcement was made that the Supreme Court of Kansas had upheld the contention of the organization that wheat which was mortgaged after the contract was signed, must be handled through the pool, if the association so demanded. Many of the leading bankers always have been willing to have mortgaged wheat handled through the association but there have been a few cases where certain bankers contended they could demand the wheat to be sold as they pleased and the contract of the pooling organization disregarded. Naturally this has decreased the volume handled by the pool.

The association always has and always will protect the banker or mortgagee in every particular, declare pool officials, but likewise they intend to see that wheat which has been mortgaged after the contract was signed shall be handled through the pool. This is only fair to the other members who are entitled to have every possible bushel of wheat go through the pool so as to decrease the per-bushel cost of handling pooled wheat.

T. A. Noftzer, general counsel for the Kansas Wheat Growers association, handled the case for the pooling organization. This is the third case

Former Resident, Advance Agent for Nils Rein, Here

Many of the older residents of Thief River Falls remember Emil Pladsen, who lived here for several years up to ten years ago. Mr. Pladsen, who now makes his home in Madison, Wis., is advance man for Nils Rein, famous violinist, and was here Monday making arrangements for the concert the latter will give Friday evening. Mr. Pladsen while here was associated with C. M. Evenson and was president of the city council in 1912-13. He spent his time here in greeting old acquaintances and enjoyed his visit immensely.

Hunter Pays for Shooting Too Many Prairie Chickens

Upon complaint of Game Warden William Munch, Sever Skattum of St. Hilaire was brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court last Thursday afternoon, charged with shooting more prairie chickens during the hunting season last fall than allowed by law. Skattum entered a plea of guilty to the charge preferred against him and was assessed $13 in fine and costs, which he paid.

Ferdie Brown Leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdie Brown, for a number of years residents of this city, expect to leave Friday for Missoula, Mont., where they will make their future home. Mr. Brown has been transferred to that city by the Thief River Grocery company with whom he has been associated for a number of years.

NOTED MUSICIAN COMING TO CITY

Music lovers of Thief River Falls and vicinity will have the rare opportunity next Friday evening, July 25, of hearing the famous and truly talented artist, Nils Rein, at the Sons of Norway hall. Mr. Rein was a member of the faculty of the Wisconsin university as teacher of violin for several years, and has studied in Chicago, New York and Paris. Critics who have heard him unanimously class him with Kreisler, Kubelik and Heifetz.

In the late war Nils was a member of Company A, 331 Machine Gun Battery. During the last six months of the war he was with an entertainment troupe over there. He played at the reception of Margaret Wilson in Le Mons, France, and also for the entertainment of General Pershing. At the dedication of a monument which the French erected in honor of the American soldiers he won a great honor, at which time he was presented with a wreath of great beauty which had been draped onto the monument.

Nils Rein is an artist who carries his audience into the land of dreams and sweet forgetfulness, making them feel the lives of the characters he brings out. He is yet a young man and has not become as well known as Kreisler, Kubelik or Heifetz, yet there is no doubt but that in a short time he will be in great demand and probably beyond the reach of communities of this size. For this reason all should go and hear him now.

SAN. OFFICIALS HOLD BIG MEET HERE THURSDAY

Dr. Guyer of Nopeming Is Chosen President of Body For Ensuing Year.

The annual session of the Minnesota Sanatorium association, which took place at the Oakland Park sanatorium here Thursday, July 17, was attended by about 60 persons. The meeting began at 9 in the morning and the forenoon was given over to a group of scientific papers read by different doctors and discussions on these and other subjects. At the business meeting in the afternoon it was decided to appoint one member from each commission to meet once a year as a committee during the state legislative session. This committee will have charge of the state expense funds granted the sanatoriums. They will meet with the state advisory committee regarding the sufficiency of funds granted. A communication from the Federation of Women's clubs was read offering the support of the clubs in the sanatorium work and a resolution was passed that their support be accepted.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Dr. G. L. Guyer, Nopeming sanatorium, president; Dr. A. J. Boquist, Glen Lake sanatorium, first vice president; Mr. Murphy of Hibbing, second vice president; Miss Beatrice Lindberg, St. Paul, secretary. It also was decided that the next meeting be held sometime during the month of January in St. Paul.

The program at the banquet sponsored by the Commercial club at the Brumund hotel in the evening was opened by Dr. O. F. Mellby. After a short talk, he introduced J. S. Arneson, mayor of the city, who acted as toastmaster of the evening. Dr. P. M. Hall of Walker spoke on what the sanatoriums have done to decrease the death rate, citing the 50 per cent decrease within the last 10 years. Dr. Robinson Bosworth, executive secretary of the advisory committee, gave a talk on the sanatorium organization and said the organization in Minnesota was the best in the United States. Dr. L. G. Guyer gave a short talk on entertaining the patient, giving as an example the weekly band concerts which are a feature at Nopeming. Dr. Myrdink, field secretary of the Minnesota Public Health association, gave a short talk on the association as a support in sanatorium field work. Dr. Watson of Red Lake Falls also gave a short discussion after which a brief musical program was rendered by Mrs. O. F. Mellby, soprano soloist, and Mrs. Doris Halvorson Pope, pianist.

Norby Named as Manager For Thief River Valley Poultry Marketing Body

At a meeting of the directors of the Thief River Valley Cooperative Poultry Producers association held last Thursday evening it was voted to retain B. O. Norby of Eyota as permanent manager of the organization. Mr. Norby has for some time been engaged in preliminary work for the association and has shown such thorough knowledge of its requirements and such ability in whipping its affairs into shape that the directors deemed it advisable to secure his services on a permanent basis. Mr. Norby is no stranger to the people of Pennington county, having been superintendent of schools at Goodridge for several years prior to his removal to Eyota.

Home Pictures Shown at Princess For Whole Week

Thief River Falls folks will soon have a chance to see themselves in the movies. Mr. Berry, a Fox news camera man, was here a few weeks ago and snapped a number of scenes around town, which have since been developed and will be shown on the screen at the Princess theatre for one week, beginning next Friday evening. The pictures are said to be very clear and many local people are easily recognizable. There is only one way to find out whether or not your likeness will be flashed on the screen—go and see for yourself. After you have studied the picture for a while you can easily make up your mind whether or not you are cut out for a screen star.

NOPER NEW MAN ON SCHOOL BODY

V. G. Noper is the new member of the board in school district No. 18 and L. M. Rayson was re-elected for another term on that body at the annual meeting and election held last Saturday. Noper received 190 votes, Rayson 207, C. M. Carlson 145 and Scott Laird 75. Although the vote cast was somewhat larger than in some former years, it is evident the election did not create much interest as less than seven per cent of the voting strength of the district was represented. Only 322 voters registered their choice at the election Saturday evening.

At the annual meeting preceding the election, a motion carried to dispense with the reading of the reports, and it was decided to leave the hours of the meeting and election unchanged for next year. The organization meeting of the new board will be held Saturday, August 2, at which time officers for next year will be chosen and plans discussed for the coming school year.

Mr. Noper, one of the prominent farmers of the county residing just outside the city limits of Thief River Falls, succeeds Dr. H. W. Froehlich on the board. The latter has served several terms in an efficient manner but felt that he did not have the time to continue in the position for another term. Mr. Noper possesses the necessary qualifications for a high class board member who will work in harmony with the other officials in providing district No. 18 with the best to be had in the way of schools.

Local Baseball Sluggers Win in Strandquist Game

The Thief River Falls baseball team made a trip to Strandquist last Tuesday evening and defeated the team of that burg with a score of 5 to 4. Gulrud did the pitching for the locals and gave a good account of himself. Ducharme of St. Hilaire assisted the boys and got several good hits besides playing a faultless game as shortstop.

At the end of the sixth the score was a tie, 4 to 4, shortly after which Thief River Falls secured the winning run. Strandquist has a mighty good team and it is the intention of the local management to arrange several games with the aggregation during the present season.

Florida Tourists Here.

Chas. E. Snyder, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Florence, and father, C. V. Snyder, arrived last Thursday night by car from West Palm Beach, Florida, to visit relatives in this city. Mr. Snyder, for several years express agent at West Palm Beach, is a brother of H. S. Snyder of this city. The tourists are enthusiastic in their praise of Minnesota roads, and like the climate here pretty well except for the rather chilly days we have been having.

Legion Boys Make Final Attempt to Sound Local Sentiment on Convention

Members of Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion are anxious to find out once and for all what business men and other residents think of the proposition of holding the 1925 Legion state convention in Thief River Falls. No matter how much the Legion boys may wish to secure the convention, they cannot possibly do it without the financial and moral backing of the city as a whole. The time for reaching a decision in the matter is getting short as the convention city will be decided upon next week at St. Cloud. The delegates from here desire to go to St. Cloud prepared to battle for Thief River Falls when the 1925 convention city is discussed, which makes immediate action imperative.

Every resident of Thief River Falls who has an interest in the matter is urgently requested to be present at the meeting in the rooms of the Legion tomorrow (Thursday) evening, when the question will be discussed. It is mighty important that a large delegation be on hand tomorrow night to help thresh out the question. If the proper spirit of cooperation is not shown at this time the Legion boys will have to drop the matter and give up entirely the idea of holding the 1925 convention in Thief River Falls. The Tribune earnestly hopes this will not be found necessary.

OPEN CAMPAIGN WITH BIG MEET

Floyd Olson, Knud Wefald and Tom Sullivan Deliver Speeches Here.

A good sized crowd greeted Floyd B. Olson, candidate for governor, "Tom" Sullivan, candidate for attorney general, and Knud Wefald, candidate for congress, when these gentlemen appeared Monday afternoon at the city auditorium. The meeting had been advertised for the court house but the crowd soon packed the court room to overflowing and the committee hastily made arrangements for the auditorium meeting.

The candidates were late in arriving, Congressman Wefald being the first to show up after a muddy drive from Erskine. He reviewed the work of congress and very naturally claimed credit for Farmer-Labor members for meritorious service in behalf of the people. He landed Senator La Follette and predicted his election this fall. He also said kind things about Farmer-Labor candidates all along the line and claimed they would sweep the state clean in November.

Floyd Olson was the second speaker introduced by Ex-Senator Naplin who presided at the meeting. Olson was introduced as Minnesota's next governor. The candidate himself stated that it was all over but the shouting. His election being settled Mr. Olson proceeded to outline what his policies were to be. Primarily he pledged himself to reduce taxes and next he would drive the spoilsmen out of office. In other words he would "clean out" the capitol. He attacked the work of Theodore Christianson as chairman of the appropriations committee, claiming the gentleman has as much power almost as the governor in keeping down taxes. He also attacked the state Securities Commission for permitting wholesale frauds in connection with the U. S. I. Realty company, in which he claimed 6,000 investors were fleeced. Mr. Olson is a fluent speaker with a commanding stage presence. He has a fine voice and aroused the crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm in several bursts of eloquence.

"Tom" Sullivan, candidate for attorney general, made a savage attack on the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce, asserting that the farmers of the Northwest had been unmercifully manhandled in their grain marketing relations with that body. He stated that the annual "overage", in other words the amount of wheat and other coarse grains which the farmer loses by wrongful dockage methods, represents a huge sum. Then he proceeded to lambast the South St. Paul stock market. In a verbal spanking which exceeded anything ever heard here before, Sullivan showed how cattle are often times sold and resold a half dozen times in one day between the various brokerage firms, with the northwestern farmer always at the short end of the horn.

The candidates are making an extensive drive in the Ninth Congressional district. They are starting out early and announced here their determination to wage a relentless battle for votes until election day. Mr. Olson informed The Tribune that large sized crowds had greeted them at every meeting held so far. From this point the candidates drove to Red Lake Falls where they addressed an evening meeting.

MOTORCYCLE TO BE SOLD; OF NO USE TO POLICE

The city council held a three hour session last night but did not transact much business, although considering several matters of importance, among which was the final acceptance of the dam and adjacent property, disposition of the police motorcycle and monthly reports.

W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls and Mrs. A. Kretzschmar of this city were present and stated they wished to have a final settlement of the dam transaction as soon as possible as they both wished to leave for the summer, and the city attorney promised to give the papers a thorough inspection today and tomorrow. If everything is found all right the $20,000 cash payment will then be made on signing the deed, and city warrants for the balance will be issued by the clerk according to the resolution passed by the council at the last regular meeting.

It developed during the meeting last night that the four lots on the west side of LaBree avenue are the personal property of Mrs. Kretzschmar and do not pass into the hands of the city. Mrs. Kretzschmar also refused to deed to the city the rear 20 feet on the four lots backing up to the river immediately south of the old G. N. bridge, but she agreed to give the city an easement thereon to build a retaining wall at such time as the city rebuilds the dam.

When considering the various city bills the aldermen commented on one for the repair of the motorcycle used by the police department and as it seemed the cost of operation thereof was exorbitant it was decided to lock up the machine and offer the same for sale. The city clerk will have charge of it and the aldermen hope to dispose

WARREN'S TEAM FORFEITS GAME

With the score standing 6 to 5 in their favor in the first of the eighth inning of last Sunday afternoon's game in the latter city, the Warrenites would not abide by the umpire's decision when a Thief River player was declared safe on second base, and refused to continue playing. By this action the game naturally went to Thief River Falls although the Warren umpire announced to the crowd that his team had won by a score of 6 to 5.

Thief River Falls got into the lead in the beginning of the game and kept it until the fifth, when through a series of errors on the part of the locals and a hitting bee by the Warrenites, five scores were secured in one inning, placing them in the lead. The Thief River Boys went as far as they possibly could in trying to come to an agreement over the alleged bad decision but it was of no use. The Warrenites evidently were afraid to go through with the game for fear their opponents would start a merry-go-round and preferred to end the contest in a row while the score still stood in their favor. But the Thief River boys have a right to claim victory under the circumstances and naturally will do so no matter what the decision of the Warren umpire may be in the matter.

Wool Prices Reach New Level.

The Minnesota Cooperative Wool Marketing association in a communication to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation last week reported an upward trend in wool prices.

R. E. Jones, manager of the association, states that on one day sales amounted to 50,000 pounds of clear bright ¼, delivered at Boston. "This was sold on our own grading and without brokerage," said Mr. Jones. "This will net the grower 36 cents, Wabasha, for the bright ¼ and on the basis of this sale the bright 3-8 will net the grower 2 to 3 cents more.

"We consider this a very satisfactory sale as it means several cents per pound more to our patrons than prices paid by local buyers."

During the last couple of weeks the association was offered all the way from 37 cents to 38½ cents, with brokerage at ½ cent per pound, for clear bright ¼'s. No offers were accepted, however, until the price was raised to 40 cents. Subsequent shipments will be on the basis of 42 cents for this grade according to the association management.

A Hot Day Causes Many More Telephone Calls

A very hot day will often cause as many as one-fourth more telephone calls. On such days, more people stay indoors and use the telephone.

Rainy days and very cold days also mean that more telephone calls will be made.

Snow storms, likewise, add to the problem of providing service by tying up transportation and causing people to transact their business by telephone. And frequently sleet storms tear down poles and wires, shutting off service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

Oh Boy! Good Roads!

Today we can make in a few minutes with ease and comfort a journey that 20 years ago required a whole long day of the hardest kind of traveling. And we really haven't got a good start in the road building game. "BEST IN THE LONG RUN"

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Means Your Money's Worth of Mileage

TRUE gasoline economy lies in mileage—providing other good fuel qualities are not sacrificed.

Comparative road tests by users and by manufacturers of automobiles, prove that Red Crown yields more and better mileage than any other gasoline of its kind. In addition to extra mileage, Red Crown gives flexibility and efficient performance at all times.

To quote from a letter recently received—"Red Crown, used by us for the last four years, has given us smooth acceleration, more mileage and power, and does not thin out the oil in the crank-case because it burns up clean. Our carburetors do not have to be adjusted because Red Crown is always uniform in quality, everywhere."

Red Crown effects other economies. It keeps your engine running sweet and clean. It reduces overhauling and cleaning bills, and best of all it provides that dependability of performance which is so agreeable to all motorists.

Use Red Crown this summer. It will give you more for your money and more days of service from your car.

A Picture of Electrical Growth

The Electrical Energy Requirements of the Nation double about every five years, and the Central Northwest does not lag behind in this incessant demand for more light, heat and power.

We have met public demands by a never ending program of construction—new power plants and substations—hundreds of miles of transmission and distributing system—all the facilities needed to supply thousands of additional people and industries.

The most careful estimates of the future by engineers who have devoted their lives to this business are to the effect that the demands for electricity will continue to increase indefinitely at a ratio at least as great as in the past.

It is the duty of a public utility organization to look ahead and provide the indispensable services needed for public welfare and community development. This year our construction budget calls for the investment of more than $14,000,000 in additions and extensions.

We would like to have every citizen as a financial partner in this great and growing enterprise. You can secure a profit-sharing interest by investing in our 7 per cent Preferred shares at the rate of $5 a share a month.

There are 13,000 men out of work in St. Paul. This does not include the inspectors on the state payroll.

Senator Wheeler of Montana, prominent in the oil investigations in congress, will be the running mate of Senator La Follette for the presidency.

The state commissioner of immigration—his name is Oscar Smith—says this is a good time to buy land. Yes, that's so—if you buy it in Pennington county.

Pennington county ought to have an exhibit at the state fair this year, It is more than a one man job, however; it is a community job to get up a decent exhibit and there should be no scarcity of volunteers for the work.

In his speech here "Tom" Sullivan, candidate for attorney general on the Farmer-Labor ticket, said some pretty tough things about the South St. Paul cattle market. And the worst of it is that every word he uttered is the solemn truth, as the writer can testify.

Knud Wefald's explanation of his vote on tax-exempt securities did not explain to the satisfaction of his hearers, but all in all Knud's record meets with the approval of the farmers and he has nothing to worry about so far as the coming election is concerned.

There are said to be more unemployed people in the large cities at this time than at any time in the past ten years. Times are particularly hard on the iron range where men stand in line every day waiting for a few hours of employment. In the cities men who formerly earned five to eight dollars per day are now satisfied to work for forty dollars a month.

Predictions are freely made that LaFollette running as a third party candidate will carry nine states. If Davis holds the solid South, which he very likely will, and carries a few northern states, the next congress may have the job of selecting the president of the United States. In such a case it is predicted that Governor Bryan of Nebraska has the best chance of the candidates now running.

We suggest the next legislature create horse fly inspectors, mosquito inspectors, potato bug inspectators, sow thistle inspectors, quack grass inspectors, wart inspectors, mole inspectors, wood tick inspectors. We recently removed a wood tick from our anatomy after ten days of excruciating torture. State inspection would have disclosed the tick much sooner. By all means give us more state inspection. The people are crying for it.

There are grain fields in Pennington county this year the like of which has never been seen anywhere—so good are they to look at. Favorable remarks may be heard on every hand concerning the alfalfa fields which are a delight to the eye as one drives along the beautiful highways of Pennington county. Takin' her all around, sideways or anyway you wish to look at her, this old county can give cards and spades and little casino to all the rest of them and then beat them forty ways from Sunday.

This newspaper cannot understand why big oil companies which have no interest in Thief River Falls or its future should be permitted to take down huge annual profits upon an investment such as a filling station. When people are considering their taxes they should not overlook the heaviest tax they are called upon to pay, namely, excess profits upon commodities such as gasoline and kerosene which are as necessary in this day and age as the things one has to eat and wear. What suckers we have been. What awful suckers we still are.

It is unfair to the skunk to compare that useful animal with the horde of moonshiners which infests the country today. It is true the skunk has certain elements of comparison, such as an unbearable stink in connection with his stock in trade, but otherwise there is no basis for comparison. The skunk may drive people crazy momentarily, but the recovery is certain, and the moonshiner not only drives people crazy but often he strikes them permanently blind. We apologize to the skunk for the use of his name in this connection.

Thief River Falls badly needs a city supervised swimming pool. Lack of funds prevents the construction of such a pool at this time. Hence the swimming pool now being maintained in the river will have to do as a makeshift, and it is stated by those in charge that unless certain young men change their behavier, the pool will have to be closed. The chief of police has the names of a gang of boys whose obnoxious conduct constitutes a black spot on the city's play grounds and an investigation is now under way which has for its object a cleaning up process which will make these places safe for young and old.

For the purpose of preserving and propagating Christian character and the fundamentals of Christianity, a religious fraternity, the Delta Phi Alpha, has been organized at Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio. College men who give evidence of possessing a Christian character; who abstain from the use of tobacco, drugs and alcoholic beverages; who show high ethical standards of honesty in their academic work, and who have successfully completed one semester's work, are eligible to membership. It is expected that chapters will be established in other colleges. —School Life.

Warning to Parents.
Eight Million Little Pigs.
Riding a Driving Wheel.
Eastman's Millions.

All fathers and mothers should be put on their guard by the death of the President's son. The boy wore shoes, or sandals, with no stockings, as thousands of boys and girls do, every day in summer. THAT IS MOST DANGEROUS.

The earth, everywhere, is impregnated with dangerous germs, including the germ of lockjaw, and innumerable other germs that may cause blood poisoning if a slight wound is neglected.

The feet and especially the toes, are more easily infected than any other external part of the body.

Cramped for generations in shoes, deprived of their natural blood supply, very often the toes lose their power of resistance to germ attack. Constantly you read of blood poisoning that starts in the foot.

Wearing shoes without stockings, neglecting a cut or blister, as children often do, any germs accumulated are persistently and continuously rubbed into the tissues and into the blood circulation, with no protecting stocking between the foot and the leather.

The pluckier the child the more probability of a neglected wound. And boyish courage, unfortunately, is no protection against germ attack.

"The Spring crop of pigs is short by 8,000,000 in the corn belt." What becomes of the "consciousness" of those 8,000,000 little pigs that never saw the light of day?

If they could think at all, what would they say of a system that brings them into the world to eat corn for a little while and then be eaten by their "superiors," a system that keeps eight millions of them out of the world when the price of corn happens to go up? What is the exact difference between 8,000,000 pigs and the same number of humans?

Next in importance to INTELLIGENCE comes POWER. Everything we have comes from power intelligently directed. The World Power conference in London, discussing the possibility of harnessing wind, waves, tides, sunlight, natural steam and hot wells and unused possibilities of alcohol production, is a most important gathering.

Prince Conti says the United States of America could get more power from its hot springs in California, the Yellowstone, "Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" in Alaska, etc., than from all of our waterfalls. And think of unused heat, deep under ground.

Sir Charles Bedford says alcohol from waste vegetable matter would provide more power than gasoline, when oil is exausted. Rice straw wasted in India could produce enough alcohol to equal in power the annual production of petroleum.

This earth is a driving wheel and it is silly to think that we could ever run short of power, living on a driving wheel.

The attempt to climb Mt. Everest is abandoned for this year. But with the patience and perseverance of other insects, men will keep on trying and they will reach the top.

They may find there the frozen bodies of Mallory and Ervine, two of the expedition last seen as they entered a heavy cloud in a drive for the top.

Rather a romantic grave, in the freezing cold of the highest spot on earth. Some day sightseers in flying machines will look at a stone, "covering the dead bodies of the first two men that ever climbed up here," and children in the sight-seeing flier will ask, "Why did they climb up instead of flying?"

Five years ago George Eastman of Rochester, allowed 6,000 employes of his Eastman Kodak company to subscribe for stock in the company at par. Last week the employes got their stock, worth $21,000,000.

They paid just half that price for it originally, making a profit of 100 per cent. That's a good way to encourage good work and interest workers in their jobs.

A MIGHTY STORY WITH THRILLERS

Play Based on Great Poem, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew," which comes to the Princess theatre Sunday and Monday, is the most thrilling picture of the year. It is the new screen version of the famous poem by Robert W. Service. Barbara LaMarr is the lady known as Lou, and never has she appeared more beautiful nor as filled with dramatic fire as in this surging story of love in the Yukon. Lew Cody plays Dangerous Dan McGrew and he makes the character one of a grim sterness and villainy.

Percy Marmont appears as Jim, the husband, and he too seems to be caught in the atmosphere of Service's story and puts every bit of tragic meaning into his acting. Mae Bush, as Lou's friend, and George Siegman as the Malamute man, complete the really extraordinary cast.

The Metro version of the poem goes back to the years before the killing in the Alaskan saloon, and shows the early married life of Lou and Jim. Winifred Dunn, who is accredited with the scenario, is said to have based her continuity on the true story of how the affair happened, as revealed by an eye-witness who knew the events leading up to the tragedy.

This handling of the poem proved remarkably successful and made possible the inclusion of a number of thrills that kept last night's audience on edge. The scene started in the South Sea Isles, moved to New York and then shifted up to the Yukon, lending a variety of settings both beautiful and satisfying to the eye, and forming an ideal background for the dramatic tale.

Pool Contract Held Valid By Kansas Supreme Court

which he has carried through the lower courts to the highest tribunal in the state and in each and every instance he has secured a victory for the Wheat Growers association.

The complete record of the case is as follows, as given out by the Kansas Supreme Court:

No. 25,350.

The Kansas Wheat Growers Association, Appellant, vs. H. J. Floyd and The Farmers State Bank, Wichita, Kansas, Appellees.

No. 25,351.

The Kansas Wheat Growers Association, Appellant, vs. Ben Robben and the Farmers State Bank of Mt. Hope, Kansas, Appellees.

SYLLABUS OF THE COURT.

1. It is error to dissolve a restraining order granted under section 17-1616 of the Revised Statutes and to refuse to grant a temporary injunction to prevent a breach of a contract made under the provision of that section, where it is attempted to show that the contract was procured by fraud but the evidence is not sufficient to establish fraud.

2. The rights of a mortgagee of harvested wheat are inferior to the rights of one holding a contract under section 17-1616 of the Revised Statutes where the mortgagee had knowledge of the contract at the time the mortgage was made.

Appeal from Sedgwick District Court, JESSIE D. WALL, Judge. Opinion filed July 5, 1924. Reversed.

The opinion of the court was delivered by

MARSHALL, J: In these actions, the plaintiff seeks to obtain permanent injunction against the defendants under section 17-1616 of the Revised Statutes. In each case, a restraining order was issued. Afterward, on application for temporary injunction and on motions of the defendants to dissolve the restraining orders, temporary injunctions were denied and the restraining orders were dissolved. From these rulings, the plaintiff appeals.

The plaintiff is a cooperative marketing association organized under sections 17-1601 to 17-1625 of the Revised Statutes. Defendants H. J. Floyd and Ben Robben were farmers engaged in the raising of wheat. They entered into a contract with the plaintiff by which they agreed to sell and deliver to the plaintiff all the wheat raised by them as "landlord or lessor" (leasee) during the years 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, and 1925. The contract contained provisions similar to those set out in Wheat Growers Ass'n. vs. Schulte, 113 Kan. 672, 216 Pac. 311. Floyd, before the contract was signed by him, had given a chattel mortgage to the Farmers State Bank, Wichita, on the wheat sown by him in 1921 to secure the payment of money that had been loaned to him to enable him to plant the wheat. That mortgage was not paid and in 1922, it was renewed to cover the cost of wheat sown by him in the fall of that year. Ben Robben, on May 8, 1923, executed a mortgage to the Farmers State Bank of Mount Hope on the wheat raised by him. The controversy in each of these actions is over the crop that matured in 1923. Each of the defendants was threatening to refuse to deliver to the plaintiff the crop raised by him in 1923. Each of the banks was claiming the right to have the crop mortgaged to it delivered to it under its chattel mortgage.

1. Floyd and Robben each on the hearing of the motions attempted to show that the plaintiff's agents who procured the signatures to the contracts made false representations to Floyd and Robben which were believed by them and through which they were induced to sign the contracts. The judgment contains the following:

"The court having heard the arguments of counsel and being fully advised in the premises, finds that the motion of the defendants to dissolve the restraining order herein should be sustained, and that the application of the plaintiff for a temporary injunction should be denied."

If the evidence introduced were sufficient to show fraud, there would be nothing to do but affirm the judgment of the court.

The evidence on the part of Floyd was that the representations made by the agent of the plaintiff were that the contract conained the provision that the plaintiff would pay 75 per cent of the value of the wheat on its delivery. Floyd read the contract and discovered that the provision was not in it. He then signed it. The evidence was not sufficient to show that he had been deceived by the fradulent representations.

The evidence of Robben to show fraud was a different note. His testimony was to the effect that—

"When I signed the contract they said they would pay me a dollar a bushel or whatever the local elevator would pay me and at the end of the year they would pay me a dividend on that. I found out that they would not do that and under these circumstances if the wheat was not mortgaged, I could not afford to deliver it to them."

That did not amount to a then existing fact. The representation was a promise of what would be done in the future and was not sufficient to constitute fraud.

2. The contracts involved in these actions were drawn under section 17-1616 of the Revised Statutes, which in part reads:

"The association and its members may make and execute marketing contracts, requiring the members to sell, for any period of time, not over ten years, all or any specified part of their agricultural products or specified commodities exclusively to or through the association . . . . In the event of any such breach or threatened breach of such marketing contract by a member, the association shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent the further breach of the contract, and to a decree of specific performance there. Pending the adjudication of such an action and upon filing a verified complaint showing the breach or threatened breach, and upon filing a sufficient bond, the association shall be entitled to a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction against the member."

The validity of contracts of this character and the right to an injunction thereunder was upheld in Wheat Growers Ass'n. vs. Schulte, 113 Kan. 672, 216 Pac. 311.

The contracts in controversy contained the following provision:

"If the grower places a crop mortgage upon any of his crops during the term hereof, the Association shall have the right to take delivery of his wheat and to pay off all or part of the crop mortgage for the account of the Grower and to charge the same against him individually.

"The Grower shall notify the Association prior to making any crop mortgage; and the Association will advise the Grower in any such transactions."

The mortgages placed on the wheat were valid mortgages, but at the time they were signed the mortgagees had knowledge of the right of the plaintiff under the contracts and knew that the contracts protected the rights of mortgagees. The rights of the growers of the wheat and of the mortgagees were controlled by the contracts. It follows that the rights of the mortgagees were inferior to the rights of the plaintiff under the contracts.

The judgment is reversed, and the trial court is directed to grant a temporary injunction in each action as is requested by the plaintiff therein.—Kansas Wheat Growers Journal, July 15, 1924.

Two Contests Scheduled For Locals During Week on the Fairgrounds Field

The local baseball team will take on the Strandquist aggregation tomorrow (Thursday) evening at the fair grounds, the game to be called promptly at 6 o'clock. The locals won over Strandquist a week ago by a close margin on the Strandquist diamond, but the boys from up the line proved themselves formidable opponents and a first class game may be looked for tomorrow evening. Turn out and help the home boys to another victory.

Sunday afternoon St. Hilaire, strengthened with a number of players from Red Lake Falls, will oppose the Thief River Falls team on the fair grounds diamond, the game to begin promptly at o'clock. This is a fast bunch and there is no question but what it will be one of the best games of the season.

New Well Needed.

The local sanatorium commission held its regular bi-monthly meeting Wednesday, July 16. Besides the regular routine, it was noted that the well at Oakland Park is nearly dry and bids are to be advertised for the drilling of a new well.

Commissioners in Session.

The board of county commissioners was in session the fore part of the week, attending for the most part to routine matters. An appropriation of $400 was granted the Pennington County Agricultural Society toward financing tha Pennington county fair.

Trees' Limbs Too Close to Sidewalks, Says Official

Street Commissioner Hoff is authority for the statement that many home owners in the city are in the habit of neglecting the proper trimming of shade trees near the sidewalks, with the result that limbs often hang down too low and thus cause considerable inconvenience to pedestrians. Mr. Hoff asks that such trees be properly trimmed without dealy, or it will become necessary for the street department to take the matter in hand.

Two Stills Stand Still.

Due to two well conducted raids by the Marshall county sheriff, Hans C. Hanson and deputy, a keg of moonshine and quantities of mash were found, besides two stills in perfect form, observed in the act of operation, which were taken into custody with their owners, Romeo Dufault, living six miles west of Argyle, and John Donarski, living in Wright township. Dufault was given a jail sentence of 30 days and $200 fine. Donarski was bound over to the fall term of the grand pury. Bail was set as $1,000 and was not furnished.

of it within a short time. It was estimated hy some of the aldermen that the machine has cost the city about $1,000 already and has failed to he of any value.

A request from Jas. F. Farr for a soft drink license was referred to the license committee to he reported back at the next meeting of the city conncil. Mr. Farr was not present hut had informed some of the aldermen that he was going to open up a husiness again in the place recently vacated hy the Ralston barber shop next to the Brumund hotel.

The monthly reports of the city clerk, treasurer, chief of police, judge of municipal court and dairy inspector, and annual report of the librarian, were ordered received and filed after they had been carefully examined. The police report showed four arrests in June; the court had collected $21; the clerk's report showed a balance July 1 of $36,342.57 as compared to $42,502.34 June 1. The library report sbowed 5,225 volumes on hand July 1 with a total borrowing list of 2,654 persons, all residents of the city except 70, while 25,336 books had been taken out by patrons during the year, and an average daily attendance in the reference room of 120 for the 344 days the library was open. The report of the dairy inspector showed the milk and cream complying with requirements, and that two cows in outside herds had been condemned for T. B.

Superintendent Ole Legvold reported than on account of the low water in the river the greater portion of the electricity the city had been generating this month had been produced at the electric light station rather than at the dam, the numher of kilowats respectively heing 38,250 and 9,384.

Letters were read from Engineer L. P. Wolff in charge of the construction of the filtration plant and J. G. Robertson company, who installed the machinery stating that the bacteriological report on the condition of the water after passing through the plant was excellent. Slight defects in the suction pipe will be remedied shortly.

Alfred Bredeson was granted permission to remodel a house on Fifth and Knight at a cost of about $1,000, while the plumber's bond of the Union Plumbing and Heating company was ordered accepted and filed following approval of the city attorney.

The appointments of the mayor of three members to the library board were duly apporved.

There were two hids on a street tractor, one from the McFarland Auto company for $540 and one from the Emerson Brantingham company of a different model, at $650. The latter bid was ordered accepted and the local agent of the company, Ramheck & Stone, will turn the machine over to the city.

A petition for a hlock of sidewalk on the east side of Tindolph avenne between Mussey and Johnson streets was presented to the council and the property owners were granted until Sept. 23 to lay the walks at their own expense, failure to comply therewith to be followed by installation by the city.

ROSEWOOD

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting and election of Common School Dist. No. 41, took place last Saturday evening, was attended by about fifteen persons and the original routine subscribed by law was gone through. As chairman for the next three years John Sagmoen was elected, and by vote an eight month term for the year 1924-25 was decided upon. A total appropriation of $700 was voted on to defray school expenses for the next term. This is $100 less appropriation than last year, which was thought sufficient and recommended by the officers, as all outstanding orders had been paid up the previous year, and a cash balance of $512.91 was on hand. Total receipts of the last year including the cash on hand on July 19, 1923 was $1,603, and with total expenditures of $1,088.95. The school building will undergo extensive repairs this fall, all wood work and plastering to be repainted and kalsomined, several new seats ordered, out buildings painted and where necessary reconstructed, and considerable new instruction equipment installed. School will open on Monday, Sept. 15, with Miss Ruth Halvorson from Viking as teacher. One weeks vacation during October to allow pupils to assist with potato picking has been ordered, and a ten days vacation at Christmas. There were thirty pupils enrolled last year and approximately the same number is expected this year.

J. E. Hellquist and Alex Hellquist motored to Newfolden on Sunday where they visited at the Albert Hellquist home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson from Viking were Wednesday evening callers at the home of J. E. Hellquist.

Judge A. Grindeland and John Grindeland from Warren were in town last Tuesday enroute home from Middle River where they have attended to business matters.

Mission meetings will be held at the Swedish church in town commencing with a Young Peoples society and lunch next Saturday evening, July 26, and continuing with three meetings, at 10:30 a.m., 2:00 and 8:00 p.m. on Sunday. Rev. C. W. Olson from Warren together with the local pastor, Rev. Werner Drotts will conduct these meetings. The public is cordially invited.

Guss Opseth left on Satuday morning for Warren from which place he will accompany a carload of stock for Martin Tunheim to South St. Paul and will be away until the middle of the week. Gust is at present employed building a new residence for Mr. Tunheim on his farm near Newfolden.

O. S. Hellerud has spent the past week in the vicinity of Drayton, N. D. in the interests of his agency.

Warrenton met the local baseball players in a very tight game last Sunday afternoon at the home grounds and carried away the victory by a score of 6 to 7. This is the first defeat the local players have encountered this season. Next Sunday, July 27, the Radium players will be here to clash with the locals.

Mrs. Julia Axelson and son Victor motored to Wannaska last Sunday to visit with the H. Jacobson people and with Mrs. Chas. Davis from California, a sister of Mrs. A. who is visiting at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellquist and family from Newfolden stopped here briefly on Sunday morning enroute to Crookston where they will spend the day with the Oscar Blomberg folks.

Misses Geneva and Olivia Swenson are spending the week-end visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. Johanne Nyhus at Thief River Falls.

Misses Ethel Moline and Florence Ostrom from Thief River Falls spent a few days here the first of the week as guests with Miss Gladys Sagmoen.

Bernhard Ranum left on Monday morning for the Henry Wilkins farm east of Steiner where he has a contract to erect a new dairy barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jertson from Hazel Run have been in this community a part of this week looking after real estate interests west of this place. The Jertsons are visiting with relatives at both Viking and at Thief River Falls.

A writer in the Warren Sheaf in their last issue takes a shot at Rosewood and asks if we remember back in our piping days when our name was "Strip," and when the passenger brakeman announced the name was "Strip." "Don't forget your parcels." How the daughters of Eve would blush and look out of the window and feel embarrassed. Yea, brother, we remember the good old pre-war days, when most of us wished we could have "stripped" in the blazing July and August sun and take a shower both, instead of as in the year of 1924 when winter coats are worn during midsummer. If those were the "Piping" days with a free corn-cob pipe with every quarter's purchase of "True-Smoke" these must be the Camel and Chesterfield days when the emblem of honor is a round cardboard with a cotton cord dingling down from the breast pocket of a khaki shirt. It is 12 years this month since we "stripped off Strip" and went into the "Woods of Roses," and the credit for this change of name we believe must rightfully be given to Herbert Carlson and Enoch Nelson, two of the Strip progressives in those days. Well, both these men have now left the good old burg. Herbert is now located somewhere on the Pacific coast, busy saving up his first million, and eventually eyeing the kind that blushed at the brakies, "Strip." Enoch, good old soul (peace to your memory) has not only left Rosewood but has sought a better land.

ROSEWOOD

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting and election of Common School Dist. No. 41, took place last Saturday evening was attended by about fifteen persons and the original routine subscribed by law was gone through. As chairman for the next three years John Sagmoen was elected, and by vote an eight month term for the year 1924-25 was decided upon. A total appropriation of $700 was voted on to defray school expenses for the next term. This is $100 less appropriation than last year, which was thought sufficient and recommended by the officers, as all outstanding orders had been paid up the previous year, and a cash balance of $512.91 was on hand. Total receipts of the last year including the cash on hand on July 19, 1923 was $1,603, and with total expenditures of $1,088.95. The school building will undergo extensive repairs this fall, all wood work and plastering to be repainted and kalsomined, several new seats ordered, out buildings painted and where necessary reconstructed, and considerable new instruction equipment installed. School will open on Monday, Sept. 15, with Miss Ruth Halvorson from Viking as teacher. One weeks vacation during October to allow pupils to assist with potato picking has been ordered, and a ten days vacation at Christmas. There were thirty pupils enrolled last year and approximately the same number is expected this year.

J. E. Hellquist and Alex Hellquist motored to Newfolden on Sunday where they visited at the Albert Hellquist home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson from Viking were Wednesday evening callers at the home of J. E. Hellquist.

Judge A. Grindeland and John Grindeland from Warren were in town last Tuesday enroute home from Middle River where they have attended to business matters.

Mission meetings will be held at the Swedish church in town commencing with a Young Peoples society and lunch next Satuday evening, July 26, and continuing with three meetings, at 10:30 a.m., 2:00 and 8:00 p.m. on Sunday. Rev. C. W. Olson from Warren together with the local pastor, Rev. Werner Drotts will conduct these meetings. The public is cordially invited.

Guss Opseth left on Satuday morning for Warren from which place he will accompany a carload of stock for Martin Tunheim to South St. Paul and will be away until the middle of the week. Gust is at present employed building a new residence for Mr. Tunheim on his farm near Newfolden.

O. S. Hellerud has spent the past week in the vicinity of Drayton, N. D. in the interests of his agency.

Warrenton met the local baseball players in a very tight game last Sunday afternoon at the home grounds and carried away the victory by a score of 6 to 7. This is the first defeat the local players have encountered this season. Next Sunday, July 27, the Radium players will be here to clash with the locals.

Mrs. Julia Axelson and son Victor motored to Wannaska last Sunday to visit with the H. Jacobson people and with Mrs. Chas. Davis from California, a sister of Mrs. A. who is visiting at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellquist and family from Newfolden stopped here briefly on Sunday morning enroute to Crookston where they will spend the day with the Oscar Blomberg folks.

Misses Geneva and Olivia Swenson are spending the week-end visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. Johanne Nyhus at Thief River Falls.

Misses Ethel Moline and Florence Ostrom from Thief River Falls spent a few days here the first of the week as guests with Miss Gladys Sagmoen.

Bernhard Ranum left on Monday morning for the Henry Wilkins farm east of Steiner where he has a contract to erect a new dairy barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jertson from Hazel Run have been in this community a part of this week looking after real estate interests west of this place. The Jertsons are visiting with relatives at both Viking and at Thief River Falls.

A writer in the Warren Sheaf in their last issue takes a shot at Rosewood and asks if we remember back in our piping days when out name was "Strip," and when the passenger brakeman announced the name was "Strip." "Don't forget your parcels." How the daughters of Eve would blush and look out of the window and feel embarrassed. Yea, brother, we remember the good old pre-war days, when most of us wished we could have "stripptd" in the blazing July and August sun and take a shower both, instead of as in the year of 1924 when winter coats are worn during midsummer. If those were the "Piping" days with a free corn-cob pipe with every quarter's purchase of "True-Smoke" these must be the Camel and Chesterfield days when the emblem of honor is a round cardboard with a cotton cord dingling down from the breast pocket of a khaki shirt. It is 12 years this month since we "stripped off Strip" and went into the "Woods of Roses," and the credit for this change of name we believe must rightfully be given to Herbert Carlson and Enoch Nelson, two of the Strip progressives in those days. Well, both these men have now left the good old burg. Herbert is now located somewhere on the Pacific coast, busy saving up his first million, and eventually eyeing the kind that blushed at the brakies, "Strip." Enoch, good old soul (peace to your memory) has not only left Rosewood but has sought a better land.

ROSEWOOD

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting and election of Common School Dist. No. 41, took place last Saturday evening, was attended by about fifteen persons and the original routine subscribed by law was gone through. As chairman for the next three years John Sagmoen was elected, and by vote an eight month term for the year 1924-25 was decided upon. A total appropriation of $700 was voted on to defray school expenses for the next term. This is $100 less appropriation than last year, which was thought sufficient and recommended by the officers, as all outstanding orders had been paid up the previous year, and a cash balance of $512.91 was on hand. Total receipts of the last year including the cash on hand on July 19, 1923 was $1,603, and with total expenditures of $1,088.95. The school building will undergo extensive repairs this fall, all wood work and plastering to be repainted and kalsomined, several new seats ordered, out buildings painted and where necessary reconstructed, and considerable new instruction equipment installed. School will open on Monday, Sept. 15, with Miss Ruth Halvorson from Viking as teacher. One weeks vacation during October to allow pupils to assist with potato picking has been ordered, and n ten days vacation at Christmas. There were thirty pupils enrolled last year and approximately the same number is expected this year.

J. E. Hellquist and Alex Hellquist motored to Newfolden on Sunday where they visited at the Albert Hellquist home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson from Viking were Wednesday evening callers at the home of J. E. Hellquist.

Judge A. Grindelnnd and John Grindeland from Warren were in town last Tuesday enroute home from Middle River where they have attended to business matters.

Mission meetings will be held at the Swedish church in town commencing with a Young Peoples society and lunch next Satuday evening, July 25, and continuing with three meetings, at 10:30 a.m., 2:00, and 8:00 p.m. on Sunday. Rev. C. W. Olson from Warren together with the local pastor, Rev. Werner Drotts will conduct these meetings. The public is cordially invited.

Guss Opseth left on Satuday morning for Warren from which place he will accompany a carload of stock for Martin Tunheim to South St. Paul and will be away until the middle of the week. Gust is at present employed building a new residence for Mr. Tunheim on his farm near Newfolden.

O. S. Hellerud has spent the past week in the vicinity of Drayton, N. D. in the interests of his agency.

Warrenton met the local baseball players in a very tight game last Sunday afternoon at the home grounds and carried away the victory by a score of 6 to 7. This is the first defeat the local players have encountered this season. Next Sunday, July 27, the Radium players will be here to clash with the locals.

Mrs. Julia Axelson and son Victor motored to Wannaska last Sunday to visit with the H. Jacobson people and with Mrs. Chas. Davis from California, a sister of Mrs. A. who is visiting at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellquist and family from Newfolden stopped here briefly on Sunday morning enroute to Crookston where they will spend the day with the Oscar Blomberg folks.

Misses Geneva and Olivia Swenson are spending the week-end visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. Johanne Nyhus at Thief River Falls.

Misses Ethel Moline and Florence Ostrom from Thief River Falls spent a few days here the first of the week as guests with Miss Gladys Sagmoen.

Bernhard Ranum left on Monday morning for the Henry Wilkins farm east of Steiner where he has a contract to erect a new dairy barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jertson from Hazel Run have been in this community a part of this week looking after real estate interests west of this place. The Jertsons are visiting with relatives at both Viking and at Thief River Falls.

A writer in the Warren Sheaf in their last issue takes a shot at Rosewood and asks if we remember back in our piping days when out name was "Strip," and when the passenger brakeman announced the name was "Strip." "Don't forget your parcels." How the daughters of Eve would blush and look out of the window and feel embarrassed. Yea, brother, we remember the good old pre-war days, when most of us wished we could have "stripptd" in the blazing July and August sun and take a shower both, instead of as in the year of 1924 when winter coats are worn during midsummer. If those were the "Piping" days with a free corn-cob pipe with every quarter's purchase of "True-Smoke" these must be the Camel and Chesterfield days when the emblem of honor is a round cardboard with n cotton cord dingling down from the breast pocket of a khaki shirt. It is 12 years this month since we "stripped off Strip" and went into the "Woods of Roses." and the credit for this change of name we believe must rightfully be given to Herbert Carlson and Enoch Nelson, two of the Strip progressives in those days. Well, both these men have now left the good old burg. Herbert is now located somewhere on the Pacific coast, busy saving up his first million, and eventually eyeing the kind that blushed at the brakies, "Strip." Enoch, good old soul (peace to your memory) has not only left Rosewood but has sought a better land.

WHEAT POOL TO GET ONE THIRD OF N. W. YIELD

Minnesota Branch Credited With 8,300 One Year After Organization.

One-third of the Northwest's entire wheat crop for 1924 will be pooled with the American Wheat Growers, Associated, W. J. Brown, president of the association announced this week.

His estimate was based on the number of Northwest wheat growers now members of the association as compared with the number of growers who are not members.

A campaign for new members up to July 15 had boosted the number of growers affiliated with the association to 43,000 in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana—the four principal wheat-producing states. An authentic estimate of the number of bushels that will be pooled in these four states is not available, Mr. Brown declared.

"We will receive 35 per cent of the crop, however," he said.

The association last year had a wheat pool of 20,000,000 bushels. Members of the association feel that at least 40,000,000 bushels will be pooled this year. They point out, however, that no practical estimate can be made before harvest time.

Figures made public today by Mr. Brown revealed that the association has acquired members in the leading wheat growing states to the following extent:

Minnesota—8,300 members, or from 33 to 40 per cent of all wheat growers in the state.

North Dakota—16,000 members, or 35 per cent of the total number of North Dakota growers.

South Dakota—5,000 members or 20 per cent of all growers in the state.

Montana—14,000 members, or 40 per cent of all the growers in Montana.

"Minnesota is the latest state to come into the pool, and the growth of the Minnesota membership is remarkable," Mr. Brown said. "More than a third of all the growers in the state have joined the association, whereas there were no Minnesota members prior to the start of a membership drive a year ago.

"The membership drive has been temporarily halted in this state for lack of funds to promote it. We are not authorized to use any of the money we receive in wheat sales for the purpose of promoting a membership drive. If we had a fund of but $12,000 available for continuing the Minnesota campaign, I believe that 65 per cent of all the wheat growers in the state would be affiliated with the association by October 1."

Although the rise in the price of wheat does not particularly affect the association at the present time, since little wheat is available for sale, Mr. Brown feels that the optimistic tone of the market will have a far-reaching effect in restoring the confidence of wheat growers. Grain shipped up to the time of the wheat harvest will be included in the current pool, and all grain shipped after the day to be set for "splitting" the year into pool periods will go into the next pool, he said.

Although he "feels very friendly" toward the new $25,000,000 farmers' cooperative grain marketing company launched at Chicago, and which plans to take over elevators and other facilities of the "Big Five" in the grain marketing business in the middle west Mr. Brown is not, contrary to published reports, a member of the board of directors of the new organization.

"I have never been consulted about an appointment to the board," he said. "The American Wheat Growers, Associated, are watching the development of the new project with much interest. If we are to do business with the new organization, it, of course, must conform to the requirements of our wheat pool."

CAN REAL BOXER BE A GENTLEMAN

Jack London Story Proves Man Is Man Regardless of Occupation.

What is a "real man"?
What is a "gentleman"?

Those two terms are constantly in use in today's literature of several types. Whether or not they are understood is a question to be decided by the individual reading or using them.

Webster achieved simple definitions of "man" and "gentleman" but usage makes such words more complex than the dictionary will consider.

Jack London's famous novel of the prize ring, "The Abysmal Brute," has been filmed and comes to the Princess theatre next Friday and Saturday as a Universal-Jewel special production starring Reginald Denny, the hero of "The Leather Pushers." This story has for its chief male character a young man who is all that would be called a "real man." At the same time he is courteous, intelligent and possessed of a refined nature. Yet he is a prize fighter, versed in the rough tactics of the ring and supposedly saturated with its atmosphere. In view of the age-old prejudice among certain sensitive people against the boxing sport, and, on the other hand, in view of the newer, cleaner ideals of the game, is this man a "gentleman?"

The heroine does not think so. She is an ultra-cultured, superfined creature of the most exclusive class. The role is an exceptionally strong one, played by Mahle Julienne Scott, an actress of the highest renown.

"The Abysmal Brute," guided by the gifted pen of London and the superb directional ability of Hohart Henley, analyzes the questions from both sides.

NEW VARIETIES OF SEED GRAIN

Successful Experiments Are Now Being Carried on at Crookston.

Wonderful results have been attained in creating new varieties of seed grains in the United States and Europe. This work is largely done at experiment stations. The Northwest station, Crookston, is now growing Velvet barley which can be handled without groves or without tying strings around your sleeves because the teeth have been bred off of the beards. Chippewa flax, which is a wilt-resistant variety, is also a new variety that can be seen at the station this season. Crosses between Victory and White Russian oats have made a new oats that is both rust-resistant and stiff-strawed. Crosses between Marquis and Durum wheats are rust-resistant and have milled well.

These and other new and promising varieties of farm crops may be seen at the Northwest Experiment station when the Red River Valley Crops and Soils association holds its summer meeting there on Tuesday, July 29. Hundreds of experimental plots on which many crops and soils problems are being investigated will be in just the right stage of maturity to show results.

A. D. Haedecks, secretary of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, will explain the rules and regulations adopted by the Minnesota Grimm Alfalfa Growers for certification of Grimm alfalfa seed. Dr. H. K. Hayes, plant breeder of the University of Minnesota, will demonstrate the method of making new varieties. Dr. Leach of the Plant Pathology division of the university will discuss crop diseases illustrated with material from the fields. There will be demonstrations of cleaning pigeon grass out of flax, separating wheat and flax mixtures, and inoculation. The entire afternoon will be devoted to seed, crop and soil problems under the immediate direction of R. S. Dunham, agronomist of the Northwest station.

The program will start at one p.m. It is suggested that picnic lunches be eaten on the school campus where free coffee will be served. A special program has been prepared for ladies and children, including a home economics demonstration and moving pictures. The meetings and inspection trip are open to all, whether members of the association or not.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY LAND

State Immigration Commissioner Says Now Is Time to Buy in Minnesota.

O. H. Smith, commissioner of immigration of this state, has issued a circular pointing out that Minnesota farm lands are in growing demand and that prices are sure to advance. For that reason, this is a good time to acquire land in this state.

Mr. Smith says: "There has never been a more opportune time to buy in Minnesota than right now, and our advice to anyone who happens to be in the market for a piece of farm land in this state is to buy it quick.

"We all agree that prices on farm lands have been at rock bottom for almost a year. There will be no further drop. On the contrary there is almost sure to be some advance.

"There are two things responsible for depression in farm land prices—one is a succession of crop failures, which brings about a local drop in the price of land, the other is a purely economic condition that forces down the price on all farm products, causes a period of general depression in all agricultural sections and finally results in a drop in all land prices.

"Minnesota has never had a complete crop failure. Its lands have been forced down in price because many of our farmers have made no money during the past four years. But where we, in Minnesota, have been having 'hard sledding' the farmers of many other sections have been going broke by the thousands.

"Hundreds of those residing in the crop failure sections have about concluded to save what they can out of the wreck and come to Minnesota to make a new start in life.

"Then we have our 'crop' of land buyers that has been piling up for four years—sons of farmers ready to start out for themselves, many of whom are only waiting to make sure land has hit the bottom, also many who were attracted from the country to the cities during the period of excessively high wages are now finding it difficult to make ends meet and are preparing to go back on the farm.

"Iowa and Illinois dealers are reporting an increased interest and seekers from those states are coming to this state during the present summer to investigate."

Mr. Smith has taken a survey of the five principal crops grown in Minnesota—wheat, oats, rye, barley and corn, and finds that the average increase in price per bushel for the five crops for the year is 25 per cent. This indicates that farming is again becoming the popular industry.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made to keep hot days cool.

There's a can of DEL MONTE Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other ways. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

Pennington Fair Opens Thursday, Aug. 7

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL FAIR PROMISES TO SURPASS ALL PREVIOUS EVENTS IN POINT OF ATTENDANCE AND EXHIBITS

Fireworks to Be Special Feature Every Night—Concession Stands Going Up Fast—Everything Soon Ready For One of Best County Fairs in State of Minnesota.

The crowning glory of a fireworks exhibition is that it can be seen. The old need not blink and peer and complain to the manager who is deaf, dumb and blind and the young need not whine and cry to be taken up in arms. There are no hats to obstruct the view; there are no "seat hogs," and the observer need not worry if the world's fattest man or woman climbs into a seat just in front of him.

This is because—well, there are two becauses. In the first place fireworks are fireworks and couldn't be hidden under a bushel. In the second place it's the knack of management, well illustrated by the fact that every fireworks piece, every fireworks tableau, every fireworks drama, is staged at least six feet and more often than not, ten feet above the level of the ground, and that helps a lot. These are the things that are going to make it so pleasant for everybody to attend the stupendous pyrotechnic exhibition of the age at the Pennington county fair by the Thearle-Duffield Fireworks Division of the World Amusement Service association on August 7 and 8.

In addition to the numerous military, patriotic and comic set-piece, of course there are to be aerial sheils, new tourhillions and illuminations of every description that will light the heavens. Ground pieces featuring Andy Gump and little Chester with a giant firecracker—a Pryo carnival—Washington's cherry tree—a magic fountain with many others including Niagara Falls with its thundering magnesium shower illuminating the entire grounds will contribute to make this exhibition the most gorgeous and brilliant that has ever been exhibited here.

This is only one of the many features to be shown at the Pennington county fair next week. As a special inducement the management of the fair is offering ten thousand free tickets to the children of the territory surrounding Thief River Falls. All that is necessary is to convince the officials that you are under 15 years old, and a free ticket is yours. There are no hitches to this arrangement. All children will be given a free ticket upon application to the management.

Indications are that the 1924 fair will rival all of its predecessors in every department. Exhibits promise to be the best ever shown, particularly in the agricultural divisions. Those who wish to see what Pennington county can produce are urged to inspect the exhibits at the fair this year. It will be well worth the while of anyone who is interested in the progress of the northwestern section of Minnesota to see these exhibits.

Pennington county has put on one of the best fairs in the state for several years and this year's event promises to surpass them all. The three days of the fair, beginning next Thursday, August 7, will be replete with entertainment features, which in addition to the wonderful exhibits, should make the fair a strong point of attraction for every resident of this section of the state.

New Jefferson Highway Grocery Open This Week

The Jefferson Highway grocery, operated by Mrs. J. Peelman, formerly of Streeter, Illinois, and Fred Rockstad of this city, opened its doors to the public the first of the week. The store occupies the building formerly used by the Jefferson Highway cafe, 310 Main avenue north and a complete supply of groceries, dried fruits and candies has been put in stock by the new owners.

Mrs. Peelman was formerly owner of a grocery in Streeter and is amply experienced in the business of supplying depleted larders. Mr. Rockstad is well known here, having been a resident of the community for a number of years.

Demonstration Truck Here.

A demonstration truck from Nichols, Dean and Gregg of St. Paul, driven by A. F. Manthe and in charge of H. L. Larsen, arrived in this city Wednesday morning with a test supply of almost everything imagineable of interest to motorists and truck owners from the tires on the wheels to fire extinguishers, horns, spotlights, Hind-Vu mirrors, dash lamps, welding outfits, light bulbs and spark plugs to circulating pumps and wrecking cranes. The truck was viewed with interest by a number of people here.

Flag Decorations Going Across in Gerat Style; Fair Display Is Assured

At the Thursday evening meeting of the Legion, discussion of the decorating of the city with flags was brought up and it was decided to put the matter in the hands of a committee, Haaken Olson and Henry Froseth being appointed.

The flags are to be mounted on a stout staff and are to fit into wall brackets and projecting over the sidewalks at an angle, yet keeping them high enough so they will cause no trouble. They are demountable and can be taken down and put up with ease.

This decorative idea is meeting with great success among the merchants of the city and the first day over 60 subscribers bought flags. Within a few days the committee hopes to have 200 business men interested and orders will be filled at once so that the city will be adequately decorated during the days of the fair.

700 DELEGATES ASKED TO MEET

To Discuss Future of Diversified Farming in Minnesota Sept. 4.

Delegates appointed by the mayors of 700 Minnesota cities and villages will meet with members of the Northwest Dairy Exposition committee at the State Fair grounds on Thursday, Sepember 4 to discuss the future of diversified farming in Minnesota and the Northwest.

Governor Preus has mailed letters to the mayors of every community in Minnesota asking them to appoint from one to three delegates to attend the conference.

"It is needless for anyone to direct your attention," says the governor's letter, "to the contrast in productive power between single crop farms and those upon which a variety of foodstuffs is produced. I assume that you are personally and officially interested to a very large extent in promoting the latter kind of farming.

"With these things in mind, and with the prospect of a very successful second Northwest Dairy Exposition to be held in conjunction with the Minnesota State fair at the usual time this year, I invite the cooperation of yourself and the leaders of your communities in a statewide meeting to consider how best to get a proper rotation and diversification of money crops, this meeting to be held upon the Minnesota State Fair grounds on Thursday, September 4, 1924, at 12 o'clock noon."

It is expected that nearly 1,500 delegates will attend this conference for the purpose of fostering increased diversification of crops in the Northwest.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary.

Over 100 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Prenevost of Terrebonne, gathered at the St. Anthony Catholic church Wednesday, July 23, to celebrate the 60th wedding anniversary of the couple. A nuptial high mass was celebrated by Rev. Sam Bouchard, assisted by Rev. E. J. Lemire of Red Lake Falls and Rev. A. Beaulieu of Brooks. The bride wore a gown of grey with hat to match and carried pink roses. Marian Brenevost, her great-granddaughter, was flower girl and carried a basket of roses and sweat peas. A wedding dinner was served in the church basement following the ceremony.

The bride, 78, and the groom, 82, were married July 23, 1864 at St. Penistan, a little town in the province of Quebec, and were early pioneers in Red Lake county.

Tena Reed.

Friday, July 25, occurred the sad death of Tena Reed, wife of Willard Reed of this city, death being caused by tuberculosis. She was born in Minneota, Minn., June 30, 1892. The family had resided in this city during the past few years. Burial services were held in the Larson chapel, Rev. E. H. Kreidt officiating. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Gas Price Lower.

Gasoline prices in Thief River Falls have dropped two cents during the past week, this result being in all probability traceable to the action of the mayor and city government in threatening to enter the business of retailing gasoline and kerosene if the price was not forthwith placed at a reasonable level. Equipment has been ordered and will soon be in place whereby the city hopes to force the price of gasoline down. Prices have been dropped generally over the northwest section of the state, and it is reported this morning that gasoline can be purchased at Bemidji for 15 cents per gallon. The price here at the present time is 20.8 cents per gallon, two cents lower than the previous level and considerable higher than prices charged in other towns in this section of the state. Two filling stations in town, the Borry garage and the McFarland Auto company, are now selling gas at 19 cents and 20 cents respectively. These places are sacrificing profits in order to do their bit towards forcing gasoline prices downward. It is a known fact that gasoline is delivered from Thief River Falls to Red Lake Falls at about two cents per gallon less than prevailing wholesale prices in this city. The city government is going ahead with the ordering of necessary equipment to handle gasoline and proposes to see to it that prices are brought down to where they belong.

ARTIST SCORES SUCCESS HERE

Playing with the verve and solid assurance of well grounded technic and with exact, yet entirely individual interpretation, Nils Rein scored a decided hit in this city Friday evening at the Sons of Norway hall. Playing everything from Ole Bull's ever delightful "Herd Girl's Sunday" to Mendelssohn's "E Minor Concerto," and Kvelve's dainty "The Little Acorn," he proved a violinist such as very rarely visits this section of the country.

Among the especially pleasing numbers which displayed his virtuosity was the "Polish Dance" by Brahms, which with his own "Spring Dance" was a wonderful example of bowing and pizzicati. The Wieniawski group of Russian folk songs as well as Mendelssohn's "E Minor Concerto," of which he played the last two movements, seemed to be favorites of the evening. The last movement of the latter piece proved more than usually firey and his interpretation, while exact, was marked by an individual touch and the difficulties mounted with the ease of pure artistry.

A word also must be said of Miss Muriel Nilson, who proved very able, creating a perfect back ground with her artistic accompanying.

Shoots His Squaw.

Following a family quarrel at the home of his wife's relatives, Peter Mannypenny, a Cass Lake Indian, shot his wife, using a sixteen guage shot gun to perform the deed. He then took to the tall timber, leaving word that he still had many shots, each initialed with the monogram of any and everyone too curious as to his whereabouts. He was not to be taken alive. Mrs. Mannypenny is recovering in the Walker hospital and a warrant is out charging her 55 year old husband with assault in the first degree.

Wide Storm Area.

The storm which at this city consisted mostly of a heavy rainfall last Sunday night and early Monday morning, caused considerable havoc in towns as far south as Fergus Falls and Long Prairie. In Red Lake Falls it reached the proportions of a tornado, leveling buildings on three farms and causing damage on the Edmond Patnode farm to the extent of $4,500. The barn roof at the F. B. Daily farm nearby was scattered over the farm yard and the silo on the Chas. Patnode farm was leveled. This same storm blew several cottages into the lakes around Fergus Falls and also caused some damage when it struck Detroit.

Just a little sample of what is to be seen every night at the Pennington County Fair, August 7, 8 and 9.

TRIES SUICIDE WITH RAZOR AS WEAPON CHOSEN

Despondent Because of Ill Health, Transient Tries to End Own Life.

Victim Considered to Have Fair Chance of Recovery Say Officials.

Theodore Thompson, registering at a local hotel Saturday from Duluth and apparently about 40 yars of age, attempted suicide in his room Sunday about noon and was found some time later in a very exhausted condition suffering from a deep gash in his throat, and his wind pipe severed, the wound being caused by a razor.

In a short conversation Saturday evening he had stated that, "feeling as badly as he did, he didn't care much whether he was alive or not." He was suffering from stomach trouble and had come here to receive treatments. Going up to his room at three the following afternoon the proprietor discovered the man huddled up on the floor. The open razor lying nearby was noticed, and sensing at once what had happened, he summoned Dr. O. F. Mellby and the man was removed to the Physicians hospital. By signs the patient intimated that he had also swallowed poison. Some acid burns were noticeable on his hands. When asked if he had relatives here or near here to whom some message might be sent he shook his head. It was found that he was single and relatives live in Norway. Under the attention given him at the hospital, he is rallying and it is expected that he will recover.

F. A. Brown Entertained at Banquet by Friends

Seventy friends gathered from the U. C. T. and Elk lodges and other friends, tendered a farewell banquet at the Brumund hotel last Thursday evening to Ferdie Brown, well known young traveling salesman of this city who left Monday with his wife to make his future home in Missoula, Montana. Mayor J. S. Arneson was toastmaster of the evening and among those who responded to calls were F. H. Herrick, Nels Christianson, employes of Mr. Brown, Christ Storholm, L. G. Larsen, A. Anderson and W. W. Prichard, Jr. The evening was spent, for the most part, at cards and in a social manner. During the earlier part of the evening the party adjourned to tha Legion clubrooms where a meeting concerning the backing of the 1925 convention for this city was being carried on. After aiding the Legion to put over the decision to back the getting of the convention, the smoker was resumed at the Brumund and the evening much enjoyed.

John Francis McFarlane.

July 27, John F. McFarlane died in this city from tuberculosis. He was born in North Dakota, September 22, 1887, and at the time of death was 36 years, 10 months of age. The body was taken to Badger Wednesday where burial took place that day.

DELEGATION FROM LEGION AND BUSINESSMEN LEAVE FOR ST. CLOUD SATURDAY

Will Attempt to Bring Legion State Convention to This City for 1925—Snappy Clown Band to Liven Up the Affair—Almost Certain of Success.

The state convention of the American Legion for 1925 will be held in Thief River Falls.

That is, it will be held here if the united action of the local Legion post and the efforts of a strong committee of business men can make such a thing possible. Right at this minute it looks as if the convention will be sesured without any question.

Preliminaries were put over at a monster meeting of Eklund post last Thursday evening, at which a large delegation of business and professional men were present. Final decision in the matter is to be reached at the state convention to be held next week at St. Cloud. Two committees will go to the state convention fortified with strong arguments in favor of Thief River Falls as the 1925 convention city. One of these committees is composed of members of the Legion and comprises the following: H. O. Chommie, Dr. A. W. Swedenburg, Oscar Smith and O. R. Sande. The other is composed of local business men including H. A. Brumund, Andy Anderson, L. R. Johnston and J. S. Arneson. When these two committees get busy at the state convention next week there is not much question but what they will succeed in landing the convention for Thief River Falls next year.

A fifteen piece clown band composed of musicians from Thief River Falls and other nearby towns will be there and are expected to do no small part in keeping the boys in good spirit and bringing the convention to this city.

Valuable assistance in the matter of landing the convention is being given the local post by former soldiers of Winnipeg. Col. Webb of the Marlborough hotel at Winnipeg is head of a committee of former Canadian soldiers who are wielding a strong influence to secure the 1925 convention for this city. They are anxious to see the convention held as near as possible to Winnipeg, and believe Thief River Falls to be the logical point. It is likely than an automobile trip to Winnipeg will be made a feature of the convention in case it is held here next year. The Canadian boys are all first rate fellows and are willing to do more than their share in helping to furnish entertainment to the comrades who attend the convention.

Local Legionaires are enthusiastic over the prospect of landing the 1925 convention for Thief River Falls and already have formulated tentative plans for the entertainment of their buddies next year. The boys are in the habit of getting what they go after and they cannot see any valid reason why this city should be turned down in favor of any other place when the question of locating the next convention is taken up at the St. Cloud meeting next week.

The delegations from Thief River Falls will leave Saturday for St. Cloud. Should they be successful in securing the 1925 convention, work of financing and making other arrangements for the meeting will be taken up immediately. It is a big undertaking and will require the united assistance of all citizens if it is to be carried out successfully.

Helmer Johnson.

Helmer Johnson, a fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Johnson, Kratka, died Friday, July 25, after a long illness. The funeral took place from the home and Bethania church last Sunday, Rev. V. O. Akre and Rev. H. O. Svare conducting the service. A very large congregation was gathered to honor the memory of the departed and to show their sympathy for the bereaved parents who, only three months ago, followed another son to his last resting place. Miss Anna Knutson sang a solo and the Sunday school children sang "Den store hvide flok." A mission offer was taken as a memorial tribute to the deceased. The loss of a loving son and brother is mourned by the parents, four sisters and one brother.

Greetings Galore.

The humble greeting card was placed in a position of prominence never before accorded it when Uncle Sam delivered to President Calvin Coolidge over 45,000 greeting cards on July 4—his fifty-second birthday. These cards came from all over the United States and it is reported that he was greatly moved by this outpouring of friendly greetings. It plainly indicates that the greeting card is one of the great forces of the country today.

Many Attend Encampment at Massacre Island Near Warroad for Degree Work

Kabecanung Encampment No. 58, I. O. O. F. of Warroad, was host last week over Saturday and Sunday to some 200 fellow lodge men from different sections of Minnesota coming to attend the district encampment held at that time on Massacre Island in Lake of the Woods. The island is 40 miles from mainland and four hours time was required to reach it. A class of 16 candidates for the three degrees were put through their work by a picked team under M. H. McDivitt, G. S. The encampment took place Saturday afternoon and evening. Immediately following conferring of degrees, a picnic dinner was served and the party returned to Warroad. Sunday afternoon they mada the return trip to this city.

Those who attended from this city included Bert Umland, Paul Midderigh, F. C. Dablow, Adolf Eklund, A. G. Gabrielson, Oscar Peterson, A. M. Langseth, E. M. Bennes, C. Herbert Jung, Bernard Knudsen, Alfred Bredeson and A. O. Anderson.

NEW YORK LIFE IS PICTURIZED

Story from Arthur Train's Novel to Be Presented at Princess Sunday.

Early in 1923 a sensational novel appeared in the New York book market. Within four months it had swept the country and taken the position of the second best seller in the book stores to date. This author was new to most of the public, but today he is more talked of than anyone in the literary field.

Arthur Train, a New York attorney jumped into the limelight over night with "His Children's Children." Mr. Train's book from his standpoint is not a work of fiction. He wrote one of the world's greatest novels out of three generations of New Yorkers. It personal experiences he had pieced together from his years of law practice in New York City. The characters he wrote of were characters he had encountered. Many of his experiences were personal and he knows New York as few authors know it. And this has been picturized by Paramount.

It is a story of New York's degenerate generations. It is a story of three generations of Ney Yorkers. It asks the question boldly, if this is a sample of what we find in New York's upper strata then what is New York really coming to? Vital pictures of New York life are always interesting. It is not a picture of New York night life. These are only incidental.

It is the story of a family from the first generation to the third—of human weaknesses—human strength. It tells of moral and mental decay, but in a clean, gripping, vivid manner. It is just as modern as the fivestar edition of today's newspapers.

Reed Protesta Tariff Change.

Recent reports that members of the Tariff commission will recommend to President Coolidge a reduction in the duty on sugar, have brought forth protests from the American Farm Bureau federation and also from the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation.

This protest is on behalf of sugar beet growers not only of the West but of Michigan and Minnesota. The traiff commission's recommendation calls for a reduction in the duty from $1.76 to $1.35 a pound. The Minnesota Farm Bureau federation has denounced in strong terma any attempt to disturb the tariff.

J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota organization, in commenting on the proposed reduction said, "This is a deliberate attempt to single out those commodities from which agriculture deserves a real traiff benefit."

Pleasure Brings Praise.

Minnesota roads are hard to beat. The excellent marking of the highways makes the finding of the way nothing.—Grygla Eagle.

Many people will spend hundreds of dollars on travel trips to see sigbts no more interesting or beautiful than the landscape of Pennington county.

Economy on road appropriations is all right, yet some towns have cut down their road money so much that the country people would not come in over their rough roads to trade.

Folks who left comfortable and pleasant homes in the country often complain because they can't aford a decent home at a price within their reach in the city to which they moved.

WHAT ILLITERACY COSTS.

The average citizen realizes that illiteracy is an evil, but he has perhaps never stopped to think what it costs him personally.

Take the matter of accidents alone. It was recently estimated by a New York state authority, that half of the accidents in factories are due to inability of workmen to understand English. Even if notices are posted in their own language, they are not able to understand them in many cases. Then when these workers are hurt, and compensation has to be paid, and production is cut down by interruption of work, it will be seen that Mr. Average Citizen pays quite a bill.

Before a taxpayer opposes instruction for illiterates, he would better figure wbat a vast sum it costs the country when working people can't understand what is said to them.

WOMEN IN INDDUSTRY.

Few people realize how fast women are occupying positions formerly held by men. For instance, in 1910, there were but 25 women elevator tenders in the United States. In 1920 there were 7,337.

In 1910 there were 122,665 women clerks, not counting store clerks. In 1920 there were 472,163. So one could go through a long list of occupations and show how in nearly all the women employed increased many times in recent years. The increase is not confined to clerical work. Women laborers in cotton mills, for instance, increased from 5,767 to 16,669.

This development promotes prosperity by increasing production; it makes women more independent, but some people look with disapproval on a change that may withdraw many women from the activities of wifehood and motherhood.

Take Your Choice.
Another Milestone.
Merchant Farmers.
Valuable Wasps.

Republicans demonstrate to you beyond the shadow of doubt that LaFollette will take his votes from John W. Davis. "Organized lahor states will desert Democrats," and "Davis will get nothing but the South."

Democrats can prove, if you have any intelligence at all, that LaFollette's vote will be taken from Coolidge. LaFollette is a Republican, his following is chiefly among farmers of the Northwest. They are Republicans. LaFollette will carry Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, criple Coolidge and elect Davis. That is what the Democrats say.

Civilization continues to pass important milestones. The end of slavery was one. The steam engine was another, telegraph and telephone others. The most romantic milestone is soon to be labeled "Around the World in a Flying Machine."

Twenty-five million dollars' worth of grain elevators are included in a hig merger that will allow men that grow grain to control marketing. This is one of the biggest cooperative marketing enterprises ever organized.

The farmers owning this concern, IF they own it, and IF they control its management, would have storage for 50,000,000 bushels of grain, in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, Fort Worth, Texas, etc.

Men that prodnce the wheat, pigs, corn, potatoes, etc., ought to have something to do with the marketing and price regulation. They haven't managed it yet, hut California has proved that it can he done.

United States athletes have secured the track and field championship in the Olympic games. These are the most important events since they indicate possession of the most intense nervous and mental concentration.

Running, jumping, etc., mean nothing now except as they indicate brain and nerve power behind the record. This mixed race of ours, which ia NOT a "Nordic" race, a Latin race, a Semitic or Celtic race, is doing as mixed races have done for centuries, in Greece, Rome, France, England—heating races that have allowed the breed to stagnate.

B. G. Lamme is dead. How many of our 112,000,000 knpw his name? He was one of the four greatest electricians in this country. Edison, Tesla, and Steinmetz were the other three. Lamme and Steinmetz are gone.

A master of electrical science, Lamme was creator of 150 useful inventions, and called "the greatest mathematician."

At his work as chief engineer for the Westinghouse company, Lamme was helped by two sisters, one with a desk beside his was chief designer of direct current motors.

Those two sisters worked with their brother, as the sisters of Herschel and Renan worked with their famous brothers.

Such work is better than the fame that passes with the death notice.

Of all the news to-day, for permanent value nothing is more important than the importation by the State of Ohio of seven thousand wasps from Frnnce. These peculiar French wnsps are brought here to fight the corn borer. They and their children's children might save the country hundreds of millions a year.

United States ceases issuing Treasury savings certificates and stnmps that have paid 4½ per cent. The government can borrow money from big banks and financiers at a lower rate. So why pay 4½ per cent to the little people?

What about the high minded, magnificent, unselfish, patriotic desire to "cultivate thrift in the masses"? Did that die suddenly when intesest rates fell?" Did the government want to help the masses, or only want the savings of the masses?

The prosperity outlook is cheerful, even for farmers, something that couldn't be said a few weeks ago.

"Ten dollar pork," which means $10 a hundred for hogs on the hoof, is in sight. That's due to the high price of corn. Pork is corn transformed in the pig's digestive apparatus. Farmers that raise the pork also raise the corn. They'll get the money. And cattle are going up.

Farm Bureau Attacks Flax Tariff Reductions

Exasperated over the filing of a brief by industrial interests in favor of a reduction in the traiff schedule on flax, the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has come out strongly against such action by the tariff commission.

"Any proposal to reduce the tariff on flax at this time constitutes a direct nttack against agriculture in the Northwest," said J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, "because the Northwest is the large flax-prodncing area. Minnesota last year produced 5,270,000 bushels of flax. This ia almost one-third of the production for the whole country, which amounted to 17,429,000 bushels. In this connection it ahould be noted also, that in 1923, the United States imported approximately 23,000,000 bushela of flax."

The theory of tariff advocates has heen always that tariff is beneficial to industries not well established. The Farm Bureau holds that there should be no reduction in the tariff on agricultural products as such until a general revision of the tariff is made. It is the feeling of agricultural leaders throughout the country today that if agriculture is compelled to pay industry a duty on the products of the factory, a similar equality must be accorded the farmer in the production of his commodities.

Commenting further on the proposed reduction in the flax schedule and its effects, Mr. Reed said: "It would appear that agricultural products have been deliberately singled out for two reasons. In the first place it is the intention of those who are behind the movement to detract the attention of farmers from the fnct that they nre now paying an unwnrranted tax to industry by reason of the protective tariff on manufactured products. In the second place it is desired to get the farmer into such a frame of mind that he will not advocnte a revision of the tariff on manufactured products.

"It becomes the duty of all the agricultural interests in the Northwest, where the surplus flax is produced, to make a thorough study of the cost of producing this crop, so that, fortified by the facts, they will he in position to combat any attempts to reduce the flax schedule."

WILL PAY GROWERS FOR SPUD STORAGE

Potato Exchange's Policy to Result in Increase in Number of Farm Cellars.

The Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange will pay members for storing potatoes on their farm and make an allowance for shrinkage. This was announced this week by the executive board at a meeting in St. Paul.

The Exchange will allow a member three cents a bushel for putting potatoes into storage and taking them out, to which will be added a cent a bushel for each month or fraction thereof the potatoes remain on the farm. It will be possible for a member to get a bonus of 9 cents a bushel, if potatoes are stored until spring.

Allowance for shrink is 1½ per cent per month on delivered weights.

This regulation is expected to greatly increase the amount of home storage in Minnesota. Exchange officials point out that income from storage the first year will practically pay for the materials needed.

Frank Kiene of Kennedy, president of the Exchange, plans to build extensive storage space on his own farm. Leo H. Wright, director of warehouses will do likewise.

Trustees, meeting at St. Paul last week were given the details of the contract the Executive Board made for the distribution of the crop through the Federated Fruit & Vegetable Growers, Inc., as well as the purchase of the Moorhead warehouse. Both contracts were unanimously approved by the trustees, as were all other acts of the board since the Exchange was incorporated.

CO-OP. TO PUSH SEED POTATOES

W. V. Longley, Kittson County Agent, Agrees to Head the New Department.

Cooperative marketing is to give Minnesota seed potatoes the national recognition to which they are entitled. This was assured last week when directors of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange authorized the creation of a seed department and employed W. V. Longley as its director.

Mr. Longley has been agricultural agent in Kittson for nine years and has been responsible for establishing that section as one of the foremost seed potato counties in the United States.

Mr. Longley will have charge of all the seed producing and marketing operations of the new co-op. Plans call for an extensive advertising campaign especially in the South, where farmers find Minnesota seed potatoes unusually well suited for their purposes, being hardy and heavy yielders.

The Exchange's campaign to increase the amount of home storage in Minnesota is making rapid headway, according to word from the St. Paul office. All agricultural papers, the Extension service of the college of agriculture and the state department of agriculture are behind the project. It will be the first purpose of the campaign to show farmers how they may obtain satisfactory home storage at no cost to themselves, because of the Exchange's recent decision to pay members for keeping their potatoes at home and to allow shrinkage on stocks in storage.

This regulation will give a farmer storing 3,000 bushels of potatoes what amounts to a bonus of $270; enough to pay for permanent root cellar.

LIVESTOCK HEARING CLOSED; STATEMENT BY J. S. MONTGOMERY

Following the adjournment on July 18 of the hearing conducted at South St. Paul by the United Packers and Stockyard administration covering charges of unfair practices by the Central Livestock Commission association, J. S. Montgomery, manager of the association made the following statement:

"We should have been pleased to have the case concluded without this adjustment. We are satisfied, however, that the insinuations regarding corruption in our organization, which have been made by some of the witnesses for the Minnesota Pig & Cattle company, and which also have been made in publicity purporting to emanate from the office of the National Livestock exchange, have all been fully answered to the satisfaction of our members and patrons."

In commenting on the testimony of F. P. Kuehner, former office manager of the association, who in a former hearing had made statements reflecting on the character of the employees and management of the association, Mr. Montgomery said: "We know that Mr. Kuehner's failure to prove any of his former testimony after six weeks spent in auditing our books, will be a source of great satisfaction to our members. We feel that now these reports have been cleared up and we are absolutely justified in asking for 100 per cent support from the producers of the Northwest."
